FANS REGRET TO SEE BOSTON RETIRE

While the report that the owners of the Boston National league club want to sell out and quit baseball is not verified, there appears to be some ground for crediting it. If it is true it only shows what an overwhelming victory the younger American league has scored over its old and proud rival. Boston has been the oldest and staunchest member of the National league, having been interrupted by a member of that body for more than a quarter of a century. For a younger rival to crowd it to the wall, therefore, in three years seems remarkable. Natural causes, probably, can be assigned for the result, such as the parsimonious and out of date methods that handicapped the old league at the time its younger rival sprang into the breach. At the same time there will be a feeling of regret among many lovers of the national game over the retirement of the Boston triumvirate—Boden, Conant and Billings—two of whom were high business standing at home, the club was conducted on almost ideal lines. It has been one of the only two clubs (the Philadelphia Nationals being the other) which has never played Sunday games either at home or away from home. Sunday baseball has come to be accepted almost universally, and yet there are tens of thousands of admirers of the popular national game in America who hated to see the sport diverted in this direction and who believe it has fallen in the scale by such action, even though it probably draws a greater number of people through the turnstiles from one end of the season to the other as a result.

The following were chosen: Frank Fenwick of Portland, president; Dr. Bowen Lester of Corvallis, vice-president; Guy T. Hunt, secretary, and E. Lee Page of Portland, treasurer.

DEALER IS OUT. F. L. Anderson—If the dealer has six points and turns up a jack he is out, and his hand is dead. If the dealer has six points, and the next player to him five points and the dealer should turn the ace and deuce, the dealer turning the jack would go out first. When the dealer has six points and turns a jack he always goes out.

BOUSCH STARTS FOR PARIS. Jockey Ray Bousch, who has established an international reputation for riding, recently left San Francisco for Paris, where he will engage to ride the balance of this winter.

JEWY ARE ACTIVE IN OUTDOOR SPORTS

In discussing the interest taken in baseball by the Jewish people, the San Francisco Chronicle has the following to say: "In baseball the colleges have had the best of the Jewish talent. But before the days of these varsity players 'Tubi' Levy was a popular professional favorite out at the old Haight-street grounds in San Francisco, when crowds of 10,000 spectators went wild over a baseball match. Other professionals, but of later times, were Harry Kane, pitcher for San Francisco; Buck Franks of the Oakland team, and Charley Schwartz of the Seattle team, all well known league men. Among the college players of the national game few have stood higher than the famous Phil King, captain of the Princeton nine. At the University of California, as far back as 1888, there was Monte Koshland, a Jew, as captain of the varsity baseball team and of the varsity football team. Goshinsky and Martin, Hebrews, were noted varsity players at Berkeley in more recent years. And later yet California had Adolph Baer and little Oscar Wolf, one of the cleverest outfielders ever at Berkeley. At Stanford, Loyalental and Klauber were Jews who played on the varsity baseball team in recent years. Probably the best known and most popular Jewish varsity athletes of recent years was 'Pop' Hirsch of Yale, varsity catcher in 1900. He it was who wrote the famous 'Boola-Boola' song of Yale, which has been appropriated with much popularity at the University of California."

OGLESBY MATCHED WITH LOUIS LONG

Kid Oglesby of Helena, the former lightweight champion of Montana, who defeated Silent Rowan at Sand Point, Sunday night, has signed articles to meet Louis Long, the clever lightweight, who last week called a summary halt on the championship ambition of Aurelio Herrera. The fight will take place in Spokane, March 15, and promises to be one of the sporting events of the northwest. The fighters will weigh in at the ring side at 130 pounds and the match will be before the Spokane Athletic club, which has offered a liberal purse for the event. The meeting was arranged by E. E. Quinn of Spokane.

On Contract Time

Contractor Meredith's story of how an important Portland job was done in record time.

Contracts are an important feature of modern business systems. And the most important consideration in contract work is contract time. Contractor B. Meredith, who lives at 661 Twenty-first street, says that Doan's Kidney Pills fulfilled their contract with him in two or three days.

B. Meredith, the well-known brick-mason, contractor and builder, who lives at 661 Twenty-first street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills is one of the best remedies I ever used, and I cheerfully recommend them to any one suffering with kidney complaint, and no medicine gave me permanent relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Lake-Davis Drug Co.'s store, corner Yamhill and Third streets. I was so well pleased with them that when my wife had a severe attack a short time ago and could hardly get about to do her work, I had her take Doan's Kidney Pills. In two or three days they strengthened her up in fine shape. We both endorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills have nothing but the highest terms of praise for such a valuable remedy."

DISCUSS ATHLETICS AT FOREST GROVE

(Journal Special Service.) Pacific University, Feb. 16.—Since the formation of the Northwest Amateur Athletic association last year it has been an open question here whether or not Pacific University should apply for admission to the league. Opinions were freely expressed on both sides, and the question argued pro and con. Nothing definite was done, however, until the matter came up for reconsideration of the athletic committee. This body after discussion voted to recommend the proposition to the student body for action.

At a meeting of the student body held yesterday the question was brought up. Pacific has at present as clean a record for amateur sport as any institution in the northwest. But whether he should gain anything of sufficient value to offset the expense of sending a team to Walla Walla each year is doubtful. These questions were discussed, and it was moved that the student body request the Athletic association of Pacific University to apply for admission to the Northwest Amateur Athletic association.

HUNT CLUB RIDE TO BE BIG EVENT

Portland Hunt club members are looking forward to the "Mrs. Downing cup run" on Washington's birthday, with great pleasure and from all accounts the chase will be one of the most enjoyable held in years. The officers of the club have been busy making arrangements for the event, and the hares, Mrs. Downing and Mr. Strain, have decided upon the trail for the occasion. The ride will be hard and fast. Race horses have not been through a former paper chase will not be allowed to enter. All those who intend going in the chase must have their names in before 6 o'clock on Saturday, February 20. This special ride will start at an early start, with practically no delay. The announcement of the starting point and time will be made in a few days, but it is understood that the hour will be 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

BLUE AND CRIMSON TO ROW AT HENLEY

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Feb. 16.—The board of stewards of the American Rowing association has announced that Harvard and Yale had consented to send their second varsity eights to the "American Henley" to be rowed on the Schuylkill river May 30. This will compete in special regatta with the crews of Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia. This will be the first time in the history of intercollegiate rowing that these five universities have met on the water.

CLUB DIRECTORS TO TALK MEMBERSHIP

The directors of the Multnomah club will meet Thursday night to discuss the matter of membership of the club. The directors have not come to any special agreement as to what scheme would be preferable. All agree that the club should have more members. It is likely that prizes of some character will be given to the person bringing in the largest number of members. This would be an extra incentive for activity and would be the means of substantially increasing the membership.

"BAT" MASTERSON TALKS

"Bat" Masterston, the famous sport and ex-sheriff of Abilene, Kan., and Dodge City, Kan., tells some good stories to his eastern friends regarding his visit to President Roosevelt. "Bat" says that he never was better treated in his life and that the president made him feel at home the moment he put his nose inside of the White House door.

"Why," exclaimed "Bat" to a large circle of friends, "you bet he shook hands with me and a right good hearty handshake it was too. The president was glad to see me knowing that I had no favors to ask and no politics to discuss. We talked about a number of our old friends and the president was particularly interested in my career since I had seen him last and he wanted to know all about my experiences as a referee. We talked about the border of the west where everybody loves Mr. Roosevelt for his fighting qualities and he was reluctant to allow me to go. The president is a 'dead game sport,' that's sure."

BOWLING NOTES

The bowling match scheduled for this evening between the Schillers and the George Lawrence has been postponed, owing to the serious illness of the mother of Manager Con Seuner of the Schillers.

A bowling team has been organized by the employees of the Lipman-Wolfe company. A E. Hamlin, a former crack bowler in the White Horse, is a member of the Butte team which competed with the All-Americans, is reported to have taken the L. & W.'s in charge.

The Blake-McFalls are hustling for another game with the George Lawrence, and possibly they will be accommodated in the near future.

High scores were the order of the day on the Portland alleys yesterday. Andy Anderson, Charlie Shields, Con Seuner and Henry Kopp making excellent scores.

POLO NOTE

Neil Haig, the distinguished English polo player, who ranks second to W. S. Buckmaster, the world's greatest polo player, is among the colony of Burlingame, California, polo players who are making headquarters at the Country club at that place.

UNIVERSAL PROVIDERS

Portland, Oregon, Feb. 12th, 1904.

Oregon Daily Journal, Portland, Oregon.
Gentlemen:—

Having been repeatedly solicited to advertise in the daily papers of Portland, but the conditions and location of our store being peculiar and outside of the business district of the city we have been backward to take hold of newspaper advertising.

Last Monday we were influenced somewhat against our judgment to try a half page in your Journal, by your representative. So remarkable were the results, trade coming from all parts of the city in response to this ad., that we no longer have doubts as to daily newspaper advertising, particularly in the Oregon Evening Journal, let your store be located where it may, so long as in a territory tributary to the Journal circulation, which from results we received from this ad. proved conclusively that it thoroughly covers Portland and vicinity.

As proof of our faith in the Journal as an advertising medium we enclose our contract for 2500 inches to be used the coming year.

Yours very truly,
Kennard and Adams
