COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION OF-FERS INDUCEMENTS FOR WOMEN OF WOODCHAFT MEADQUARTERS -REMOVAL PROM LEADVILLE MEANS MUCH FOR FERDLETON.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., June 11.-At a recent secting of the Commercial association the question raised some time ago as to whether or not the city would do anything towards offering an inducement or a bonus to the Women of Woodcraft for the location of the of-fice of the head clerk, was brought up by President Borie and generally dis-

At the request of President Borie a statement of the scope of advantages to be expected by the placement of the office here had been secured from Mrs. Carrie Van Orsdall, grand guardian of the order, and this was read by Presi-dent Borie. The paper showed that the office of the head clerk had expended once of the head clerk had expended in the year 1903 for stamps alone $17,-000; for other postage, $4,209.65; for freight and express, $1,111.20; for tele-graph and telephones, $2,850.17; light and fuel, $1,821.70. There are 23 clerks employed in the office at a total salary payment of $13.-773 a year; four heads of departments, at a total salary of $7,800; two grand physicians, drawing $6,000. The total expenses of the office for the past year were $129,146.41.

If the offices were to be located in this city the order would build a three story office building at an approximate cost of $40,000.

Bival Claimant Cities.

Boise City wants to secure the plum, but the mail facilities of that place are not of the best, which places it at a disadvantage. favor this city with the office, and accordingly the subject was referred to a special committee to be appointed by the president, which should confer with Mrs. Van Orsdall and learn from her if possible the lest manner in which to roceed towards securing favorable consideration of the claims of Pendleton. If it will be of advantage to secure a piece of property and piedge it to the order, this will perhaps be done, or any other plan that will meet with the greatest favor will be adopted, and work will range as well as the land office where

President Borie has not appointed his committee as yet, but will think over the matter for a day for so, and then select those men irrespective of mem-bership in the association who will labor sarnestly for the success of the proposition.

ATTENTION OF LOCAL LAND OF-FICE AT VANCOUVER CALLED TO LATE ACT OF CONGRESS PRO-VIDING FOR SECOND AND ADDI-TIONAL HOMESTRAD ENTRIES.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., June 11 .- The attention of the local land office here has been called to the late act of congress, approved April 28, 1904, providing for a econd and additional homestead entries. The register and receiver of the local land office have received a circular letter from the commissioner of the general land office to this effect: When a claimant has made a bona fide effort to comply with the homestead or entry, or abandoned his claim for a consideration, the claimant may, according to the first section of this new law, make a second entry. First Entry.

The first entry must have falled on account of some unavoidable complication of his personal or business affairs or on account of an honest mistake as to the character of the land in order to come within the purview of this law. Any person wishing to take advantage of this act will be compelled to file an application for a specific tract of land on the regular homestead blanks, modified so as to show that the entry is made under the provisions of this act, and, also, to furnish a description of his former entry by section, township and the entry was made.

Accompanying the application a duly corroborated affidavit must be made setting forth a full and detailed statehis first entry, or where and in what 10 to 14 per cent.

RICH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Prineville, Or., June 11.-Judging from present indications. Crook county's cinnibar deposits, which are slowly ty's cinnibar deposits, which are slowly being unearthed on Lookout mountain about 28 miles east of this city, bid fair to surpass those of any other quicksilver properties in the world. That the ore is there in both quantity and richness is beyond all reasonable doubt, and the development work which is taking place now under the supervision of Levi Tillotson of Portland and Henry Cram of this place, the two principal owners of this place, the two principal owners of the Lookout Mining company, has shown up ledges of ore ranging from eight to forty feet in width, and the vein which is now being plerced dis-loses a value of $227 per ton. This is the last and best assay which has been made, the mine owners in the past having made assays of ore taken out at intervals of four to six feet during the progress of the tunnel. These latter assays have ranged from 6 to 14 per cent mercury and none of them has fallen below 2 per cent, the value first struck in the surface ore.

Tillotson-Gram Property. The Tillotson-Gram property is lo-cated pretty well up toward the summit of the mountain and in the wide range of territory below, another which has just been organized, has sunk a shaft from which ore taken from a depth of only 34 feet assays 7 and 8 per cent mercury. The cinnabar, as it is found in these ledges, forms a bright red streak in blue granite and is found also in a clay-like formation which contains more or less red sulphide of iron. The two, however, are easily distinguished. Resemble in Color.

While both resemble each other in color and are deposited in much the same form, a water application to the two ores readily shows a distinction The sulphide of iron when moistened takes a bright vermillion hue, a color which soon fades to a dull red when the rock becomes dry. The cinnabaf when dampened changes but very little to a brighter shade and retains that color after all the moisture has evapo rated. The former 'ore is worthless but in the latter are the ingredients which sooner or later will make these mines among the famous ones in the world.

Quicksilver Easily Mandled.

And these discoveries, which are comparatively of recent date, have aleady attracted the attention of mining experts and capitalists. The upper mine is now only awaiting the arrival of necessary machinery to place it upon a dividend-declaring basis. Reports are be ing purchased in Portland and a $20,000 plant will be installed at the dump of the first tunnel, and a $10,000 plant at old soldiers of Oregon City and Clackathe lower and smaller tunnel some time in July. Quicksilver is more easily handled than any other ore mined, a fact that enters largely in estimating the value of a mine of this kind. Ore bearing 1 per cent mercury is more valuable than a gold property, and these tunnels on Lookout mountain, it ment of the complications of his personal or business affairs that prevented his perfecting title to the land described in nite length of time ore running from

No Shares on Market.

Three weeks ago, before the wall had been cut in the Tillitson-Cram tunnel disclosing its remarkable strata of cinnabar, the company was selling shares of stock. Several thousand had been disposed of when word came to them that another vein had been struck. Then the selling stopped.

"There are no shares on the market," said Mr. Tillitson just before leaving for Portland, "and furthermore, there never will be, so far as our mine is concerned."
