The week of self-denial and prayer of the Salvation army begins March 27. There will be half-night prayer services and morning meetings. The work of the army in foreign countries will be described by officers in costume. Collections will be taken up for the benefit of the army's home and foreign missions. Churches will be asked to give one-tenth of the collections taken up during this week toward the work. The city will be canvassed from house to house by members and the funds obtained will be used for the cause. During this self-denial week in America last year, $55,453 was the amount raised.

Earl Hood, the man of three lives, was again before Municipal Judge Hogue yesterday on the charge of trespassing on the premises of the Brooklyn school. Hood was arrested two weeks ago by Patrolman Isaacson in the hall of the school house. During the past few days, Hood has been at the Good Samaritan hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Allen Gilbert. Judge Hogue decided to postpone the case against Hood indefinitely, it having been decided that Hood would be furnished his board and room for acting as a steward in the hospital.

He was well known as a printer and writer. He worked for a number of years on the Roseburg Enterprise. The last 10 years of his life were spent in the east. He was a grandson of General Joseph Lane. Four sisters survive him, the Misses Anna and Winifred Mosher, Mrs. J. A. Willis of Myrtle Creek and Mrs. J. M. Cowan of Tatoush, Wash.

Particularly interesting is the March number of the Lewis and Clark Journal. This publication, although only in its third month, is already enjoying the reputation of being very progressive, as, so far, each issue has exceeded its predecessor in beauty of style and merit. The March number is filled with wholesome reading matter, besides literature regarding the 1905 fair. The illustrated work is excellent and well suited to the subjects discussed.

The funeral of James T. O'Brien took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic church in Albina. Mr. O'Brien died in this city on March 6. He was formerly a resident of Victoria, B. The funeral of Miss Della McCabe, who died Monday at her home in Woodstock, took place at 1:30 this afternoon from the Woodstock Methodist church. The members of Columbia Rebekah lodge, L. O. O. F., of which she was a member, attended the funeral in a body. Miss McCabe was formerly a teacher in the Woodstock school and was clerk of that district at the time of her death.

The Clark Street Methodist church is going to have a new church edifice. This much has been decided. The present location at Eighteenth and Raleigh streets is not central enough for all the members. The church was built about 12 years ago and is worth about $5,000. It has a membership of 50. The new location will probably be in the vicinity of Twenty-second and Quinby streets.

The new 2,800-pound fire engine recently ordered from the east, arrived yesterday, and will be assigned for duty on the East Side, in the wholesale district of Grand avenue, until after the completion of the new Morrison street bridge. The new engine is one of the finest on the coast and can throw 1,000 gallons of water a minute. There are 2,800 feet of hose with it.

AN IMPORTANT FIND OF POTTERY CLAY

A great bank of the finest pottery and tile clay in the country has been unearthed at Estacada, one ton and a half of which was brought into Portland and is being tested by the Portland Pottery works. Samples of earthen jars have been made and are exhibited at the office of the Oregon Water Power, Telephone & Railway company's building, First and Alder. The pottery people say that the find is of the greatest importance to Portland, as the quality of the clay is not equaled anywhere else on the coast, so far as is known. Vitriol brick of the strongest kind will soon be made at Estacada, and sold in the Portland market for paving purposes, and that prices that will drive the inferior paving materials out of the market. A company is now forming, and will be incorporated within a week or two, for the purpose of constructing a pottery, tile and brick works at Estacada, and its capital will be sufficient to engage in the business on a large scale. The townsite company of Estacada has secured the entire mountain containing this clay, and will have an interest in the factory. It will be a big affair, and Portland will hear from it in a substantial manner before very long. The Estacada Manufacturing & Paving Mill company is a new corporation that has just filed its articles. It is building a mill that will supply the local demand and ship a carload of the finished product to the Portland market daily. Estacada is therefore prospering at a good rate. It is really a booming little city.

NO PLACE TO LAND NEW FERRY BOAT

The Albina ferry is in a class with the fireboat when it comes to looking for a place to land. "We shall very likely have to undertake condemnation proceedings," said Mayor Williams today, "in order to find a landing place for the ferry in Albina or on the other side of the river. "Property owners refuse to sell at a reasonable figure, and there is nothing much else to do but to go to the courts."

Mayor Williams, with George H. Howell and Sig Sichel, members of the board of directors of the ferry, are taking the opportunity to go to Albina and personally investigate the situation and will probably then decide upon the landing places to be condemned by the city.

TREW MUD AT THE TAILOR'S WINDOW

"I haven't time to wash windows every morning just for boys to throw mud against them during the day," declared V. D. Sittel, who owns a tailor shop at 47 Madison street, this morning. Sittel said that a crowd of boys had been spending their time during the past few weeks throwing rocks at his shop and mud at the windows. Yesterday, when the bombardment began, Sittel rushed forth from his shop and after a lively sprint captured one of the mud throwers, who gave the name of Hanan. This morning Sittel had a warrant sworn out in the municipal court for the arrest of the boy.

H. W. Goode, director-general of the Lewis and Clark fair, returned from San Francisco this morning. He said his time in California was devoted to matters not in any way pertaining to the fair. PUT MONEY INTO TIMBER NOW

$10 Down and $10 Monthly Enables You to Join Our Syndicate.

We believe in timber as a safe investment. We are following the lead of many shrewd far-seeing men who know the present price of $1.00 per thousand feet will double over and over, and we do not think the advance is far off. Timber land is unlike real estate; it has all the good qualities, but also has a crop on it that is growing up at the rate of 10 per cent yearly. Well posted men claim that 25 per cent yearly increase in value of stumpage is lowest possible returns to be expected from a good timber investment. History will repeat itself and many a poor man awake to find himself rich by his foresight in buying now, just as they did back in Minnesota and Wisconsin years ago. Stumpage is now worth $10 per thousand there.

The Oregon Logging and Lumber Company of Pierre, South Dakota, with authorized capital of $50,000, was organized to invest in timber; also to log lumber and sell it. This company owns and controls elegant fir, cedar and pine tracts on Umpqua river near ocean, and offers public ownership to its property and privilege of sharing in its profits for the first time, on ground floor terms and prices, with the following guarantee: Every dollar invested in our stock at $1.00 per share will be secured by and represents 1,000 feet of timber set aside for that purpose, which alone will bring from 25 per cent up in profit, also a share in profits of logging and sawing other timber. And before accepting fiscal agency for this stock I required a deed in trust for each share of 1,000 feet as security.

Join Us at Once With Your Money

Ten dollars down and $10.00 monthly will secure 100 shares or 100,000 feet of timber and a share in profits of logging it, which could be done quickly and this issue of stock is offered for the purpose of equipping plant for such object; also to increase holdings and take up options. We do not know of any lumber stock that is on the market; it is not for sale and most of it above par. Not being a get-rich-tomorrow proposition, we don't want those who cannot afford to wait a year or two to join us, as no legitimate, safe investment can pay big dividends so quickly. But be sure to reserve stock soon, as the offer is sure to be a popular one and interest careful, far-seeing investors at once. This may be your only chance to obtain timber at the low price of $1.00 per thousand feet. If we logged tomorrow, it would bring from $5.00 to $10.00 per thousand feet—and it will bring it standing as it is in the next few years. The utter lack of any source of supply and immense inroads made daily by mills lead us to predict a big advance, sure and quick.

We reserve the right to reject any subscriptions that are received too late to participate in this offer. Fiscal Agency of THE OREGON LOGGING & LUMBER COMPANY, 601 Oregonian Building.
