Oregon City, March 30 .-- G. B. Dimick is in receipt of a letter from J. C. Marquam of Marquam asking him if he has received a letter from him with an inclosed postoffice order for $44.25 and a plat of his store that he wished insured. Mayor Dimick did not receive the money and he thinks that the youths who have been opening the mails must have got ten hold of the letter, as he has also missed two typewriter ribbons and some other small matters. Naturally, the was much disconcerted by the news that some one else had received that there has been some difference in paid, while the men who handle the his money, and his dissatisfaction spent opinions among the leaders of the party bankrupt stocks do not have to pay itself in strong words and abuse of the country's laws. "Why don't they have a whipping-post?" he said. "If they had a whipping-post for these hoodlums would not be so much petty law there breaking. He also suggested the old English way of putting a man in a tank of water and make him pump it that $44.25 would not down and the mayor crammed his pipe with "Pedro" and tried to forget it.

Will Give Dance.

The Clackamas council, No. 2007, Royal Arcanum, is making prepara-tions to give a dance on April 15. The deputy district attorney thinks continued: "It is not safe to believe any report coming from Salem as it is apt to be biased by personal opinion. I do not believe that Harris has secured a majority of the delegates just because the paper says so."

At this point in Campbell's talk he was interrupted by a couple of ruddyfaced, oil coated, constituents who must have called on something mysterious as they were ushered into a back room where all the idols and gods of the Re-publican party are kept between campaigns. They appeared a few minutes latter with a glad, startled look on their faces and took their leave with a muttered expression that sounded like "primarles." When Mr. Campbell returned the conversation turned to fishing and ponching, as W. W. Smith, the water baliff, was one of the visitors. #### Competing Telephone System.

Vancouver is the home of two inventors, the product of whose ingenuity promises to bring a neat fortune to them. Harry W. Rand and Ben P. If present plans carry Corvallis will be provided with two telephone systems. There is considerable dissatisfaction with the service now given by the Pacific States company, and numer ous conferences with representatives of that company, relative to connections for rural lines, have failed to bring about satisfactory terms. As the result of a meeting held in this city a few days ago, a committee is now making a canvass among Corvallis business men in an effort to secure subscribers for 50 shares of stock at $25 per share in a proposition submitted by an eastern company. Farmers throughout the county are prepared to begin the construction of rural lines, as soon as they are assured of satisfactory connections in this city. In fact, some of these rural lines are now under construction. A'number of places lying between Corvallis and Portland have independent systems in operation at the present time, and the plan is to have Benton one of the links in this chain of independent lines. The project is receiving a great deal of encouragement.
