Gracker Situation Is More Complicated.
Every day the cracker situation becomes more complicated and every day there is more danger of new trouble. The recent incorporation of a new cracker company at Tacoma by some of the principal men formerly connected with the Pacific Coast Blacuit company—has added fuel to the firs. The Tacoma company is said to have a capital of $100,000 in money—bot paper—and is to build a modern factor; This capital is to build a modern factor is the capital in the capital is to build a may be supposed, and as it takes a large amount of buildness to keep the wheels running is all the old as well as the several proposed factories, some of them are sure to go under. Which one says present, and there is no doubt that before a company will give in and retire from business it will make things interesting as far as prices are connected for the other factories.

Postators Show a Dullness.

On account of the large receipts the potato market all through is showing men dullness and no improvement in the situation is now looked for within the next few days. It now transpires that sthough the steamer Oregon will not take any freight from this port during the current trip there will be another vessel, the Nome City, w Cracker Situation Is More Complicated.

Small and the demand rar.

Crambery Butter Is Down.

Unable to withstand the inroads made on their trade for the better grades of butter by the country creameries on account of their lower price, the city factories have cut their price 2½c a pound, and are now selling at the same figures as the country men. At the low figures there is an excellent demand and the movement. The Sound cities continue to take quite liberal stocks, but even a slight advance in the quotations would cause this outlet to be cut off. The receipts of country store butters are not quite so large, but the demand now is fair. Quite a large lot of country butter was shipped to the sgath during the former week. The price of butter fat is lower with that on creamery butter.

Foultry Elightly Lower.

It happened for the first time in several moths that the poultry market was not entirely cleaned up last Saturday night. This shows very plain, much plainer than a long story, the condition of the market, and in consequence prices are slightly lower.

Hutton says: Should the weather continue unfavorable for two or three weeks longer the present short interest which has been accumulated in the entire market would unquestionably have a scramble to cover, as near positions in some cases are strongly held, while the distant ones are held by the spot people and continental spinners, we think. The public as a rule is short.

Furnished by Overbock, Starr & Cooke Co.) New York, May 9.—Logan & Bryan say: A is steady with a firm tens. Operations were years amail and mainly professional. The unfavorable bank atatement of Saturday is disregarded. Bond houses report good investment inquiry for bonds. In this connection we note inquiry for bonds. In this connection we note a better action of the market for Steel 6's. This action and reports we receive both indicate that liquidation by the underwriting syndicate have probably been pretty well complicated. If this is true these should in our judgment do better. The carnings of the company and its assets both make them seem to us a pretty safe proposition and at present prices they are attractive as interest payers.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET SHOWS ADVANCE - LITTLE WEARNESS HARLY ON LARGE WORLD'S SHIP-MENTS AND PINE WEATHER-

(Furnished by Overbeck, Starr & Cooke Co.)
Chicago, May 9.—Logan & Bryan say:
Wheat prices closed 1/4 to 1/4 higher than Saturday. There was a little weakness early on the large world's shipments and the fine weather. It is a dull market, however, pending the government report. There is not much selling pressure. The little short wheat that was sold early was mainly bought back before the close. The cables were dull and show a dragging tendency. The world's shipments were 12,500,000 bushels and there was an increase on passage of 3,000,000 bushels. The cash situation is slow. Some of the reports from Ohlo say there has been a great improvement in the appearance of the crops since May 1, but a good many fields were plowed up, Corn a Dull Market. Corn a Dull Market.

Corn a Dull Market.

The corn visible supply shows a decrease of 833,000 bushels against 293,000 bushels last year. This was a factor. The navigation problem is not yet settled. This caused covered wheat to come on. Otherwise it is a dull market, with very little doing. There is nothing new in relation to the strike situation. The best that can be said of the market is that it is a dead one at present without much presents.

Oats Are Steady. Oats prices are pretty steady. The strength in wheat and corn did not impart much strength to the oats market. Oats are in fairly good demand but local stocks are liberal. All the advices from the growing crop are favorable. Provisions Are Up.

Provisions Are Up.

Pork is 10 cents higher and lard and ribe 5 cents higher. It was a dull market, with some covering of local shorts on account of the local receipts of hogs being smaller than expected. We have rather looked for a better feeling after the May deliveries, but it shows very little snap. The important shorts covered freely but did not seem disposed to lend support to a bull market. While there is a fairly good distributive demand, it does not seem sufficient to bring about a good advance.

CEMENT FORMS STOLEN

Some acquisitive visitir at the test department of the city engineer's office has carried away six of the brass forms in which cement is "set" for the testing machine, and the work of the department is at a standstill. The forms are made especially for the machine and are of no value to anyone not possessing the special apparatus designed for this work. But whatever was the idea of the thief, the forms were not returned and an order was sent to the Atlantic and an order was sent to the Atlantic coast for a new supply. The loss of the ficient weight has been exerted on the forms has set back the cement testing lover to break the cement brick. Cement to be tested is mixed with a certain proportion of water, is then placed in the form and left to harden. When it has turned to stone the brickette is taken from the form and placed under water and left a certain number of hours, varying with the nature of the cement and the purpose for which it is to be used. Finally the brickette is placed in the testing machine in another form of the same size as the mould in which the brickette was formed. This form is in two parts and the michine is so designed that when the brickette is in the form, a stream of sket may be turned on multi suf-
