

Oregon City and Vicinity

(Journal Special Service.)
Oregon City, March 22.—The opening of new reservation land caused a large crowd of home-seekers to line up in the Weinhard building waiting for the land office to open its doors. In all there must have been about 50 people waiting to make entries. All were given an equal chance at the business and the entries were filed simultaneously, as this was thought best by the land office officials. The land opened is in the Siletz reservation, and is a fractional part of a township. The land in question is in township 10 south, range 11 west.

With the Surveyors.
 The surveyors are spending their time in their homes now on account of the very stormy weather that prevents work in the field. John Meldrum is at Mollala surveying lines for a road. Dave Kin-

 Ernest Randa, the city engineer, is preparing plans and estimates for the proposed grading of Center street. He has been running the levels and establishing a grade, but was compelled to stop on account of the weather. He has a plan drawn of the proposed grade and it will follow as near as possible the level of the street as it now runs, so the property owners need have no fear that they will be compelled to pay for a lot of unnecessary grading.

K. H. Gabbart, who was formerly in the newspaper business and connected with the Courier-Herald, here, was in

William Jaschkie, a well-known character in and about Vancouver, was found apparently dead early this morning. He was placed in a stretcher and taken to Dunning & Co.'s undertaking parlors. About 9 o'clock he revived sufficiently to walk with the aid of a couple of friends. Jaschkie became somewhat delirious during the night, and the evening celebration, and fell by the wayside while en route for home. On com-

(Journal Special Service.)
Albany, March 22.—Alex. Sumpter, one of Oregon's oldest pioneers, passed away Friday at the home of his eldest son, Alex. Sumpter Jr., 10 miles east of Albany. Mr. Sumpter leaves many descendants, and there is no danger of his name becoming extinct. He had 13 children and 86 grandchildren, 142 great-grand children and 17 great-great-grand children, thus leaving 278 descendants.
 Mr. Sumpter was born in East Tennessee, May 10, 1810. He went to California in 1841, and shortly after went back to St. Louis, where he married Miss Nancy Prather. They came across the plains with an ox team in 1852 and upon arriving here settled in Linn county, near Albany, and Mr. Sumpter had lived here ever since. His wife died a few years ago in Juliette, Ida.

(Journal Special Service.)

Efforts along this line have been made for some months and the Southern Pacific has been looking over the advisability of the move. The Southern Pacific is doing a great deal of improving along the lines now and is getting in shape to add many desirable improvements in service. This city much pleased with the placing of Mr. Markham as the Pacific coast manager of the system, for he is well acquainted with the needs of the valley and is a good friend to the cities along this part of the state, and it is thought will improve the service as rapidly as proper investigations and possibilities of improvements are looked into.

MINES AT SUMPTER ARE BEING IMPROVED

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Sumpter, Or., March 22.—It is reported that Manager Frank Ray of the Dixie Group on the Greenhorn is considering the installation of a larger mill this year. The property is equipped with a small Kinkead plant, but it is found that the magnitude of the ore bodies warrant a larger plant. It is understood that the results of the work with the Kinkead mill has been very satisfactory and that the ore is of a good milling grade.

Large Ore Bodies.

Superintendent Addoms of the Alpine came in from the property yesterday. A raise is being made from the main adit of the Alpine on the ore body that has been drifted on for some time. Mr. Addoms says that the ore body where he began the raise looks fine and was continuing as the work went up. The vein has been strong in all of the work. The raise now being made will reach the surface in about 240 feet.

GEORGE LOVES SEVERAL WIVES

HAS TAKEN SIX HELPMATES—NOW THE UNITED STATES SENATOR'S MIMIONS ARE CHASING HIM THROUGH THE CAGERRUSH OF HIS FORMER ARCADIA.

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
 Washington, March 21.—George Teasdale of Neph, Utah, an apostle of the Mormon church, the husband of six wives and a man who, under the cloak of religion, has violated the laws of his country and the laws of God, is wanted by the senate committee on privileges and elections and wanted earnestly. The committee wants him to testify what he knows about the practices of the Mormon hierarchy and also as to what he knows of his own record.

George Teasdale is now 73 years of age. Since 1900, he has played a star engagement. Indeed, his whole life, since he reached the age of maturity, is illuminated with matrimonial incidents that make exceedingly interesting reading.

In the early 60's he first ventured into the matrimonial business. His first wife was Emily Emma Brown. Emma blessed his career until 1874. In that year she died and "the light went out" of George Teasdale's life.

In 1876 George decided that time necessitated another match, and wedded Lillies Hook. Lillies failed to fill George's life. For eight years George's heart was troubled.

In 1884 a change came over the spirit of his dreams. In that year he had a "revelation"—a twin revelation. George had a vision that recommended him to take two wives. He looked about him and his eye fell upon Mary Loretta Pixon.

George liked Mary Loretta. She reminded him of a great deal of his first wife—beloved Emily Emma. He told her that he loved her.

Mary Loretta had a sister who was a comely woman with youth and amiableness. With George's amiableness and youth were most excellent things in a woman. He would not only wed Mary Loretta but he would wed also her younger sister. He wedded them in the temple the same day, and same hour.

Teasdale soon afterward fled to Mexico after threats of arrest, and took with him many secret papers showing the acts of polygamists. He returned to the United States and is now supposed to be in hiding.
