"PRAY FOR ME" IS SUICIDE'S LAST PLEA

Miss May Dellenbach Receives a Last Message From Fred J. Malcolm Who Killed Himself Yesterday—Happy in His Love.

"Pray for me" is the plea in a letter received this morning by Miss May Dellenbach from Fred J. Malcolm, who shot himself dead yesterday morning in the Gilbert house at Third and Taylor streets.

Miss Dellenbach is the "May" referred to in a note left by the suicide and published in yesterday's Journal. Miss Dellenbach and her mother declare that Malcolm did not commit suicide because of any trouble with his sweetheart. They believe he was despondent over the low state of his finances, and brooding, took his life.

Malcolm's last pathetic message received by Miss Dellenbach this morning, reached her as she was leaving her home, 529 Clay street, bound for J. F. Finley's undertaking shop, where lies the body of the man who had been paying attention to her for three years. It was written evidently the night previous to the suicide, and it is believed was posted by some friend, who did not dream of its tragic contents. It was postmarked yesterday, and was probably mailed late in the forenoon, otherwise it would have reached the house last night.

When she read the letter Miss Dellenbach turned back into the house and, taking Malcolm's photograph from its conspicuous place on the mantelpiece, put it away. She did not want a daily reminder of her grief.

"My daughter had kept company with

Mr. Malcolm for three years," said Mrs. Dellenbach this morning, when seen at the home of Mrs. J. W. Thurman. "There was no trouble whatever between them. Mr. Malcolm called last Sunday afternoon, remained at our home until in the evening. He had never seemed more cheerful or hopeful. He said never a word that would convey the impression that he had any intention of killing himself. The letter my daughter received this morning shows there was no trouble between them. In it Malcolm asks her to pray for him, and says he is sorry he had to die, but he was in trouble over money matters."

"I never saw a couple get along better than Mr. Malcolm and Miss Dellenbach," said Mrs. Thurman. "They were not engaged to be married, but I always supposed they surely intended to be. It is very sad, and has thrown the family into great grief. Mr. Malcolm was a fine young man, and none of his friends ever once thought of him committing suicide. Miss Dellenbach will attend his funeral tomorrow."

Miss Dellenbach is a well known and very popular young woman, a Portland born girl and formerly was employed by Olds, Wortman & King.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Finley chapel, Rev. William T. Kerr, pastor of Central Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. The burial will be in Lone Fir cemetery.

LEAVES FRIENDS TO CARRY THE GOSPEL

Miss Elizabeth Carothers, a prominent member of the First Presbyterian church, who anticipates foreign missions, left for San Francisco yesterday, where she will spend some time, through the North Pacific board of missions of the Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. W. S. Ladd is president, to the main board in New York City, and from there recently received formal notice of her acceptance of her services. Miss Carothers is a teacher in the Clinton Kelly school, and has taught in this city for three years. She formerly taught in Salt Lake City, where she was employed for four years.

Fred Carothers of Salem is Miss Carothers' only near relative. She was born in Albany, Or. She is energetic, forceful, of a charming personality and full of enthusiasm for her new work. Her commission will probably be assigned in the summer, and she will sail for her new field soon afterward. As yet the exact place has not been determined.

"SILVER BLEACH" TABLE LINENS

WHY DOES LINEN NOWADAYS WEAR OUT SO FAST?

This is a question asked by women whose experience dates back to old-fashioned days when linen was linen and used to look and wear as such.

This is all due to the lamentable haste—yes, and waste—of modern manufacturing. Bleaching on the grass in the sun was too slow, so strong chemicals—chloride of lime—were resorted to as a hurry-up process.

The saving in time was effected at the cost of impaired wearing qualities of the finished product.

The original "Silver Bleach" Linen company has never departed from the old-fashioned, even if slow, method of grass-bleaching. As a result their product will outwear chemically bleached linens two and three times. These linens sold only by us in this city.

MAYOR INSPECTS GRAND AVENUE

IN COMPANY WITH CITY ENGINEER

ELLIOTT RE INVESTIGATES DIVISION STREET AND GRAND AVENUE AND SAYS CONDITIONS MUST BE REMEDIED.

In response to the complaints of east side residents regarding the condition of Division street and Grand avenue, Mayor Williams and City Engineer Elliott made a personal inspection of those thoroughfares this morning and in the words of the mayor "found certain conditions which must be remedied."

"We found that some of the crosswalks and portions of the sidewalks should be fixed," explained the mayor, and will see that it is done. I understand that the fuel company which laid the walks has expressed a willingness to do whatever is necessary.

"Grand avenue is now in bad shape and along portions of the roadway a one-length wooden covering has been put down. This is not wide enough for two vehicles to pass and has thrown much dirt and mud on the sidewalks. The portions of Division street have been graded at different times and the excavations have not all been carried down to the proper level, but when the thoroughfare is fixed up permanently this will be done away with."

It is possible that a concentrated effort will now be made to effect a permanent improvement of the avenue.

SCHOOL SHOES FOR THE YOUNGSTERS

Making and selling shoes for children to wear presents some entirely different phases of the shoe business from supplying the grown-up trade, and shoeing the youngsters necessarily creates a separate and important department. It is evident on the face of it that a growing child's foot calls for a special shoe adapted to its peculiar needs. The soft, pliable bones and muscles steadily growing and changing shape must be housed in a shoe which is designed to allow nature free play in doing her work. The child's shoe should be more pliable than the adult shoe, still they must be stoutly made in strong leathers, for no shoe gets more racking wear than a child's shoe. We make a specialty of shoeing the youngsters. Bring them in during vacation and let us fix them up. Nowhere in the city can you find such BARGAINS as here. Look over these prices and come in and see the style and quality. Besides shoes for the youngsters, we are reducing prices on many of our regular $4 and $5 shoes for women and men, this season's styles, from

FOR SISTER'S SAKE DROP PROSECUTION

"I don't think he'll hurt her for a few days anyway, because I am going to look after her," said M. Dooney to Municipal Judge Hogue this morning. Mr. Dooney referred to his brother-in-law, P. J. Cunningham, who last night shot Anthony Dooney through the left forearm. Cunningham is said to have been treating his wife in a cruel manner, and A. Dooney was arguing with his brother-in-law on this question when the shooting occurred.

"I had just told him that he had promised to behave himself," said A. Dooney this morning, "when he pulled a gun and shot. He had been drinking and we were quarreling. I do not want him sentenced to jail, because his wife and children need his support, but he must treat my sister better."

In the municipal court this morning, the Dooney brothers stated that they did not wish to push the case against their brother-in-law, and the case was postponed until Friday. A warrant was sworn out against Cunningham for carrying concealed weapons.

Patrolman W. J. Bullus, who arrested Cunningham, is receiving the compliments of his police comrades this morning. This was the first arrest Patrolman Bullus has made since joining the police force some 10 days ago.

RAGGED MILLIONAIRE INSANE BUT HAPPY

Charles W. Gotze, an Austrian, aged 74 years, is suffering from a very pleasant hallucination. He believes he is worth $1,500,000, whereas his sole wealth consists of the ragged clothing he wears. He was arrested and incarcerated in the county jail this morning on complaint of Mrs. Carrie Howe of Howe's addition, who has been caring for him for two months. Gotze will be examined this afternoon before Judge Webster, in company with a number of other persons held as insane.

DIVORCE SUIT FOLLOWS ARREST

As a sequence of the arrest of Mrs. Bertha Winslow and J. A. Stanley on Monday, J. B. Winslow filed suit for divorce this morning in the state circuit court. He alleges unfaithfulness and names Stanley as co-respondent.

Stanley was released from the county jail on bonds the day of his arrest. Mrs. Winslow is still behind the bars.

The Winslows were married at Calhoun, Ky., on December 29, 1900. Winslow asks the court for the custody of his child, Joyce D. Winslow, aged 9, and sole title to property vested in him.

RECORD DAY FOR PUBLIC READING

LOUISIANA SEPARATIONISTS.

New Orleans, Feb. 17.—The "Lily White" faction of the Louisiana Republicans assembled in state convention today for the purpose of naming candidates for the state offices to be filled at the next election. A second convention of the party will be held later to select delegates to the Republican national convention at Chicago.

NEW FRIENDS ARE COSTLY LUXURIES

Two unknown companions who seemed pleased to be allowed to accompany A. A. Klein and E. D. Carscadden across the Burnside bridge about 1:30 o'clock this morning, robbed Klein of $150 in gold just as they had reached the east end of the bridge.

Mr. Klein stated this morning that he had never seen the robbers until he met them last night on the west end of Burnside street bridge just as he and his friend started to cross the structure. The strangers stepped up and said they were glad to find companions in the little walk across. Just as the four men had crossed the bridge, one of the strangers gave a low whistle and the other quickly jammed his hand into a side pocket of Mr. Klein's trousers and pulled out $150 in gold. Patrolman Myers, seeing the mad flight, took a shot at the fleeing men, but the bullets flew wide of their mark.
