

MAY LENGTHEN COURSE OF STUDY

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT MONMOUTH CONSIDERS CHANGE IN STUDIES—STUDENTS OF CONFERENCE RETURN.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Monmouth, Or., June 8.—The executive board of the Normal School is talking under serious consideration the advisability of lengthening the course of study for the school, making it equal to other state normal schools which are now regarded as superior to it. It is supposed that with the lengthening of the course "the powers that be" will also make it possible for graduates of the Normal school to become possessors of state life diplomas without further examinations. Should such a law be passed, it will certainly be heralded as a step toward the sending out of better prepared and fewer overworked teachers by the present student body.

The Oregon State Normal school's representatives at the northwest student conference returned home this morning. They report a glorious time, and it is expected that the Monmouth T. M. C. A. will feel the effects of it in the future. Already plans are being made for Bible and mission classes for next year.

HOWLAND DISMISSED.

Because Special Officer Richard Howland was drunk in the municipal court one day two weeks ago, Mayor William yesterday discharged him from the special police force. Howland was in charge of the Nob Hill district. He arrested a man for drunkenness. In the municipal court the same day the prisoner charged the officer with having stolen $5 from him while taking him to the patrol box at the corner of Sixteenth and Washington streets. This charge, however, was never pressed.

PUBLIC BATHS OPEN SOON.

Within the next few days Portland youth may again enjoy the delights of the public baths, that have for so many years been the "old swimmin' hole" for the boys of this city. Everything in and about the baths is being cleaned up, making ready for swimming-time. The debris that has hitherto strewed the portions is being pushed into the canal at the rear of the river and complete preparations are being made for the opening day.

DIVORCE SUIT REUNITES PAIR

FORMER PORTLAND COUPLE, WILLIAM AND BEODA HUNT, WHO PARTED SIX DAYS AFTER WEDDING, MAKE MUTUAL EXPLANATIONS.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Oakland, Cal., June 8.—Divorce proceedings have resulted in the reunion of Rhoda Annette Hunt and William Hunt, who were married in Portland, Or., two years ago. They separated six days after their wedding and had not since lived together until mutual explanations had dispelled their imaginary grievances against each other. Neither saw the other until within the last few days, when divorce proceedings instituted by the wife brought them together. After the separation Hunt came to Oakland to live. Later Mrs. Hunt moved to San Francisco. About three months ago she began suit for divorce, alleging desertion. As soon as she was served with a summons Hunt retained attorneys to fight the case. There was a conference between him and his wife and it was mutually agreed between them that the divorce proceedings be dropped. The formal dismissal was filed yesterday.

SPOKANE LIBRARY CONTRACT AWARDED

The estimate of the cost of the building was $85,000, and if the lowest bid for a hot water heating plant is accepted, the cost will be $84,651.90.
Mr. Carnegie's gift is $75,000. This will leave over $10,000. Five per cent of the total cost of the building will go to the architect and the remainder can be used for furnishing the building and improving the grounds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF STATE ASSOCIATION NOW IN SESSION AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—INTERESTING ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT MORSE.

Sunday school workers from all over the state are in the city to attend the nineteenth annual convention of the State Sunday School association, which opened yesterday afternoon at First Presbyterian church.
Rev. W. H. Selleck delivered the first address of the convention on "The Sunday School and the Church." Dr. Selleck regards the church as a mother institution to the Sunday school, a supplement for the work of the home and the pupil. The speaker showed the necessity of closer relations between the church and the Sunday school.
Professor R. R. Steele, in his address on "Teaching Training," urged that teachers should be more carefully fitted for the positions they fill.

PRESIDENT MORSE SPEAKS.

The annual address of President A. A. Morse was a feature of the session. He said that 13 counties are still unorganized for the work, and dwell at length on the fact that Oregon has no banner county in this work. He also said that the work in this state is falling behind that in other states, attributing it to the fact that there is no field-worker as in other states.
Rev. E. L. House of the First Congregational church of this city spoke on "Incentives to Sunday School Work" at the evening session.

MORNING SESSION.

The session this morning opened at 9 o'clock with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. F. C. Standard of Newberg. Mrs. J. E. Furgerson of Astoria delivered an address on "Methods of In-gathering." Her talk was full of helpful suggestions. Merwin Pugh spoke on "The Necessity of a State Organization," and A. F. Fiegel on "House-to-House Visitation." W. O. Munsell delivered his delayed address on "Special Work for Young Men."

THE PROGRAM FOR THIS EVENING'S SESSION IS AS FOLLOWS:

- 7:20—Song service.
- 7:45—Address, Samuel E. Notson, Lexington.
- 8:15—Vocal solo, Miss Ethel Lytle.
- 8:45—Address, "The Inspiration of the Holy Scripture," Rev. F. Burgette Short, D. D., Portland.
- 9:00—"Closing Moments," Rev. W. H. Selleck, Portland.

ROHSE'S LICENSE MAY BE REVOKED

A jury of six men in the municipal court this afternoon found R. J. Rohse, keeper of a park at Fulton, guilty of selling liquor to minors. The jury was out but 10 minutes. Sentence will be passed tomorrow by Judge Hogue.
"I believe this verdict means the abolition of Rohse's park," said Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald. "This is the second time he has been found guilty of that offense, and there have been numerous complaints against him of late. I think the license committee should take away his license at once."
Rohse was charged by the city with selling liquor, both beer and whisky, to Susie Seebinder, Annie Johnson and Ada Cress in his park at Fulton. All three of the girls took the stand during the progress of the case and testified that they had repeatedly secured liquor at that resort. Rohse's defense was that he leased the park to others, and contended he could not be held responsible for their acts.
During the hearing attorneys for the defense called witnesses to the stand to testify that Rohse had had officers of the law on duty at his park all the time, and that he had tried to keep good order and obey the laws. Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald showed that while the specials had been on duty, they never made any arrests, being in the pay of the parkkeeper.

WORD CLUB'S GENTLE HINT TO KNOCKERS

"A measly, cheap little grip hanging by a string in the corner post of a cigar store at Fourth and Washington street bears a card containing this quotation from the Oregonian's report of a political meeting of a few nights ago:
"If we can't beat Word when we've got an organization of 1,000 men working for Stott and the city and county government and the street cleaning and police and fire departments—if with all this we can't beat a crowd of drummers, I'm going to pack my grip and go on the road."
On the reverse side of the card is this succinct little sentence:
"This is the grip for the man who would make the remark."
"TOM WORD COMMERCIAL CLUB."

CHEMAWA STUDENT CAUSES SENSATION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, June 8.—A sensation has been caused in local circles by the report that a student of the Salem Indian Training school had attempted to assault a white girl living near the school, at Chemawa. The attack occurred over a week ago, but has been carefully kept secret, because the girl was unable to identify the criminal, and her guardians did not desire to allow her name to become known unless the offender could thus be brought to justice. The victim of the assault is an orphan girl, aged 13, who resides with an aunt near the school.
Every effort has been made by the officers of the school to discover the criminal, and they declare he will not be spared. The neighbors say that similar cases have occurred before.

At the annual show of the Portland Rose society on Multnomah Field, Friday and Saturday of this week, worshippers of the rose will have an opportunity to see a collection of some of the finest varieties in the world.

The Portland Rose society was organized a number of years ago, with a view to making Portland known as the "rose city of the world, and with this end in view, has, for several years past, given a rose festival to show Portlanders what can be done in the way of raising fine roses. Ever since the inception of this beautiful custom people have taken a greater interest in the culture of roses, and now it is a common occurrence to see magnificent blossoms in front of the humblest dwellings.

That Portland answers all demands in the way of soil and climate is shown by the little care necessary to secure the most gratifying results.

An unusual amount of interest is manifested in this year's show, and the society has made its arrangements with such care that every one is sure to be delighted.

There will be no charge this year for making entries for the show as heretofore. The premium list is as follows:

MORE METHODISTS VISITING PORTLAND

A delegation of about 150 Methodists, from the general conference at Los Angeles, arrived in the city this morning. Bishop McCabe, a prominent worker, was one of the arrivals. The bishop is well known because of his famous address on "Libby Prison." He was to have spoken at a mass meeting to be held this evening at Taylor street church, but was obliged to leave the city on the afternoon train.

Dr. Hungeley, secretary of the general conference, arrived today. He has been in the city since the morning of the entire conference without having a correction made in his minutes.

Some of the visitors took trains and boats for The Dalles and other points on the Columbia, while others took street cars around Portland.
The Oregon Royal has received a letter from Mr. Wentz, who is at Ashland welcoming the delegates. Mr. Wentz says that many of the delegates did not intend to stop at Portland because Californians told them there was nothing to see here. "Those, however, who could made arrangements to remain for a short time. The delegates are highly pleased with the presents of fruit and flowers which they are receiving from us, and often as the train pulls out of the station they give us three rousing cheers."

When Your Cold Catches You Just There

There is No Time to Wait.

It is not a "little thing." It's a deadly thing. It will not "get well by itself" if you let it alone. Whiskey and quinine and such things brace you up for the time, but they don't cure you.
Ask any intelligent doctor why you catch cold so easily. He will say, "Because you are a bit run down." He means that the force which nature placed in your body to keep out disease germs—the resistive force—is weakened. The door is open a little way toward disease.
There is not a gravestone in any cemetery in the world caused by consumption or pneumonia or any lung trouble whatever, which did not start with what you call "Nothing but a cold."
A cold should not be beaten back or drugged over—it should be cured, and the general health should be built up.

ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY

"ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY saved my life. A cough, slight at first, grew constantly worse and I finally had to give up my work in the Knife Factory at Walden. I had frequent bleeding spells. Was examined by local doctors, prominent physicians in New York and at a Medical College. They all pronounced my case hopeless. I began using ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY and a few bottles cured me. I am today a perfectly well man."
(Signed) A. H. SIMPSON, Walden, N. Y.

Acker's English Remedy is sold on a positive guarantee that the purchase money will be refunded in case of failure. 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

OREGON PIONEERS TO HOLD REUNION

INTERESTING PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR THIRTY-SECOND MEETING, TO BE HELD THIS MONTH—LARGE NUMBER OF EARLY SETTLERS TO ATTEND.

George H. Himes, secretary of the Oregon Pioneer association, is busy making plans and arrangements for the thirty-second annual reunion of that organization, to be held in Portland on Wednesday, June 23. Mr. Himes said this morning that he expected at least 800, perhaps 1,000, pioneers of the Oregon country to be present.

During the past few weeks Mr. Himes has received scores of letters, written by the remaining hands of old men and women who crossed the scorching plains half a century ago, in order to build homes in the land of the Oregon, stating that they would be present at this reunion of their association. Many of these letters were from pioneers who now reside in Washington, but who are still proud of the fact that they helped to build up the great commonwealth of Oregon. Several others wrote from California, stating they would also attend this reunion. Mr. Himes is of the opinion that this reunion will be the most successful in the history of the association.

Interesting Program.
On the day of the reunion a grand procession will take place, forming at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Hotel Portland, and marching direct to the armory, where the literary exercises will be held. Joseph Buchtel will be the grand marshal of the parade. The annual address will be given by Charles R. Moore, a pioneer of 1850, and five five-minute experience talks will be given by well known pioneers.

At the close of the program the Pioneer Woman's auxiliary will give a banquet to all the members of the association in good standing. Special invitations will be issued to the husbands or wives of pioneers, who may not be pioneers themselves. No children will be admitted to the banquet.
