

TARPEY EXPLAINS HOW IT HAPPENED

Says Hearst, Although Vastly Favored, Failed of Endorsement Because of Poor Organization—August Belmont's Letter.

(San Francisco Bureau of The Journal.)
San Francisco, April 21.—M. F. Tarpey, who represented William Hearst in the Oregon state convention, has the following to say in the Examiner this morning in a letter from Portland:

What a pitiful minority can accomplish when thoroughly organized against an overwhelming majority without organization, and the shiftness of political manipulators in deceiving the majority and afterward covering up their tracks, was never more apparent than at the Democratic convention held in Portland, Or., on the 18th inst. The proponents of Hearst at that convention were certainly in the proportion of three to one, yet Hearst's forces were decisively beaten.

How this was accomplished is worthy of being recorded, for it makes too good a story to be lost.

Hearst's friends swarmed in hotel lobbies, on sidewalks, restaurants—everywhere, in fact, and disconcerted among themselves. Hearst's achievements and sterling Democracy, but it never occurred to them to get together in caucus or conference to outline and decide upon a plan of campaign—in other words, to organize their strength and make it effective.

Hearst's enemies, of whom several were delegates, noting the all but universal sentiment in his favor, were too cunning to express any hostility to Hearst; on the contrary, they vied with the loudest in proclaiming their friendliness, and thus allayed any suspicion of their purpose to defeat his aspirations, while at the same time they were assiduously sowing the poison of deceit, devising and urging any and every argument their ingenuity could supply against the very thing the people expected from their delegates to the convention, viz., instructions to their national delegates to support Hearst for the presidency, the only thing that would be of any real benefit or service to Hearst, and the only way the favorable sentiment of Oregon's Democracy could be made manifest.

Plan Was Inadvisable.
To the amazement of the people, this insidious plan worked to a charm, fostered and promoted as it was by corporate and trust attorneys occupying strategic positions as so-called Democratic leaders, aided and abetted by Republicans masquerading as Democrats, and, strangest of all, by loyal and enthusiastic but misled, simple-minded friends of Hearst.

The crowning glory, the very top shaft and bouquet of the imposition played upon Hearst's deluded friends, came just before the final adjournment of the convention, when retiring chairman, Sam White, who had led the anti-Hearst fight throughout the battle, arose in the convention and proposed a set of resolutions lauding Hearst to the skies, a hot-air position entirely without effect to aid in any manner, and would you believe it, Hearst's real friends, joining with his enemies, swallowed the bait with every appearance of satisfaction; the resolution was passed without a dissenting voice and by a rising vote.

The purpose of this Sam White resolution was to enable himself and all those who had, either with intent or by being misled, opposed the all but unanimous wish of the Oregon Democracy to favor Hearst by instructing its delegates for him to cover up their perfidy and pose as Hearst men before their deluded constituents, and so escape the wrath their actions would otherwise have brought down upon them, and Hearst's deluded friends helped his enemies to build up and complete this broadwork of deception.

Could credulity go further? Is it any wonder the people are deceived when they themselves aid and abet the deception?

Have Two Faces.
Hearst's enemies will now go back to their constituents and proudly point to what they did for Hearst, and there are some of Hearst's friends who will really believe them; yes, even credit them with having represented them ably and well.

Of such is the shifty politician, and of such is the glib public.

The following brochure is being general interest, it is being circulated over the United States. Its perusal will be delightful reading for the masses, for this was not intended for their eyes; this was only intended for the chosen elite, although the whole pack of corporate attorneys and all those amenable to corporate influences are so actively engaged in choking to death every effort of the real Democracy to further Hearst's interests, that they are blind to the fact that even where the sentiment is unanimous in his favor, or to voice its desires in any effective manner. This brochure is printed upon the finest quality of heavy paper, is well illustrated, and is in figures and language as follows:

August Belmont's Letter.
"New York, April 14, 1934.
"23 Nassau Street.

Personal.
"My dear Sir: I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Joseph T. Fanning, representing the general political situation in the northwest, and at his suggestion I am taking the liberty of writing to you, with a view to securing your cooperation in bringing about a Democratic victory next autumn. I have the utmost confidence in our being able to do this, if the Democrats will all get together and work in harmony.

"I would be very glad to hear from you regarding the situation in your part of the country.
"Believe me, yours very truly,
"(Signed) August Belmont.
"Hon. Alexander Sweeney, Chairman Democratic County Committee, Portland, Or."

Campaign Is Secret.
It is interesting to watch how the Democracy of the nation will look upon this mole-like and secret campaign being carried on against its real interest, as is evidenced by the document above quoted.

If real Democrats be further deceived by self-styled Hearst sympathizers, creating their praise of him, yet striving against any pronounced public and open expression of their will, they deserve to be deceived, and they will be.

ern Pacific, will go to Chicago as his assistant.

In that event Charles J. Wilder, the assistant of Klink, will succeed him here. It is said that Kruttschnitt was given the title of transportation and maintenance director so as to leave room for the appointment of an engineering director of Harriman roads, who will be in charge of all new construction and who will report to Mr. Kruttschnitt.

Those who say they know state that this new official plan will go to either chief engineer William Hood, of the Southern Pacific, who lives in this city, or J. B. Berry of Omaha, chief engineer of the Union Pacific and consulting engineer for the Oregon Short Line. His successful construction of the Ogden and Linn cut-off with its 20 miles of road across the two northern arms of the great Salt Lake, has made Hood very prominent in American civil engineering circles and brought him favorably to the notice of Harriman and his New York financial backers.

CARRIAGE BANDITS TO HANG.
(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, April 21.—Sheriff of Cook county has completed arrangements for the triple execution tomorrow, when the carbandit bandits, Marx, Neidermeier and Van Dine, will pay the penalty of their crimes. It will be the first time that more than two men have been hanged at once in Chicago since the execution of the Haymarket anarchists. The sheriff's office has been flooded with requests for tickets to witness the execution, but all of these have been refused. The only witnesses to the triple execution will be those who attend in an official capacity. All of the condemned youths appear to be bearing up well, but some fear is expressed that Marx may break down at the critical moment.

CIVIC DIGNITY SITS ENTHRONED

COUNCIL IS ON ITS GOOD BEHAVIOR FOR FOUR DOZEN SCHOOLS CHILDREN VISITORS—BUSINESS ARE REFUSED ADMISSION—SLOT MACHINES CONDEMNED.

Rome's ancient senate in all its glory never possessed more dignity than did Portland's city council yesterday afternoon. Forty-eight boys and girls, members of the ninth grade of the Harrison street school, occupied the front row of seats in the gallery, and for two hours the councilmen were on their very best behavior. The visitors were not treated to any display of fireworks, the nearest to any exhibit not on the regular program was made when Fred T. Merrill proposed that "a vote of thanks be tendered the energetic committee whose report on money-paying slot machines" was read yesterday. The committee was appointed last January.

Although the councilmen disposed of a large amount of business in quick time yesterday, there was nothing to mar the smoothness of the ordinary routine. The much-talked-of garbage ordinance was referred to the committee on health and police without a word of debate. An adverse report regarding the annexation of Mount Tabor and Montavilla was adopted by a 5-4 vote. The report of the special committee appointed to investigate the money-paying slot machines was read and adopted. A communication from the Portland Garbage company asking that they be allowed to bid against the Portland Sanitation company for the proposed granting of a garbage franchise; the first-named company is supposed to be composed of local taxpayers. It was decided yesterday that Mount Tabor and Montavilla would not become a part of the city of Portland. The report of the special committee, of which J. Zimmerman was chairman, was filed in public session. The councilmen, Bentley, Sharkey, Sherrett, and Sigler voted in favor of the adoption of the report, while Councilmen Merrill, Fowler, Albee, and Fiegl opposed it.

On Slot Machines.
The report of the special committee appointed to investigate the operating of money-paying slot machines was adopted. The feature of the report was: "That all persons testifying before the committee stated that there was no positive agreement in regard to the matter, but from all of the testimony and from the particular instances herein referred to the committee is of the opinion that it was tacitly understood by the police department and by the owners and operators of money-paying slot machines that the slot machines were to be put upon the fine system, the same as other forms of gambling, and that the money was to be deposited as bail by the various persons depositing the same."
The members of the slot machine committee were: H. R. Albee, chairman; John P. Sharkey, A. F. Fiegl, C. E. Rumelin, and B. D. Sigler. Fred T. Merrill's motion that the committee be tendered a vote of thanks was not put before the council for a final vote.

Mayor's Veto Sustained.
Mayor Williams' veto of the ordinance charging baseball games a 110 license was sustained. An ordinance giving Fire Chief Campbell control of the fuel-oil storage tanks built within the city limits, and the ordinance providing for the protection of the new street signs was passed. The franchise of the West Side & Suburban was transferred to Alexander and Andrew Gradon, and by them to the Oregon Traction company.

Holder Is Again In Law's Meshes.
On the strength of an information filed in the state circuit court Monday, charging Joseph Holder of Lewis with again selling liquor without a license, he was taken into custody yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Proebstel and a second time placed in the county jail. The witness whose name appears on the information are J. W. Willis and C. G. Radabaugh. The last offense is alleged to have been committed April 2. He was arrested on a bench warrant issued by residing Judge George.

Three charges are now pending against Holder of violating the law relative to the sale of liquor without a license. Because of his inability to give bail, when a committee of 15 residents went before the county grand jury and requested that Holder be instructed to perform his duty, as the man was allowed his liberty by that official, he was confined in the county jail for a week. He was then released on bail. He has made no effort since to obtain a license, and it is claimed, has violated the law daily, causing drunkenness in a district where it was hitherto unknown. The residents of Lewis are thoroughly incensed and affirm their intention of driving him away through there.

Miss Gould To Visit Richmond.
(Journal Special Service.)
Richmond, Va., April 21.—Arriving here tomorrow or Saturday, Miss Helen Gould will spend two days dedicating the new building of the Street Railway Young Men's Christian association and in becoming acquainted with the employees of her brother Frank, who owns the lines here. She will also name an observation car being constructed for her brother and his friends. It will be named Virginia.

Swell Affairs.
Should be attended by gentlemen attended in lines that are perfectly laundered. That's our business and perfect laundry work is always the result. West Side office, 109 Fifth street.

TOMORROW IS EXTRA BARGAIN FRIDAY AT

THE HUB

AND THE GREAT STORE CONTINUES ITS MAN-DUMBFOUNDING

FIRE SALE

Disposing of the $100,000 stock of THE BALTIMORE SHOE & CLOTHING CO. bought at 25 cents on the $1 and selling at one-quarter of its actual worth! The Hub is enabled to offer these bargains because the insurance companies paid the other 75 per cent of the value of the goods, on account of slight damage to the stock by smoke and water. The injury was so small that it is not perceptible to the eye, yet the big Baltimore store could not afford to have it said it had upon its shelves any goods at all that had passed through the great conflagration, so it handed its stock over to the insurance companies, these concerns paying 75 per cent and The Hub 25 per cent of the price. THIS MULTITUDE OF MERCHANDISE IS NOW IN PORTLAND and on sale at THE HUB, Third and Burnside, and STRAIN'S, 285-287 Washington street, and, as heretofore stated, is being sold to the men, youth and boys of Oregon at 25 per cent of what other stores would be compelled to charge for the identical garments we are sacrificing now. What we desire most of all is that purchasers of clothing visit other stores, examine the stock on sale, inquire values and then come to us. If it is not found that our prices are three-quarters less than those of the other fellows, then our garments shall not cost the purchaser a cent. This is our way of cracking our whip. We never do crack it without a cause, and when that cause comes we do not intend to keep our mouth under lock and key. We shall tell the people of our good fortune. We shall spread the news from Dan to Berseba, and we shall not be timid about it, either. We have the goods, we have the bargains, we have everything that, in the matter of dress, the human heart could crave, and grander and greater and more interesting and magnificent than all, we can dress a man from head to foot and leave his pocketbook smiling as sweetly as if it had not been touched. And to add to the interest of the occasion we refund the money to the first purchaser every morning. This is done to encourage early morning trading. It often happens that during the evening our salesmen are unable to wait upon the crowds that throng our stores, so we offer this extra inducement to our friends to "come early and avoid the rush."

These Have Made Purchases at THE HUB in the Early Morning Hour and Had Their Money Refunded:
Monday, April 11—545 East Taylor, Pants. Tuesday, April 12—Charles E. Murphy, 150 North 16th Street, Hat. Wednesday, April 13—Ray McDonald, 514 14th Street, Fancy Vest. Thursday, April 14—Fred Jackson, 401 Pearl Street, Pants. Friday, April 15—Charles E. Mason, 42 North 5th Street, Shoes. Saturday, April 16—Charles Hofst, 427 Broad Street, Shoes. Monday, April 18—R. E. Wilson, 205 East 32nd Street, Coat and Vest.
