MID-WEEK WANT-AD NEWS

195 Seventh street is advertising a proposition under "Business Chances" which should not fail to interest some wide-awake person. It's a sole agency proposition, and will bear close investigation. Read the ad if you find yourself becoming interested.

Under "Furnished Rooms" appears an advertisement of 326 Sixth street advertising "a large, front, bay-window room." Occupancy can be had, however, only by gentlemen.

"Old suits made new; work guaranteed" are two phrases of Little, the tailor, ad, under the heading "Tailors."

Errick Errickson, at the Tremont hotel in Everett street, uses the "Farms for Sale" column to advertise 40 acres of land in Willamette valley. If you're interested in farm buying the ad will make you think seriously. Read it.

Rheumatism sufferers can have their diseases treated and given special attention by a first-class trained nurse. An advertisement of 145½ Sixth, room 22, under "Massage," says as much.

An advertisement under "Personal" commences "Why not be beautiful?" Before you reach the address, 411 Morrison street, you may have read something of no little interest. Suppose you test this.

711 Water street is advertising four large furnished housekeeping rooms under "Housekeeping Rooms for Rent." The advertiser did not omit a very important item—"rent reasonable."

Keep your eye on the "Business Chance" column. Some rare oportunities crop up there quite often. It will pay you to read the column every day—the good things don't last long.
