The White Corner's big sale which commenced on Monday morning, as announced in Sunday's Journal, has been packing the store for three days now. If all the ladies of Portland could see the beautiful spring creations in Easter hats at prices ranging from $2.95 to $3.65, there is little doubt but that the store's splendid millinery department would soon be depleted of much of its stock. And the ladies' dress skirts at $2.98 to $2.68 are charmingly pretty. stock. And the ladies' dress skirts at $2.98 to $2.68 are charmingly pretty, superbly made, most excellent material and delightfully small in price. Half a dozen columns in the paper would not suffice to tell of all the bargains to be had at that popular mart this week, but they run all the way from $1.28 for a pair of the well-known Jack-knife shoes to 49 cents for 10 pounds of the best dry granulated sugar. In the notion department goods sell at from 1 cent to 10 cents per article, and include a thousand of more pieces of useful nierchandise. The White Corner is certainly a great mercantile institution.

ED DEBATE, ADOPTS NEW CON-STITUTION, ADMITTING MALE MEMBERS - ANNUAL BEFORTS

The members of the Olympia Opera A new constitution was adopted last The members of the Olympia Opera company have done more to establish themselves as local favorites in their production of "La Mascotte" at Cordray's this week than in any other opera they have yet presented. Lottle Kendail, the soubrette, has scores of admirers among the fair sex, and has already a large collection of nice little notes written by admiring girls. "La Mascotte" runs all this week, with the exnight at the annual meeting of the City Federation of Women's, Clubs, held in the Selling-Hirsch building. The constitution provides for the regular election, instead of March as at present.

Mrs. Rose Hoyt, president of the federation, presided, and recognized delegates from the Woman's club; from the Council of Jewish Women, from the Teachers' association, and from the John Ivy Watercolor club, total of 72. There was an evident dis-position on the part of a number of the delegates to oppose the adoption of the new constitution which was to be presented, and lively discussion re-

The provision was strongly opposed by a delegate from the Woman's club, who insisted that it would detract from the interest and membership of the individual clubs. In the discussion which followed the Woman's club delegate offered an amendment providing for the admission of men to membership at a fee of $1. The amendment caused vio-

and became a part of the constitution. Reports of various committees were read, showing the federation to be in excellent condition and reciting the results that had been accomplished. The reports of the secretary, the correspond-ing secretary, the treasurer, and the educational committee were accepted. Mrs. Blanche Blumauer, president of the educational section of the federation, made a report of the work that had been done in that department, which received hearty applause. MINERALS OF STATE TO BE WELL SHOWN

LOUIS FOR PROPER DISPLAY OF PRODUCTS OF OREGON MINES-MINER'S CABIN TO BE ERECTED CONTAINING MANY SPECIMENS.

"Oregon will have one of the most attractive mineral exhibits of all the western states at the St. Louis fair," said Frank Williams of Ashland, one of the three men in charge of the ex-hibit. Mr. Williams is at the Perkins, en route to St. Louis.

"We have been allotted a space about 20 by 30 feet at the exposition," he said today. "Within this space our plan is to build an attractive miner's cabin. This cabin will be covered by blocks about 12 inches by 18 inches, and each block will contain selected minerals from some particular camp or mine, from some particular camp or mine, the mineral being encased in stucco. The blocks are to be bordered by small frames made from bright-colored mineral. Inside the cabin will be literature and parts of the exhibit not suitable for the walls of the building.

Oregon.
"The mineral resources of this state have never been judged at their full value, chiefly because much of the state has not been prospected. There are vast mineral tracts in the state that are practically virgin. The mining in-dustry is just awakening, and it is the hope of those in charge of the exhibit to point out to mining men and to prospective investors in mineral properties the advantages to be derived from min-ing in this state—from the standpoint of the ore bodies, the accessibility of the mines, the abundance of timber and water and the good climatic conditions." Mr. Williams will leave Portland for the east April 3, and expects to spend a few days in Kansas City, reaching St. Louis on April 15. He and Mr. Fisk are making final arrangements for the shipment of their share of the display.

SANTA FE NOT READY TO BUILD TO STATE

TAKE NO STOCK IN STORY OF PROPOSED EXTENSION TO ORE-GÖN-MAY TAP TIMBER COUN-TRY AT MOUTH OF ROGUE RIVER

The news that Vice-President Kenns of the Santa Fe is visiting Eureka, Cal., in company with other officials and that he said that the company was desirous of securing a complete system by local railroad men, who are in a po-sition to understand what an Oregon extension of this system would mean. Engineers and operating officials who nave a knowledge of the coast in Ore gon say that no new line will be built for years, if at all. The right of way up to the mouth of the Rogue river is said to be fairly easy and few difficulties would be encountered by a road building into this region from the south. After leaving the Rogue river, engineers say, the line would be too costly for present consideration. Cliff after cliff meets the sea shore, crass and jutting shelves of many places tunnels would have to be bored through living rock, or else the line would be forced to skirt the cliffs and make wide detours.

The general belief is that the Santa Fe will not build up the coast because the cost would be enormous and also because there is no traffic or prospect of any along the coast, apart from a few ports of minor importance. Should the Santa Fe build to northern Oregon the only practical routs, it is stated would be through central Oregon and this region is beginning to be tapped by feeders of the O. R. & N. so extensively that other lines would not find the traffic needed to justify such construc-

Railroad men say that the only reason the Santa Fe entered northern Cali-fornia er considered a line from San Francisco was because of a lack of lumber along its lines. To supply its territory with lumber, to secure the entire haul on this commodity and be-sides to secure building material at the lowest cost for its own work the Santa Fe pushed its lines into the redwood forests of northern California. That the Eureka line will be a part of be pushed north towards the Rogue river to secure an entry into the vas fir forests there, but the best posted railroad men believe that this will be the end of the road's progress for years and that even this terminal will not be reached for perhaps a decade.

HUMANE SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

A meeting of the Oregon Humane so-ciety was held at the Unitagian church last night and officers were elected for the ensuing year. The reports of the treasurer and humane officer were also read. A letter of resignation from A. L. Mills, the treasurer, was also read, but was not acted upon. The treasurer's report showed the society to be in an excellent financial condition, having $3,000 to its credit, which, with the exception of $300, is invested. In reviewing the work of the society the president called attention to the fact that in a short time the fire department would abandon the use of the fire bell, also used as a curfew bell. Another place must be found in which to hang the bell, he stated. The following were the officers elected:

Judge A. F. Sears, president; F. K Townsend, vice-president; W. T. Shanshan, corresponding secretary; Otto Kramer, recording secretary; C. F. Ad-ams, treasurer; C. Lombardi, F. K. Townsend and Dr. Emma J. Welty, trus Mr. Shanahan reported the preliminary steps for the 23d anniversary meeting, which will be held May 18. He stated that he has received encouraging re-ports. Patrolman J. F. Resing, who is detailed to handle humane cases, also made his report. It was discovered that his duties with the department permitted him to devote only about half his time to the work of the society.
