VETERANS ELECT

ATTORNEY IS AGAIN CLOSEN VETERANS - OTHER OFFICERS BLECTED-BARQUET SERVED BY SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF VETS.

T. A. Wood was yesterday elected commander of the Indian War Veterans. Objections to the selection of the attorney were made on the ground that he had been convicted of fraud by the United States court, and that he had never seen active service in the early Indian wars.

It was generally understood that the election of new officers would be the first order at 2 o'clock p. m., or imme-diately after the banquet was served. Mr. Wood, however, was the controlling spirit of the program. Discussions and musical numbers took up the afternoon until almost 5 o'clock. T. A. Wood and H. D. Mount of Jefferson were then placed in nomination for grand com-Commander Wood in reply to query announced that the women would be permitted to vote. The Wood ad-herents stated that if a commander was elected who resided outside of Portland the organization would become dis-rupted. Mr. Wood was elected by a large majority. Mr. Mount moved that Mr. Wood's election be made unani-Two or three emphatic noes

The other officers elected are: First jutant, Silas J. Day; grand chaplain, W. D. Ewing; grand 'paymaster, J. H. McMillan; grand marshal, G. W. Miller; grand surgeon, Amos Underwood; cap-tain of the guard, John Storan.

The banquet given by McMillan camp, ons and Daughters of Veterans, was a great feature of the day. Over 300 veterans and their wives were served. Mrs. C. G. Hopkins was chairman of the committee, having the banquet in immediate charge. One table was reserved for veterans over $6 years old. A musical program was presented, among the participants being the veteran male

During the afternoon resolutions were passed petitioning congress to pay the veterans or their widows for service rendered in the Cayuse war of 1847-8 in common with the volunteers of 1855-61, also to issue them a land warrant for 160 acres of land. Another resolution sakes the Oregon legislature to pay widows of veterans $2 a day for time spent by their husbands in fighting Indians in 1855-6.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE LITTLE MINISTER."

Miss Maude Adams must have been gratified at the generous and hearty reception given her last night at the Mar-CHIEF OFFICER OF INDIAN WAR quam Grand theatre by as fashionable and as representative an audience of Portland play-goers as ever sat within its walls. That these were gratified, nay, charmed and inspired by the wonderful art and the sincerity, the polse, the intense earnestness of the little actress was evidenced many times during the evening—was first seen in the warm and hearty welcome given Miss Adams when she made her first entryagain at the end of the first act and finally in a climax of vociferous applause when she was recalled again and again at the end of act 3.

There are plenty of reasons for the display of exuberant enjoyment, heart-felt appreciation shown by Miss Adams' auditors. She gets hold of your heart from the very beginning. There are no hegotiations, no parleying, no working into your a ections with the little woman. From the first half dozen spoken lines you feel as if Miss Adams had come to conquer and you immediately capitulate. After that it is a race with only one in the list. Miss Adams rules in her personality, just as does the character of Lady Barbara in the play. You are an incident tor ther with all the others who happen to be in the audience at the time.

"The Little Minister" is a clever, wholesome play, following closely the lines of Barrie's splendid novel. More should be said, however, to this effect, that in realism of acting, ensemble and vice-commander, H. D. Mount; second vice-commander, A. O. Leyd; grand adjutant. Otto Kleeman; first grand adjutant. A. J. Fontaine; second grand gr ries, but there is more of the genuine and convincing realism in the work of the 25 people—the four elders of the "kirk," the pictures made by the members of the congregation and the handand elaborate stage appointments. As Lady Barbara, Miss Adams is just the queer genius, the captivating, headstrong, but pure minded and heroic girl of the novel. The one great thing about her, portrayal is that never for an instant is there a pause in the tremendous sincerity and intense earnestness—the hard fighting for effects, the naturalness that makes the impersonation truly artistic and truly great.

The supporting company is as good as has ever been seen in this city. Mr. Immediately before the time for elec-tion of officers a resolution was passed asking the commissioner of pensions to reinstate T. A. Wood as an attorney for the Indian war veterans.

door every performance. The Lyric set the pace and the society fad is a winner at this house. Every act on the bill this week is good and the applause shows that those who are in attendance appreciate good vaudeville like the Lyric management is giving the patrons of their house.

THE CASINO COMPANY.

Sidney DeGrey, the clever and hand-some leading man, and Lou Harlow, the winning, sweet-voiced leading woman of the Casino company, at the Baker, have made a great many friends and ad-mirers during their Portland engagement. The last Weber and Field bur-lesque given by the company is "Holty Toity." which opened Sunday afternoon, and will run all this week. It is extremely funny, and at the same time pretty and novel. It is doing a strong business, notwithstanding the number tunity to see the company in Portland.

GENERAL PREIGHT AGENT MILLER OF O. R. & M. RETURNS FROM CHICAGO CONFERENCE AND AN-MOUNCES THAT NEW PREIGHT RATES WILL PAVOR SPOKANE.

General Freight Agent Miller of the O. R. & N. returned 'yesterday from Chicago, where he attended the conferbeen prepared and would soon be made public.

It is said that the tariff embraces a reduction that is in the nature of a con-cession to the demands of Spokane. It will enable Spokane merchants to com-pete with Portland and other coast merchants within a radius of 100 miles. The same tariffs will apply to Walla Walla, the Cocur d'Alene and Palouse

The opinion prevails that this city will be treated fairly by the railroads and that no unjust discrimination in favor of Spokane will be made. In view of the representations that were made for the purpose of participating in the conference it is believed that the new tariff will be all that could be desired by both Portland and Spokane.

To Whom It May Concern-

I came to the above springs on April 6 to take treatment for my eyes. I had a very severs attack of catarrh of the eyes, was almost blind after treating with the best specialists that could be found, and suffering for nine years. I have at last found a cure here at the FAMOUS TUSCAN SPRINGS. I cannot praise them too highly. I hope that others that are afflicted will give them a trial. Respectfully,
