The latest news from the rich mining strike on Grayback mountain, Josephine county, was brought in this morning by J. H. Ralston of Everett, Wash. Mr. Ralston was at the Silver bar, on Buckler creek, a few miles from the strike on Grayback mountain, and saw a mining expert who had been making an examination of the mine with a view to its purchase. It is stated that there is fully $20,000 in sight, and a hole has been excavated in the rock surrounding the quartz ledge only 25 feet. The quartz vein is only about two feet in width, and is of that lean, barren-looking quality so plentiful in southern Oregon. The gold is honeycombed in a stringer in the center of the ledge, and is only about one inch in width. This stringer appears to be almost half gold and can be readily hammered out of the quartz. The most convenient way to reach the mine is to take the stage at Grants Pass for Kerbyville, Grayback mountain being about 18 miles distant from the latter place. The peak on which the strike was made is between the headwaters of Appleton and Alderhouse creeks, and is only about half a mile from the California line. It is also about 15 or 18 miles in a westerly direction from Jacksonville.

The swiftest boat on the river is the "Bailey Gatzert," and it runs through from Portland to the Dalles, Lyle, White Salmon, Hood River, Moffatt's, St. Martin and Collins' Hot Springs, Cascade Locks and the fish canneries and way points without change, notwithstanding false statements to the contrary. If you would link comfort with this trip see that the "Bailey Gatzert" remains uppermost in your mind. Traveling, unless for pleasure, is in most cases tiring, but this ride, if taken on the "Gatzert," never. Meals served on board, and leaves nothing to be desired—couldn't be better. "Gatzert" leaves Alder street wharf at 7 a. m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Steamer "Regulator" leaves same wharf at same time every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Phone Main 914.

Equal suffragists of Portland met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Dunway to greet Mrs. Speddy of the California Equal Suffrage association. Mrs. Speddy gave an informal talk on the subject of equal rights and was followed by Mrs. A. H. Breyman, Miss Huff, Mrs. Nathan Harris, Mrs. Merrick of Astoria, Mrs. E. F. Frazer and Mrs. Dunway. A resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted in regard to the co-operation of the suffragists of California in the Lewis and Clark centennial celebration and showing appreciation for their intention to attend the national convention next June. A resolution of thanks to Lewis and Clark representatives and Oregon congressmen for their interest in extending the hospitalities of the fair to the national suffrage convention was adopted.

One of the first commercial concerns in this city to get out souvenir of the Lewis and Clark fair is the Oregon Savings bank which began giving to its patrons this morning "good luck" coins advertising their establishment and telling of the 1845 Exposition. These emblems, in the shape of a coin, are about the size of a silver dollar. In the center is a one-cent piece. Around the copper is the wording "Lewis and Clark Exposition 1845, Portland, Oregon. Oregon Savings Bank, 321 Morrison Street." On the reverse side of the coin the penny appears imbedded in the four-leaf clover, and the wording, "I Bring Good Luck—Keep Me and Never Go Broke."

"Balliff Golts, take Merle West into that pen and let him look at the men there. I want him to see how he would like to be wanted that kind of a man." Thus spoke Municipal Judge Hogue from the bench yesterday when Merle West and Ed Kane were brought before him on charges of jumping onto a moving passenger train on upper Fourth street. Balliff Golts took the lad into the pen where all of the prisoners are kept. Then he brought the boy out. There were tears in the fellow's eyes, and he did not hesitate to tell Judge Hogue he was sorry and that he did not want to become like those men. Both boys were released.

Among the delegates slated to leave for Indianapolis today to attend the national Prohibition convention are: R. W. Kellogg of Newberg, D. M. Cookingham of Portland, Rev. C. G. Poling of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bright of Wasco, W. P. Elmore of Brownsville, E. S. Craven and W. R. Miles of Newberg, W. N. Hare of Grants Pass and Amos of Portland. E. M. Ketchum of Portland, another delegate, left for the several days ago. Idaho and Washington will be well represented, and it is expected that a total of 50 delegates from the Pacific northwest will travel east on the same train.

AT THE THEATRES

SHIELDS' PARK. As was demonstrated by the large audience which crowded Shields' Park at Thirteenth and Washington streets, his series of open-air summer-night light operas is likely to make a hit. From start to finish, "A Japanese Courtship," the opening bill, has a snap and go that is deservedly an encore-bringer. In the company, in addition to the pony ballet, which had not quite worn off its days on the grass when the show opened last night, are a number of first-class people. These include Elaine Forrest, Frances Verita Grey and Norma Bertillon. Among the numbers recently appeared were "Some Day," by Elaine Forrest as Tum-Tum, and Harry Clinton Sawyer as Percy, the English tourist, and "Under the Anheuser Busch," by Frances Verita Grey and Norma Bertillon. "A Japanese Courtship" will continue throughout the week.

SPAR THEATRE OFFERS. Audiences that crowded the new Star theatre and overflowed into Washington street greeted the first performance in that popular showhouse last night. "The two Holdsworths," in "The Miser's Gold"; Sadie Reynolds, the soprano, in "I Was Born"; and George Snyder, the baritone, in "Good-Night, Good-Night," won repeated curtain-calls. Other features on the long bill proved almost equally attractive. For the rest of the week the same bill will hold the boards.

ARCADIA THEATRE. Anybody who does not see the Arcadia's host of performers this week will miss one of the best and most well-known theatre has ever placed before the public. Bunsley, a wonderful foot-juggler, is one of the many excellent features of the program, and Helen Grenville, an operatic soprano, is another. And they are not all.

MAUDE ADAMS TOMORROW. Beginning tonight, at the Marquam Grand, Maude Adams will be seen for the first time in Portland. The prominence of Maude Adams as one of the leading female players of the country warrants the prediction that she will have unusually large audiences to see her during the brief time she is here.

AT THE LYRIC. There is comedy galore at the Lyric this week, and if applause counts for anything the entire bill has made a hit. Dan Hart, one of the best comedians that has a talking monologue. Kelly and Massey, in a funny sketch, "The Intruder," come in for their share of the applause. The work of the Burks, the jugglers, charged by the big retail stores of New York and Chicago, and I believe I am competent to judge values in our line—clothing, furnishings, etc.—and that the stores in this city retail goods at least 10 per cent cheaper than either New York or Chicago. It costs from 22 to 25 per cent more to retail wearing apparel in these two cities, while we handle our business on one-half price. The delegation consists of eight members, three from Portland and five from the state at large. Governor Chamberlain will head the delegation as chairman. The other Portland delegates are James Gleason and F. V. Holman; delegates from the state outside Portland are: W. F. Butcher of Baker City; C. E. Redfield of Heppner; T. R. Sheridan of Roseburg; J. D. Matlock of Eugene, and Samuel M. Garland of Lebanon.

OPERATIC SOLOIST AT BIJOU. Mile. St. Remy, the operatic soloist at the Bijou this week, is one of the most musical events of the year. It is not probable that she will ever appear here again at a popular theatre. Her repertoire is the child's pride with delight, and these marvelous mysterious figures will bewilder the most blasé of grown-ups. Sweet little Edna Foley is singing one of her best illustrated ballads, and the rest of the acts on the bill are excellent.

"HOITY-TOITY." The Casino company, which is now in its last week of the season at the Baker theatre, is presenting a conglomerate of fun and nonsense mixed with pretty music, lights and dances. The company has constantly grown in public favor since first opening in Portland five weeks ago in the famous Weber & Field burlesques. "Hoity-Toity," the final offering, is filled with most amusing and laughable incidents, giving Rice and Cady, the two comedians, a great opportunity in their particular line of work. Sidney de Grey and Lou Harlow, as usual, share the honors, while the pretty little dancers, Hope and Levey, do some of the best work of the season.

THE BAKER COMPANY. The Baker theatre company, which closed its Los Angeles engagement last Saturday night, is coming direct to Portland to finish the season instead of playing in San Francisco as was originally intended. This will give Portland friends an opportunity to see Mr. Guy Standing, indicating the great growth which it is impossible to retain for next season. The company as it now stands has been conceded by critics to be one of the strongest stock companies that ever appeared on the west coast. "Diplomacy" will be the opening bill.

Mason, her brother, of Boston, and the latter's wife. Her visit to the beach, Mr. and Mrs. Mason will spend most of the summer in this city and vicinity.

Mrs. J. M. Filloon, of the Dalles is visiting Dr. Marie D. Equi and Dr. Barker at Seventh and Jefferson streets. Mrs. Filloon has been visiting in Albany, Salem, Jefferson and other valley points, and will return home today. She expects to climb Mount Adams with a party in the middle of July. Before she starts she will pass the time at the various watering places along the Columbia which owe much of their fame to Mrs. Filloon, who has written descriptive sketches of them, illustrated with her own amateur work in photography, for several newspapers and magazines of the west.

HAS JUST RETURNED FROM EASTERN TRIP

George J. Loewenson, after an extensive trip to the larger cities throughout the east, has returned to his home in Portland. Mr. Loewenson is the manager of The Chicago, at 69 1/2 Third street, and in reviewing the trip says: "Since leaving Portland about a month ago I have traveled fully 12,000 miles and have visited all the largest cities in the east. In Omaha, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Boston, Rochester, Greater

NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, PITTSBURG, CINCINNATI, ST. LOUIS AND DENVER I found general business conditions on the whole only fair. My trip was to inspect the largest and most modern retail stores with a view of installing whatever new appliances would improve The Chicago. We have decided on just what we want in cash-carriers, showcases, show-windows, electric lighting and general business systems. At St. Louis I found a grumble as the attendance at the fair is yet smaller than anticipated. The real rush, however, will not commence before September. The Oregon building and display is very creditable, and the fair as a whole is grand. The foreign exhibits are very complete, and while I expect our own fair to be highly successful, both in exhibits and attendance, it is astonishing how few people see of the Rockies know anything about it. I will say this for Portland, not that I want to flatter The Chicago, but Portland in general—that I investigated the big retail stores of New York and Chicago, and I believe I am competent to judge values in our line—clothing, furnishings, etc.—and that the stores in this city retail goods at least 10 per cent cheaper than either New York or Chicago. It costs from 22 to 25 per cent more to retail wearing apparel in these two cities, while we handle our business on one-half price.
