

BUILDERS' PLANS MUST BE FILED

SPECIAL COMMITTEE MEETING FORMULATES RIGID RULES TO BE INCORPORATED IN BUILDING
ORDINANCE—WILL PREVENT ERUPTION OF FIRETRAPS.

No more buildings will be erected in Portland, until the officials have absolutely every plan and specification, if the city council adopts the new ordinance drafted by the special committee. The issuance of permits will be so regulated that not until the fire marshal or some of his assistants have examined the plans and specifications will a permit be granted. There will be no more large structures in the fire limits or out without brick partitions. The owners must pay the city a fee for the use of sidewalks while their buildings are in course of construction.

The special building ordinance committee, composed of Councilmen Bentley, Fire Chief Campbell, Fire Marshal Roberts, Executive Committeemen Fitcher and Auditor Devlin, met this morning at the city hall and decided to incorporate into the new ordinance the provisions stated above. It was expected there would be quite a number of people present to protest against different sections, or to suggest some new provisions, but J. L. Marshall and H. L. Camp, representing the master builders, were the only ones. Earnest Kroner was to have been present with a list of objections, but failed to arrive, and as Auditor Devlin had suggested some changes and time was necessary to make them, the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

The most important change in the new ordinance is the manner of issuing permits. At present the city engineer issues them, but if the new ordinance passes the council, the permits will be issued from the auditor's office, under direction of the fire marshal.

"The way permits are issued now, a person could secure a permit for the construction of a large building at any point in the fire limits and could start it without showing any plans or specifications," said Auditor Devlin. "This ought not to be. A man should have to show plans and specifications before securing his permit."

The committee then decided to incorporate into the ordinance the provisions stated. The matter of partitions was discussed, a letter from Fire Chief Sullivan of San Francisco having been received by Fire Marshal Roberts. It was agreed that in large buildings, where there are no partitions, a fire would be extremely destructive.

"In the building occupied by Marshall, Fields & Co. at Chicago, there are brick partitions, separating all of the departments," said Fire Chief Sullivan. "There, if a fire breaks out, the men can confine it to one section of the building and fight it with much success. A fire in a large building without partitions could not be handled well."

Councilman Bentley stated that it was the intention of the special committee to draft an ordinance creating the office of building inspector. "If it is the sense of the council that a building inspector be appointed, I will not set up my judgment against that body," said Mayor Williams. "I had thought that with the full-paid department fire chief and his assistants could attend to the matter, but if the councilmen think we need an inspector, well and good."

TO CHOOSE SITE FOR WOOLEN MILL

Tomorrow's meeting of the stockholders will decide the selection of a site for the new factory to be built by the Portland Woolen mill. Sellwood is looked upon as a favorable site, providing suitable riparian rights can be had. A. N. Wills has secured an option on several acres of land near the dam on Johnson creek, thus giving the mill a waterfall of 47 feet. On account of the location of the dam it would not be possible to use all the water of the stream, and the owners of the adjoining land are not willing to make any settlement. Mr. Wills hoped that the option would settle the difficulty, but this will be decided tomorrow.

CORVALLIS HAS A BAND OF BURGLARS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Ore., March 29.—It has just been made public that thieves robbed the Seymour Chipman, Mrs. Espey and W. E. Yates residences early Sunday morning, of small articles, including clothing and provisions. Mr. Yates awoke and turned on a light, when the thieves fled. The police are busy, but so far have no clue.

This morning in the court session, James Guyer, charged with rape, was given a continuance, in the absence of witnesses for the defense.

STRAIN TOO GREAT GERMANY IS ENGAGED

Hundreds of Portland Readers Find It So.

The hustle and worry of business men. The hard work and stooping of workmen. The woman's household cares. Are too great a strain on the kidneys.

Backache, headache, sideache, kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Portland citizen tells you how to cure them all. Mrs. C. Richards, wife of C. Richards, painter, and living at 671 Market street, says: "Mr. Richards values Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. He has had attacks of kidney trouble for years. He is a painter by trade and there is no doubt but the turpentine has had more or less effect on his kidneys, as I believe most painters are more or less afflicted with kidney troubles. Last fall he had an acute attack and when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to our notice I went to the Lane-Davis Drug Co.'s store, corner of Laune and Third streets, and got him a box. They regulated his kidneys that relief came in a remarkably short time. I have heard him express his appreciation of this reliable remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Foster-McBride Co., Chicago, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

CAN NO LONGER TEACH IN FRANCE

Chamber of Deputies Enacts a Bill That Stirs the Nation—Colonies Not at This Time Included in the Act.

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, March 29.—After the most severe parliamentary battle fought in the chamber of deputies in years that body yesterday passed a government bill which will have the effect of suppressing all forms of teaching by religious orders. The measure passed by a vote of 316 to 299, and is considered one of the most important actions and one of the most far-reaching that the French government has attempted in two decades.

The feeling excited among different orders is bitter and intense, and will revolutionize religious work in the republic proper.

MINING TOWN A SCENE OF TERROR

SOLDIERS CLASH WITH CITIZENS;
CITIZENS WITH UNION MINERS;
AND THE LATTER WITH THEM
ALL—WOMEN AND CHILDREN OR-DERED TO KEEP THEIR HOMES.

(Journal Special Service.) Telluride, Colo., March 29.—Excitement continues to be intense here and not only are the soldiers armed, but it can be stated today that every man able to carry a revolver has one somewhere about him or in easy access.

Women and children are forbidden to leave their homes and in many cases food has to be carried to those who are suffering for lack of bread.

President Moyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, is still a prisoner in the jail and is watched by a cordon of militiamen who growl continually at the duty imposed upon them. Many hate the strikers and others favor them, so for this reason there is contention in the ranks.

Attorney Murphy of Denver arrived last night to defend Moyer and had not been in town 10 minutes when he was waited upon by a body of men and told to leave the district or be willing to abide by the consequences.

Secured Protection. Mr. Murphy applied to General Bell for protection and is now escorted about by a squad of soldiers. He says he will not leave the district until he has used every means of which the law admits in behalf of his client. This noon some person from an outlying district, several stones at Murphy and his protectors. The missiles fell short of their mark and the fellow who had the throwing escaped before he could be detected.

"Five of the deported union miners attempted to return to this place and were arrested by the military at Ophir Loop and thrown into the bull pen at that place."

General Bell says he will prosecute the offending unionists to the last letter of the law, and will begin by bringing charges against several for using the American flag as a means of advertisement. The union had placards prepared on the background of which was the American flag. On this was printed a circular stating of a more or less inflammable character.

As matters rest this afternoon there is no telling where the trouble will eventually stop.

JEWS ARE HARASSED BY MOBS AND TAXES

(Journal Special Service.) Warsaw, March 29.—Owing to the stringent tax, orders and an influx of refugees from the frontier, all Moscow, Kiev and Lemberg are crowded and charitable institutions are overcrowded. A prominent Jew named Englehardt, in writing to the Novosti, repudiates the statement that some of the Jews are favorably inclined toward Japan.

The governor of Odessa announces that two months sentence has been passed on an official named Newman for inciting a mob against the Jews.

Newman took advantage of a small gathering of anti-Semites to harangue them on the advisability of confiscating all Jewish possessions for the benefit of the government, and brought up the old Passover ceremonies as a reason why such action should be taken. It was discussion of these ceremonies which caused the Kishineff riots.

CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY IS ENGAGED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Berlin, March 29.—The Brunswick Landes Zeitung prints, with circumstantial detail, the unofficial announcement of the engagement of the Crown Prince Frederick William and Princess Alexandra of Brunswick and Lüneburg.

It is stated the emperor himself negotiated the alliance when he visited Copenhagen a year ago. The prospective crown princess is the second daughter of the Duke of Cumberland. She is 23 years old.

WONG SING HAS NUMEROUS TRIALS

It matters much to Wong Sing, charged with being unlawfully in the United States, who his brothers are, but Wong Quong and Wong Wing say that he is no relative of theirs. His right to remain in this country depends largely upon proof that he is the son of the father of the latter.

Wong Sing is 26 years of age, and declares he was born in Oregon City. He was given a hearing before United States Commissioner E. D. McKee. The commissioner will decide the case tomorrow.

Wong Quong and Wong Wing, brothers, aged 16 and 13 years, respectively, American-born Chinese, were witnesses for the government. The defendant claims to be a son of the late Wong Chong, at one time a prominent Oregon City Chinese, and alleges he was born in this state. The witnesses were sons of Wong Chong, and disclaim relationship with Wong Sing.

The law will not at this time extend to the colonies, although a stubborn fight was maintained for two years to include the colonies. It is intended that gradually the act will cover every foot of French territory.

The law will go into operation at once and will include all teaching religious societies regardless of sect or creed. Congregations are prohibited from recruiting new members and all novitiates are suppressed at once, except those being instructed for teachers' work in the colonies.

State schools are to be reared and encouraged by the government in lieu of those conducted by religious orders.

DUNNING MEETS BAD TREATMENT

IN THE BOTKIN POISONING CASE
TODAY HE HAS HARD TIME ON THE WITNESS STAND—ADmits
MANY DISGRACEFUL ACTS—TRIAL ATTRACTS CROWD.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) San Francisco, March 29.—John P. Dunning was put through another grilling in the Botkin case this morning. He was recalled to the stand at the request of the defense, and was asked if he did not have a number of other female acquaintances in addition to Mrs. Botkin, especially Mrs. Kate Corbally. He admitted he knew Mrs. Corbally through living at the same hotel where she had apartments, and that he once took her to the Palace baths in company with another couple.

He denied that Mrs. Corbally wore a costume that was not the regulation bathing suit. He also admitted that he drank with Mrs. Corbally and took her to a theatre and had visited her in her rooms. He said Mrs. Corbally's young son lived with her but was at school the greater portion of the time. He denied that Mrs. Corbally gave him $500 with which to send Mrs. Dunning back to Dover. He said the money was given him to straighten a number of his accounts here in San Francisco.

A great jam filled the courtroom and corridors of the city hall today.

CAMPBELL ATTACKS BRITISH MINISTRY

(Journal Special Service.) London, March 29.—In the house of commons today Campbell Bannerman, the liberal leader, attacked the government for its lack of cohesion and declining to resign, "although obvious," he said, "that the ministry no longer remained in the confidence of the country."

Premier Balfour defended the government, saying that it would not resign, although it retained the confidence of the commons.

COLD WATER MEN IN CONVENTION

NEARLY ALL OF 300 DELEGATES
ARRIVE IN CITY—PRELIMINARY
ORGANIZATION TODAY—TOMOR-ROW NIGHT A BANQUET WILL BE GIVEN.

The vanguard of more than 300 delegates who are expected to attend the Oregon state convention of the Prohibition party assembled in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock this afternoon. Among the delegates were bankers, lawyers, clergymen, millmen, wealthy ranchmen and men from other callings in life, but churchmen were in the majority.

Chairman Isiah H. Amos of the state central committee of the party and Secretary E. O. Miller have been busy for days arranging for the convention and were at the head of a local reception committee which was advising the visitors as to suitable hotels and detailing other information regarding the workings of the convention. Chairman Amos said today that there were few jars in the party; that all favored good men; that their members were "the best of men," and for this reason he thought the convention would finish its work tomorrow evening. He sturdily insisted that no slate-making would enter into the meeting. Chairman Amos was loth to even suggest the names of men who might be nominated, but other prominent local members of the party were freely discussing political timber.

For congressmen from the First district among the names most frequently heard today were those of Prof. R. W. Kelsey of Newberg, W. C. Elmore of Brownsville, Rev. J. W. McDougall of Grants Pass and W. L. Christensen, a flour mill owner of Newberg. For the Second congressional district nomination the name of Leslie Butler, a Hood River banker, well known throughout the state as a prohibitionist; H. W. Stone, secretary of the state central committee and secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and T. S. McDougal of Mt. Tabor, have been named.

For the office of pure food commissioner the names most frequently discussed today were Mr. W. Berry, a wealthy dairyman of Milton, and R. L. Kennedy, a prominent farmer of Woodburn.

C. J. Bright of Wasco and Attorney T. H. Goyne of Tillamook county were named as good timber to make the race for supreme judge.

Attorney E. C. Bronaugh of this city seemed a prime choice for candidate for district attorney.

Other offices to be filled were those of presidential electors and delegates to the national convention.

The entire afternoon today will probably be occupied in appointing the various committees and in convention organization.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church, Third and Taylor streets, a mass rally of all who are in favor of the local option law, without regard to political party affiliations, will be held.

Music will be furnished by the Eugene Knox Concert company and the Sunnyside ladies' quartet. Speakers will be E. C. Bronaugh, Edgar P. Hill, D. D., A. A. Morrison, D. D., John R. T. Lathrop, D. D., J. Whitcomb Brougher, D. D.

Unlike other political party conventions the prohibitionists will hold a big banquet and justification meeting at the First Baptist church tomorrow night beginning at 6:30 o'clock, at which time Prohibition campaign singers and orators of national fame will be present.

These visitors from outside the city are also to be present and aid in making the rally of tonight a success: Dr. E. L. Tiffany of New York, Rev. Dr. Snyder of Washington, R. W. Kelsey of Newberg, W. E. Knox congress, imperator and trio of singers; Rev. David Leppert and wife, the Illinois singers; H. C. M. Dues of California and possibly R. E. Dunlap, state chairman of Washington, and Col. John Sobieski, the uncrowned king of Poland.

APPRENTICES JOIN LEATHER STRIKERS

FIVE MEN WALKED OUT OF WELL KNOWS SHOP IN RESPONSE TO DEMANDS OF JOURNEMEN—
BAKERS SIGN UNION SCALE OF WAGES AND MEN RETURN.

Five apprentices who have remained in the employ of the Breyman Leather company since the leatherworkers' strike was declared, walked out this morning in sympathy with the journeymen. At this house, it is reported, there is not a man at work. The apprentices in the employ of the other companies quit several days ago with the exception of three who are still in the employ of George Lawrence. The journeymen say that it will be only a short time until they are also induced to quit.

Aside from this there is very little change in the situation. The employers state that before any settlement will be taken to settle the difficulty they intend to wait and see what action the California firms take with the unions when the agreement now in force between the two expires. This will be on April 11. Whether the employers will receive the same word that they were busy and could not find time to get away from their work. But one of the bosses who kept the appointment signed up with the union, and for that reason it is held that the proposed conference was not altogether a failure. Eighteen firms have signed the union agreement out of a total of 28. When the strike was declared there were 47 journeymen out of employment; now there are but 24.

HER SKIPPER OFTEN HALF SEAS OVER

THIS IS THE STORY TOLD BY MRS.
SKIBBIE, WIFE OF CAPTAIN SKIB-
BIE, IN HER DIVORCE COMPLAINT—
TRIAL PROMISES TO BE ONE OF LIVELIEST ON RECORD.

What the documents on file indicate will be one of the most sensational divorce cases ever tried in the county began this afternoon before Arthur L. Frazer, judge of department No. 1 in the state circuit court. Lizzie E. Skibbie is suing Paul E. Skibbie for a legal separation on the ground of cruelty. Captain Skibbie owns three boats, now at Astoria, and is well known in marine circles. A dozen affidavits relating to the suit are now on file in the court archives.

Mrs. Skibbie declares her husband is an habitual drunkard, and has assaulted her while intoxicated more than 200 times since 1894. They were married in 1891. She also asserts that he has slapped and ill-treated her while she was in a delicate condition, and has frequently ordered her out of the house.

For a week before she was obliged to leave him, with only $5 in her pocket, she alleges, his conduct was such that she had to have her brother, A. L. Johnson, stay at the house at night to protect her from harm. Her brother makes affidavit to this part of the complaint.

Captain Skibbie admits that he drinks and that on a number of occasions he has imbibed to excess. He denies that he has treated his wife badly, however, and says that she has been cool in her demeanor toward him ever since he returned from a six-months' trip to Alaska in 1898. He asserts that she left the house without warning, taking a large part of the furniture, and afterward came to him for money to pay the expressman's bill. Their home is at Sunnyside.

Two brothers of Skibbie make affidavit in support of his contentions. Max Skibbie endeavoring to bring another man into the affair. In her reply to the answer filed, Mrs. Skibbie takes Max Skibbie to task and says his reference is to Captain O'Neill, who once rendered her assistance when her little boy, Arthur, was ill.

SAD RESULTS OF LOVE.

Gettysburg Dispatch to N. Y. World. After lying in a trance in the Adams county hospital for over four months, powerless to move a muscle or speak a word, Annie Wampler today awoke. Although she has regained the use of her body, and although her senses of sight, smell, hearing and taste remain unimpaired, yet her mind is entirely gone, and the physicians fear that she is hopelessly insane.

The unfortunate girl was brought into her sad condition by brooding over an unfortunate love affair, which terminated in her being deserted by her fiancé and herself making two attempts at suicide. Since waking from her trance Miss Wampler appears to have forgotten her English and speaks entirely in German, the language of her ancestors.

When approached she asks appealingly for news of her recent lover, and when alone she sings pathetic little German love ballads, which she had learned in her childhood.
