

OFFICERS AND MACHINISTS OF THE STEAMER ARABIA TIME BALL FOR LOCAL SEAMEN

PROBABLE THAT SUCH A DEVICE WILL BE PLACED ON CUSTOMS HOUSE TOWER IN JULY—GOVERNMENT HAS PROMISED THAT MECHANISM WILL BE INSTALLED

According to recommendations which have been made by nautical experts in the local hydrographic office, a time ball will likely be placed on a tower above the customs house during the month of July. The arrangement will be of special service to seamen and masters of vessels which reach this port.

The ball will be placed at a height of about 35 feet above the top of one of the towers which are on the building, or 150 feet above the ground. It will be easily discernible from most parts of the city. It will be in plain view of vessels which are lying in the river. At 5 minutes before noon each day the ball will be raised by an electric device to the top of a pole above the tower. By means of telegraphic communication with the observatory at Mare Island the ball will drop promptly at 12 o'clock. The correct time will in this way be given the citizens of Portland each day.

In the absence of such accommodations masters of ships which are bound for Portland have been forced to take their chronometers ashore at Astoria and regulate the instruments. So delicate is the mechanism of the instruments that they are frequently injured in being removed to and from the ship. The installation of a time ball in this city will eliminate that inconvenience to the seamen.

A recommendation for such a device was made last November by the department at Washington which the funds for that fiscal year were insufficient but that the work would be done immediately after the first of July, 1904. In order to remind the department of its agreement the local hydrographic office has recently sent a communication to Washington again advising the necessity of complying with the former recommendation.

Time balls are being operated in many of the seaport towns of America and have given eminent satisfaction. The Washington office explained its inability to establish one in Portland last year because of the fact that one was put in operation in Boston and the appropriation was insufficient to install such devices at both places.

In view of the fact that many of the requests and recommendations that are made by western cities are ignored by the Washington authorities it has been suggested that the matter be placed in the hands of the Commercial club with the view to gaining the interest of Senator Fulton.

WILL BUILD NEW LINE TO SALEM

COMPANY WITH CAPITAL OF $500,000 IS INCORPORATED AND PROMISES TO BEGIN WORK IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Within a short time, it is stated, the construction of a new railway line to Salem from this city will begin. A sufficient amount of money has been secured by the projectors to carry their plans to completion, they say, and the outlook is that the road will be in operation within 18 months. Articles of incorporation of the Portland, Salem & West Side Railway company were filed with County Clerk Frank S. Fields yesterday, the capital stock of the concern being $500,000. The incorporators are Charles Atherton, Robert Balentine and Frank Brewster.

PLAN TO UNIONIZE ALL OF PORTLAND

ORGANIZED LABOR LEADERS WILL BEGIN VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN IN MEMBERSHIP AMONG EVERY CRAFT HAVING EMPLOYMENT IN THE CITY.

A plan is on the foot for the reorganization of all the labor unions in the city. It has been held by the leaders for the past few months that something should be done to revive a greater interest in union affairs. Those at the head of the movement say that the members of the various locals were not attending the weekly meetings regularly, and in time it was feared that interest in their organizations would be lost altogether. For this reason it has been decided to begin a campaign at once to get the wage-earners of the city banded together more strongly than ever before. Those who have been delegated to take the matter up are Harry Rogers of the Typographical union, Horace A. Duke of the Cigar-makers' union, and Charles Gram, president of the State Federation of Labor. They have already visited the Painters' union and the headquarters of the stationary engineers, and state that both of these organizations are not only favorable to the plan, but very enthusiastic over it. It is the intention to visit every union in the city and discuss the best plans for forming the new organization. The members of the committee appointed to take up the work estimate that it will require fully 90 days for them to make the rounds.

COLONEL PARKER ON IRRIGATION

WALLA WALLA PIONEER TELLS OF PLAN TO RECLAIM 100,000 ACRES OF LAND IN EASTERN WASHINGTON—PALOUSE RIVER TO BE USED.

Col. Frank Parker, the pioneer newspaper man of Walla Walla, member of the Lewis and Clark fair board of Washington, and delegate from Walla Walla to inspect paving in other cities preparatory to general street improvement in his own city, is at the moment.

The colonel has also made a close study of the plans for reclaiming 100,000 acres of land in eastern Washington. Regarding this project, which government employees are now surveying and outlining, he said: "The plan is to carry the waters of the Palouse river to Rock creek and likewise the waters of Upper Hangman creek, and in turn to let the water into Washuena lake. "The plan seems entirely feasible because of the natural lay of the land. It would provide water for irrigation purposes as far as Pasco in Franklin county. By the plan the storage lake would be nearly 36 miles long, and would easily provide water for 100,000 acres of land. "As to the soil to be irrigated, investigation has demonstrated that it is as fertile as the land of the adjacent inland empire when properly watered. In fact, it would create a new inland empire, would result in new towns springing up and would care for a vast population in southeastern Washington. "As yet it is impossible to say when the work will be done—if it is done at all; but the belief is that the government will create a new inland empire, would result in new towns springing up and would care for a vast population in southeastern Washington. UMATILLA INDIAN AGENT HAS RESIGNED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, June 22.—Charles W. Wilkins, who for the past seven years has been in charge of the Indians of the Umatilla reservation, has forwarded his resignation to the interior department and on July 1 will step out of his present position into private life. Mr. Wilkins is taking this step on account of his health, and will engage in business that will be more suitable to his condition.

BODIES COME TO SURFACE OF SOUND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, June 22.—At 9 o'clock this morning 850 bodies from the Slocum disaster had been recovered, of which 725 are identified. The morgue contains 92 of the 125 unidentified dead. The recovery of 100 bodies was due to the use of explosives. After one shot from a field gun was used, 16 bodies came to the top simultaneously. The relief fund now aggregates $30,000.

BANDON HAS BOOM IN NEW FACTORIES

"Bandon, Coos county, is to have a new woolen mill and a match and broom-handle factory," said William Sanderson, a merchant of that place, who is in Portland for a few days. "The large woolen mill at Bandon, operated under the management of T. W. Clark of Oregon City, was removed to North Bend during the past year. In it the citizens of Bandon had a practical demonstration of the benefit of manufacturing enterprises to a town, and they have formed a local corporation to build a woolen mill. "The new mill will give employment to from 75 to 100 hands, and it will be in charge of capable managers. "The Metropolitan Match company of San Francisco is building and equipping the factory for the manufacture of matches and broom-handles. "The timber growth and close connection with San Francisco by schooners gives the Coos bay country a decided advantage as a manufacturing center. There are thousands of acres of the famous Port Orford or white cedar in the Coos bay country, and it is proving the most valuable export from that section. The white cedar, when manufactured into lumber, brings a good price, selling in the rough to local consumers at the rate of $35 and $40 per thousand feet. The planed product brings $75 per thousand in San Francisco, where it is used as a finishing lumber in the finest dwellings and other buildings. The wood is varnished and used in its natural color."

PRIZE FOR BEST SHOT.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., June 22.—Charles Ferguson, manager of the woolen mills, has a fine display of his best Indian robes and blankets on exhibition in the show window of the Peoples Warehouse. The mills have offered a pair of the best blankets in the mill to the contestant making the longest continuous run in his score at the Northwest tournament this week. The winner will be allowed to take his pick from the blankets now on exhibition.

ONE SHOT ADDS 16 BODIES AND A TOTAL OF 100 ARE ADDED TO THE SLOCUM LIST, MAKING 850 NOW RECOVERED—INVESTIGATION SLOWLY PROCEEDS.

PLATFORM ADOPTED, BUT NO NOMINATIONS

(Continued from Page One.) esque, to the platform and a terrific shouting followed as he advanced. Back in the galleries there was a continual outburst, as the venerable congressmen known to almost every Illinoisan and has an army of admirers in the convention.

Not all the enthusiasm attendant on his entry to the chairmanship, however, was sufficient to prevent the Chicago boomers, who were much in evidence every night, from endeavoring to prevent the rushing through and closing of the convention.

There was a strong disposition to finish the business of the convention today. The Chicago men, wishing to detain the great crowd in the city for at least a day longer, were indubitably making efforts to delay matters and carried their canvas forward in a truly Chicago-like method.

When Cannon finally reached the platform, however, all other matters ceased and the speaker, without preliminary, launched into his address.

It is now attending the Oregon Pioneers' association meeting and the Indian war veterans' reunion, in which organization I hold membership. "In a few days I shall return to Walla Walla and report the result of my investigations of different kinds of street paving used in northwestern cities. Walla Walla is to have an awakening in the street paving line."

"Our manufactured product is greater than the manufactured product of the people of England, Germany and France combined and this product is substantially consumed by our own people, finding a market within the borders of this republic.

"Although our exports and manufactured products are rapidly growing, last year they were more than $400,000,000, 29 per cent of which we export to other countries. If we did not sell a portion of our immense product outside our own borders, we would still have the best market of any people on earth.

"We are now the greatest exporting nation on earth. It is absolutely necessary that we should do it that we continue that policy which enables us to dominate our own markets and to continue the present and a growing wage to our own people.

"From their own mouths and by their own products have the American people convinced themselves of the fallacy of free trade theories whose adoption would mean certain economy, or death, to American manufacturers and labor."

Cannon spoke for an hour, holding the attention of his audience by remarkable skill, stirring them to laughter with homey metaphor and vigorously punctuating his remarks with awkward gestures.

When he closed there was another demonstration in which the citizens of the galleries and the delegates joined.

Bingham of Pennsylvania presented the report of the committee on rules. Foraker came to the convention this morning with a resolution giving Hawaii six delegates to the floor that the Hawaiian delegates were seated on the floor and made a proposition to merely limit their votes to two, the same as those of the west of Columbia. McKinley of California made an earnest argument in favor of the Foraker

SHERIFF WORD'S DEPUTIES NAMED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Honolulu, June 22.—Sheriff Tom Word has announced the names of his deputies, provided these shall not impair the privileges of delegates now seated in the convention. A roll call on the substitute was ordered for 3 o'clock.

At 2:15 o'clock Foraker, at the request of the Hawaiian delegation, offered an amendment to the rules to give Hawaii six votes. Carter of Hawaii spoke in favor of the amendment.

Hopkins of Illinois opposed the Foraker amendment, arguing that Hawaii should have no greater representation than the congressional districts in this country.

Foraker responded that Hawaii is a territory and should have the same representation as any other territory, which consists of six votes.

The Bingham substitute was adopted. The committee on rules report was adopted after which came the platform. It was read by Lodge, who gave it in a clear, impressive voice. It created but small interest among the many, as its provisions were already known and had been tacitly accepted.

At 8:41 o'clock there came a diversion in the proceedings when a message was handed to Cannon, who smiled as he read it and then passed it to the reading clerk, rapping as he did so for attention.

The clerk read as follows: "Washington, June 22.—Secretary Hay has wired United States Consul Montgomery at Morocco: 'We want Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead.'"

The reading of this bulletin by the clerk called forth tremendous applause. The convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MISS MAE MASON ELECTED QUEEN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Portland, June 22.—Miss Mae Mason was elected queen of the carnival. A contribution of $500, the equivalent of 10,000 votes, for her decided the day. Miss Mason is the daughter of Archie W. Mason, a contractor, residing on Marquam hill. At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the vote stood: Miss Paffrath, 5,961; Miss Simmons, 5,739; Miss Aaron, 3,901; Miss Mason, 3,125. Last night, however, when the final count was made in the Marquam building the vote stood: Mae Mason 13,517; Margaret Paffrath 12,144; Anna Simmons 8,845; Bessie Aaron 5,856; Anna Mabel Atkinson 2,588; Bessie Foraker 2,440; Pearl Bones 1,998; Fanny Hendee 1,606.

It is said that Miss Paffrath had $300 with which to buy votes, but heeded a friend who advised her not to spend it. With the honor of being chosen as the popular queen of the carnival goes the automobile prize.

Miss Paffrath and Miss Simmons, the next contestants in line, were honored by the committee, which offered Miss Paffrath the place of Goddess of Liberty and Miss Simmons that of Columbia at the Fourth of July celebration.

GUGLIELMO'S SALE WAS BONA FIDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) That the sale of Frank Guglielmo's saloon property and land owned by him, located 15 miles from the city, was bona fide, is shown by Sebastian Pessi turning over $400 of the amount due on the sale. The money was placed in County Jail, Jackson's safe yesterday. Pessi was worried for fear he might lose his money and visited the jail this morning. Dan R. Murphy, counsel for Guglielmo, informed Pessi that as the sale was bona fide he need not worry over losing the property on account of suits.

Guglielmo now appreciates his position as the slayer of Freda Garacio. He refused to discuss anything but business matters with his counsel until this morning, when Attorney Murphy grew impatient and told him he would do well to save his neck. The prisoner then related all the details of the crime to the lawyer in order that a defense may be prepared.
