

GOOD EVENING

Tonight and Wednesday, showers; cooler tonight; southerly winds.

Oregon

Journal

THE CIRCULATION OF THE JOURNAL YESTERDAY WAS 15,010

VOL. III. NO. 74.

PORTLAND, OREGON, TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1904.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

THESE ARE CHARGES HERMANN CANNOT EXPLAIN SATISFACTORILY

Special Agents' Reports, Records of the Government and His Own Admissions Declare That He Is Guilty of Violation of the Plain Established Laws.

Land Which He Acquired While Receiver at Roseburg Was Taken Up in Defiance of President's Express Prohibition—His Flimsy Pretense That He Was Under a Missapprehension Absurd.

1. When information of the stupendous frauds of the Benson-Hyde ring reached Washington in the spring of 1902, Land Commissioner Ringer Hermann delayed the investigation by sending Special Agent Holsinger, who had been assigned to the work, into Montana and keeping him there for more than three months. When Holsinger's report, containing a complete exposure of the frauds, the confession of J. H. Schneider, the confidential agent of the ring, and the evidence upon which to base instant proceedings against the conspirators, reached Washington in November, 1902, Hermann suppressed it. He kept the report hidden, until Secretary Hitchcock, learning of its existence, forced him to produce it. This report, now on file at Washington, afforded the basis for the prosecutions instituted after Hermann had been dismissed from the land office, and which have resulted in the indictment of John A. Benson, Frederick A. Hyde and some of Hermann's trusted subordinates. Hermann's suppression of the report was one of President Roosevelt's reasons for removing him from office. 2. The report of Inspector A. R. Greene, forwarded to Washington in February, 1903, and now on file in the land department, recommended that Hermann be indicted for rushing to patent the fictitious homestead entries of the Pater-McKinley gang, in the face of reports by two special agents of the department exposing the fraudulent nature of the entries. Greene's report names 13 bogus entries in the Cascade mountains forest reserve, which Hermann had himself declared in writing to be fraudulent, but which he made special, causing them to be approved and issuing patents upon them three days after approval. Honest settlers were compelled to wait from ten months to three years for their patents. 3. The indictment now pending in the federal court of this city against Horace McKinley, R. A. D. Pater, Marie Ware and Emma Watson, recites that they filed false and fraudulent homestead applications, supported by forged and perjured affidavits, and that patents were issued upon them 13 days after approval in the general land office. 4. The records of the land office at Roseburg show that Hermann, while receiver of that office, acquired 4,000 acres of public land, in violation of law and in contempt and defiance of specific instructions from President Grant, forbidding such purchases by registers and receivers of the local land offices. This land Hermann still owns, never having offered to make restitution to the government. 5. The report of Inspector A. R. Greene, forwarded to Washington in November, 1901, and now on file there, charged Hermann with direct responsibility for the fraudulent surveys of public lands in Oregon, for which ex-Surveyor General Henry Meldrum is now under indictment. By these frauds the government was mulcted of over $50,000. Attached to the report were 51 exhibits, including letters and telegrams from Hermann authorizing the surveys, but all of these documents have mysteriously disappeared from the files. It is said that they were last seen the day before Hermann went out of office, and that they were then on his desk. When they were wanted for presentation to the grand jury last March they could not be found. 6. The report of Special Agent Holsinger, already alluded to states that under Hermann's administration of the land office forest reserves were platted in accordance with plans prepared in the San Francisco office of Benson and Hyde, the boundaries being fixed so as to facilitate their steals, and one of Hermann's confidential clerks kept the conspirators constantly informed of every move by the department that could affect their interests. That this could not have been done without the knowledge and consent of Hermann has been repeatedly stated by the Oregonian, which is now defending him.

Ringer Hermann asserts that the 4,000 acres of government land taken up by him while he was receiver of the Roseburg land office were acquired in ignorance that he was violating the law or the rules of the department. This assertion is untrue. When Hermann took up this land he did it with full knowledge that he had no right to do so, and that he was acting contrary to the express prohibition of the president, who had notified all registers and receivers of land offices that they must not acquire government lands. Prior to 1871, when Hermann was appointed receiver at Roseburg, considerable scandal had been occasioned by the practice among certain officials of local land offices of taking up government lands. This was in violation of numerous provisions of the federal laws prohibiting all officials, clerks and employees of the land office from "directly or indirectly purchasing or becoming interested in the purchase of public lands." These laws had been in force for many years before Hermann's appointment to the Roseburg office, and are still on the statute books. The attention of President Grant had been called to the violation of law by local land office officials, and during Hermann's term at Roseburg the president issued a special order directed to all registers and receivers of land offices prohibiting them from making purchases of government land. A copy of this order was received at Roseburg and was posted in the land office. It was in defiance of these repeated and imperative instructions that Hermann began to accumulate his holdings of valuable land. He made cash entries on extensive tracts, and by thrifty speculation in scrip he constantly added to his possessions. The foundations of the fortune which he has amassed during his long career as an office-holder were thus laid in violation of the law and in disregard of the orders of the president and the secretary of the interior. During the two years that he was in the Roseburg office Hermann secured 3,000 acres of land in Jackson county and 1,000 in Coos county. This land he still owns. The Journal published recently an official certificate from J. H. Booth, receiver of the Roseburg land office showing that these entries were made by Hermann, and giving dates and descriptions of the lands. These data were taken from the records of the office. They show that on February 14 and 19, 1872, Hermann entered, by agricultural college and bounty scrip, upon portions of sections 21, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 34, township 35 south, range 2 east; and that on March 1, 1872, he made cash entry upon portions of sections 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 29, 32 and 33 in the same township. Hermann Does Not Deny. Hermann cannot dispute the evidence of the records. "I did make such an entry," he admitted in his speech at Salem. The fact that he offers the flimsy pretense that at that time the law prohibited entries by land office officials was popularly construed as applying only to those in the general land office at Washington. He asserts that not until June, 1894, was this law interpreted as applying to the officials of local land offices. This is abundantly contradicted both by the instructions sent to Hermann from Washington and by the laws themselves. The federal statutes in force in 1872, when he took up public lands, were unmistakable in their prohibition of such acts. The prohibition had been emphasized by express instructions from President Grant himself, as well as by orders from the secretary of the interior. Hermann set at defiance the law and the mandates of his superiors. Among the sections of the federal laws which forbade acquisition of the public lands by receivers and registers were the following: Section 462, Revised Statutes of the United States, provides: "The officers, clerks and employees in the general land office are prohibited from directly or indirectly purchasing or becoming interested in the purchase of any of the public land, and any person who violates this law shall forthwith be removed from his office." Section 19 of an act approved April 25, 1812, establishing the land office, is as follows: "And be it further enacted that no person appointed to an office instituted by this act, or employed in any such office, shall directly or indirectly be concerned in the purchase of any right, title or interest in any public land, either in his own right or in trust for any other person, or in the name or right of any other person, or in any manner whatsoever, shall take or receive any fee or emolument for negotiating or transacting a business of the office. Any person offending in the premises shall forfeit and pay $100, and upon conviction shall be removed from office." The general land office was reorganized July 4, 1838, and section 14 of the act again prohibited all officers of the department "from directly or indirectly purchasing or in any way becoming interested in the purchase of any of the public land." The manifest purpose of these repeated prohibitions was to prevent all officials of the land department from using their positions for their own private gain and at the expense of the public. It is absurd to contend that the prohibition was intended only for officials in the Washington office, for their opportunities for making purchases of public lands would be few, if any. The laws were aimed primarily against the receivers and registers of the local land offices, who would otherwise be able to seize upon all the choicest lands in their districts to the exclusion of legitimate settlers. No sensible man can be deceived by the subterfuge by which Hermann seeks to escape responsibility for his acts. He acquired public land in the full knowledge and with ample warning that he had no right to do so. For 32 years he has enjoyed the possession of these 4,000 acres, and apparently without a thought of restitution. REV. MR. SCANTON IS DEAD. (Journal Special Service.) New York, May 31.—Rev. F. Scanton, chancellor of the archdiocese of San Francisco, died today at St. Vincent's hospital of a complication of ailments.

CHARTER'S FRIENDS AND FOES ALIGNED

- The committees of citizens appointed by the public meeting to take steps with reference to the various legislative candidates as were calculated to insure the maintenance of the present city charter has made public recommendation that the following named gentlemen be voted for by all who believe that the charter should be maintained: C. W. NOTTINGHAM, E. W. MONTAGUE, W. L. BREWSTER, E. R. CLARY, JOSEPH E. HEDGES. It recommends that the following men be voted against as being against maintaining the present city charter: A. A. COURTNEY, A. J. CAPRON, THOMAS H. CRANG, W. R. HUDSON, MADISON WELCH, GEORGE W. HOLCOMB. Save the list, for it will help you in making out your ballot in the interest of good government. The list should be in the hands of every voter who favors keeping the charter intact.

Cambridge, O., May 31.—As the result of a quarrel with his wife this morning, Andrew Messer went to a neighbor's, borrows a rifle, returned to his home, and shot both his wife and infant son. He then turned the rifle against himself and sent a ball crashing through his skull, bringing instant death. Messer was but 24 years of age and his wife but 17 years old. The child which was sacrificed to the father's temper was but 1 year old. Intimates assert that the quarrel is believed to have been the first one ever engaged in between Messer and his wife. MAYOR TAKES LIFE. Baltimore, Md., May 31.—Mayor Robert M. McLane of this city committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the head at his home. No known cause is assigned for the act, although by some it is thought that recent criticisms by political enemies may have caused a temporary mental aberration. He was elected as a Democrat for a term of four years last May. He was 38 years of age, a member of a prominent family and very popular among the people. He was married about two weeks ago to a well known and popular society leader of this city. Clay Timanus, president of the city council, a Republican, became mayor today to succeed Mayor McLane. The latter was a Democrat. No further explanation of McLane's act has been made known other than despondency over criticism aimed at him since the big fire. SUICIDE AFTER MURDER. Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—Irving Wise, a well-known mechanical engineer, this morning shot and killed Katie Craft, a boarding house owner, and then committed suicide. It is presumed that the woman rejected his suit. JEALOUSY CAUSES TRAGEDY. Anniston, Ala., May 31.—H. F. Horbuck, a wealthy resident, shot and killed himself and seriously wounded Legene Dalton, his alleged wife, early this morning. The cause of the tragedy is supposed to have been jealousy. The woman's recovery is doubtful. WATERS HIGHEST ON RECORD AT PAOLA. (Journal Special Service.) Paola, Kan., May 31.—The Marais Descynges river in your feet above the highest record. Railroads are blocked and many people at Ossawatimila are homeless. The waters seem to be receding and if so heavy rainfall is experienced, during the next 24 hours, they will soon reach their normal level. INFANTS LEAVENWORTH POST. (Journal Special Service.) Fort Leavenworth, Kan., May 31.—Secretary of War Taft reviewed the garrison and inspected the post here this morning, then boarded a trolley for Kansas City, where he will participate in the automobile parade and probably make a speech at Convention hall before leaving for Washington tonight.

THE CUCKOO CLOCK HEARD AGAIN

DAY PROVES ONE OF TRAGEDIES

Youthful Husband Slays Wife, Child and Himself—Engineer Shoots Woman—Other Cases

(Journal Special Service.) Cambridge, O., May 31.—As the result of a quarrel with his wife this morning, Andrew Messer went to a neighbor's, borrows a rifle, returned to his home, and shot both his wife and infant son. He then turned the rifle against himself and sent a ball crashing through his skull, bringing instant death. Messer was but 24 years of age and his wife but 17 years old. The child which was sacrificed to the father's temper was but 1 year old. Intimates assert that the quarrel is believed to have been the first one ever engaged in between Messer and his wife.

POISONED FLOWERS ON WOMAN'S GRAVE

Fiend Desecrates Grave of Mrs. H. W. Prettyman and Then Administers Deadly Drug to Fowls.

Prompted by a motive that has not been explained, a fiend in the person of a young man desecrated the grave of Mrs. H. W. Prettyman in Lone Fir cemetery yesterday and made a vicious attack upon the home of Mr. Prettyman. At the Prettyman residence in Mount Tabor poison was distributed about the place and caused the death of 30 chickens. The deed is one of the most mysterious and heinous that has ever been brought to the attention of the local detectives. Officers are working on the case, but have failed to find a clue that will likely result in the arrest of the perpetrator. It is believed, however, that the deed was done by a young man who claims to have a grievance against the Prettyman family. At 11 o'clock yesterday Mr. Prettyman and his daughter went to the grave of his wife. They placed a number of flowers on the grave. Then they went home to luncheon and returned to the grave in the afternoon. They were started to discover that the flowers were black instead of the various colors they bore when they were placed upon the grave. Gazing at the amusement on the metamorphosis, Mr. Prettyman reached down to investigate. He seized one of the bouquets, but drew his hand quickly away, dropping the flowers to the ground. "His hands stung as though burned where they had touched the flowers. Today he visited a physician and was informed that his hands had been burned by carbolic acid. Unable to understand the change of the flowers Mr. Prettyman and his daughter returned to their home. Poisoned Chickens. It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon when they reached the place. In the yard were scattered a number of dead chickens. There is a large number of the fowls at the place and they were gathered together in the yard. They showed symptoms of disorder and those which were not dead staggered and reeled about the yard. A number died and altogether there were 30 which were poisoned. Investigation revealed the fact that poison had been thrown about the place promiscuously. Inside the house were also found several articles on which it is believed the deadly drug had been placed. Mr. Prettyman presented the facts to Dr. Wood Hutchison. He is conducting a chemical analysis of the drug, and cannot say positively what poisons are contained in the preparation that was left at the Prettyman home," said Dr. Hutchison today. "The deed was certainly the most dastardly I have ever heard of and I wish the culprit could be discovered." Mr. Prettyman is a deputy game warden. He has no enemies, he says.

REPORT JAPANESE NAVAL REPULSE

Port Arthur's Guns Sold to Have Either Sunk or Silenced Japanese Gunboat—Loss Was Great.

Tien Tsin, May 31.—It is reported that four full Siberian regiments left Tientsin, 30 miles south of New Chwang, for Kln Chow, Monday. It is believed these will be followed by an entire division in an effort to relieve Port Arthur. Mukden, May 31.—A report reached here today that the Japanese attack on Port Arthur Saturday was not without loss. The report says that the attack was made after night had fallen and when everything seemed favorable for the Japanese cause. An attempt similar to the one which recently proved temporarily successful was made to block the harbor entrance. A number of torpedo boats, a gunboat and merchantmen steamed quietly toward the harbor entrance, but were picked up by the Russian searchlights. A terrific cannonade was centered on the gunboat, which was sent to the bottom, and a few minutes later, the report says, two torpedo boats also disappeared. The merchantmen, after the loss of the Japanese boats, retreated from the zone of fire and were apparently unharmed. The report is unofficial. It is regarded as certain here that if the Japanese were repulsed in an attempt to shut the harbor another desperate trial of this sort will be made within a short time and in greater force.

WATERS HIGHEST ON RECORD AT PAOLA

(Journal Special Service.) Paola, Kan., May 31.—The Marais Descynges river in your feet above the highest record. Railroads are blocked and many people at Ossawatimila are homeless. The waters seem to be receding and if so heavy rainfall is experienced, during the next 24 hours, they will soon reach their normal level.

SPANISH CITY IS SWEEP BY FLAMES

(Journal Special Service.) Madrid, May 31.—A fire at Luanco today resulted in many deaths. The list has not been made up, according to the report received here, but is known to be heavy.

LOT TO KEEP VOTERS FROM POLLS

It is positively asserted that a scheme has been formed by the liquor men to keep the voters from the polls on election day and as far as possible to prevent the better class of citizens from voting. The liquor men are anxious to reduce to a minimum the vote for the local option law, and the gamblers are equally interested in the success of the Republican ticket, which will assure a continuance of the immunity from the penalties of the law, which they now enjoy. In the downtown precincts the saloon and gambling elements are strong, and they will be aided by the heavy registration of purchasable voters. But in the outlying and residence districts it is said that they propose to adopt obstructive tactics. Every voter who is suspected of hostility to either the saloons or the gambling houses will be challenged. All Democrats are also to be challenged with a view to cutting down the Democratic vote. If any considerable proportion of the voters should defer the casting of their ballots until afternoon, this scheme will prevent many of them from voting at all. It is imperative therefore that Democrats and advocates of the local option law, who do not desire to lose their votes, should go to the polls early.

CHARITY IS LARGE

Mrs. S. G. Reed Founds School to Educate Poor Youth.

BEQUEST OF $500,000

Will of Portland Pioneer Woman Filed in County Court—Leaves to Other Charities and Relatives Half Million.

- Mrs. S. G. Reed leaves these bequests: To Mrs. Amos N. Reed, a cousin $25,000 To Harry D. and Grace C. Reed, children of Amos N. Reed, each 10,000 To Georgiana Reed, widow of deceased's husband's half brother, Edward P. Reed, 25,000 To Georgiana Reed, in trust for Georgiana's children, 50,000 To Emily Pickering, a sister, and to Amelia Winch, wife of Martin Winch, each 5,000 To Myrtle Walker Winch, widow of Henry Winch, 500 To children of her sister and brother, Ellen, Sallie, Emily, William M. and John A., each 5,000 To Simeon Reed Winch, son of her nephew, Martin Winch, 5,000 To the Troupe, Edw. Schuchman school, Pasadena, Cal., 10,000 To First Unitarian church of Quincy, Mass., 2,000 To Unitarian society of Portland 5,000 To the Home, Charitable society of Portland, 5,000 To the Boys' and Girls' Aid society of Portland, 1,000 To the Baby Home, Patton Home and Homeopathic Hospital and Dispensary, Portland, each 1,000 To Portland Free Kindergarten and Portland Library association and free library, 10,000 To Portland City Board of Charities, 2,000 To Oregon Humane society, 1,000 To Peoples' Free Reading & Library association, Portland, 1,000 To Refuge Home for Women, Portland, 1,000 To Portland, 1,000 To Portland Good Samaritan hospital, 1,000 To Old Ladies' Home, Portland, block of 124 and 125, 40,000 To Mrs. Reed's children, 100,000 To Trustees of Reed Institute, balance of property, and for a building 150,000 Total cash bequests $438,500 By the will of the late Mrs. S. G. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $500,000. The Old Women's home gets $40,000 in cash, and many other institutions profit. The bulk of the money goes toward the founding of an institute of art, music, literature and manual training, a practical school to be known as the S. G. Reed Institute, named in honor of the dead husband of the deceased, who passed away in Pasadena, Cal., some nine years ago. In addition to the endowment, Mrs. Reed, filed today, the poor young men and women of this city who are struggling for a living and such education as they can acquire under trying conditions are benefited to the extent of property assessed for more than $5