William Smith was yesterday held to await the action of the grand fury on a charge of burglary. Bonds were fixed at $800, which he could not furnish, and was sent to the county jall. He was recently arrested by Detective Hartman, and it was over his brother, Joe Smith, that Hartman and Detective Joe Day had a row in the circuit court last week. Day claimed that Hartman had promised Joe Smith, this man's brother, a term of six months in the county jall if he would turn up some stolen goods, and resented what he termed interference on Hartman's part. on Hartman's part

When the doors were thrown open at 7 o'clock at least 500 people poured into the spacious building, and until the closing hour thousands thronged the floors. Everest's orchestra discoursed music throughout the evening, adding enjoyment to the occasion. Souven'r fans and pardsticks were given away on the third floor, while clothes-brushes, match-boxes, glasses, Japanese crumb-trays, etc., were presented to guests on the second floor.

Industrious salesmen entertained the visitors, and easy-chairs and sofas were in abundance for those who would sit and admire the surroundings. A ride on the elevator showed the immense on the elevator showed the immense stock to its fullest advantage, and it is safe to say hundreds were agreeably surprised at the beautiful display of fur-niture and furnishings to be seen. The guests left with happy expressions of a delightful visit, wishing the firm many more years of such continued and marked prosperity.

ALBERTA OFFERS GOOD OPPORTUNITIES

C. D. Lash, one of the prominent members of the local painters' union returned from a three months trip through various provinces of the filed on a homestead near Edmonton in the northwest part of Alberta, and says that he intends to return shortly and prove up on it. In order to do so he states that he will have to remain there three years, and declare his al-legiance to King Edward and the British crown. The homestead laws of the dominion, he explains, are very similar to those of the United States, although it is possible for one to acquire title to land there two years earlier than on this side of the international boundary

"Alberta is a good country for the working man," says Mr. Lash. "It is being developed rapidly, and I think there are better opportunities to make money there than in many other localities I visited. Edmonton will soon supplied with two railroads-the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is being exacross the continent, and the C. R., running up from Winnipeg. I found a good many Americans across the line, and they seemed to be well contented with their new environ-

AT THE THEATRES

Any one passing the Baker theatre about 10:40 p. m. this week would perhaps wonder at the happy merriment shining on the faces of the great number of people coming out. He might ask the policeman or anyone who might happen to be standing near, and get the correct answer. They had just witnessed some of the wonderful adventures of a hymnbook drummer by the name of Jones. This is the farewell week of the New Neill Morosco company at the Baker, and the only week of farce comedy during the engagement. WHAT HAPPHEED TO JOHES."

"MT WIPE." Tonight's performance at Cordray's theatre will be the last rendition of the comedy drama, "My Wife," by the Platt & Stevenson company, now filling an engagement at this playhouse. Crowded uses during the week attest to the ularity of the play.

"BAST LYBER." "East Lynne" is billed for Cordray's Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with the usual Saturday matinee. This popular drama may be said to be in a class by itself that has been teaching its moral for generations. The Platt & Stevenson company, who are to present this old time favorite at Cordray's this week, have the play thoroughly worked out, and the stage settings are adequate.

Good houses are the rule at the Bijou, owing to the fact that the bill shown at the new playhouse is far above the average in merit. The attractions this week are taken from the vaudeville circuits of the coun-

Jailer Jackson received word vesterday that Houghton at first had refused to work. He was later couxed to work, however. The process employed is un known, but the day after he entered an emphatic refusal to labor he was engaged in molding stove castings, the hardest job at the penitentiary. And, moreover, it is said, he was doing that class of work cheerfully.

Houghton was sent up for five years for robbery. With two other men he held up and robbed Steven Balch in the north end. His case went to the supreme court twice. He is a clever and cunning fellow, and as "district attorney" of the kangaroo court at the county jail coached prisoners in a fashion frequently causing the prosecutors considerable trouble.
