JAIL YAWNS IF HE RECOVERS SANITY

By being declared insane by the courts and thereby gaining a residence in the Salem institution, Mike Doley, a Russian, escaped prosecution by the federal authorities on the charge of burglarizing a government postoffice. Doley is under indictment which was returned by the federal grand jury which was discharged Saturday.

Doley will bear the unique distinction of having an indictment hanging over him, pending his recovery. In case he recovers from the mental ailment it is likely that proceedings will be instituted to punish him for the offense. The indictment will not be quashed.

"The fact that he has been declared

"WILL CONSIDER CUT IN FARE"---SWIGERT

"I will not make any proposition to the mayor or the executive board regarding reduced fare across the Morrison street bridge, but if a proposition is made to me I will gladly lay it before the directors of the company," said President Swigert of the City & Suburban railway this morning. "It certainly is not for me to make any proposals. The executive board members asked us the last time to grant a 3-cent fare across the bridge. I laid it before the directors and after much discussion it was decided to grant the reduction. After all this, it was turned down.

"If Mayor Williams wants the matter reopened, the same steps must be taken again. It means a large loss to the company if a reduction is made, and we are not at all anxious to make it."

As has previously been published, the Morrison bridge is soon to be closed to all but street car traffic, for a period of eight months. The fare across the bridge will be five cents unless something is done to secure a reduction. Mayor Williams says he is willing to re-open the bridge, but only if the people desire him to. The matter will probably be discussed at the meeting of the executive board next Friday.

MINISTERS PLAN TO SAVE GIRLS

REV. DR. BROUGHER AND REV. MR. HOUSE TELL OF WHAT HAS BEEN DONE FOR YOUNG WOMEN OF OTHER CITIES, AND SAY PORTLAND CAN DO LIKEWISE.

Rev. E. P. Hill expects to call a meeting during the week of the committee appointed by the Portland Ministerial association yesterday to investigate methods of procedure in the girl traffic problem. No definite action has been decided on, but they will examine the methods adopted in the same work in Los Angeles.

Rev. J. W. Brougher of the First Baptist church said yesterday: "I have not the slightest doubt of the ultimate success of this work. But we don't want to act hastily. We want to act in a rational manner, so as to enlist the co-operation not only of the church people, but of the whole better element of the city. I think we can gain the sympathy and efforts of the Municipal league. It was at their instigation that I gave my help to this work at this time, though I had not intended to take it up actively till after my London trip. But the time was favorable and fitted in with the other work of the same kind agitated by others, and I think that now is the time to act."

Rev. E. L. House of the First Congregational church said: "There must be two kinds of work—preventive and rescue work. The preventive is important above all, but after the evil is done it must be remedied. This is a great social problem, involving more than the present, and I think from my study of the Bible that this social evil is greater than the evil of intemperance. To remedy it we must strike at the bottom. First and most important is the raising of public sentiment at home. Mothers and fathers do not confide in their children as they ought. Most boys and girls learn first from outside sources what they should have learned at home. They should be taught the perils of life before they encounter them and be shown how to escape them."

"In the second place, they should be given the best environment in the city. I think that family entrances to saloons are one of the worst evils we have to encounter. The effect is degrading. In the east, public sentiment will not allow them and they are never seen. People say the country is full of saloons and miners, rough class of people, and we must cater to them. I don't believe it. We might just as well say we must cater to thieves and murderers. There is a better element, even in this class, which is striving for improvement."

Such a board had been decided upon by the committee and was

COUNTY HOSPITAL SCANDAL GROWS

The resignation of three nurses from the county hospital on account of the unpleasant relations existing between the employees of that institution and of the poor farm, brings out the fact that the clashing is of long standing. Several other attaches of the hospital have resigned on account of friction with J. E. Courtney, the superintendent of the poor farm, it is stated. The list includes Dr. Twarasky, who resigned in last November, and T. Garland, a nurse, who severed his connection with the institution during the month following.

Now that "things are doing," as one of those concerned in the affair puts it, many causes of the trouble not known hitherto are coming to light. The superintendent and his wife, with the superintendent of nursing and the resident physicians and nurses, have to eat at the same table at the poor farm. Other resignations are expected at any time.

WAGONS SLOW IN PAYING LICENSES

There are more than 1,000 vehicles in Portland, in the various business pursuits. Each quarter every person owning any kind of vehicle is required to pay to the city a license fee, for which is given a tag entitling him to do business for three months. April 1 was the beginning of the new quarter, but hardly any of the taxpayers have appeared at the city auditor's office to pay the regulation fee. Arrests may be made unless they speedily pay up.

This quarter the tags furnished taxpayers are white; last quarter they were green. Colors are changed every quarter, so the inspectors may easily note any attempt to evade the payment of fees. The rates charged are as follows: Two-horse team, $5; three-horse team, $7; one-horse, $3; scavenger, $1; junk wagons, $5; oil wagons, $10; woodswain, $10; first-class hawker, $15; second-class hawker, $10; traction engines, $15; com-

CENTENARY CHURCH NEARLY OUT OF DEBT

The heavy debt that has encumbered the Centenary church for so long is fast disappearing, owing to the heroic efforts of both pastor and people. On the evening of February 24 Rev. W. B. Hollingshead, the pastor, announced that he had secured a gift from the Church Extension society of $11,945, provided that the congregation by April, 1934, should raise the other $10,075 necessary to lift the debt. On the 6th of March began the actual work of clearing away the debt. It has meant $4 per day to the members of Centenary church besides the regular church expenses. It has meant 25 cents a day to each family. It has been a hard task, but $7,000 of the needed amount has already been subscribed, leaving $3,075 more to raise. April 24 there will be special services at the church. Bishop Cranston, E. M. Randall and other prominent Methodist workers from Oregon and eastern states will be present. Then the full results of the debt campaign will be announced.

MAYOR WILL GET THE LADY WORK

Mayor Williams does not like the idea of being a regular employment bureau, but whenever he receives requests to find work for people in distant cities he always tries to do something for them. The latest request for employment comes from Mrs. E. M. Campbell, who gives her address as 74 North Margay avenue, Pasadena, Cal. She writes:

"I am an eastern lady of liberal education, middle age, and am looking for a position in your city. I have been in southern California one year, and would like to come north. I have superintended in public institutions, literary or medical. Can take full charge; also in a private home as housekeeper. I can devote all my time and interests at a fair salary, and can furnish all desired references. Will you kindly assist me?"

HAND TO GIVE CONCERN.

The Portland Italian band of 25 musicians, under the direction of Signor D'Urbano, will give a grand concert at the Marquam Grand theatre, Saturday night, April 9, of popular and classic music. This new organization is the finest local band this city has ever had, and with encouragement will make this city its home.
