DOCK, WHICH HAS TAKEN BUSI-NESS FROM SAN FRANCISCO AND SEATTLE.

Due to arrive in the harbor this morn ng is the American schooner Minnie A. Caine, which left up the river yesterday afternoon from Astoria in tow of the Ocklahama. Her owners have into indicate that the administration is and who says he is a French count, is quired for dockage rates, and it is pre-contemplating interference. If it is dethe schooner taken on the drydock shortly after her arrival.

The vessel is en route from Hilo, and of late has been engaged in the lumber trade. The vessel is owned in Scattle, where she was built four years ago She is somewhat larger than the William Bowden, which came off the Portland dock Friday. Her length is 195.5 feet, width, 41 feet, and depth of hold 15.2 feet; her net registry is 779 tons. She is described as being one of the neatest and most up-to-date schooners plying in the off-shore trade. The ves-sel is coming to Portland in ballast, and will load lumber here for the orient.

Notwithstanding the recent establishnent of the local drydock, it appears to be taking trade right along from San Francisco and Seattle. The first two vessels docked here came direct from the Bay City, while the Caine is owned in Seattle. Were their rates so very much lower than those charged here, it is pointed out that the schooner would undoubtedly have been taken to her home port for treatment instead of being brought to this city.

A rate war is on among the sound drydock firms, and for this reason it is alleged, broke open her trunk and is generally admitted that the rates up stole everything he could take with him there are somewhat lower than at Portland, but those familiar with matters of this character say that the owners have other inducements for bringing their vessels to the Columbia river. It is claimed that it is almost as beneficial to the vessels to have them in fresh water for a short period as it is to take them on the drydock and clean them. When sound firms get together upon the rate question, as it is corceded they shortly will, it is then be-lieved that the number of vessels going there to be docked will be very materially decreased.

LUBLINE TO BE REPAIRED.

Kamm Line Steamer Will Be Improved to Handle Trade.

As soon as a vessel can be procured to take her place it is the intention of the management of the Kamm line to lay the steamer Lurline up for extensive re-pairs. The beach trace has begun to open up in good shape and in order to take care of it properly it is said that the steamer should be given many im-provements. Aside from the Telephone there are no idle steamers in port, and it is probable that some difficulty will be experienced to obtain a steamer to take the Lurline's run to Astoria.

The T. J. Potter of the O. R. & N. Co.'s river fleet, will go out on the beach run the middle of this month. It is said that the travel down that way has opened up somewhat earlier this year than usual. Men with expert opinions on the water front declare that June is the best month of the year to spend at the sion in St. Louis this week, should be careful lest the long-suffering Missouri mule should plan revenge. For years the mule has been the target of these men and, although it has never said a proudly to the firing line, where he careful lest though the year to spend at the saw him one battle and I seasile.
