

SUIT IS BEGUN AGAINST STOREY

H. E. ESTES ASKS THAT SHERIFF AND OTHERS BE ENJOINED FROM VOTING COUNTY PRISONERS ALREADY REGISTERED AND STILL IN JAIL.

Suit was filed today in the circuit court by Harry E. Estes against Sheriff Storey, Jailer Jackson, W. F. Matthews, C. H. Carey and County Clerk Fields. The petitioner prays that a writ of injunction be issued against them, restraining them from liberating county prisoners or permitting them to vote at the primary election. Estes cites also that illegal registrations of convicted prisoners serving sentence be set aside and the registration records be corrected.

The petition recites that the defendant W. A. Storey, sheriff of Multnomah county is a candidate for renomination and as such "relies on his efforts to secure the renomination on the support of the delegates" who are in sympathy with that political combination popularly known as the Mitchell or Matthews machine.

It asserts that Jackson and the other defendants named are in sympathy with Sheriff Storey. Estes says that he is a candidate for delegate to the county Republican convention and himself is entitled to a place on the official ballot at the primary, as an independent candidate in opposition to the candidate in the interests of the Mitchell or Matthews machine.

Cause for the injunction is presented in the assertion that February 8, Jailer Jackson, "with intent to carry precinct 18, caused the following prisoners in the county jail to be registered as electors in the said 18th precinct: Harry Walker, W. T. Shaw, Frank O'Donnell, E. McGill, E. W. James, William Howard, T. W. Harris, E. Gannon, J. C. Fabricius, Isaac Ford, F. Dunn and R. E. Doyell."

Rivals of Schilling's Best everyone of 'em, look to price for their market; not one of 'em looks to quality! Allspice for instance; there is no difficulty in getting it fine; they don't try; it costs too much. It costs us less to sell; that's how we afford the quality. Moneyback, that costs nothing.

CRAWLED A MILE TO REACH A PHYSICIAN

(Journal Special Service.) Albany, Or., March 12.—Hiram Baker of Lebanon, who has been in the general merchandise business in this city for the last 14 years, sold out his store last week and went up to his home-land, about 16 miles east of Lebanon, to spend the summer. He was putting a ceiling in his cabin last Wednesday morning when he fell and broke both bones in his leg in such a way that about three inches of the large bone stuck out through the skin. There was no one with him, and his nearest neighbor and the registration records be corrected.

JUDGE LAWRENCE FLINN, Pioneer of Albany, Who Died Last Night.

Mr. Baker was three-quarters of a mile away. Although he is 55 years old, Mr. Baker is very active, so he started to drag himself to his neighbor's cabin. It was a long and painful trip, and on the way he was forced to crawl through a branch of Beaver creek, the ice-cold water of which nearly paralyzed him. At last he reached his neighbor's camp, more dead than alive, and they put him on a horse and took him three miles over a mountain trail to the wagon road, and from there in a wagon to Laconia, where they telephoned to Lebanon for medical attendance. It was 8 o'clock in the morning when he met with the accident, and it was 6 o'clock in the evening before the doctor was able to reach him. Mr. Baker is very weak from loss of blood, and the doctor says, but the doctor says that with good care, he thinks he will recover without the loss of the leg.

Judge L. Flinn died at his home in this city after an illness of about two weeks last evening at 7 o'clock. He leaves a widow and three daughters. His only son died in his junior year at Princeton college. Judge Flinn was born in Ireland in 1837, but came to the United States with his parents while yet a small boy. They settled in Vermont, where Mr. Flinn attended Middlebury college. He graduated in 1863 and moved to Elizabethtown, N. Y., where he read law in the office of Robert S. Hale. He started west in 1864, and upon arriving in San Francisco he came north and spent his first winter in Linn county. The summer following he taught a school in Polk county, but left it in 1865 to take a school in Albany. While he was teaching he kept on with his law study and was admitted to the bar in 1865, and in 1868 formed a partnership with J. C. Powell. In 1878 they dissolved partnership and Mr. Flinn formed a partnership with George E. Chamberlain; our present governor. In 1888 Mr. Flinn, Mr. Chamberlain and S. E. Young purchased the First National bank, of which Mr. Flinn became president. Other interests of Judge Flinn were the Albany Canal & Water company and the Albany woolen mills. He was a member of the board of trustees of Albany college for a number of years, and also a member of the public school board. He was county judge of Linn county from 1880 to 1884, and served one term as mayor of Albany.

The Elks of Salem are to visit the Albany lodge tonight in a body to assist in putting the last of the large class of new members through initiation.

DESERTER FOUND IN COMPANY OF HOBOES

(Journal Special Service.) The Dalles, Or., March 12.—A deserter from the coast artillery at Fort Stevens, Harry T. Walton, met Marshal Ed Wood yesterday and as a result Major Humphreys will send for Walton. He is 26 years old and was associating with hobos when arrested, and is in the city jail.

Roads are still a subject for discussion by the county court. The petition by C. L. Morse et al, for a county road in Hood River valley, three miles from Hood River town, was granted, but that of H. C. Rush et al, for a road at Mt. Hood, was denied, a strong remonstrance having been presented. The state board of education has granted a state certificate to J. S. Landers, a state diploma to Miss Minnie Elton and a state life certificate to J. T. Nell. These are teachers in The Dalles schools.

The party of homeseekers that arrived here from Kansas a few days ago and went to Cedar valley, Klickitat county, Wash., were well pleased with that place. Some of them will return here and look at Wasco county before leaving. That the proposed railroad from The Dalles to Dufur will be built this season, seems to be assured, as rights of way for the road have been secured the entire length of the line with the exception of the objections of three property owners, but it is stated that there is plenty of capital back of the enterprise to build the road regardless of small obstacles.

BURGULARS HAD QUIET DAY. The burglars who have been making life miserable for many Portland people during the past few weeks are supposed to have taken a holiday yesterday. One overcoat was reported stolen from the Maze cafe last night, the coat having belonged to George Jones. A meat market located at the corner of Williams avenue and McMillan street was broken into yesterday, but the burglars were unable to open the safe, and left without plunder.

HONOR THE LAW BY JUST VERDICT

ATTORNEY CALLS JURY SAFETY-VALVE AND CHARGES VAN HOUTEN MURDERER TO INERTIA OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY—ARGUMENT IN PRAG CASE.

"Gentlemen, as a jury you act as a safety-valve to the community. Instead of taking the law into one's own hands to redress wrongs, the institutions of our country provide that a jury shall give relief. Lately in our city one Van Houten, feeling that his rights had been invaded, appealed to District Attorney Manning for legal redress. It was denied him, and he took the law into his own hands and killed the man who wronged him. If the district attorney had done his duty there would have been no killing. And I say to you now that my client has a just cause of action and that you should not by your verdict cause him to feel that he cannot get justice through the courts."

This was the emphatic statement of Attorney Jerry Bronaugh in arguing the suit of Otto Prag to recover damages in the amount of $5,000 from William Hahn, a saloonkeeper, before Judge Frazer in department 1 of the state circuit court this morning. Prag bought 50 cents worth of crawfish from Hahn for a woman, but failed to pay. Evidence was offered to show that the saloon man had tried to collect the money several times, but failed. Finally he called at the messenger office, and while there either struck Prag or pushed him away. Alleged differ as to the nature of the alleged assault.

SWEET PEACE IS NOW ITS PORTION

(Journal Special Service.) Its plumeage is no longer ruffled in a flurried state of discontent, for harmony prevails now in aerie No. 4 of the order of Eagles. For the past two months tranquility has reigned in the aerie and during that time the membership of the local chapter has been doubled. Something over 50 new members have been initiated. At present there are 650 members of aerie No. 4. At a meeting last night at Eagles' hall, Third and Yamhill streets, 30 candidates were admitted to membership, bringing the total to 650. The aerie is under the guidance of W. C. Spencer, president, and William De Viney, vice-president. It was during last fall that a rupture occurred in the ranks of the local Eagles and in the wrangle which followed the charter was revoked. Peace was restored and the charter has not only been re-established but the chapter is said to be in a better condition than before the feather-pulling contest.

MT. RASTUS DISTRICT REPORTED VERY RICH

(Journal Special Service.) Sumpter, Or., March 12.—Archie Murray, who with Dr. H. E. Curry, of Baker City, owns a group of claims on Murray hill in the Mt. Rastus district, came in from that section a few days ago and reports the striking of $100 ore on their properties known as the Hayseed group.

Mr. Murray was the original discoverer of this camp. Dr. Curry and he having owned claims in that region for five years. Mr. Murray was also in the vicinity of Mt. Rastus and located some claims on Camp creek 14 years ago. They have found $100 ore in their mine on Murray Hill, but never knew the richness and extent of the district until last fall, when phenolite was discovered there, and immediately there followed a series of startling strikes. A thousand men rushed into the new field in the summer and fall of 1902, but winter caught them and work was suspended. It is expected that there will be another rush to the district as soon as spring opens.

W. C. Kelman, an old Cripple Creek miner, left here a few days ago to open an assay office at Rastus City. He says that the formation there very much resembles that of Cripple Creek and that he has great faith in its future productiveness. Mr. Kelman and Seattle associates have located a number of claims in the district and expect to vigorously prosecute development work as soon as the weather will permit.

The Mt. Rastus country is located about 20 miles south of Sumpter. $100 Ore Discovered at the Yankee Girl. Guy E. Pierson and S. A. Pelkey, owners of the Yankee Girl, located in the Bear Gulch country, about four miles from town, came in from the property Thursday. Three samples were taken from the shaft, which is now down 25 feet, which gave average returns of five ounces in gold and 12

CAMPAIGN OPENS IN MARION COUNTY

(Journal Special Service.) Salem, March 12.—The opening of the campaign, held under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican club, was quite an enthusiastic political gathering in Salem last night. A musical and literary program, had been provided and was enjoyed by an audience that packed the city hall council chamber. President H. D. Patton presided and addressed the meeting, and was followed by Mayor Frank W. Waters. The speaker of the evening was Hon. George C. Brownell of Oregon City, and he delivered an address on the history of the Republican party and made the argument that Republican policies had always been followed by prosperity, and he predicted the wonderful development of the Pacific coast country, the deepening of the Columbia river, and the successful termination of the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

At the close of his address several musical numbers by the Pratum quartet were followed by a rising vote of thanks to Senator Brownell and to the quartet. Workman Will Retire. On April 1 an important change will be made at the asylum when Farmer Henry J. Workman, at the asylum farm, will retire, and Farmer D. T. Brown, at the main building, will take charge of the operations at the farm. The reason given for the change is that one man can do the work of both, and thus a saving to the state will result, while in certain quarters—among people who are desirous to extend the Multnomah county factional fight to Salem—it is urged that Workman loses his job because he is a Simon man.

Death of William Murphy. William Murphy, a highly respected farmer of the Howell Prairie section, seven miles east of Salem, died yesterday morning after a short illness of heart trouble, aged 76 years. He was a native of Posey county, Ind., and came to the Pacific coast with the gold rush

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

(Journal Special Service.) Pacific University, Or., March 12.—In the state intercollegiate oratorical contest, held here last evening, Richard Frank Peters won first place and Ray Goodrich, University of Oregon, second place. It was pronounced by all in the history of the association and the decision, it is said, was entirely satisfactory to all. This is the first time in eight years that the contest has been held in Forest Grove and great preparations were made for this, the most important collegiate event of the year. Each school in the league, consisting of eight colleges and universities, holds the state oratorical contest in turn, and this year Pacific university has the honor of entertaining the visiting students. This is the only line of forensic work in which all the principal colleges unite for honors in one contest. This fact, if nothing else, would make the state oratorical contest the chief celebration of the year.

For Winter or For Summer

The Gas Range is the Most Economical and Convenient

The real sensible thing to do is to use a Gas Range the entire year. Considering the price of coal and wood everything is in favor of gas as fuel. Gas is becoming universally in use winter and summer and with the many appliances for heating a kitchen with gas makes the Gas Range the most economical as well as most convenient all the year. If you carry coal or wood from the cellar all winter and all summer you can appreciate a Gas Range, because there is no fuel to carry. A MATCH IS THE ONLY THING REQUIRED, and then—the valve regulates it. You have an absolutely perfect fire, ready for instant use—A HOT FIRE OR A MODERATE FIRE. Can you imagine a more perfect adjustment? The very thing which may throw you out of gear for the whole day is avoided. In other words, the Gas Range is a guarantee that your day will begin under the most pleasant conditions. It is also a guarantee that your husband will have a good breakfast ready on time, and that he will start his day in perfect tune. LET OUR SOLICITOR CALL AND EXPLAIN THE SYSTEM TO YOU.
