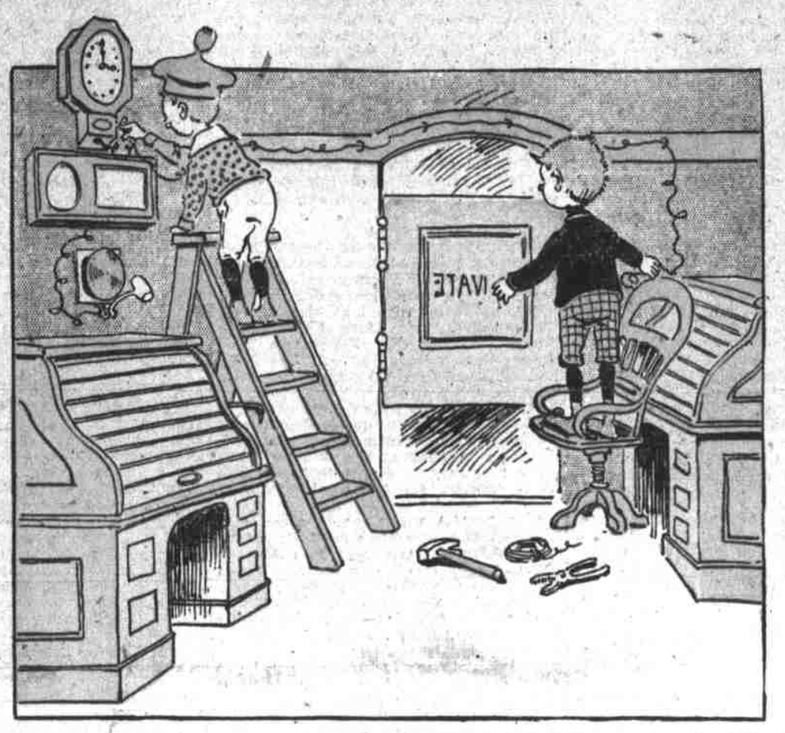
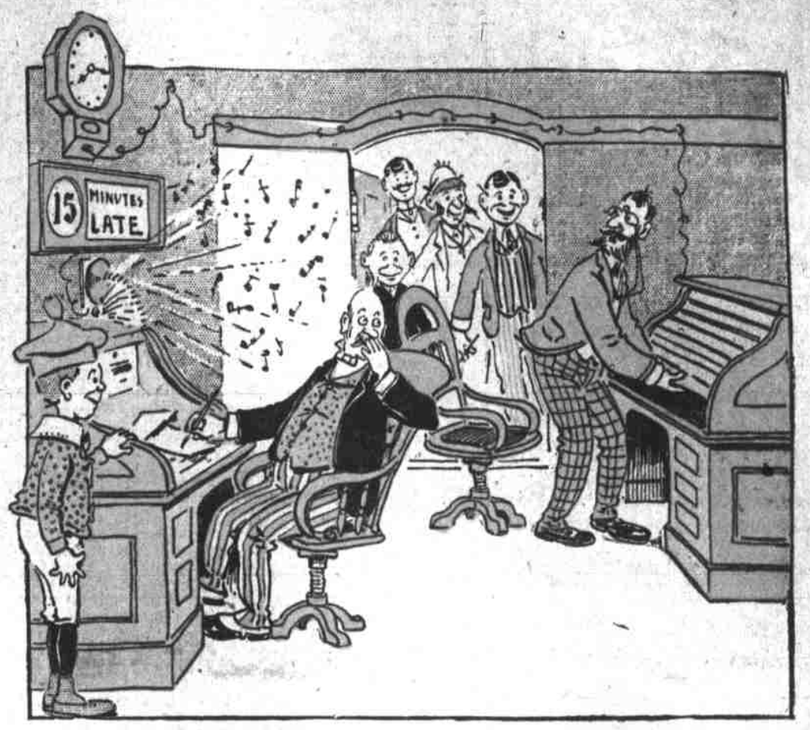
WILLIE'S LATEST INVENTION CAUSES THE OFFICE BOY TROUBLE

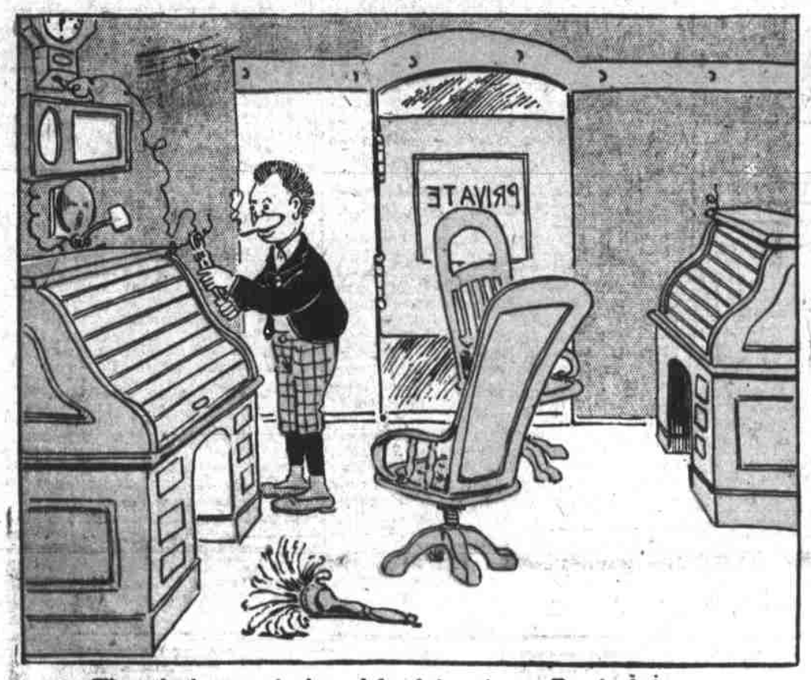
Dear Tommy—When Papa caught the bookkeeper coming in late—



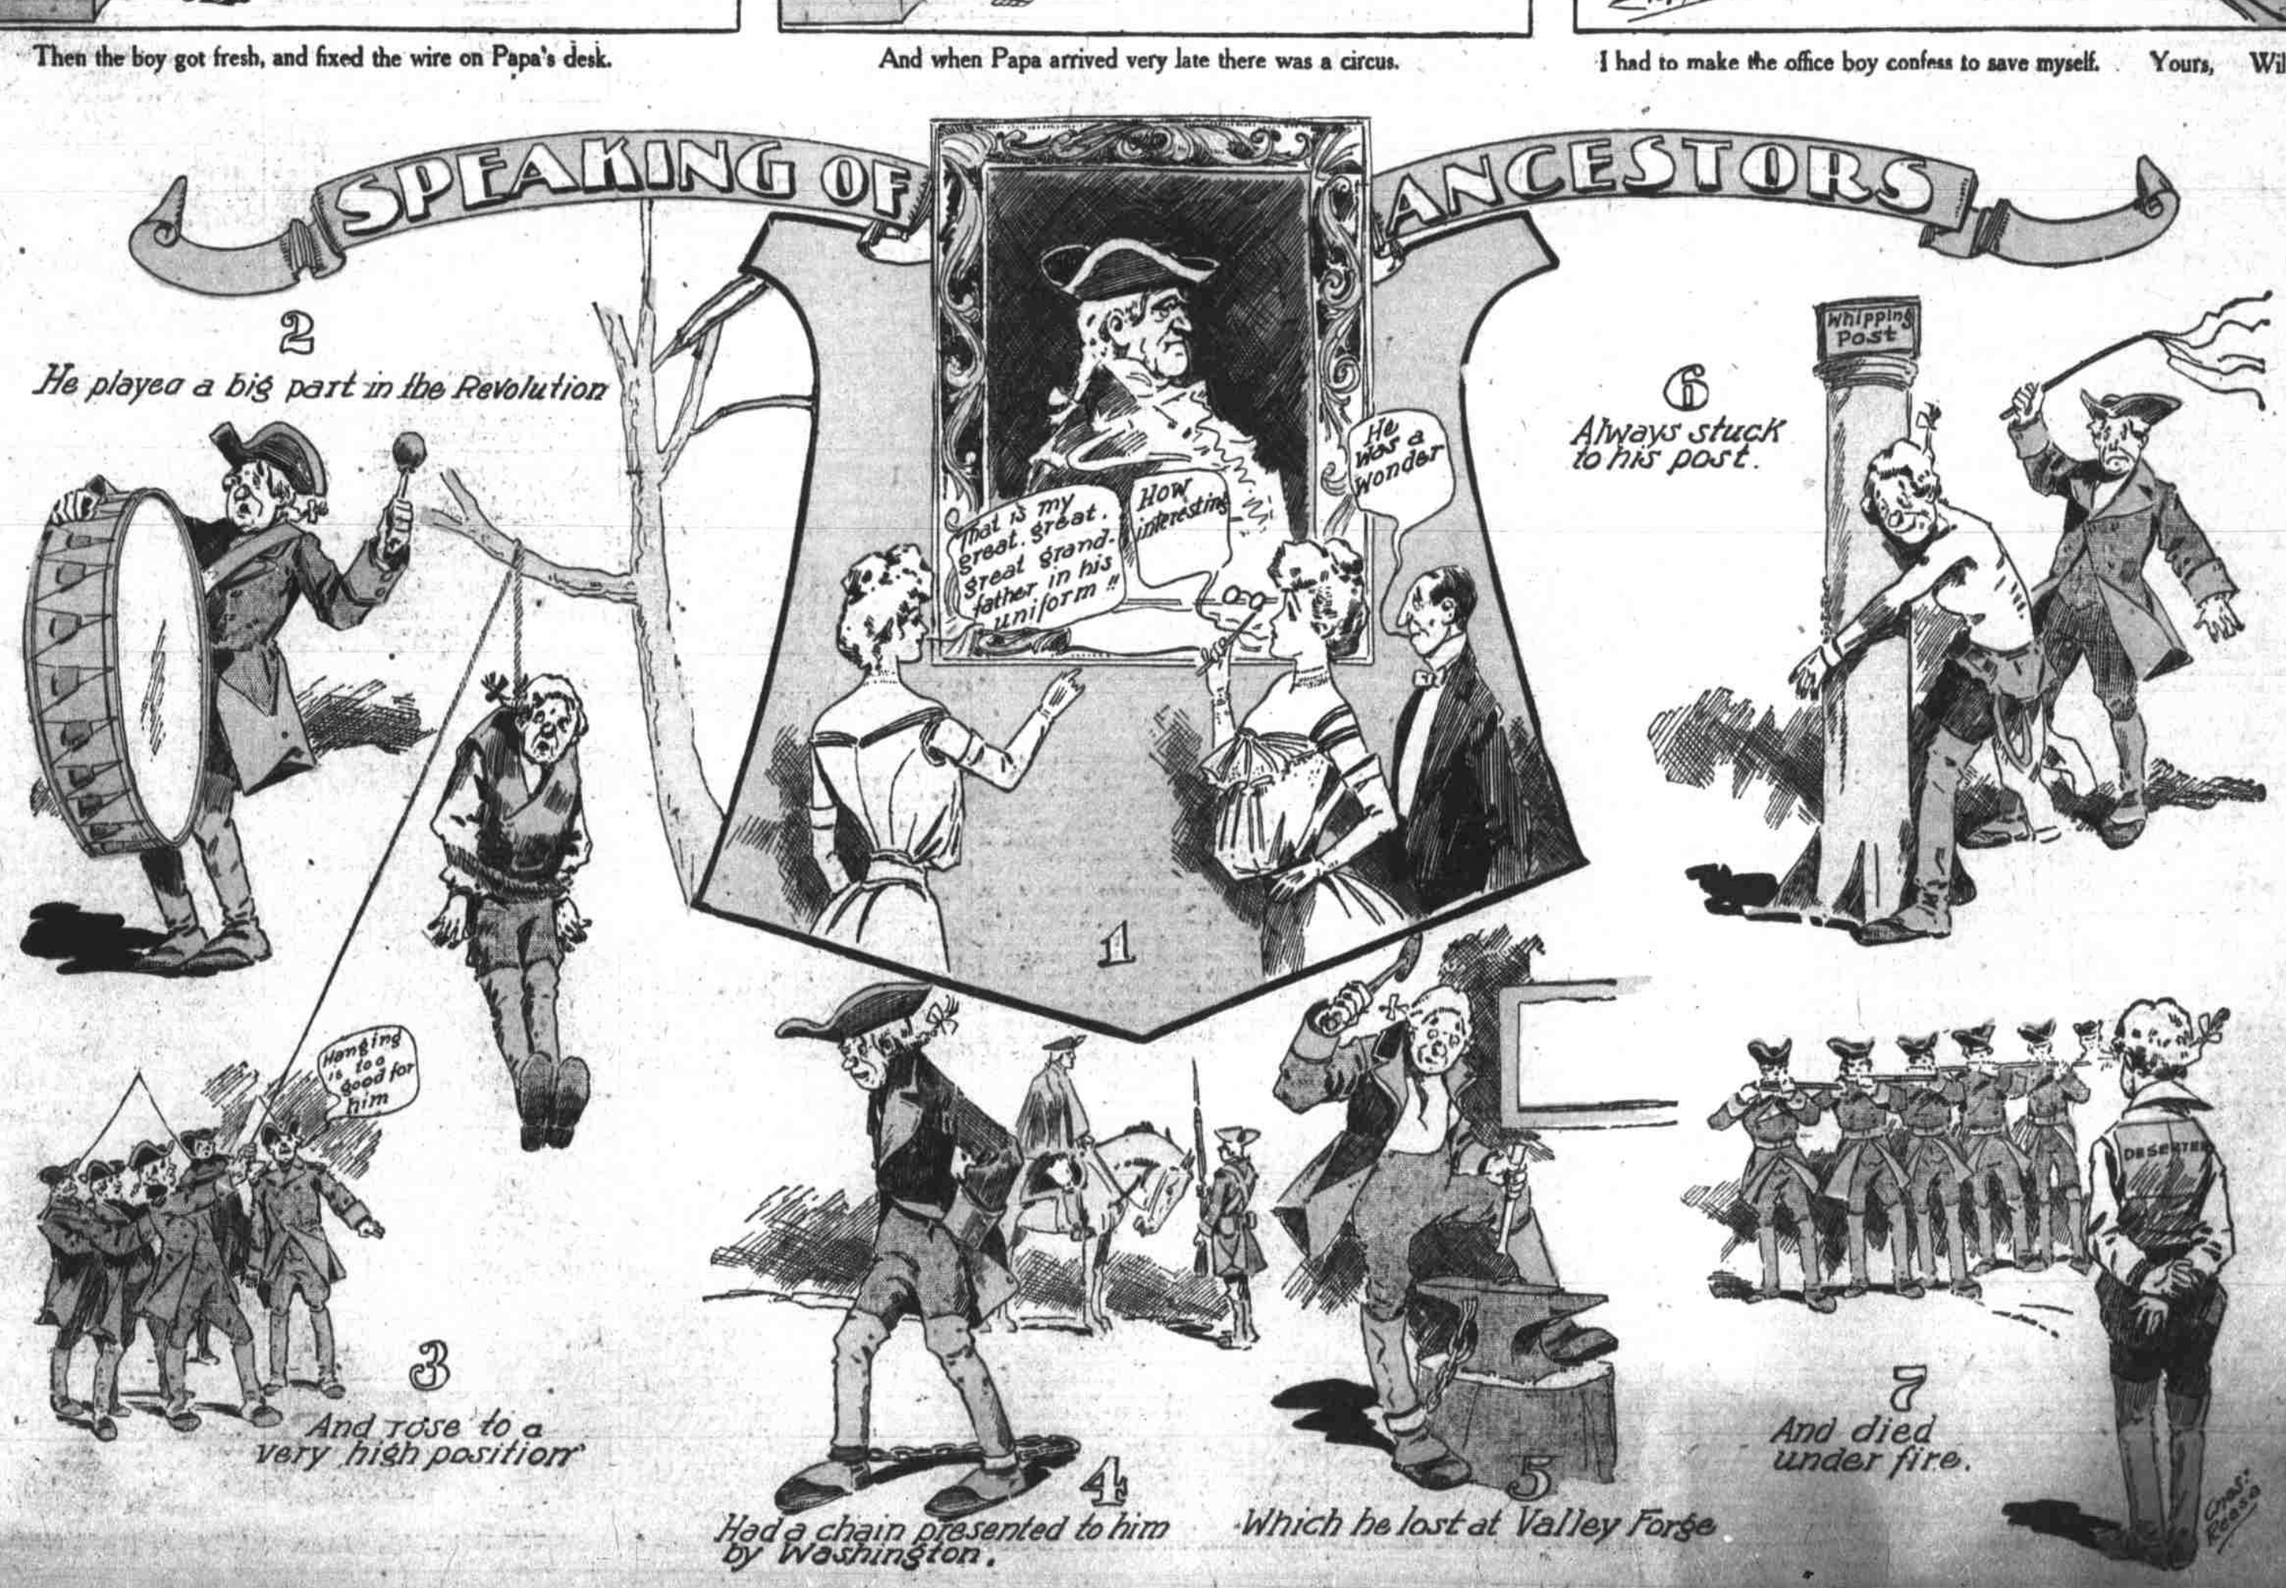
The office boy and I rigged up a scheme to prevent future lateness.



It worked all right the first time, and Papa was pleased.



Then the boy got fresh, and fixed the wire on Papa's desk.

And when Papa arrived very late there was a circus.


I had to make the office boy confess to save myself. Yours, Willie.
