On earth before. The scheme is entirely original in that line with Messrs. Mann & Beach, the job printers, 91 Second street and 233 Stark street—Second and Stark. The times and figures for this sale are given in the firm's advertisement in another part of The Journal, and it will be interesting reading, both for business men and the printing fratemily as well. Whatever else may be said of the proposition, it certainly denotes a degree of enterprise on the part of Messrs. Mann & Beach that will attract more than ordinary attention.

These shoes are held at $2.25 and to 6. These shoes are held at $2.50 by the manufacturers, yet by the deal on which the White Corner secured the lot last evening, it is enabled to sell the $2.25 lot for $1.38, and the $2.50 lot at $1.56 per pair. Here, then, is an opportunity to procure footwear, while this stock lasts, at a figure greatly below its value.
