

PORTLAND BROWNS AT BAKERSFIELD

CAPTAIN BUTLER HAS BEEN PUTTING THE MEN THROUGH VARIOUS STUNTS—HE EXPECTED TO-MORROW—KEEGAN AND FREEMAN ARE GREAT FAVORITES.

(Journal Special Service.)
Bakersfield, Cal., Feb. 26.—The members of the Portland baseball team are rapidly congregating in this city, and in a few days they will be working in their regular positions. Acting Captain Ike Butler is in charge of the team until the arrival of Manager Ely and Captain Castro. Butler says that he expects Ely today, and Castro by Sunday. According to advices received by the Portland players, the much-disputed Castro is positively on his way to this city, and upon his arrival some arrangement may be perfected whereby he will play with Portland.

Those of the Portland club now here are indulging in light exercise, except Butler, Nadeau, Freeman, Francis and Steelman, who have become almost seasoned in the time they have been here. Shields, Shea and Drennan took a spin on the road yesterday, after which a good rubdown finished their day's exercise.

Morris Steelman and Ike Francis are wonderful throwers having a speedy and accurate delivery. Steelman carries himself like a big leaguer, and his throwing to second is one of the most accurate ever witnessed here.

Francis is still somewhat overweight and when he gets down to fighting weight will rank among the fastest men on the club.

Phil Nadeau and Jerry Freeman have endeared themselves to the local fans, who have watched them work, and are as great favorites in this town as they are said to be in Portland. Every small boy in this town knows Ham Iberg, and they follow him around with admiring eyes whenever he appears on the streets.

The Butler will probably pitch the whole of Sunday's game for Portland, for the other players will be troubled with sore muscles, after their long winter's rest.

NEW SPORT THAT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

There is something new under the sun. It is scootering. Comparatively few sportsmen have heard of scootering, but their number will be larger next year. Scootering may be defined as flying over ice and skimming over water. Its great advantage lies in the fact that you do not have to change cars.

The ice yacht is a rapid transit device with infernal accommodations, and dangerous possibilities, if the ice be infirm. The scooter is an almost equally speedy contrivance in which you can find real comfort and feel perfectly secure that if your craft does happen to take a plunge into water it will return to the ice again without subjecting you to more serious discomfort than a dash of spray.

The scooter is a real boat that travels sedately well, if not squally fast, over ice or water. It has metal-shod runners to carry it over the ice and a water-tight hull to carry it over water. It has a cockpit that will accommodate two persons comfortably and one or two more on a picnic. The hull is almost an exact counterpart of the snubbox, from which it was evidently derived, but the bottom is flatter.

The scooter is a Great South Bay product. The Long Island life-saving crews, finding much difficulty in crossing the bay between their homes and the stations along the beach in the winter season when the bay was partly frozen over, contrived a boat on runners that could be pushed over the ice and paddled over the intervening water. They have been using this for years, but until recently it was not very a satisfactory conveyance, as it was slow and it imposed a great deal of hard work.

The real scooter did not come into existence until a year or so ago, when some village genius with a practical turn of mind applied the sail. Then it was suddenly discovered that the queer-looking little boat was the handiest craft afloat or ashore.

JUNIOR FIVE O'CLOCKS DOWN WORKING BOYS

The Junior 5 o'clock team and the Working Boys' team of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening in a basketball contest in their gymnasium, the former winning by the score of 13 to 3. Although the score was somewhat one-sided, the young men, nevertheless, played an interesting game.

Tacoma, Feb. 26.—Another athletic organization has registered in the Northwest association of the Athletic league, the movement for which was started last fall by the Tacoma and Seattle Y. M. C. In an exciting game of basketball last night between the Junior Fives and the Junior Working boys the latter team was defeated by a score of 13 to 3. The working boys put up a nice game, but the Fives were too heavy for them.

BASEBALL GOSSIP OF PACIFIC NATIONALS

(Journal Special Service.)
Spokane, Feb. 26.—It has been practically settled that the season of the Pacific National league will be opened simultaneously in Salt Lake and Spokane April 26. Lucas, McCloskey, Williams and Reilly held a consultation and this date was agreed to, subject, of course, to the votes of Butte and Salt Lake.

Butte will come to Spokane for the first week and Boise will go to Salt Lake. Spokane has better weather in the early part of the season and for this reason Butte will play here. Salt Lake has good weather, as has Boise, but the receipts will probably be larger in Salt Lake for the opening games.

Spokane will most likely jump straight to Salt Lake and return to Butte and Boise, or it may be, the trip will be reversed, as it is the intention to have all the teams start out with three weeks at home.

McCloskey has practically given up the fight over the contract of Gus Klopff. "Mac" still insists that the signed contract is the "genuine sarsaparilla" and that wired acceptances do not count as much as signed contracts. He has reasons, though, for dropping the dispute, which look good to those on the inside.

MOWET CHALLENGES FREEMAN

President Williams and Manager Reilly have practically settled upon a site for the new ball grounds, but will give nothing out regarding the location or the plans until the papers have been signed, which will be some time near next Saturday.

TRACK ATHLETES GETTING READY

(Journal Special Service.)
Spokane, Feb. 26.—The managerial board at the high school has announced that the track athletes are to begin training next Monday. It is said that about 25 men have signed for practice and that most of this number will be out with the first squad.

In spite of the cold, the snow and the rain, the boys say they will begin practice for their first year of actual track work.

OREGON BASEBALL DIRECTORS TO MEET

(Journal Special Service.)
Salem, Feb. 26.—The board of directors of the Oregon Baseball league will meet in regular session in this city tomorrow evening for the purpose of completing their organization and laying plans for the summer's games. There will be four clubs organized, Salem, Eugene, Roseburg and Oregon City represented, and it is expected that Portland and Vancouver will also have delegates here to join the league and take part in the work awaiting disposition.

If all six of the clubs are represented, the board will begin the work of arranging the schedule of games for the different dates throughout the year.

President P. H. Sroat, who was instructed to appoint his own secretary, has rendered the position to W. N. Gatens, and that gentleman will probably accept the position.

MULTNOMAH MEN DOWN HONEYMAN

The Honeyman Hardware company's indoor baseball team received a good trouncing last evening by the Multnomah club nine at the latter's gymnasium. The final score was 31 to 13. Everything was progressing quite well for the Honeyman men until the Multnomah men got mean and made 11 runs. Then the losers couldn't see the joke of it and notwithstanding a wonderful brace, the Honeyman players could not muster sufficient runs to land anywhere near victory. It was a brilliantly played game, but the club men showed superiority in training. The men who struggled were:

Multnomah—Zan, Murphy, Watkins, Banks, Fenton, Gammie, Johnson, Bisquit and Wickersham. The Honeyman men were: Martin, D. Honeyman, McKiffon, Parrott, Gammie, Schraepfer, Day, Hays and Vackerson.

SPORTSMAN IS AN IMPORTANT FACTOR

GREAT OUTLAY OF MONEY FOR OUTDOOR SPORTS IS INCREASING EACH YEAR—LARGE SUMS SPENT FOR PLEASURE CRAFTS—STATISTICS.

Twenty-five years ago the sight of two steam yachts at one time in the New York harbor was distinctly sensational. Today more than $50,000,000 is invested in the fleet of American pleasure craft, and of this total nearly $40,000,000 is in steam yachts. In 1898 there were not 30 automobiles in America, and two years later 30 establishments in the United States were building machines of 200 different types. Twenty-five years ago, the vacation travel to New England and Canada was a minor item in the financial budgets of these regions. Yet in 1926, in New Hampshire alone, the amount of money paid to hotels, boarding houses and guides aggregated $5,000,000. The wilderness in the vicinity of Lake Placid, which 12 or 14 years ago could have been purchased at $30 an acre, now commands $1,200 and $1,500 an acre. New York state alone has set aside 15,000 acres of game preserves.

An Important Factor.
The sportsman has become an important factor in commercial and territorial development. He is spending millions, and more of them every year, in a wide range of outdoor pastimes. He is wielding a potent influence in legislation, and he is being called the "Yankee characteristic" of chasing the dollar in blind disregard of playtime and wholesome recreation. The sportsmanship which flourishes in deep woods, by swift rivers, on quiet lakes, in marshes where wild fowl feed, or which finds its keenest zest in sailing salt water with lee rail awash, has drawn the city man by tens of thousands to make him all over again. At the same time, it has boomed the business of providing for the wants of this multitude, to an extent first realized by the public at large since the sportsman's show has become a feature of the year of entertainments at Madison Square Garden.

Showing of Census.
The federal census of 1900 included this interesting item: Hunters, trappers, guides and scouts, males, 10,020; females, 1,320; total, 11,340.

A table compiled from numerous government reports gave the average wages of "hunters, trappers and guides" as $420 a year. This, however, is not a fair estimate, for the cash returns do not include the living which the majority of men following these occupations are able to obtain for a good part of the year, in addition to their wages or profits. As a conservative estimate, these hardy Americans earn $8,000,000 a year, and their proceeds are but a small factor of the total business of providing outdoor sport for the man who seeks it. The revenue of the railroads which carry the sportsman to his favorite haunts will amount to larger figures than this item. The manufacturer of guns and ammunition, of camping outfits, and fishing tackle, of canoes, and other small craft of outdoor wardrobe, roll up their respective shares of this great business to amazing totals.

ALL-STARS TO MEET MONMOUTH TONIGHT

All-Stars vs. Monmouth normal school is the schedule for basketball at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. The normals have the reputation of being a strong team, and as the locals have been getting into pretty good trim a close game may be expected.

This will probably be the last big game of the season at the association as the All-Stars leave on their annual trip the first of next week to play a series of games up the valley. The college teams in that section are having considerable discussion and argument as to the state championship, and it is possible that the All-Stars may be able to give them some light on the question.

The board of directors of the Portland Kennel club are to hold a meeting this evening to discuss plans for the coming bench show to be held in this city April 20 to 23 inclusive. James Mortimer of New York City has been selected to officiate as judge at the show.

The directors will hold frequent meetings from now until the date of the opening of the show in order to transact such business as may come before it. The meeting this evening will be held in the offices of the treasurer, William Goldman, at 7:30 o'clock.

HUGH JENNINGS IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

FAMOUS BASEBALL PLAYER MEETS WITH BAD ACCIDENT WHILE DIVING IN THE SWIMMING TANK AT CORNELL COLLEGE—HAS SPLEEN DID RECORD.

(Journal Special Service.)
Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Hugh Jennings, the well known baseball player, and coach at Cornell university, met with a serious accident yesterday while bathing in the swimming tank. He dove without noticing the depth of the water, and as the tank was almost empty, he severely injured his head and arms.

Hugh Jennings is one of the best known baseball men in this country, and has an international reputation. Jennings was born at Avoca, a mining town near Scranton, Pa
