

EAST SIDE WANTS STATION OPENED

EAST SIDE CITIZENS WILL URGON PORTMASTER-SELECT MINTO TO AID IN GIVING BETTER ACCOMMODATIONS FOR THEIR PART OF THE CITY.

East side citizens are agitating the re-establishment of station A of the local postoffice, and will present their grievances to Postmaster-elect Minto as he assumes the duties of his office. It is hoped by those who live in the vicinity of the substitution that Mr. Minto will undertake the reopening of the station.

Station A, located at East Washington street and Union avenue, was discontinued more than a year ago by order of Department headquarters at Washington. The reason assigned was its proximity to the main office. While in actual distance it is located only three-quarters of a mile from the main office, it is on the east side and the river increases the distance by many blocks. Because of that fact citizens who reside in that vicinity are active in agitating the question of its re-establishment.

CONVENTION PROMISES TO BE MERE MACHINE

ing high standards of civilization from the brown men before this step is taken. It is also declared that a financial plank is embraced in the platform, which will be approved.

The platform will then review the foreign relations of the United States under President Roosevelt's administration, asserting that no function of his office renders an untried and unsafe president more liable to involve the nation in grave and inextricable complications than the administration of its foreign affairs. Among the achievements of Theodore Roosevelt's administration will be enumerated the accomplishment of Cuban reciprocity and the ratification of the treaty with Cuba, which incorporates the Platt amendment. The wise and conservative course of the administration in the Venezuelan affair, which resulted in the most signal recognition by the foreign powers of the Monroe doctrine, as an important triumph for arbitration and in the protection of Venezuela's American creditors, will be so exhibited as to throw into strong contrast the Venezuelan message of President Cleveland.

The settlement of the Alaskan boundary dispute, another triumph for American diplomacy and for arbitration.

accomplished by peaceful means, under critical circumstances will be made the basis for further approval of Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

The skillful and far-reaching diplomacy which effected the negotiation and ratification of the treaty with China, whereby the United States, in the face of subtle but powerful opposition, acquired treaty rights in Manchuria, will be cited in substantiation of the assertion that Theodore Roosevelt is an exceptionally conservative and wise executive.

Will Command Administration. The administration and congress will be warmly commended for the acquisition of the Panama canal, the completion of which must accrue so largely to the advantage of the United States and to the world at large.

The president will be praised for his successful enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law, which was enacted by a Republican congress and first applied by a Republican president. Special attention will be given to the phraseology of this plank of the platform. It will say in effect that it is not the policy or intention of the Republican party to assault legitimate industry and business or to infringe on the rights of persons or property, but to attack only those monopolies which are in the nature of a conspiracy against commerce.

Grateful comment on the extraordinary prosperity of the nation will be followed by a brief contrast of existing conditions with those of 1893 and by the assertion that the monetary system of the nation is now on such a stable and satisfactory basis that men look back with wonder and amazement when they recall the wild vagaries and still wilder Democratic theories of 1893.

Follows Massachusetts Plank. The section of the platform which deals with protection will be almost a replica of the Massachusetts plank. It will read substantially as follows: Protection, which guards and develops our industries, is a cardinal principle of the Republican party. We insist upon the maintenance of this principle, but we recognize that particular tariff schedules are neither sacred nor immutable. Rates of duty may be altered when changed conditions demand their alteration, but no revision should be undertaken unless it is clear that the benefits will more than compensate for the disturbance of business which inevitably attends a revision of the tariff schedules. Nor can such revision be instructed with safety to any other than the party of protection. We declare, therefore, that the Democratic party is again to invite the Democratic disaster and panic of 1893.

Other planks deal with the nation's debt to those who imperiled their lives for the preservation of the republic, which will be declared to have been faithfully paid; with the responsibilities incurred by the treaty of Paris, which will be declared to have been sacredly kept, as witness the prosperity of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands; with the sacredness of the ballot, the equality of all citizens, etc.

Besides the vice-presidency and the national chairmanship, the platform arouses great interest and there is much gossip among the politicians. Secretary Shaw this morning said: "In my judgment the tariff will come first, and that the declaration on that subject will practically follow the one of four years ago. There has been no change of conditions and the utterance of the party will be reiterated."

"The Iowa idea" has been shelved by Iowa itself and although there will be no declaration to the effect that there will be no revision of the tariff schedule, neither will there be any promise of revision in the near future. Of course the platform will consider the trust question.

The administration policy will be approved, but there will be no declaration or calling on congress for vigorous action. There will probably be a demand that the tariff be removed from articles on which there is no competition in trade, but I do not think it will go farther than that."

NATIONAL COMMITTEE MEETS

Discusses the Wisconsin Fight—Pays Chairman for Unexpired Term.

The expiring national committee held probably its last meeting today and elected Payne, chairman for the unexpired term. Resolutions of thanks to the city local committee and to Secretary Dover were passed.

At the meeting ways and means to prevent the Wisconsin fight from being brought into the convention were discussed. It was definitely decided by Governor LaFollette to bring his contest before the convention, if he can obtain a minority report from the committee on credentials. Such a ruling by the credentials committee, however, is not looked for.

A vice-presidential boom for Secretary of War Taft was started this afternoon by Charles Emory Smith and ex-Governor Crane of Massachusetts.

Keep Polygamy Out. In an effort to keep polygamy out of the platform the Utah delegates are declaring that any mention of that subject is liable to lose the state to the Republicans.

"We'll have a big fight on our hands under the best conditions," said J. H. Anderson, chairman of the delegation. "I know there is a general impression here that the state is safely Republican, but it is all wrong. There is no occasion to discuss polygamy in this convention."

The Indiana delegation organized this morning by electing Senator Fairbanks as chairman. No action was taken on the vice-presidency.

The Tennessee delegation this afternoon declared unanimously for Fairbanks. The New York delegation meets tonight and will endorse Fairbanks. Senator Cullom of Illinois will make the effort of his life in presenting Hill's boom. Senator Dolliver of Iowa will second.

CANNON IS ILL

Confined to Room, But Still a Most Potent Factor.

Suffering from a cold caught at the recent Illinois deadlock convention, Speaker Cannon is confined to his room here, while his daughter administers medicine. While maintaining exclusion, the speaker yet admits his confidential cronies and a few dozen newspaper friends. To the latter he said there was nothing to add to what he had already said on the vice-presidential boom started by the New Yorkers. He would decline if the nomination was tendered him.

Without a doubt Speaker Cannon is the most interesting personality here. Around him centers the most gossip and on him are based hopes that something may happen to lift the convention out of its rut of dryness. But the Illinoisian is emphatic in his opposition to the idea.

Prepare a Boom.

A well defined story is afloat to the effect that certain West Virginia, Missouri and Pennsylvania delegates are preparing to launch a presidential boom for the speaker, and that they propose at a psychological moment to put number of bands on the street at the head of a procession of delegates bearing the Cannon banners. It is needless to say that the plan has not the support of either Payne or Scott and is the usual thing at every convention, like the talk to nominate Roosevelt instead of McKinley at the Philadelphia convention four years ago and similar talk of non-judging Hill instead of Bryan at Kansas City. Cannon sent for Congressman Sherman of New York this morning and for 10 minutes there was a lively session in Uncle Joe's room. He told Sherman he understood that Sherman was the moving spirit of the New York delegation that was conspiring to stampede in the convention and name Cannon for vice-president.

"I want this blank nonsense stopped," emphatically said Cannon. "I wouldn't accept the vice-presidency if it were studded with diamonds and presented on a platter of solid gold."

Sherman said afterward that Uncle Joe gave him the worst cooking he ever got in his life, and he promised blood. "Oom Shelly" Cullom and Governor Yates of Illinois are at it hammer and tongs today for control of the delegation and an ultimate seat. In the session this afternoon the delegation will select a chairman, and the senator declares he will have it. Yates says nay. The vote will be close.

Former Secretary of the Navy Long today said his personal choice for vice-president is John Hay. "Just think of such a ticket as Roosevelt-Hay. It would sweep the country."

The Minnesota delegates talk of presenting the name of Governor Van Sant for vice president. At a delegation meeting this evening the matter was formally considered. It is expected that Iowa will second the nomination, Pennsylvania has a good support for Fairbanks.

SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISION

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD SCORE A POINT IN REFUSING PAYMENT OF INSURANCE OF A MEMBER UNDER SUSPENSION—LAW AND ORDER CLAIMS PASSED ON.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., June 20.—The Woodmen of the World won an appeal from Harvey county in the supreme court today, the judge delivering an opinion reversing the decision by Judge Moore, Sarah G. Miller sued to recover $1,000 life insurance issued to her son, F. T. Miller, died January 15, 1899, having been a member of the Harvey county camp, at Burns. Payment of his certificate was refused on the ground that Miller died while under suspension. Mrs. Miller alleged in reply that the lodge had waived forfeiture of membership. The supreme court finds that there is no warrant for the conclusion of the lower court that the lodge waived forfeiture.

The supreme court decided several other cases.

The Eastern Oregon Land company appealed from a judgment condemning William H. Andrews of Sherman county in his title to 80 acres of land in eastern Oregon. This land was gained by the company through a grant of The Dalles Military Road company in 1847, and Andrews was taken up as defendant by Andrews. The supreme court reversed the findings of the lower court.

Judge Wolverton affirmed the judgment received by Elizabeth Adeock of $1,660 damages against the O. R. & N. company, for injuries sustained in collision while working in a dining car. George Wright, F. F. Gallery, C. M. Clay and J. H. Farley lost their appeal from the decision in favor of C. B. Lyons, F. S. Russell and W. W. Kelly, in Malheur county. The supreme court held that in locating the Black Buck quartz claim Wright and the rest did not observe the law, hence it reverted to the government and Lyons and others lost their possession of it.

Judge Bean, on appeal of the Pacific Livestock company, reversed the Malheur county court and ordered a new trial of James Gehrt's suit for possession of the Rinehart Springs ranch. The supreme court reversed the Malheur county court and ordered a new trial of James Gehrt's suit for possession of the Rinehart Springs ranch. The livestock company claimed previous ownership.

CORNER ON ALL ROOMS

The chances of another Baltimore fire are great, the masses of people realize, and we do not believe the fire equipment of the city is nearly adequate to meet such a contingency.

The prices that will be put on rooms during the fair will, it will depend upon whether this company remains under its present management or is acquired by other parties. Should its present management remain in charge, there will be only a slight advance in price will be placed on the rooms over the price at which we contract for them. With a very slight advance we could make a fortune. With a heavy advance several fortunes could be made. There are 20,000 private houses in this city, and a walk around the side streets will show you that in many districts every alternate house has a window-sign of 'Rooms to rent.' These rooms are secured for the fair, and we will rent them during the fair.

"What is my idea of the capacity of this city for accommodating the crowds that will attend the exposition? You will see in a very few days. This city will be blocked by the crowds that come to the carnival next week."

At Other Fair Cities.

The Lewis and Clark Accommodation Bureau is incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000. A similar company is in operation in St. Louis with a capital stock of $10,000. It has enlarged on this plan by having houseboats and barges which it has anchored along the Mississippi river, and is robbing the people with exorbitant rates for accommodations, charging a month for the beds as the hotels are getting. Similar schemes were worked at Buffalo and Chicago, made possible by the wholly inadequate hotel accommodations, although at Chicago a large number of big hotels built on the belief that they would be adequate to shelter the crowds attending the world's fair.

Moving With a Dash.

The great slash in prices on summer suits and fancy wash vests is almost unparalleled, but on account of beginning big store alterations at the close of the midsummer Mardi Gras festival, the Chicago dealers are being outbid. Oak and Pine streets, in sacrificing over 700 summer outing suits and 1,000 fine wash vests at about one-half price. This sale comes right at the time when the stores are getting ready to put the goods as the outing season is just beginning, but from real necessity the Chicago is forced to move their stock at once to have it reduced to allow the workers' room to carry on the extensive alterations that are mapped out for July and August.

REPORT A BIG FIGHT

the health of both soldiers and civilians is good. The damaged battlements have all been repaired and the harbor entrance cleared of obstructions.

"Immense new forts have been constructed and, in my opinion, the place is in no immediate danger of falling into the hands of the Japanese. The Japanese attack by land and sea, made June 8, was easily repulsed."

Fuller is the first correspondent to enter the place since the blockade began.

BUSINESS OCCUPY TRADEMARK

(Journal Special Service.) Yikow, June 20.—Six thousand Russians have occupied Tsaimaki, north of Suifu. There is also a considerable force at Hailola, near Taphoo.

TO TEST THE RANGE

(Journal Special Service.) Rome, June 20.—A Chefo telegram states that the recent Japanese bombardment at Port Arthur was to test the range of the guns. The Russians replied to the fire, but the Japanese guns had the greatest range.

AT THE THEATRES

LAST WEEK OF BURLESQUE. "Holly Toity," a medley of music and mirth, with which Weber and Fields delighted an audience, is the attraction at Baker's for the final week of the Casino burlesques engagement. It drew large houses yesterday afternoon and evening.

It is probably the most catching farce that the Casino company has yet played in Portland. Every part is a bit of mirth and is filled with situations so ridiculously absurd that the audience is kept a constant uproar till the curtain drops. It is called a "satire on American trusts and grafts" and is certainly abundantly satirical.

Rice, Cady and North, who imagine they are by being corners in the sauerkraut market, appear in the new stunt of butting into society. It is their cleverest piece of burlesquing. The poker game with the Lady Gaffer and the treaty on the banking business, in which they hand out a bunch of brand new jokes, put a number of people in the audience on the verge of hysteria. In "Holly Toity" the comedians enjoy the experiences of high life on two continents.

Sidney De Grey, as an American millionaire, and Miss Harlow, as Lady Gaffer, an adventuresome, have better parts than in last week's production. They receive many moans and have won an enviable position with patrons of the Baker.

Frank Blair, the cannibal king of Kangaroo, was well received. Laurence R. Rich, a son of B. B. Rich, made his debut as a professional singer last night and was enthusiastically received. He has a good bass voice and will likely meet with success. He sang "Forgotten" and "Asleep in the Deep," which received applause.

The play is more spectacular than the former productions of the Casino company in this city.

AGOGATE AT THE ARCADE

Those acrobatic marvels, the Shack Bros., who for the last few weeks have been amazing San Francisco audiences at the Orpheum, will open at the Arcade theatre this afternoon. Melodious waltzes are the program, and their startling act will satisfy theatre-goers who make it a point to never miss an Arcade program. The rest of the bill is filled with engaging novelties of a clean and clever kind.

MAUDE ADAMS

The height and suddenness of Maude Adams' reputation as a star is no less surprising than the breadth of it. Although this is the first season in which she has traveled west of the Missouri river since reaching her high place in the dramatic world, she seems to be taken here as seriously and heartily as if her known quantity had been demonstrated by previous association with local stages. In fact, she has not been seen here since she was a very young and unknown actress, playing the part of "Cinders" in the ancient but excellent production by Belasco and DeWille.

"Parade Lost" is said that as the tattered girl character heroine of the factory town exploited in that play she narrowly missed appropriating the honors of the leading woman, and her performance was the envy of the company as well as the talk of the dramatic critics all along the route.

RETURN OF BAKER COMPANY.

The Baker theatre company will return to this city next week. The reorganized company has been materially strengthened by the addition of a number of well-known people. Guy Standing, leading man for several seasons with Charles Wyndham in London; Miss Grace Reals, the new leading woman, a Broadway favorite; Dallas Tyler, ingenue; Mary Boland, Charles Mackay and Scott Cooper, character man, are new performers secured.

"A THOROUGHbred TRAMP"

"A Thoroughbred Tramp," a large and demonstrative crowd at Cordray's last night to see the initial performance of "A Thoroughbred Tramp," which drew to "standing-room only" houses at both the afternoon and evening engagements. The hero, as portrayed by Walter Brothman, is about the best of his kind that has been seen in Portland.

ST. BENE AT THE BEAUF.

Following the vogue set by other stars who have gone into vaudeville for a short season, Miss Jean St. Benoit, an operatic artist, will appear by special arrangement at the Bijou for the week commencing today. In the past this artist has confined her engagements to the vaudeville houses of this country and Europe, where she appeared in opera and concert. The remaining numbers on the big bill which is offered are superior to any previously seen here at the vaudeville houses. The program includes Trank and Murray, Edna Foley, Volcifer, Lulu Thiel, Almas Bros., the Le Noirs, royal marionettes and new life motion pictures in the vitascope.

SEKID'S PARK

For weeks public interest has centered in the opening of Shields' Park and its summer season of high-class musical attractions. The opening attraction will be "Japantown," which has never been seen before away from Broadway. Thirty people are employed in the production. The gates of the park will open at 7:30 tonight.

STAR THEATRE.

Gilded trillies and wall frescoes, woodwork of spotless white and solid side walls and ceiling of red is the color scheme being used in the new Star theatre, which is being finished at Washington and Park streets today, preparatory to the opening tonight. These tints and the rosewood chairs and red carpet make the Star one of the prettiest playhouses in the city.
