M. Mossesohn, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, who is in Vancouver, B. C., boomed the Lewis and Clark fair, has been well received, and is to be the guest of honor at a reception given by the commercial organizations of this city, before he returns to Portland. Mr. Mossesohn went to Vancouver about a week ago, to urge the people there to make preparations for an extensive exhibit at the fair next year. The exhibit is to represent the varied industries of British Columbia. Mr. Mossesohn has sent here for 500 booklets, descriptive of Oregon and the 1905 fair. They were forwarded last evening by Henry E. Ross, secretary of the Lewis and Clark corporation. Mr. Mossesohn will not return before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, as both of his parents, with whom he is staying, are ill. He will stop for a short time on the way home in Seattle and Tacoma.

Charles B. Anderson filed suit in the circuit court yesterday against Charles O. Jackson and D. Kumpel for money alleged to be due on promissory notes executed by Jackson. The amounts will aggregate almost $4,000. A receiver is asked to take charge of the property leased by Jackson at 209 Washington street, the lease being given as security for the loans. Kumpel claims an interest in this property and for that reason is made a party to the suit.

A controversy as to whether or not W. H. Aurelius, cashier of the Pullman Car company, was or was not robbed by two negroes, landed Albert Pander and R. H. Worker in the city jail late Wednesday afternoon, but upon promise of good behavior they were today released by Municipal Judge Hogue. Worker thought the robbery story as told by the cashier was true, but Pander did not. There was the rub, and to settle the matter they fought.

The police are determined to break up the habit of young boys in jumping onto moving trains on the Southern Pacific line running out Fourth street. Three arrests have been made, and each boy has been fined $5 in the municipal court. Yesterday the court fined Ashton Hellosa, residing at 311 Harrison street, $5 on the charge. He was arrested by Mounted Patrolman White late Wednesday afternoon.

The taxpayers of Multnomah county begin to see their way out of a piece of woods in the assured election of Tom Word for sheriff. Tom Word will save the persons who foot the bills more than four times his salary in reducing the expenses of his office. Now it is not likely that there are many taxpayers not in favor of that kind of a proposition. Mr. Word will receive all that class of votes.

Everybody is going to Salem next Sunday to see the big program at the state fair grounds given by the Trainmen to entertain the patrons of the excursion. Fare, round trip, including admission, $1.50. Tickets at Schiller's cigar store, Grand avenue; Jancke Drug company, Grand avenue; Cowin's cigar store, Russell street. Train leaves union depot at 8 a. m.

The I. R. C. of the Second Baptist church, will lead a march of about 100 voters, who will meet Saturday at 7 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A., to escort Secretary H. W. Stinson of the Marquam Grand, where a final rally of Prohibitionists, Municipal Leaguers, young people's societies and local optionists will be held. The speakers will be H. W. Stone, T. S. McDaniel and J. M. Gass.

If elected sheriff, Mr. Word this morning gave his solemn promise that he would not be a candidate for governor or senator or president of the United States. He will not seek the place of ambassador to the court of St. James. This is printed more to quiet the fears of the Oregonian than for any other purpose.

The sheriff of Multnomah county ought to be content with his lawful salary. If elected Tom Word will accept nothing more. He will not at once, or at any time, begin to scheme to beat the taxpayers by raising his fee. He is not that kind of a man. Knowing this, Republicans as well as Democrats desire to see him win.

Many of the most enthusiastic of his supporters will be the office of sheriff are those who have known Tom Word the longest, and are Republicans at that. It is certainly a pleasant thing to say of any man that his warmest friends are his oldest acquaintances. Such a person would turn the office of sheriff of Multnomah county.

The Hub Clothing store, Third and Burnside, was closed all day today, Mr. Strain and his force of salesmen being engaged in making tremendous price reductions on every garment and every pair of footwear in the popular establishment. The page advertisement today tells all about it. There are some strong announcements in these lines.

been completed and installed at the fire headquarters. The wagon was built by a Portland firm, and is said to be the finest on the coast, having cost $600. It has separate sections for various sizes of hose, and carries two short ladders. Captain Joseph Stitt of engine company No. 1 is longing for an opportunity to ride to a fire in his new wagon.

Say, fellows, have you heard about that camp Gilbert No. 205, S. A. W. V., excursion to Multnomah Falls, on Sunday, June 5? If you can enjoy a good time, here's your chance. You won't get another like it soon. Not only will you enjoy a grand river ride and the beautiful Columbia river scenery, but just think of how you and your lady love can trip the light fantastic on the barge Klipskiald. You needn't flatter about bringing your "bestest," either. She won't have occasion to pull your hair for bringing her where "red-eye" and its consumption is in evidence, and if you think you're going to get it—stay away! You most assuredly won't "Local Option" will reign supreme. You know, too, how speedy the "Charles R. Spencer" is. Saying she's scheduled at the falls at 1 p. m. she should assure you your time won't be a "slow" one. Everett's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion— "nuff ced. Returning, boat leaves falls at 3:30, arriving in Portland at 7 p. m. Time enough to make the theatre. Now, don't miss a good time with your "Mia." Tickets 75 cents a round trip.

Columbia river scenery. Portland to Cascade Locks and The Dalles. Grandest river scenery in the world. An opportunity to view the flood and cascades of the Columbia in one day. Seen to perfection from deck of Regulator line steamers, leaving Alder-street dock every morning 7 o'clock. Meals served on board the very best. Rates the lowest. Phone, Main 114.

The Citizens' local option committee has challenged the Brewers' and Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association to a joint debate on the question of local option, to be held this evening at the Empires theatre, Twelfth and Marion streets. The debate will begin at 8 o'clock, and P. A. Baker of Ohio will discuss points in favor of local option.

Grand river excursion to Multnomah Falls given by Camp Gilbert No. 205 S. A. W. V., Sunday, June 5. Music by Everett's orchestra. No liquor allowed on board. The fastest boat on the river, steamer Charles R. Spencer and barge Klipskiald leave Washington street dock every morning 7 o'clock. Rates the lowest. Phone, Main 114.

Hunt Club races, Saturday, June 4, 3 p. m. Irvington track. Tickets 50c. Boxes $2.50. On sale at Feldenhelmer's.

In all the campaign, no one has yet whispered anything derogatory to the reputation of Mr. Word. It is conceded by his every acquaintance that he is the soul of honor, and if elected to the sheriff's office he will be the most capable man yet filling that important place in this county.

The chamber of commerce has received a copy of the anniversary edition of the Daily Bulletin, "exponent of commerce in the Philippine Islands." The edition covers some 56 pages, and contains a number of interesting articles on a variety of subjects.

The best, newest and fastest steamer on the Columbia and Willamette rivers, the Charles R. Spencer, sails from foot of Washington street Monday, Wednesday and Friday for The Dalles and all way lands yet filling that important place in this county.

Regulator line steamers for The Dalles, Lytle, Hood River, St. Martin's and Collins' Hot Springs, Cascade Locks and all way points leave every morning (except Sunday), 7 o'clock, from Alder street dock. Best of meals. Phone Main 114.

"TIS TO LAUGH"

Caught in the Act, and What Some Patrons Said

The Exposure by Ellers Piano House Attracts Attention—Some Further Facts—Sale Now in Full Progress—Bring in Coupon and Get Your Piano or Organ at 351 Washington Street.

"That was the funniest write-up and exposure I ever saw," said one of our customers yesterday. The way you showed up the ridiculousness of the attempt of those "make-a-raid-grab-it-and-all-for-us" people to steal your thunder and to hoodwink the public, was exactly right, and it was so obviously fair and convincing that any right-minded man or woman will admit through their sense, any house engaged in such work can't surely have any standing.

My wife and I compared your half-page announcement of last Saturday with the half-page of those "All-for-us-Grab-it-make-a-raid" people which appeared two days later. We have noticed they had copied it almost verbatim, except the name. Everybody knows they have no three-story wharves, and they have no big shipment of pianos coming via steamer around the Horn, and therefore, the attempted piracy is only too apparent," said another.

We told them all that the matter was by no means a "funny" one with us. We are very much in earnest with this closing-out sale of ours. We must sell the pianos and organs, and we have coupons under this advertising test, and we are willing with the coupons to pay people to get a piano now.

We will not permit any disgruntled dealer to make such a brazen attempt at piracy without plainly exposing his scheme, and the way we have permitted ourselves to publish that article in The Journal of Wednesday.

We deny you are the right to do business, and if ever a house appears that is in position to offer the public more for their money than Ellers Piano House does, why then they will be perfectly content to be relegated to the rear. Just now, and as it has done for over five years, Ellers Piano House heads the procession by many lengths, and as stated once before, those in the rear should learn to contain their souls in peace.

The facts as set forth in yesterday's conversation are correct. We have in our possession absolute proof (in one instance, but numerous cases) to show that such makes as the Ludwig, the Kingbury and other pianos have been sold by the predecessors of the present corporation with the long-handled name for a hundred dollars, yes, a hundred and sixty-five dollars less than they now ask for them. Nor was this during the time when they were being sold to "summer climate" and "distresses new."

Now that we have gone into this thing, we are tempted to go the full length further back and present a view of numerous other "shortcomings" (if you prefer) and of a desperate friend who has been found guilty of "the origin of a little Hinx piano used for knocking down the price of the old one." The origin of a five-year-old Chickering upright and why it is not for sale, etc. All these would make excellent material for a magazine.

But, suffice it for today. The Journal coupons are published in our halftone advertisements, which will be found on page 16 of this issue. Cut out and bring to our closing-out sale and advertising test the one that will give you the instrument you want, and you will have a fine instrument in the home at once.

We will find during this sale some very good new pianos for $128, $142, which is almost half price, and the coupons are issued at five and ten cents each toward payment. The choicest and highest-grade instruments, which are usually sold at from $450 to $650, according to make, style and design. Payments of $10 a month (plus $100 down) are made on all our instruments.

All second-hand pianos, among them nearly every American make, including Kimball, Decker, Steinway, Fischer, Pease, Vose, Ludwig, Kingbury, Hamilton, Whitney and many others, at correspondingly large reductions. In these are first-class upright pianos here now from $48 up.

There are fine squares from $80 up (and antiques for less), toward payment of which coupons will be accepted same as above and which can be obtained on terms of payment of $4 per month.
