L. C. KEATING WINS BOWLING TOURNEY

LARGE CROWD WITNESSES THE MONTHLY EXHIBITION AT THE PORTLAND ALLEYS—NO LARGE SCORES MADE BY CONTESTANTS—TABLE OF SCORES.

The monthly tournament which was held on the Portland alleys last night was the most interesting bowling contest which has been seen here this season.

None but the best bowlers were able to enter the contest, as a score of 200 or over made during the month of February was required of each of the contestants. Thirty-two men had qualified for the event and 19 of them were on hand to show their skill.

The alleys were crowded with interested spectators who were kept in doubt as to the result till the last man had finished. L. C. Keating, who won first prize, started out with a poor game, making only 140 pins in his first game. He found the head pin in the second game and made 190, which gave him a chance for first place, and he was not slow to take advantage of it, striking out from the seventh frame in his last game, making 212 pins, the highest single score of the evening, and a total of 542 for the three games. Hugo Steblis won second prize with 527. Joe Gallard was crowding him hard with 525.

L. C. Keating and P. Kneise each won a special prize given by the Brunswick-Balke Colender company to every man who made a score of 200 or over in a single game. The scores were:

L. C. Keating	140	190	212	542

The Portlands, the Lewis and Clarks and the Lawrence will play a series of games to see which team will represent Portland in the contest with Seattle. The first game of the series will be played Thursday night between the Portland and the Lewis and Clarks.

ELSEY WOULD LIKE TO UMPIRE

Spokane, Wash., March 2.—Charles Elsey, former captain and first baseman for the Indians and later the first sacker for McCloskey and the Portland Browns, wants to be an umpire.

He says the peace conference has reduced the expense account of the players, but has not cut down the expenses, so he wants to quit the game this year. He has applied to President Lucas for the position of umpire and says he would like a chance to handle the indicator.

SPOKANE LADIES TO BOWL

Spokane, Wash., March 2.—The Empire Bowling club has secured Mrs. H. J. Hart of Minneapolis as bowling instructor for the ladies. A class has already been formed and some fair scores are being made. Mrs. Hart bowled 175 for the first game bowled on the new alleys by a woman. It looks as though the ladies of Spokane are going to take quite an interest in the game.

JENKINS FAILS TO DOWN PARR

Buffalo, N. Y., March 2.—Jim Parr, the heavyweight wrestler, proved to be too much for Tom Jenkins in the handicap wrestling match last evening. Jenkins was unable to throw Parr a certain number of times as agreed.

SALEM'S MANAGER SIGNING HIS NINE

(Journal Special Service.)
Salem, March 2.—Harry Edmondson, late manager of the Santa Barbara baseball team, is in Salem and has signed contracts with the Salem baseball club for the season, as manager, and has already taken up the work of arranging for the season's games. He is at Portland this evening, where he will sign players for the team and as soon as the requisite number has been secured practice for the season's work will begin, and Mr. Edmondson is confident that he will win for the club this year in spite of the fact that some of the other teams have signed some very excellent and able players. He says that hard practice and the strictest discipline will be the two conditions that players in the Salem club will have to look forward to, and with these two conditions prevailing, he is not at all afraid but what the pennant will again come to the capital city of Oregon for the season of 1904, as it did last season.

Mr. Edmondson is a theatrical man, and has worked his way into the baseball playing, having had considerable experience in managing successful baseball clubs in various parts of the country. Last year he managed the Santa Barbara club from June to January, 1904, and but recently disbanded the club for lack of funds, and followed baseball as a business. He has made a fine impression here, and the directors of the Capital Amateur Athletic club are highly pleased with the contract they have made with him.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS

Charley Druhot's showing thus far has been satisfactory to the Portland management.

Walter McCredie is quite a favorite in Bakersfield, especially among the fans who witness the practice games.

Arrangements have been made by Manager Ely to play four exhibition games a week with the Bakersfield club. Games are to be played on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

Shields and Nadeau have astonished the natives at Bakersfield by the gladness and variety of their wardrobes. Shields is said to have it on his teammate in this respect, but in popularity the chubby outfielder has the upper hand.

Louis Castro worked out a little in yesterday's game, but did not exert himself, as he was somewhat tired after his long journey.

The fact that Parke Wilson had three shortstops under contract turned out to be of considerable benefit to Henry Harris, for it enabled the "Prize" manager to fill Gokkman's shoes without any trouble. With Delehanty and "German" Schaefer to rely upon, Wilson could easily afford to allow Harris to have Schmeer.

Loan's pennant chasers from Oakland arrived in Hanford, Cal., where they are to prepare for the coming season. The team is composed of the following well known players: Henry Schmidt, Oscar Graham, Peter Lohman, Richard Bortger, Julius Strohm, Buck Franks, Bernard Schreyer, J. Dunsey, William Devereaux, Al Kruger, William Ganley, George Buchanan, Doc Moskman and Charles Whittridge. The Oakland commence practice this afternoon.

The San Francisco team, under the direction of Charlie Irwin, is engaging in preliminary practice at Recreation park in San Francisco. All of Harris' team have reported there except Willie Cutler, who is expected from Los Angeles in a day or so.

Billy Damman refuses to go back to Spokane and says that unless allowed to play with the team he will quit the game during the coming season.

Mike Fisher's Tacoma Tigers are congregating at Fresno and will soon be rounded into playing form under the supervision of Charlie Graham. There is some talk of Tacoma playing a few inter-season exhibition games with Oakland at Hanford, which place is about 20 miles distant from Fresno.

WEIGHT LIFTING TESTS.

The annual weight lifting championship of England took place this year at the athletic institute, Birmingham, for three classes of lifters—light, middle and heavyweight. W. P. Caswell of the Health and Strength school, London, won the lightweight, with a total of 513½ pounds. The middle class was won by W. House, German Gymnastic society, with a total of 567½ pounds. T. E. Pevier of the German Gymnastic society won the heavyweight class. He was in splendid form. With the right hand he lifted 225 pounds, or five pounds of an advance on his record of last year; with the left, he put up 214; his two-handed lift was 295, making a total of 644 pounds.

PITTSBURG DOG SHOW.

(Journal Special Service.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., March 2.—Aristocratic canines of many breeds were on view in old city hall today at the opening of the annual exhibition of the Dequense Kennel club. The show this year has attracted entries from many of the most famous kennels of the east and middle west as well as from several parts of Canada, and in the high class and number of exhibits the show is fully up to the high standard established by the previous exhibitions of the club. Judging was begun soon after the opening of the show today and will continue until the close Saturday night. The judges are James Mortimer, W. C. Codman and Major J. M. Taylor.

HANLON IS BETTER THAN DECKER.

(Journal Special Service.)
Philadelphia, March 2.—George Decker of this city was clearly outpointed last evening in a six-round bout with Eddie Hanlon of San Francisco. Hanlon tried hard to score a knockout, but his opponent succeeded in evading him at the most dangerous periods.

BASEBALL PLAYERS WANTED

Mr. Harry Edmondson, manager of the Salem baseball team, will be at the Belvedere hotel this (Wednesday) evening and until Friday evening, for the purpose of signing players for the Salem club. All applicants are prepared to make best propositions for the season and bring references.

ELY'S MEN DEFEAT BAKERSFIELD NINE

(Journal Special Service.)
Bakersfield, Cal., March 2.—The Portland Browns again defeated Jack Houston's crack Bakersfield aggregation in the practice game yesterday. The features of the game were the splendid batting of Nadeau, Castro, Freeman, McCredie and Francis of the Portlands and Murdock and Householder of the local team. Shields pitched part of the game and fielded his position in excellent style. Young Druhot took Shields' place in the latter part of the game and looks like a comer.

The newcomers of the Portland bunch are quite sure, and the effort they use in getting around is comical to witness.

In this respect Manager Ely is included, for he is so sure that he can hardly sit down.

The catching of Steelman was especially brilliant and this player is a host by himself and will prove a valuable aid to the Browns' twirling staff.

Batteries—Portland, Shields, Druhot and Steelman. Bakersfield, Drinkwater and Baer.

TWO LEAP YEAR BABIES WERE BORN

Although it is a 1460 to 1 shot that a baby will be born on February 29, the birth statistics today showed that one boy and one girl first saw the light of day Monday in Portland.

Which was born first is not known, but both alike are fated to be but one year old as counted by birthdays, February 29, 1908.

Neither child has as yet been named. A son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Smith, 80 North Ninth street, Dr. T. H. Humphrey being in attendance. The place of birth is not the home of the Smiths, for the father's residence is given as Pendleton. The mother was born in Marshfield, and was Miss Lester Devere.

To show that fate often evens up things, a son was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Test, who reside at 587 East Sixteenth street. Mr. Test is a well-known printer of the city, and Mrs. Test is a Portland girl.

LUMBERMEN CALL ON ROOSEVELT.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, March 2.—The National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' association convened in annual session in the capitol today with prominent lumbermen present from nearly every section of the United States. After the opening formalities and the transaction of some routine business the session adjourned and the members called in a body at the White House to pay their respects to President Roosevelt, who received them cordially and discussed with them several matters in which the lumber trade is particularly interested. Secretary Shaw and Secretary Cortelyou have been invited to address the convention tomorrow.

WOODMEN TO BUILD A NEW TEMPLE

ANNUAL MEETING REARS NEWS OF COMPLETION OF PAYMENT ON SITE—HALL WILL BE FINISHED BY NEXT AUTUMN—TO COST $30,000.

The Woodmen of the World are going to erect a new temple. The organization has seen the needs of a fraternal home for a long time and now it is to have one. J. J. Jennings, a prominent member, has been working hard making plans and arousing enthusiasm among the members.

The annual meeting of the stockholders was held last evening in the Woodmen hall in the Selling-Hirsch building. A board of directors was elected for the ensuing year. It is as follows: Chairman, J. J. Jennings, and other members, A. L. Barbur, A. B. Ferrera, C. C. Bradley, T. J. Murphy, A. J. Murphy, George W. Tabler, M. L. Bird, M. L. Woodward, William Reid, H. L. Day, C. E. Elliot, H. Schade, W. S. Ward and C. E. Bequette. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, A. L. Barbur; vice-president, J. J. Jennings; treasurer, C. C. Bradley, and secretary, W. S. Ward.

A committee consisting of C. C. Bradley, J. J. Jennings and William Reid was appointed for the purpose of getting plans for the erection of the new temple.

J. J. Jennings read his annual report. He stated that the lot which has been purchased as a building site has been fully paid for. This was a complete surprise and his words were received with applause.

The lot is on Eleventh street between Morrison and Alder. The property is valued at $12,000. The hall will be completed by the coming fall. The lot and the building together will cost about $30,000. The lower floor will be about six feet under the sidewalk. This floor will be occupied by a hall to be used as a banquet room and armory. The next floor will have a hall 50x60 feet, parlors and committee rooms. The five circles of Women of Woodcraft will hold their meetings in this hall. The third floor will be occupied by a hall 50x60 feet. This will be the largest hall in the city. The building will be of brick and will be modern in every respect.

The first trouble arose in the county auditor's office all refusing to sign except Maxwell. In the office of the county clerk more difficulty was encountered. Several persons called at the auditor's office and declared that Burckhardt should abandon his plan of raising campaign money.

The list taken to Prasp and Bamford. Seeing that McCord had signed for $20 they put down their signatures for $10 each. Afterward they informed McCord that he had "set a pretty high pace." He replied that he had a conference with the three demanding that their names be scratched off the list. There is where the real trouble began.

Burckhardt is said to have replied that he had already turned the money over to Judge Carey using his own name. He stated that he had been reimbursed by the subscriptions coming in. The chairman of the committee was telephoned and denied that he had received any money from Burckhardt. McCord, Prasp and Bamford then went to the county auditor's office and had their names scratched off the list. As soon as it was learned what had taken place a conference was held by a number of the signers and it is stated that tomorrow several of the others will demand that their names also be scratched from the list.

Sherrif Gives $500.
An interesting fact in connection with the row is that a number of things which the county Republican central committee would rather not have known are leaking out. For instance, it is learned that Sheriff Storey has voluntarily contributed $500 to the campaign fund and Assessor McDonald $250, while other officials have "chipped in" lesser amounts. In view of the fact that Storey is regarded as a "dead one," to use the language of a well-known politician, and cannot possibly secure a renomination, he is looked on as having virtually held himself up for the amount named. It is further declared that neither Storey nor McDonald has received any promise from the committee, though the latter is looked on as a strong candidate.

New Fund Started.
"All I care to say about this matter," said Burckhardt, "is that the intention was to raise money to help the committee in campaign. McCord's, Prasp's and Bamford's names do not appear on any list of mine. The money subscribed will all be turned over to the committee."

That the three names do not appear on any list of Burckhardt's is because the signers scratched them off.

Since the storm started the other clerks and deputies have come together and started a campaign fund. They feel that money is needed, but want nothing to do with the Burckhardt-Matthews manipulations. On the new list, which already contains the names of a majority in the office of the county clerk, including all three departments, each subscriber is taxed only $5. This includes the women clerks.

ordinary. However, Burckhardt secured quite a list of subscribers. Expert Accountant Black went on the list for $25. Accountant Bartlett for $15. Deputy Sheriff Fred Matthews for $25. Deputy Sheriffs Harlow and Schneider for $15 each. Deputy Assessor Maxwell for $25. Deputy Recorder McCord for $20 and several other names were secured.

The first trouble arose in the county auditor's office all refusing to sign except Maxwell. In the office of the county clerk more difficulty was encountered. Several persons called at the auditor's office and declared that Burckhardt should abandon his plan of raising campaign money.

MASTER BUILDERS STUDY ORDINANCE

The Master Builders' association of Portland has asked the city council not to take action in regard to the new building and fire ordinance until it can be reviewed by the association.

"We have no special fault to find with the bill," said Secretary G. W. Gordon of the builders, "but we desire to look it over before it passes the council. The executive committee will be in session this evening for the purpose of checking over the measure. There may be things in the bill that if passed would work a great hardship upon us, and if we wait until the ordinance is passed before finding them out, it will be too late."

The Master Builders' executive committee met last night behind closed doors and was in executive session again this morning.

after hours. The pair were suspected of having played a leading role in several recent holdups and were arrested on the "roaming" charge in order that they might be under lock and key while the record was being investigated.

Chief Hunt has a habit of glancing over the station docket every morning about 8 o'clock and writing off a list of names, the owners of which are allowed to go free without trial. These men are supposed to have been arrested on drum charges, but sometimes the drunken stupor is still on the men so favored by the chief that others answer to the lucky names as they are read off by the jailer, and thus escape.

"We want those men who got out last Saturday morning, and wait them bad," says Chief Hunt.
