

WOULD MURDER COUNTY JAILER

Desperate Plot of Prisoners Revealed in Confession of Prisoner Brooks—Attorney Watts Barred From Seeing Jail Clients.

Not only have the authorities managed to elicit a confession from A. L. Brooks, until yesterday a prisoner in the county jail, that the details of the plot to break jail, as given by Forger Albert Anderson, are accurate, but they have also learned that the plans of the desperate men included the murder of Jailer D. D. Jackson. Brooks was allowed to plead guilty and as a reward for the information furnished was sentenced to only one year at Salem.

In the plot, it is learned, are a number of men with criminal records, who pass the most of their time in the north end. Chief Deputy Sheriff Fred Matthews spent yesterday afternoon and evening in that district attempting to gather evidence against those said to be concerned in the scheme. Brooks refused absolutely to divulge the result of his work.

Watts Under the Ban.
So well satisfied are the officials that Attorney John F. Watts has at least a knowledge of the plans of the conspirators that he was not permitted to see Charles Meehan, one of the inmates implicated in the affair, last evening, until he induced Circuit Judge George to accompany him to the jail. Meehan was then brought out of the corridor by Jailer Jackson and the conversation between him and Watts took place in the hearing of Judge George and a deputy sheriff.

It is said that some time ago Watts was accused of a serious offense in connection with the trial of Robert Leasure for the murder of his father-in-law, F. H. Drew. The allegation is that he secured money belonging to Mrs. Dorn, a witness, by false pretenses from County Clerk Fields. He returned the money only when a complaint had been laid before District Attorney Manning and that official had threatened to prosecute him. In view of this fact a number of prominent attorneys discussed the present affair this morning and arrived at the conclusion that if the charge of being in league with the conspirators to break jail is satisfactorily shown, disbarment proceedings shall be instituted against Watts. It is believed that an error was made in letting Watts act as counsel for both Meehan and Fred Wilson, imprisoned with him for attempting to hold up Harry Kinney, a saloon man.

Story Is Corroborated.
The corroboration of Anderson's story came unexpectedly. Last Monday afternoon A. L. Brooks, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses from H. Y. Zol, a Chinese jeweler, sent by Dan B. Murphy, his attorney, and said he would plead guilty if assured that he would be given not more than a year in the penitentiary. Murphy saw Assistant District Attorney Adams, and the latter thought the sentence should be 18 months.

When Brooks was informed of this, he exclaimed: "Well, for God's sake get me out of here, even if I have to serve 18 months. I can tell you something" cases will be left to the courts, or whether the committee will make a decision. There is, however, a strong probability that both delegations will be excluded and the matter left for the courts to adjust, and much interest centers in the case.

A slight change was made in the proceedings as mapped out before yesterday's adjournment, in that the Alabama case received first consideration instead of Delaware.

SPEDDY VERDICT IN FOSTER CASE
In the municipal court this morning a jury found William Foster guilty of larceny, and Judge Hogue sentenced him to serve a term of nine months in the county jail.
Foster was previously convicted of larceny, and was sentenced by Judge Hogue to six months in the county jail. While there he tried to kill himself by cutting his wrist with a razor, but he was discovered in time to save his life. He entered a plea of guilty on that larceny charge but this morning he pleaded not guilty, and his attorney demanded a jury trial. The jury was out but ten minutes.
Foster told Judge Hogue that he was not guilty, notwithstanding the verdict, but the court sentenced him at once.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. RAY PALMER

The funeral of Mrs. Ray Palmer will be held tomorrow afternoon, with services at 2 o'clock at the White Temple, at which Rev. Stanton C. Lapham, Rev. A. W. Rider, Rev. H. B. Turner, Dr. J. Lewis Smith and other old friends of Dr. and Mrs. Palmer will take part. The pallbearers will be W. B. Hall, James Felling, Prof. W. M. Wilder, F. K. Hungerford, H. McArthur and Prof. Geo. E. Jamison. The music will be in charge of the choir of the First church, and will include a requiem solo by Miss Ella Haberg. Interment will be at Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Celia Palmer was a native of Livingston county, Mo., where she was born June 16, 1859, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Freeman. In early childhood she developed those lovable qualities that in later life surrounded her with the innumerable friends who mourn her death. She became a Christian while in her teens, and united with the Baptist church. After attending the seminary for girls at Lexington, Mo., she was married to Dr. Palmer, and they took up their residence in Macoupin county, Ill., where Dr. Palmer became pastor of Prairie Grove Baptist church, his first pastorate.

During their journey through life together they have been residents of the following places where their church work was carried on: Tipton, Jefferson City, Kirksville and Chillicothe, Mo., Stockton, Cal., and Portland. In all these fields Mrs. Palmer proved her efficiency and zeal in the work of the church. Her sweet and charming personality brought sunshine into every home that was blessed with her friendship and presence, and her perseverance in the cause of uplifting humanity was untiring. She was a woman possessing the noblest discrimination and the best social attributes. She was the mother of seven children, and is preceded to the other world by two of them, Beulah and Lansing Burke. The five who survive are: Three daughters, Floy, Goldie and Violet, and two sons, Ray, Jr., and an infant, John McArthur.

During her long struggle for life against the inroads of the cancer that afflicted her, Mrs. Palmer's deep Christian character was demonstrated in her patience, fortitude and courage. Every characteristic that faithful physicians and nurses could do was done in the hope of prolonging her life, and their efforts were not ended until the very last, when it was seen that no further hope could be held. Her death was a confirmed invalid for more than a year prior to her demise, the church circles in which she moved feel a distinct loss in her death.

All members of the Ministerial association have been requested to meet tomorrow afternoon and attend the funeral in a body.

MRS. CELIA ANN PALMER.

CONFERENCE AT NEWBERG CLOSES

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION OF THE SALEM DISTRICT OF THE METHODIST CHURCH HOLDS A THREE DAY SUCCESSFUL AND SATISFACTORY CONVENTION.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Newberg, Or., June 14.—The Ministerial association of the Salem district of the M. E. church convened at Newberg, Or., June 13. Rev. Henry Woods of Oregon City preached an excellent sermon Monday evening.

Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock the association convened and after half an hour's devotional service, organization was effected, with Dr. Waters, presiding elder, in the chair. Rev. R. E. Wilkins was chosen secretary and Brothers Dunlap and Stratford were elected as reporters for the papers.

Reverends Stockwell, Hamilton and Sweeney were appointed a committee on resolutions. Those present at the morning session were: Rev. D. A. Waters, presiding elder; Rev. Hyram Gould, pastor, also the following brethren: B. B. Wilkins, Cornelius, C. A. Stockwell, Marquand, J. M. Sweeney, Brooks; W. S. Gordon, Leslie, Salem; R. E. Dunlap, Dayton.

Arrivals during the afternoon: W. B. Moore, North Yamhill; C. L. Hamilton, McMinnville; A. C. Brackenburg, Clackamas; D. H. Leach, Lincoln. A paper was read by C. A. Stockwell at 9 o'clock in the morning; subject, "The Preparation for the Ministry."

On motion the discussion of the topics were limited to three minutes. The subject was well handled by Brother Stockwell and evoked a spirited discussion.

Rev. Gordon's subject was handled in a masterly manner and "How to Prepare a Sermon" was a question of absorbing interest.

At 11 o'clock in the morning Rev. J. L. Stratford of Canby preached a sermon from the 1st verse of the 13th chapter of 1 Cor., "Covet Earnestly the Best Gift."

"How to Deliver a Sermon," by D. H. Leach developed the fact that every Methodist preacher has his own style, idea and habit of presenting the gospel to the people.

Rev. C. L. Hamilton and the pastor and his successor and predecessor by L. F. Balknap were interesting subjects thoroughly and earnestly considered.

Waters led in a discussion of the minister as a pastor. The exercises throughout were of unusual interest and excellence and the day closed with a sermon by Rev. A. C. Brackenburg of Clackamas.

Wednesday evening's session of the Ministerial association convened at 8:30 o'clock. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. R. E. Dunlop.

Several of the brethren, for good cause, were excused from further attendance on the association.

An invitation from North Yamhill, that the association hold its next meeting at that place, was accepted and North Yamhill was selected as the next place of meeting.

On motion of Rev. W. B. Moore arrangements were made for holding a temperance public meeting in the M. E. church at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and a committee on arrangements, consisting of Rev. W. B. Moore, R. E. Dunlop, Hamilton and H. Gould was appointed.

The topic, "The Call to the Ministry," was presented to the association by Rev. W. B. Moore of North Yamhill.

The most interesting discussion of all followed this subject and the belief of the Methodist preacher in a specific call to the ministry was plainly expressed.

"The Minister and Church Property," by Rev. R. E. Wilkins, was appropriate and timely.

"The Minister and Our Institutions," by R. E. Dunlop, was well prepared and well presented.

A sermon by Rev. C. A. Stockwell at 11 o'clock in the morning was well received and well appreciated.

J. M. Sweeney read a paper, "The Minister and the Quarterly Conference," and D. A. Waters, a paper on "The Spirit of Christ in the Personality of the Minister." These papers were well received and well appreciated.

At 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon a local option rally took place. The speakers were C. L. Hamilton of McMinnville, H. Gould of Newberg and D. A. Waters of Salem. At 8 o'clock in the evening a fine, strong sermon was preached by H. W. Heppie of Salem.

TWO-SIDED VICTORIES

SPEDDY JUSTICE FOR MURDERER

An information charging Frank Guglielmo with the murder of Freda Guarascio was filed in the circuit court yesterday afternoon by Assistant District Attorney H. B. Adams. The prisoner was arraigned before Presiding Judge George this morning and by request of his attorney, Albert B. Ferrera, given until tomorrow morning to plead.

Mr. Adams announced that the state is desirous of placing the prisoner on trial at an early date as possible. He will be obliged to rest his case in the hands of 12 men at the next jury term.

By mistake Guglielmo, in charge of Deputy Sheriff John Moore, was taken into department No. 4. He was followed by a number of people, eager to get a good look at him and witness the proceedings. When transferred to department No. 1, the judges sitting on the bench, he sat quietly and turned his head neither to the right nor to the left, but his restless eyes constantly took in everything before him. He wore a soft shirt and a standing collar, but removed his cravat and left it in his cell before being taken into court.

When asked if his name was Frank Guglielmo by the assistant district attorney, he answered, "yes, sir." The information, charging murder in the first degree was read and a copy handed him, but he refused to extend his hand and receive it. The document was then given his lawyer.

Ferrera asked the court until next Tuesday to plead. An objection was entered by Adams. The latter said the state was willing to allow a reasonable time, but desired to try Guglielmo at the next term of court and would not consent to a further delay than was necessary at any stage of proceedings. Judge George set tomorrow morning as the time for pleading. The prisoner was then taken back to jail by his custodian.

Guglielmo ate heartily last evening and slept well last night. He ate a good breakfast this morning. The girl came to her death by a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of Frank Guglielmo, commonly known as Frank Williams, with murderous intent, near the verdict of this jury, impelled by Coroner Finley yesterday. The inquest was very brief. It was conducted by Coroner Finley and Deputy District Attorney H. B. Adams. The father of the murdered girl, Concetta Guarascio, Dr. Fred Guillette and Patrolman J. P. Fones were called and gave the testimony; that resulted in the verdict. Their stories were the same as published in The Journal yesterday.

Captain of Police Bailey had to provide an officer this morning to protect the Guarascio home at the corner of Sixth and Harrison streets from sympathetic women who crowded in to console the mother and father of the dead girl. They were so numerous and remained so long that they had to be driven out by the officer, Patrolman Hirsch. When Captain Hogeboom, commanding the day patrol, went on duty this morning he dispatched Patrolman Hirsch to do the same duty today. The Guarascios are popular in Italian circles and their friends are many.

The murderer was not returned to the city jail after being formally charged with murder in the first degree yesterday.

KEPT HIS JOB BY LETTING THIEF GO

Because he was told that if he prosecuted W. A. Dalrymple for stealing his shoes he would lose his position in the roundhouse of the Terminal railroad, R. J. White this morning appeared before Municipal Judge Hogue and asked to have the case dismissed. Judge Hogue, the prosecuting witness, saying that he should first be ready to push a charge through to the end, or never cause a man to be arrested. The costs of the action were taxed to White and the case dismissed.

"I had to drop this case, although I believe the man stole my shoes," said White. "But I was told that if I prosecuted Dalrymple I would lose my job. I cannot afford to have that occur, for I am just starting out on a railroad career, and it means a whole lot to me."

In his complaint, White charged Dalrymple with stealing a pair of shoes worth $4.50.

MARRIAGE RECORD FOR A DAY BROKEN
Little Dan Cupid had been very busy in this region lately. He was responsible for the record being broken in the issue of marriage licenses at County Clerk Field's office yesterday. Eighteen licenses were issued, which lays the previous record on the shelf by one day about two years ago.
Many of the applicants walked to the court house so fast that they perspired freely while waiting for the deputies to fix up the documents "according to Hoyle," as one of them remarked.
"If marriage is a lottery I'm not going to take any chances of the getaway, anyhow," he said.
Lois L. McArthur and George F. Scott were married by County Judge Webster. The list of those securing permits to wed is as follows:
