COMMITTEES FOR THE ROSE SHOW

PRESIDENT OF ROSE SOCIETY ANNOUNCES NAMES OF THOSE WHO WILL ARRANGE FOR THIS EVENT - NEW EMBLEM ADOPTED AND BUILDING PLANS GO FORWARD.

Mrs. Rose Hoyt, president of the Rose society, has appointed the following committees to make arrangements for the rose show to be held in Multnomah field in June:

Committee on rose exhibit—Mrs. E. S. Smith, Hood River; Mrs. Wolverson, Salem; Mrs. P. F. Morey and Mrs. Harding; Mrs. Charles Sitton, Portland; Dr. Tinklator, Hillsboro, and Mrs. Samuel Elmore, Astoria.

Committee to select premiums—Mrs. Lamberson, Mrs. H. E. Jones, and Mrs. Theodore Wygant.

Mrs. Mark Levy has been appointed chairman of a committee to sell lemonade. She will choose her assistants. Mrs. Paterson will choose a committee to sell ice cream, and Mrs. Johnson will select one to sell candy. Mrs. Breyman will have charge of the tea booth, and the reception committee will be made up of the following: Mrs. Harvey Scott, Mrs. Pittcock, Mrs. Wygant and Mrs. Goode.

Mrs. John Gill will have charge of the decorations. Mrs. Gill will see the girls of the public schools about having floats in the parade.

The Y. W. C. A. made a proposition to take full charge of the refreshment booth, but this was rejected.

The Federated Trades Assembly, which is to hold a carnival the latter part of June and the first of July, asked the Rose society to join them and have the two together. The society has decided that this would be impossible, as the latter part of June is too late for roses, and if the carnival lasts two weeks there would not be enough flowers for the exhibition.

The committee appointed to confer with the Lewis and Clark fair directors to arrange for the erection of a permanent building on leased ground, reported that the Lewis and Clark directors would do everything in their power to further their plans.

The official emblem of the society was selected. It is a rose color and leaf-green ribbon.

LEADING BUSINESS MEN ADVISE VOTING MITCHELL TICKET TOMORROW

Great Strength of Oregon's Senior Senator - Value to State of Continuous Service at Washington.

The following interviews with some of the most prominent business men of Portland will read with interest by the large number of people who intend to vote at tomorrow's primary election:

Mr. W. B. Ayer of the Eastern & Western Lumber company—it seems to me that in the contest which is now being carried on for the control of the Republican party in this county an attempt is being made by the opponents of the regular organization to create local issues where none are involved. The only issue, in my opinion, that is to be decided at next Wednesday's primaries is whether or not the Republican party in this county desires to replace Senator Mitchell by some one else. The election this year is of national importance, and the municipal questions are not involved. The framers of the present city charter purposefully and with intention provided that the city election should take place in those years when no other election takes place, so that they may be removed from national and state questions: The city election takes place next year, and I repeat that we should not let local questions affect the national issue. In my judgment it is of paramount importance that the people register and cast their ballots for the regular Republican ticket, which is known to be favorable to the re-election of Senator Mitchell, and which will place in nomination five candidates for state senators that can be relied upon to cast their ballots for Senator Mitchell.

Mr. L. A. Lewis, Allen & Lewis—I do not think that we would gain anything by changing the senatorial representation, and I do not see how we can better ourselves by so doing. I understand that at these primaries it will be decided who is going to be the next senator, practically, and I do not see that we need a change.

Mr. T. B. Wilcox of the Portland Flouring Mills company—I do not know anything about politics or the merits of the controversy between the Simon and Mitchell factions in the Republican party, but I believe that the future of Oregon, and Portland particularly, depends more upon the opening of the Columbia river and the Columbia-river bar than upon anything else. I recognize that the coming election involves the question of United States senatorship in 1907 through the hold-over members of the legislature from this county. The improvement of the Columbia-river bar is a matter that can only be accomplished with governmental aid, and there is in my opinion no man in the state of Oregon or the entire northwest so capable of securing from this county the appropriations for the accomplishment of this work as John H. Mitchell. For this reason I am in favor of any faction whose power will lead to the supporting of his hands in the accomplishment of this object. The regular ticket represents the supporters of Senator Mitchell and is entitled to my vote and that of every citizen who desires the rapid growth and development of Oregon.

W. D. Wheelwright of the Export Lumber company—I have never been active in politics, but from the point of view of business and the interest of the city of Portland and the state of Oregon I have never had any other opinion than that those interests are

KUFFLER CASE APPEALED.

The case of Casper Kuffler, under sentence for striking his wife, was appealed to the circuit court yesterday. Kuffler was released from the city jail on $250 bail, his bondsmen being H. H. Staub of Sunnyside, John Ditchburn appeared as Kuffler's attorney. Kuffler was sentenced by Municipal Judge Hoque to pay a fine of $50 and to serve 30 days in the city jail for abusing his wife March 5.

SIMON NOT A CANDIDATE

PORTLAND, March 14, 1904.

Under no possible circumstances will I allow myself to be voted for as a successor of Senator Mitchell. I have said in published interviews and in private that I am not and will not be a candidate, and I now repeat it.

The claims to the contrary made by the Matthews and Carey politicians are false, and are made only to divert the people's attention from their extravagant and corrupt administration of the city's affairs and finances.

JOSEPH SIMON.

MR. VOTER:

If the Matthews-Carey ring wins at the primaries tomorrow it means that the same extravagant political machine which made the taxes 40 mills this year, will remain in control of this city until 1907, and perhaps longer.

What do you think they will do with the city when the Lewis and Clark fair is under way?

Are you willing to trust the city to "Jack" Matthews at such a time?

Would you trust him with your own business?

If not, vote the Independent Republican ticket tomorrow and eliminate grafting.

GENERAL ELECTRIC PUSHES BUILDING

The Portland General Electric company has been issued a building permit for the construction of its north end power station on Sherlock avenue between Cotton and Rock streets. The building will be a large one and will cost about $35,000. The excavation has been completed and the work on the building will be begun at once.

NO PAVEMENT TO FAIR GROUNDS

The protest against the proposed pavement of Twenty-second street from Washington to Thurman streets has carried the day, and the improvement will not be made.

Attorney James Gleason, who was most active in the protest, filed with City Auditor Thomas C. Devlin last Saturday afternoon the string of petitions, carrying it is stated, 50 names more than was necessary to defeat the proposed improvement.

"I do not believe the city will attempt to get a paved thoroughfare to the Lewis and Clark fair grounds now," said City Auditor Devlin. "This was the only feasible way to the grounds, and as the property owners along Twenty-second street have protested and have won their point, I hardly believe any other attempt will be made by the city."

The proposed pavement would have cost between $30,000 and $45,000. Bids had not yet been called for when the protest was begun. It was planned by the council to call for bids on stone, brick and bituminous pavements, and the material was to have been selected from these three after bids were opened.

PROTEST OF TWENTY-SECOND STREET RESIDENTS DEFEATS THE IMPROVEMENT AND CITY OFFICIALS ARE READY TO GIVE UP TRYING TO SECURE IT.

Your Heart

is a wonderful pump that works incessantly, averaging seventy to 80 strokes a minute, and forcing from 20 to 30 pounds of blood throughout the body each minute.

The power that keeps this wonderful pump in motion is nerve-force, the energy furnished by the nerves.

Stress, over-exertion, fright, anxiety, alcohol, tobacco and other stimulants weaken these nerves, but the heart, instead of stopping, makes extraordinary efforts, and causes heart strain.

Then comes shortness of breath, heart palpitation, dizziness, etc., because the nerves are too weak to furnish power.

Take the only safe remedy,

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

It feeds, strengthens and builds up the nerves and muscles of the heart so they can supply the necessary energy.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a marvelous remedy. I always use it when cardiac trouble is present. It meets the indications surely and completely. —C. F. P. BURHAM, M. D., 494 Mass. Ave., Boston, Mass.

CADET LIFE WAS MUCH TOO MILD

BERT FROHOCK, AFTER TASTING THE FREE JOYS OF MESSENGER SERVICE, FINDS ACADEMY LIFE INSIPID AND STARTS OUT TO SEEK ADVENTURE.

Preferring to be a messenger boy rather than a cadet, Bert Frohock, 16 years of age, quietly deserted the Hill Military academy, 821 Marshall street, and all efforts to locate him have been futile. Since Wednesday detectives have followed every clump, but the lad has succeeded in eluding capture up to this time.

So cunningly did he plan to desert and so secretly were the preparations made that not even the commandant of the school nor the boy's aunt, who is his guardian, knew of his intentions until the youngster had departed. His destination he imparted to no one, and not a trace of his movements since Wednesday has been discovered.

Until two months ago, the lad was a messenger in the service of the Hasty Messenger company. To him the life was one long round of pleasure and delight. Dashing madly around corners on his wheel and causing panics among startled pedestrians was a source of constant joy, while the yellow stripes and gilded buttons caused far more pride than the brazen epaulet of the brigadier.

His mother lives in Missoula, Mont., and is engaged in the millinery business. In her absence the lad was entrusted to the care of his aunt, Mrs. Katherine Ramsay, who lives on Irving street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first. In January she decided to assist the lad as much as possible and determined that an education was what he needed. His opinion on the subject was not sought.

So two months ago he was placed in the Hill Military academy, where he received every attention. He was attired in the regulation uniform of the school, and taught to drill and march. But his wheel was gone, and with it the glamor of the streets, the coarse vernacular of the other "kicks," and the occasional tip. He looked for joy, but to him there was none. Instead of the wild frolics of the street there was system and order.

For two long months he bore the life of imprisonment in silent discontent. From the home of his aunt to the school he went day after day until Tuesday. On that day he went to the commandant and requested that he be permitted to live at the school. He would be happier, he said, if thrown with the cadets. The request was readily granted, and he told his aunt of the arrangement.

Before that time, however, he had quietly been making preparations for his flight. His clothing had been secretly taken from the house and hidden down town. Not even to his chums did he tell of his plans. On Tuesday he left his aunt with the assertion that he was moving to the school.

Since that time he has not been seen nor has a trace of his movements been found. At first there were grave fears on the part of his aunt and the authorities at the school. Detectives were employed and have searched throughout the city for the missing lad. Outgoing trains have been closely watched and boats have been inspected, but the boy has not been seen.

"He simply couldn't stand restraint and has flown," said Dr. Hill at the school today. "There is no need to be alarmed about him. He can go anywhere and will get along. He has a way about him that will win transportation on any freight train or engine that leaves the city. He is a bright youngster, but couldn't be induced to take a great amount of interest in educational matters."

"I have no idea where he is, and the detectives haven't been able to find him," said Mrs. Ramsay, who takes a more serious view of his disappearance. "I can't feel, though, that any harm has come to him. He simply wouldn't stand for an education, and wanted to keep on being a messenger boy. He had no trouble at the school, nor anywhere else, that I have heard of, but just wanted to be a messenger boy rather than a student."
