DEALERS OPPOSE RISE IN FREIGHT RATE

STEAMER RATES UP 300 PER CENT

FRONT STREET COMMISSION MEN COMPLAIN OF RECENT ADVANCES —FORMER RATE TO 'FRISCO 15 CENTS, WHILE NEW ONE IS 45 CENTS A HUNDRED.

Front Street, June 21.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:

Dealers protest against advance.
Flour is listed lower.
Eggs continue firm.
Same conditions in poultry market.
Kentish cherries are piling up.
Bananas come from Honolulu.
String beans lower again.
Better tone in fresh meats.

Protest Against Freight Rate.

A protest has gone up from the commission merchants of Front street on account of the enormous advance in the rates on perishable goods made by the O. R. & N. Co. on its steamers between this city and San Francisco. The former rates on this class of goods was 15c per hundred pounds, while the new one is three times that amount, or 45c per hundred pounds. This is considered by the merchants excessive and the matter will be formally brought to the attention of the Produce Merchants' association. What makes the advance rather ridiculous is that it is a great deal higher than the rate charged by rail for the same service. No explanation has been made as to the reason of the monster advance in charges—the only thing the dealers know being that they were forced to pay it on the goods received per the last steamer. On account of the extra charges it is quite likely that most of the goods now coming on the steamer will be shipped by rail at the lower figures.

Flour Is Listed Lower.

Today the various city flouring mills cut their printed quotations on flour about 15c per barrel. This move was not made as an actual decline in price at this time, the cut being effective for some time outside of the printed cards. The market at present is very quiet, there being but little city business and the demand from the orient is not large enough to mention. Dealers, however, are not expecting any cuts in the existing prices.

Feed Market Is Strong.

The feed market shows a very good tone, all the prices being maintained. This is especially true of oats, despite the fact that some of the dealers had expected lower prices to prevail because the government contract was not let here. The stocks of oats are so small, however, that the dealers expect to be easily able to handle the present lists. The hay market is quiet with no changes in quotations. Barley shows a steady, non-fluctuating tone.

Eggs Continue Firm.

There was a small increase in the receipts of eggs today, but the market was able to stand all that came and cleaned up at the ruling figures.

Kentish Cherries Piling Up.

The supplies of Kentish cherries were very large today, the demand for canning purposes not being opened yet. All sorts of cherries are in large supply with the demand an average one and with prices showing a lower tendency.

Bananas From Honolulu.

Bananas from Honolulu are rather plentiful in the markets today, quite a large consignment having arrived on the last steamer from the bay city. Central American stocks are in large supply with the price at 5c per pound.

Better Tone in Fresh Meats.

The tone of the entire fresh meat market today was much improved and no stocks are being carried over for the lack of demand if they are in average condition. Veal is especially firmer and the demand for hogs of medium to small size is improved.

Merchants' Opinions on Today's Market.

W. T. Turner & Co.—Eggs are steady but the market will not advance soon; young chickens scarce with plenty of old stock on the market; good veal selling nicely; poor stock not wanted.

Bell & Co.—Car bananas; Oregon string beans are more plentiful.

Chatterton & Co.—Eggs are firm; spring chickens in good call; old ones are coming faster than the demand; fancy veal especially is moving at quotations; hogs are in moderate demand.

Levy & Spiegl—Car bananas today; wholesale fruit merchants are making much complaint on account of the advance in the freight rate on the steamer from Frisco on perishable goods from 15c to 45c per hundred; dealers are now sending their goods overland, which only costs them 18c per hundred; the new rate is an advance of 300 per cent; there are from 5 to 8 cars of vegetables consigned to Portland merchants on every steamer.

G. S. Smith Company—Some very nice Honolulu bananas arrived in the market yesterday.

Pearson, Page & Co.—Car bananas in good shape today.

Malarkey & Co.—No change at all in fish quotations; business rather quiet; there are but few Columbia river chinook salmon coming.

D. E. Meikle—Strawberries firm at yesterday's quotations.

Everding & Farrell—Nothing new in the commission line; old hens weaker; springs still firmer; hogs steady for small to medium sizes.

Dryer, O'Malley & Co.—Notning new in commission line today; Kentish cherries coming faster and are piling up with little demand; old potatoes selling good with new stocks showing an upward tendency; eggs and poultry same.

Smith Bros.—Meat market seems to be short on everything and could stand much larger receipts.

AN EIGHTH UP AN EIGHTH LOWER

CHICAGO WHEAT PIT WAS STRONG ON SMALL VOLUME OF BUSINESS —CORN MARKETS HIGHER, WITH JULY AT 46⅝ CENTS—OATS ARE ALSO UP.

(Furnished by Overbeck, Starr & Cooke Co.)

Chicago, June 21.—The wheat market is ⅛c lower to ¼c higher. The weather is a little better in the west and not severe any place. The cables indicate nothing more than dullness. The unfavorable crop advices in southern Russia so far had an unimportant effect on prices. Support is abundant and the current world's shipments are liberal. Speculation in this market is on a very small scale. With good weather a movement of new wheat to the primary markets will be the order in a few days. The cash situation is not encouraging and prices are showing a shrinkage. Unless we have trouble here or in Europe to lead an advance we see very little to make higher prices.

Corn is just dull. Receipts are all fairly liberal and the demand is good. Speculative forces seem about an equilibrium and the market moves only moderately either way.

The new crop futures in oats show a good deal of steadiness. We think we would rather buy them than sell at this discount.

Receipts of hogs are disappointing and the tone of the market is still strong.

ILLINOIS WHEAT GOOD.

Chicago, June 21.—The Illinois crop report says wheat is doing well in the central and is nearly ripe in the southern district. In the latter section much of the crop will be ready for harvest during the ensuing week. The heads are well filled and the outlook is generally favorable.

The weather is favorable for cleaning corn and the fields are generally in good condition. While the crop has not made rapid growth, it is in a thrifty and satisfactory stage. Most of the fields have been plowed over once and some have been plowed a third time.

Oats have deteriorated some during the week from lack of moisture and warmth. The plant is generally short in not having attained seasonable moisture, and the color shows the effect of insufficient moisture. Many of the fields are heading out slow.

GOVERNMENT COTTON REPORT.

Washington, June 21.—The government cotton report says: The favorable progress of cotton during the two preceding weeks has been checked during the past week in the central and eastern portions of the belt by rains generally needed, and lice are extensively reported in Tennessee and portions of the Carolinas and southern Mississippi. However, the crop continues to do well and throughout the cotton belt it is well cultivated except in northeastern Texas, where a few fields are stalk foul. In the last named state cotton has made a rapid growth and generally in fine condition. Boll weevil are causing damage in a greater number of counties than last week. Good growth also reported from Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Arkansas.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS FOR RUNNING MATE

Mrs. O. E. Lefevre and Mrs. A. A. Eldridge come from Colorado. The latter is entitled to a seat as a delegate, as Judge Nixon, for whom she is alternate, is unable to come.

Tentative efforts were made by the New York delegates this morning to rush the program of the convention so as to complete all business by tomorrow night. Many of the delegates believe that with the ticket settled in advance and with no situation to clear up, it is fruitless to drag the convention over two days.

Early Adjournment.

The question of an early adjournment rests entirely within the discretion of the convention.

Chairman Payne of the national committee said it was further announced that a strong undercurrent of sentiment was favorable to early adjournment. Foraker says he would not be surprised if the business of the convention was concluded by Wednesday night. Governor Black also is of the opinion that the convention ought to be put through with a snap, as everything is cut and dried.

Brilliant in Color.

The convention hall presented a brilliant scene of color this morning. Hanging as a sort of canopy above the single gallery a long festooned strip of red, white and bl
