CORBETT WHIPS FOOTBALL PLAYER

EX-CHAMPION SCORES THE FIRST KNOCKDOWN IN SEVERAL YEARS IN A CLEVELAND RESORT—PIG-SKIN WARRIOR GOES TO THE FLOOR IN A HEAP.

(Journal Special Service.)
Cleveland, March 3.—James J. Corbett scored his first knockout for several years in an impromptu battle here in a downtown resort.

Corbett, with a party of friends, entered the place about midnight to get a lunch. A few moments later in came Charles A. Boyle of Boston, a well-known graduate football player of Dartmouth college. Boyle coached the Western Reserve team last fall, and is rated as one of the best football players in the country.

While not as tall as Corbett he weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds. He recognized Corbett, and not being one of the ex-champion's admirers, made the remark that he could whip any man in the house. Corbett included in his list Corbett, however, kept his temper and tried to argue Boyle out of his desire to fight.

Boyle was not to be put off in any such manner. He retorted that Corbett was four-fushing, and that he could whip him with one hand tied behind him. With that he made a pass for Corbett's jaw.

The blow never landed, but Corbett came back with a right-hander on the point of the chin. He then uppercut him with the left and the fight was all over. Boyle sinking helplessly to the floor.

"I am sorry that this happened," said Corbett, "but I simply had to defend myself. Had Boyle gone back to sleep, as I advised him to do, it never would have happened."

FORMER CHAMPION ENGAGED TO MARRY

Following in the footsteps of other golf champions, Miss Ruth Underhill, who held the woman's golf championship in 1899, will join the ranks of the brides. Just announced is her engagement to Mr. Harold Tredway White, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Augustus White of Columbia Heights, Brooklyn.

Miss Underhill continues to be one of the most prominent women golfers in America, although the title of champion is no longer hers, and she has been the secretary of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association since it was formed. She is the daughter of Mrs. Walter M. Underhill, of No. 15 West Eleventh street, Manhattan.

Mr. White belongs to one of the most prominent families on Brooklyn Heights and is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1897.

SALEM'S MANAGER IS HERE FOR MEN

Harry Edmondson, manager of the Salem baseball club, arrived in this city yesterday looking up men for his ball nine. Edmondson is one of the most popular baseball men in the Oregon state league and is a clever player. He says that the outlook for a successful season is bright and hopes to have a fast team at the capitol city. Last evening and today Edmondson was at Schiller's cigar store in conference with several players whom he may sign. They are good strikers and understand the national game in every detail.

REILLY TO MEET BOWAN

(Journal Special Service.)
La Grande, Or., March 3.—Tommy Reilly of Portland and "Dummy" Bowan have been matched to fight under the auspices of the La Grande Athletic club on March 17.

BROWNS IN PRACTICE AT BAKERSFIELD

(Special Service.)
Bakersfield, March 3.—Portland had a bad workout yesterday, and as most of the soreness is gradually being worked off, the boys capered around in a lively fashion.

Young Druhot worked out well in the practice game Tuesday, and Manager Ely is fondly cherishing the idea that he has a "find."

Ike Butler, who is called the "old reliable," and not without reason, for he is as steady as a clock, is now in fine condition and says that this is the first time since he was with Shreveport at the time he was taken from there to Baltimore in the American league, that he has been in correct shape to start the season.

Louis Castro has the appearance of a crack athlete, but as yet he has not engaged in any heavy practice. Manager Ely preferring that he should limber up gradually. Castro says he expects to be right by Sunday, although he will play in today's game and also on Saturday.

Manager Ely has received a letter from Mike Fisher asking him to allow Jack Huston's Bakersfield team to go to Fresno and play a game with Tacoma, but as Ely has a contract with the Bakersfield manager and wants his men to have all the regular game experience possible, he refused to consider Fisher's proposition. Portland's outfield is certainly the goods, for three better hitting, throwing or base running outfielders than McCredie, Drennan and Nadeau would be hard to find anywhere.

In Freeman, Manager Ely's husky young first baseman, the Portland team has a man of great promise. He is a young fellow, practically just starting out, and is a star already.

The team lineup is as follows in this afternoon's contest:
Portland Position. Bakersfield.
Butler-Druhot P. Westlake
Shea-Stelman C. Baer
Freeman I. B. Baard
Ely J. B. Raymer
Castro S. B. Kuhne
Francis S. B. Burke
Nadeau L. F. Curtis
McCredie C. F. Householder
Drennan R. F. Murdoch

COMPANY H TO MEET MULTNOMAH TONIGHT

What promises to be a warmly contested game of indoor baseball is scheduled to be played in the Multnomah club's gymnasium this evening, between the clubmen and company H's team.

The militia men seem to think that the Multnomah and the Y. M. C. A. are endeavoring to cut them out of the championship, and are therefore practicing hard, and are determined to show their rivals a thing or two in the rudiments of indoor baseball.

The Y. M. C. A. team is scheduled to meet the C company team tomorrow night, and the outcome of these games are eagerly watched for by the admirers of the game.

"AMEER" CHORUS REHEARSAL

The manager of "The Amerer," Robert McCracken, has issued a call for a rehearsal of the chorus of the opera next Thursday night at the Mayvann Grand theatre. The principals met Tuesday evening and went over the different parts of the play. It is likely that the chorus will be composed of 100 members.

HANLON REFUSES TANGER

Eddie Hanlon refused an offer to meet Benny Tanger in a fight that had been contemplated by a Chicago club. Hanlon holds a decision over Tanger and explained that it was not possible for him to make the engagement for a return match at present.

GOTCH KNOCKS PERSON

(Journal Special Service.)
Tacoma, March 3.—Frank Gotch of Bellingham, the champion wrestler of the world, succeeded in throwing Charles Person twice within an hour last evening.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HORSE AUCTION

SALES YESTERDAY BROUGHT GOOD PRICES—GEORGE PERINGER BOUGHT KINNEY HORSE FOR $800—LIST OF THE HORSES THAT WENT UNDER THE HAMMER.

There were no special sales at McCauley's auction yesterday other than Kinney's purchase by George Peringer of Pendleton for $600. There was a good sized crowd present in the afternoon, and the prices realized were considered as satisfactory. The later sales were:

BOXING GOSSIP

"Cyclons" Kelly and Billy Woods will try for a purse and more fame in the middle weight class before the Oakland Athletic club on the 15th of March. The contest is to 15 rounds. If there is no decision prior to that limit.

Willie Fitzgerald of New York and Bud Ryan of Chicago will meet in the ring of the Silver Bow club of Butte in the second round in March. The limit will be 20 rounds.

George Dixon, who has been making some of the English feather weights stars, is soon to return to Boston, where he will spend a few months in resting up after his long stay in the old country.

Young Griffo, once of the great boxer of all the little fellows, has lost his grip, it would seem. In a 10 round program at Chicago he was declared "stopped" in the last round by Tommy White, a fast little fighter. Griffo claims that he was in poor condition and not able to make any kind of a showing.

Martin Canole has after various efforts finally won a victory. At Bedford, Mass., he put Arthur Cole out of business in two rounds with a clean knock-out. Cole held the feather weight championship of Maine.

OUR JOCKEYS IN RUSSIA

American jockeys have made a mark in Russia as well as in England. One of the star performers at the track in the land of the czar is Carl Mitchell, who has put Irish Lad to his paes and won more races than any other rider in the country. He is now under contract to ride for Count Fournour next year.

Caywood was discharged to make room for his more successful rival. The count has a new stable of horses that are among the best and the American will be given an opportunity to show what he can do with the string. American jockeys are not popular in Russia and there is a rule at the tracks that prevents them riding in more than three races a day. The Russian system is entirely different from ours and a Russian jockey must win fifty races before he is considered out of the apprentice class. An American jockey has to ride at seven pounds more in any race than a Russian boy who has not ridden fifty winners.

GORHAM'S STAR IS BEAMING BRIGHTLY

L. B. Gorham, general agent for the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, believes in signs and omens. In his purse he always carries a Danish coin, a small 10-ore piece. This is a copper piece worth about a quarter of a cent.

"Good luck has attended me since I have carried this copper," said Mr. Gorham. "It was given to me by my son about six months ago, and things have certainly been coming my way since. The coin may not have anything to do with it, but I intend to keep it anyhow."

Finder please "Handy Andy" over to Portland and receive reward."

SPOKANE WILL TRAIN AT WALLA WALLA

(Journal Special Service.)
Spokane, Wash., March 3.—Manager Reilly left yesterday for Walla Walla to make arrangements for the training of his team at that place. Hardy, who played for Reilly last year, may be with Spokane this season. The Indian's manager is now trying to secure his services. Should Hardy be signed, he will be in the outfield. It appears that there is some doubt about Durrett's return, and Reilly wishes to provide for any such emergency. The big Indian center-fielder is claimed by the Southern league under the same law that held Euseman, and the Southern league may win the fight. Ed Morris, an outfielder, who played in the Montana league several years ago, arrived in this city several days ago and see Reilly about signing. He states that all he wants was a trial and was so positive that he could make good that he will pay his own transportation to the training grounds just to get a chance to show what he can do.

CLASP HANDS BY FOREST CHANCE

SIX NOTED ARMY OFFICERS MEET IN PORTLAND HOTEL BY ACCIDENT AND RENEW OLD MEMORIES—SCHOOLMATES WHO SEPARATE FOREKIPS FOR LIFE.

That the world is small after all is often attested in many ways, especially in the meeting of old friends in unexpected places. On Tuesday evening a small but interesting gathering of United States army officers met accidentally in the Turkish room of the Portland hotel, and old friendships were renewed with the sincerity that characterizes old college chums. Besides the meeting, which was entirely informal, the circle represented sentimental peculiarities.

There were Lieutenant-Colonel Tucker, chief paymaster of the department of the Columbia; Lieut.-Col. E. T. C. Richmond, late chief of artillery on General Funston's staff, now on his way to assume command at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island; Major John Pitcher, Sixth cavalry, in command at Fort Yellowstone, and a personal friend of President Roosevelt; Major H. L. Rees, paymaster, department of the Columbia; Captain Stewart, recruiting officer for Oregon and Washington, and Capt. Jesse Baker, disbursing quartermaster, with headquarters in this city.

They met and talked over other days when circumstances permitted them to meet elsewhere. Time has made many changes since several of the party exchanged handshakes, and it may be many years before they meet again. The army is a profession in which a man may spend his entire life without meeting a classmate of younger days.

Major Pitcher and Captain Baker were in the class of '76 at West Point. The vicissitudes of time separated them years ago. Major Pitcher is stationed in the Yellowstone, commanding the entire reservation of over 3,000 square miles. Three troops of cavalry come under his supervision. It was he who was President Roosevelt's host on the latter's two weeks' visit here last year, and he is the same man who watches with careful eye the preservation of the National Park, and the protection of game within its limits. Major Pitcher is known as the "great game protector."

Major Pitcher's father belonged to the Twenty-eighth infantry, and his brother, Louis Pitcher, is an officer in the First infantry, stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco.

Captain Baker and Major Pitcher are fast friends. The captain is from Pennsylvania, and is the author of the Baker ballot law of that state. He has been in the army since 1898, and bears the distinction of being the only private of the Spanish-American war who came out of the conflict with the rank of captain. 1888 and 1889 Captain Baker was in the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature, and in the session of 1893, 1895 and 1897 represented his district in the senate. In an army transport circles there is a story of the conflict with the captain. He was a close relative of Col. Edward Baker, a former United States senator from Oregon, who was killed at Ball's Bluff during the civil war.

On Tuesday Captain Baker celebrated his 48th birthday, and on the same day Colonel Tucker passed the half-century mark of his life. Colonel Tucker resides at the Portland and is well known in army and social circles throughout the country. As chief paymaster for the department of the Columbia, his jurisdiction extends from this city to Alaska. Colonel Tucker observed his 50th birthday by dining with his son, Logan Tucker, who is in the visit.

The other paymaster was Major Rees, an Oregonian, and probably the best-known army man on the Pacific coast. The major spent three years in the Philippines during the late war, and while disbursing $3,000,000 in currency to the officers and men, was not once under or over his accounts at the expiration of his service in the islands.

The other member of the party was Colonel Richmond of the coast artillery. The colonel will retire in about three years, after a long and eventful service. He was made happy a short time ago when he was ordered to Fort Wadsworth, as he is fond of the east. He left yesterday for his new command.

WEST IS SECURING CENTER OF STAGE

John Gilmour, of the local office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, who returned today from a fortnight's trip to Louisville, Ky., declares that the war in the Orient is causing the west to spring into more prominence in the eyes of easterners. "Everyone seems interested in the coast," said Mr. Gilmour, and while there are not many home-seekers making inquiries, I believe there will be plenty of settlers traveling westward very shortly.

"It has been very cold in Kentucky, and in Chicago when I passed through there was heavy snow. People tell me that the winter has been longer than for years. There have been colder spells in other years, but since November there has been no break in the frigid weather."

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known Portland People Tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Portland the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer; every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble, will find profit in the reading.

P. C. Buckler, of No. 8 East Ninth street, brick mason, contractor and builder, says: "A constant soreness across the small of the back, which bothered me when stooping or straightening up, and was accompanied with a weakness of the kidneys, particularly in evidence at night, indicated that my kidneys were not performing their functions properly. I had it for years, despite all my endeavors to get relief, until one day I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and sent my son to the Luce-Davis Drug Co.'s store, corner of Yamhill and Third streets, for a box. A few doses convinced me that they were going to the root of the disease, and the continuation of their use for a short time removed the pain from my back and corrected the kidney secretions. I have another box in the house, and should necessarily demand it I shall certainly resort to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."
