

ROOT'S SPEECH A EULOGISTIC ONE

TAKE UP ACTS OF REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION AND DEFEND THEM ONE BY ONE—FAYS TRIBUTE TO MCKINLEY AND CLOSURE BY EXTOLLING ROOSEVELT.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, June 21.—Temporary Chairman Elihu B. Root of the Republican national convention sounded what is supposed to be the keynote of the coming campaign from the Republican standpoint in his speech today. He opened with the following statement:
"The responsibility of government rests upon the Republican party. The complicated machinery through which the 90,000,000 people of the United States govern themselves answers to no single will. The composite government devised by the framers of the constitution to meet the conditions of national life more than a century ago required the willing co-operation of many minds, the combination of many independent factors, in every forward step for the general welfare."
The speaker then took up the question of the election of presidents and said that elections were merely expressions as to policies to be pursued. He declared that the Republican party has given a wise and efficient administration, and on these points would appeal for votes.

Section by section he then took up the policies which had been pursued on the most vital questions, reviewing the administration's acts.

Regarding Taxation.

His first practical touching of these questions was taxation.

"Four years ago the business of the country was loaded with burdensome internal taxes," he said, "imposed during the war with Spain. By the acts of March 2, 1901, and April 12, 1902, the country has been relieved of that annual burden of over $100,000,000; and the further accumulation of a surplus which was constantly withdrawing the money of the country from circulation has been prevented by the reduction of taxation."

"Between June 30, 1904, and June 1, 1904, our treasury department collected in revenues the enormous sum of $2,202,000,000, and expended $2,022,000,000, leaving us with a surplus of over $170,000,000 after paying the $15,000,000 for the Panama canal and loaning $4,000,000 to the St. Louis exposition. Excluding these two extraordinary payments, which are investments from past surplus and not expenditures of current income, the surplus for this year will be the reasonable amount of about $12,000,000."

Then followed an exhaustive statistical review showing the methods of the treasury department in various emergencies, and largely extolling the Republican methods of finance.

Refers to Trusts.

Mr. Root declared that four years ago the regulation by law of trusts stood where it was when the Sherman anti-trust act of 1890 was passed. He quoted from the last message of President Cleveland, and then followed by saying:

"At every election the regulation of trusts has been the football of campaign oratory and the subject of many insincere declarations."
"Our Republican administration has taken up the subject in a practical, sensible way as a business rather than a political question, saying what it really meant and doing what lay at its hand to be done to accomplish effective regulation. The principles upon which the government proceeded were stated by the president in his message of December, 1902."

A lengthy quotation followed, and a review of court actions against trusts.

Land Legislation.

Farm-land conditions and public lands were next referred to.

"We have at last reached a point where the public wealth of farm land which has seemed so inexhaustible is nearly gone," he said, "and the problem of utilizing the vast areas of land have been restored to the public. Extensive frauds in procuring grants of land, not for homesteads, but for speculation, have been investigated and stopped, and the perpetrators have been indicted and are being actively prosecuted."

"A competent commission has been constituted to examine into the defective working of the existing laws and to suggest practical legislation to prevent further abuse. That commission has reported, and bills adequate to accomplish the purpose have been framed and are before congress. The further denudation of forest areas, producing alternate floods and dryness in our river valleys, has been checked by the extension of forest reserves, which have been brought to aggregate more than 6,000,000 acres. The reclamation by irrigation of the vast arid regions forming the chief part of our remaining public domain, has been provided for by the national reclamation law of June 17, 1902. The execution of this law, without taxation and by the application of the proceeds of public land sales alone, through the construction of storage reservoirs for water, will make many millions of acres of fertile lands available for settlement. Over $20,000,000 from these sources have been already received to the credit of the reclamation fund, 33,000,000 acres of public lands in fourteen states and territories have been embraced in the 57 projects which have been devised and are under examination, and on eight of these the work of actual construction has begun."

"The postal service has been extended and improved. Its revenues have increased from $100,000,000 in 1898 to $200,000,000 in 1904."

Headache.

"My father had been a sufferer from sick headache for the last twenty or thirty years and never found any relief until he began taking your Cascarets. Since he has begun taking Cascarets he has never had the headache. They have entirely cured him. Cascarets do what you recommend them to do. Will give you the privilege of using his name."

The forenoon session was devoted to routine matters, the following officers being present at the roll call: Commander, T. A. Wood; senior vice-commander, William Stewart; grand adjutant, Otto Kleiman; capt. J. H. McMullan, H. D. Mount and John Stran.

Various committees were appointed, who will report during the afternoon. A banquet was served to the veterans and their wives by McMullan's Camp Sons and Daughters of Veterans and an excellent musical program was presented.

A part of the work this afternoon will be the election of new officers. Colonel Shaw is mentioned as one of the possibilities for new commander.

Death of Captain Elisha Kellogg

Elisha Kellogg, a pioneer of 1842, and for many years a steamboat engineer on the Willamette and Columbia rivers, died at his home on East Forty-first and Yamhill streets this morning, aged 72. The deceased leaves a widow and two sons, E. D. and D. C. Kellogg, both residents of Portland. Kellogg was a brother of Captain Joseph Kellogg, the pioneer steamboat captain, who died last January, and also is a brother of Jason Kellogg, another marine engineer, and E. Kellogg, Grand Pacific Coast. Kellogg of this city was an uncle of the deceased. Arrangements for the funeral will be completed tomorrow.

Children Narrowly Escape

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Culdesac, Idaho, June 21.—A $25,000 fire took place in the business section early this morning, and only $4,000 insurance was carried on the property. Two children in one of the buildings narrowly escaped death. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Idaho Pioneer Dies

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kingston, Ida., June 21.—S. A. Stoum, a pioneer merchant, aged 77, and native of Pennsylvania, is dead.

Wish Liberty Bell for 1905 Exhibit

The Liberty bell may be an attraction at the Lewis and Clark exposition next year. The school children of the city have taken the matter into their hands and will request the city council of Philadelphia that the bell be sent to the exposition as an exhibit.

Morton Declines to Discuss Appointment

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, June 21.—Absent the rumor that Roosevelt has tendered the navy portfolio to Paul Dawson, second vice-president of the Santa Fe, the latter said this morning: "Any statement on that subject, it seems to me, should come from the president. It is a high honor, indeed, and something, I believe, the president would prefer I did not discuss."

Texas Democrat

(Journal Special Service.)
San Antonio, Tex., June 21.—The Democratic state convention met in San Antonio today to select delegates to the St. Louis convention. Considerable Parker sentiment is manifested and there is a possibility that the delegates may be instructed for New York jurist, though not without vigorous opposition from the Bryan element.

crossed from $75,000,000 in 1898 to $25,000,000 in 1902, and $14,000,000 in 1904. In dealing with these vast sums, a few cases of peculation, trifling in amount and by subordinate officers, have occurred there as they occur in every business. Neither fear for favor, nor political or personal influence has availed to protect the wrongdoers. Their acts have been detected, investigated, laid bare; they have been dismissed from their places, prosecuted criminally, indicted, many of them tried, and many of them convicted. The abuses in the carriage of second-class mail matter have been remedied.

Praises Departments.

The department of agriculture was praised and the administration's acts in Cuba given laudation. Mr. Root asserted that the Philippines had been passed and were valuable additions to America's wealth.

"None can foretell the future," he continued, "but there seems no reasonable cause to doubt that, under the policy already inaugurated, the institutions already implanted, and the processes already begun, in the Philippine islands, if these be not repressed and interrupted, the Philippine people will follow in the footsteps of the people of Cuba; that more slowly, indeed, because they are not as advanced, yet as surely, they will grow in capacity for self-government, and receiving power as they grow in capacity, will come to bear substantially such relations to the people of the United States as do now the people of Cuba, but the same in principle and the same in beneficent results."

Panama Canal Matters.

After giving the history of the Panama canal, Mr. Root defended President Roosevelt's attitude in the case, and said:

"The action of the United States at every step has been in accordance with the law of nations, consistent with the principles of justice and honor, in discharge of the trust to build the canal, which since assumed, by denying the right of every other power to build it, dictated by a high and unselfish purpose, for the common benefit of all mankind. That action was wise, considerate, prompt, vigorous and effective, and now stands ready and competent to begin and to accomplish the great enterprise which shall realize the dreams of past ages."

The commercial treaty with China, the settlement of the Alaska boundary dispute, American action in The Hague tribunal, the Venezuelan case and several minor settlements were referred to as examples of efficient administration.

The increase of the navy was pointed to as gaining prestige abroad, and its continued improvement advocated.

Mr. Root defended the formation of a general staff and pointed out wherein its strength in time of war would be appreciable.

In closing his speech Mr. Root referred to the tragic death of McKinley and the friendship which had existed between him and Mr. Hanna.

"No dividing line," said he, "can be drawn athwart the course of this successful administration. The fatal 14th of September, 1901, marked no change of policy, no lower level of achievement, no change in the friendship of the friend we loved; it took away from the people the president of their choice; it deprived civilization of a potent force making always for righteousness and for humanity. But the fabric of free institutions remained unshaken. The government of the people went on. The great party that William McKinley led, wrought still in the spirit of his example. His true and loyal successor has been equal to the burden cast upon him. Widely different in temperament and methods, he has approved himself of the same elemental virtues—the same fundamental beliefs. With faithful and reverent memory, he has executed the purposes and commands unbroken of the president McKinley for the peace, prosperity and honor of our beloved country. And he has met all new occasions with strength and resolution and far-sighted wisdom."

Eloquent Peroration.

The close of the speech was eloquent and aroused intense enthusiasm in the convention. It was devoted exclusively to extolling the acts and character of President Roosevelt and concluded as follows:

"Our president has taken the whole people into his confidence. Incapable of deception, he has put aside concealment, frankly and without reserve, he has told them what their government was doing, and the reasons. It is no campaign of appearances upon which we enter, for the people know the good and the bad, the success and the failure, to be credited and charged to our account. It is no campaign of sounding words and specious pretenses, for our president has told the people with frankness what he believed and what he intended."

"He has meant every word he said, and the people have believed every word he said, and with him this convention agrees because every word has been sound Republican doctrine. No people can maintain free government who do not in their hearts value the qualities which have made the present president of the United States conspicuous among the men of his time as a type of nobility. Come what may here—come what may in November, God grant that those qualities of brave true manhood, shall have honor throughout America, shall be held for an example in every home, and that the youth of our country to come may grow up to feel that it is better than wealth, or office, or power, to have the honesty, the purity, and the courage of Theodore Roosevelt."

PIANO COUPON PROPOSITION

Great Advertising Test and Jubilation Sale

For nearly two years we have been receiving pianos by the Panama route, thus saving lots of money in the way of freight, and being of a generous nature have concluded to share the saving with our customers. For reasons already stated, as well as turning a comparatively dull season into a very busy one, we have placed all our high-grade pianos on the sacrifice list, which means you secure them at about what others charge for the ordinary makes, besides you can use the above coupon for $25 as first payment on a piano, which is as good as gold to us, while the balance can be arranged in easy monthly payments. We have also quite a number of good pianos of discontinued styles, and some returned pianos which will close out at about cost. Prices will range from $140 up, at $5 and $6 per month.

Second-hand Organs

We have a large number we will close out at $25—your choice. They are worth double that amount. The wise and provident people know what this sale means and that is why it is necessary for us to put out an extra tuner, who works all night, but then this will not last always for there is an end to all good things. Be one of the wise ones and call at once.

REPUBLICANS CONVENE IN NATIONAL SESSION

thrustle demonstration. The whole convention sprang to its feet cheering wildly and waving flags and handkerchiefs. National Committeeman Greaves Stewart, who was present in behalf of Chicago, was also cheered by the gallery.

The temporary officers selected by the national committee were approved on motion of Dick of Ohio, and the rules of the last convention were adopted on motion of Carter of Montana.

On motion of Foraker of Ohio, seconded by Herburn of Idaho, the convention agreed to seat the Porto Rico and Philippines delegates. On motion of McComas of Maryland the roll was called, and the announcement of the standing committees made.

It was 2:10 o'clock before the completed list of committees was read, when the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Has Many Contests.

Before the second session, the committee on credentials must dispose of 20 contests. Claimants of the right to represent Wisconsin, Texas, Delaware and Louisiana have submitted claims that are being fought with bitterness. If these contests assume serious proportions the work of the convention may be delayed. It is possible that some of the affected states may lose their representation, a condition, however, not believed probable. Wisconsin's war is the most serious. In the Badger state, Governor LaFollette is pitted against what are termed the "Stalwarts," or those supporting the two United States senators.

Wisconsin Fight Up.

The LaFollette state convention threw out a large number of "Stalwart" delegates-at-large to the national convention and brought the fight to the Coliseum. Governor LaFollette claims to be making a strong fight against corporation domination in Wisconsin, but the "Stalwarts" say that this is an imaginary situation and that LaFollette is pitted against the Foo-Bah of the commonwealth.

The first business of the second session will be to hear the report of the committee on permanent organization, which names as permanent chairman of the convention Speaker Cannon of the national house of representatives.

Resolutions Claim Attention.

Then will follow the reading of resolutions for adoption. The most important of these will be the platform, embodying the issues upon which the Republican party will go to the polls.

Invites Them to St. Louis.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, June 21.—Chauncey M. Depew announced on the floor of the convention today before its adjournment that the St. Louis exposition management had invited all the delegates, officers and representatives of the press to visit the exposition, transportation and admission free. His resolution to appoint a committee of five to consider the invitation was adopted.

Light Travel Cuts Rates to Alaska

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seattle, June 21.—Light travel to Nome resulted in rate cutting, and a rate war is predicted, with no figure set for the lowest price tickets will reach.

Rates one way on the first sailings were $75, $50 and more. Then one company announced an excursion with remarkably liberal privileges as to stopovers, at $10 the round trip. Another company has made it $75 a round trip, $40 one way, with privilege of returning on any of its three boats, virtually opening the rate to regular traffic. The steamer may go to $20 within a few days.

Gold dust amounting to $3,000,000 has been shipped to the Seattle assay office so far this season from Dawson. Saturday the treasury ship arrived with $700,000 from the Klondike, and the rest of the gold is on the way southward.

The Northern Commercial company and the Northern American Transportation & Trading company have decided to refuse further credit in all forms after July 15. The credit system, with all its ramifications has been so important a part of business life in the North that it is feared among the miners that great hardships will be caused, for the two companies are the largest operating in the Klondike.

"We have decided not to give credit in the Klondike for good reasons," Louis Sloss, vice-president of the Northern Commercial company, is quoted as saying. "Big companies have maintained the credit system, with all its ramifications, because of the stress of heavy taxation by the government and the city of Dawson and we purpose to stop it. The cash system should force miners to keep money here rather than elsewhere."
