Wheat Market is Weaker.

Wheat Market is weaker. The wheat market is weaker with the lower figures being quoted in the east and in Europe. The fact that the Japanese war will not cre-ate a large demand for either wheat or flour has caused the markets to react to more busi-ness-like figures. No changes were made in local figures today, but further declines in the lots 7c per markets will have the effect of dropping bere. The flour market is firm. foreign marks figures here.

New York, March T.-McIntyre & Marshill say: The recovery from the lowest prices of Saturday in cotton is shout 50 points. It was influenced by the strong cables and an active demand at home and abroad at advanced prices. It would appear now that spinners' brokers are increasing their limits throughout the south and sales in New Orleans today of 6,000 bales are evidence of this with that the month advancing 14 to %c before noon. The weather, today was more favorable, as good rains have fallen over the eastern and central portions of the belt with moderate tempera-tures. There was no sign of molsture weat of the river except in the northwestern part of Trass and parts of Louisians and Arkansas, and the area wherein it is most wanted is still suffering. We shall, however, accept the state-ment made by the agricultural bureas for Febru-sry that the ground of the state is generally in good condition and preparations never fur ther advanced at this time of year. The more-ment continues to show as increase in the preventions of the state state the state Cars Grade Est. 34 29 Corn 182 4 105 Oats 256 5 270 The wheat cars today were: Minneapolis. 557: Duluth, 23. very fair, but owing to the war sellers are now very reserved, so there may be a reduc-tion in the movement before long. Roumania-Braila advices received today say that the crops are progressing favorably; the area under wheat is given as 4,100,000 acres, against 3,700,000 last year. The Danube keeps free of ice, but shipments last week were small owing to depletion of stocks; however, arrivals at Braila are expected to increase before long, and the movement outward should then be larger.

Inger. Bulgaria-Our correspondent at Sofia reports that all crops, except rape, have so far win-tered without hargs. Snow cover has been rather scanty, but, on the other hand, the You will find the salesroom filled with amb-stantial parlor, dining-room, bedroom and kitchen furnishings. wet and mild. There are no complaints con-cerning the crops. Argentina-Recent weather has favored the corn crop. Wheat is arriving at the ports in liberal quantities and shipments have been lib-eral. The laborers' strike is now settled; so the movement may be expected to increase. Indis.--Nothing unfavorable has been reported of the crops, so it is presumed that all con-tinues to go well. Shipments keep rather small, but there is a brisk tusiness being done in Calcutts wheats for early shipment. Australasia-New Zealand crop reports are still favorable and an export surplus of 2,000,000 busbels for that colony is expected. The export movement last week was much smaller, but still liberal. France-The weather continues to be very wet norment last week was much smaller, but still liberal. France-The weather continues to be very wet and mild. Correspondents say that the young crops still look well, but the land is infrested with weeds and vermin. Country markets have reported prices about 6d per quarter up, but trade has been inactive. Italy and Spain-There is no fresh news. Germany-Also here the weather has been mild and wet, clearing the snow from the fields and thawing the ice on rivers and cannis. There are no complaints about the crops, but would for a star are expressed that harm would be done if frost should return suddenly, as the fields are unprotected. North Africa-The weather continues favora-ble for the crops.
