MARION COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, Ox., April 28.—Today the grainat Elisa. Hughes comes before the judge. The suit is over the meteor that was found on the J. D. Moore claim near the Tualitan river and is now claimed by the steel company and Hughes. It will be interesting to hear the verdict of the court as it will estab-lish a precedent in all future cases as to whether heavenly bodies that fall on this earth are the property of the person who owns the land that they alight on, of the person that finds them. The piece of metal was found by Hughes alight on, of the person that finds them. The piece of metal was found by Hughes and has been moved from its original position. To make its first resting place the more obscure there has been a num-ber of holes dug in the ground near the place and it will be extremely difficult for the court to establish the particular hole that the meteor came from. The plaintiff says that the piece of metal is valued at $1,000, while the defendant thinks the value to be $100. The piece of metal weights about 15 tons and is composed of iron and nickel and other metals. It would be an addition to any in Clackamas county. metals. Judge T. A. McBride yesterday ren-dered a judgment in favor of the defendants in the case of Thomas Devine against Proctor & Beers, a sawmill firm. The action was brought by Devine to re-cover the principal and interest on a note for $160 from March 2, 1903, and interest at 6 per cent. The plaintiff claimed that no part of the debt had been paid and that the note had been accidentally lost. He said that he had given as security 40 acres of land in section 3. The defendants proved that there was no clear title to the land and that they had made payment on the note and filed a counter claim of $141 against Devine.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Multnomah county against the Wil-lamette & Columbia River Towing company et al. was yesterday filed by attorney for the plaintiff, Ralph R. Duniway. In the motion the plaintiff alleges that there was not enough evidence to justify the verdict and that the verdict was against law. That an error occurred in the trial and was excepted to by the plaintiff.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the case of W. S. U'Ren against Amelia Gengelbach. The Bailroad Plans Improvement.

An engineer representing the railroad company spent the past few days here looking over the ground with a view to arranging for extensive imrpovements. It is stated that new switches will be built, increasing the sidings in the Albany yard of the Southern Pacific sufficient to make room for 450 cars. This is an important point for the company, and the branch lines radiating from here necessitate the keeping here at times a large number of cars of all descriptions. Among the rumored changes is the erection of a new passenger station. The present depot build-ing is on the east side of the track, while the city is on the opposite side, and as there are several switches be tween the city and the main track, people going to the station are often com-pelled to wait for long spaces of time while freight trains on the sidings are switching, and it not infrequently happens that pedestrians going to or com-ing from the passenger station are in danger of being run down by cars switching.
