Mr. Albert states that, as the committee is spending state money and not its own, it would have no reason to be unusually severe, or not to give fair play to the contractors. The changes advocated by the master builders are not a part of either the plans or specifications of material and construction, but pertain only to the method of letting out the contract and the superintendence, matters by law exclusively in the province of the commission. The excuse that the letting of the several buildings at short intervals would cause delay is not pertinent. Such delay would be not more than 10 days at most, and the commission in this matter, as in the
