Gint in Strawberry Market.

Very heavy receipts of atrawberries last evening and this morning her a bad effect on prices and today the market is lower and very weak. There is a very large amount of poor stock on the market with a small amount of good quality goods. The latter grade is now so hard to find that it brings better figures than the market. The reason for the big receipts here is that somehow or other Hood River fruit did not get such a firm hold on the eastern market as was anticipated—the early ripening of the local product there shutting the Oregon berries out. In order to keep their stocks moving this market was again invaded and lower prices were the result.

Potatoes to St. Michael.

Potatoes to St. Michael.

One of the local potato firms today shipped several hundred crates of old potatoes to St. Michael, Alaska, to fill a government order. The stocks are is very good condition for the tail end of the season and compare very favorably with the new growth. Receipts of new potatoes continue quite small and old stocks take the lead in the selling. Some of the dealers ore are again buying old potatoes but at very low figures.

With a slightly better feeling in the pro-vision market in the east local prices on eastern manufactured lard are up %c today, with no changes in the local product. The market is rather quiet and no immediate changes are

Although the receipts of veal were extra heavy today the market is still in quite good shape for the better class of goods and the usual quotations are prevailing in all lines. There is still a large amount of poor-grade veal coming and this is sold at the lower figures.

Eggs Manage to Hold Prices. Today the egg market is ruling steady with the receipts about on a par with the demand. The market quotations stand at 20c for the best candled stocks and 19½c, for the un-Poultry Receipts Are Too Large.

Receipts of poultry were much too large to-day and on old bens the tone of the market was anything but good. Spring chickens do not seem to come in very fast and there is still a very good demand for these goods at the quoted prices. Turkeys of quality are not coming as fast as desired and even ducks would find a good sale if the receipts were a triffs larger. Geese are not coming nor are they wanted.

Galmon Is Queted 1/20 Off.

On account of the fact that the canneries along Puget sound are not yet running the fresh fish markets had very liberal supplies of salmon from that quarter today and prices are 1/20 lower. The receipts from the Columbia are still mominal. Columbia river shad is all but out of the market at present. Usual quotations prevail in this line.

fresh fish markets had very liberal supplies of salmon from that quarter today and prices are 1/2c lower. The receipts from the Columbia are still nominal. Columbia river shad is all but out of the market at present. Usual quotations prevail in this line.

Oats Market Is Weaker.

The oats market is weaker today—the awarding of the government contract to bay city merchants having the effect of neaveng quite large stocks on this market. The same condition exists in regard to hay—all the dealers beling heavily overloaded. In the Williamette valley all indications show a decrease in the yield this season, but eastern Oregon will have enough surplus to more than supply this market. The future of the market cannot be stated at this time, the price depending nearly also. The future of the market cannot be stated at this time, the price depending nearly alto-gether on what the outside demand for stocks will be.

BEST BUYING WAS BY THE SPINNERS 182 1/40.

(Furnished by Overbeck, Starr & Cooke Co.)

New York, June 23.—T. A. McIutyre & Co. say: The best buying was by some of the spinning interests and spot dealers, but they seem satisfied to merely take the cotton on the decline as it was offered. The latter seemed to be steadily absorbing all the July, August and September options offering on the breaks, while the Wall street bear element and many local sellers appear to be the prin cipal sellers. The majority of the trades are sgain short through having sold out. Trade is holding too sanguine expectations regarding the improvement which has taken place in the condition of the crop during the past month and that the market has already practically during the past month discounted this factor.

FAT CATTLE ARE SELLING HIGHER

ANY TIME DUBING THE PRES-ENT YEAR-DUE TO SCARCITY

(By George B. Longan.) Kansas City, Mo., June 28.—Fat cattle are selling higher than at any other time in the last year. This is due to the scarcity of the best corn-fed grades. Grass fat cattle have not begun to come in strong yet, and the packers and east-ern buyers have created a demand that

There have been some heavy arrivals in the quarantine yards, but these cat-tle, while grass fed, are not of the standard set by the native and north-western grass-fed cattle. The Texas prices suffered as a result of the coming of southern grass cattle and prices in the quarantine yards declined 40 are generally predicted in the west and south-west for tomorrow. The first car of No. 2 red wheat is reported in Kanasa City today. This is partly responsible for the closing weakness. While the cash wheat is gradually losing its premium the trade is alow. With no deliveries and cash wheat at a round premium the July shorts are likely to be a little nervous. While the short interest is not large, yet the trade has in mind former experiences, particularly the fleptember wheat corner of some years ago. These conditions are likely to keep the market guessing in the future. We are advised the ratiroads are considering a reduction of rates from the southwest to the northwest and pos-sibly in this direction also. Broomhall estimates the Argentine shipments for the week at 1,600,-000 bushels. Chttle Gain 18 Cents The fat cattle market has gained about 15 cents here over the market of 10 days ago. Choice fed and well finished steers are selling at $6 with a rapid market and plenty of buyers. Good to choice corn cows, heifers and yearling for two weeks, and a decline of a few

Own Was Erratio.

It was a little erratic corn market early in the day. There was a rather urgent buying of July corn immediately after the opening, which carried it up sharply and to a premium over the September. The advance brought out free offerings, however, and the demand was econ satisfied and the July closed at a small discount. There is no change in the positions of supply and demand. Receipts are fairly liberal and the demand poor. The crop everywhere is making good progress and the werst that can be said is that it is a little bit late. Good grass cows are 15 cents lower while young grass cows and canners which sold at $2.75 and $3.25 are hard to move now at $1.75 to $2.25. The de cline on this grade has been greater than on any other kind. With more arrivals it is expected that the price will drop still more.

The stocker and feeder trade developed a little more life this week. Prices for medium and common kinds continue to be said is that it is a little bit late.

Quiet and Steady in Oats.

In oats it is a very quiet and a very steady market. The distributive situation is the same as heretofore. Receipts are moderate and there is a good cash demand and cash prices are well msintained. It will, we think, take pretty liberal arrivals of oats to fetch the cash price down to the present basis of September. We are of the view, therefore, that it is not likely to hurt much to buy September oats and that any accident in the way of weather or other crop impairment would materially help the buyer. decline. market is that few prime grades are offered, and these sell readily at $4 and up to $4.75 for heavy feeders. Common grades are slow sellers mostly around $3. A good many sold at $2.75 to $3 in the clean-up. Stock calves are 75c to $1 lower than two weeks ago and are slow sellers at the decline. Stock cows and heifers are 25 to 35 cents lower, ac-slow sellers at the decline. Stock cows and heifers are 25 to 35 cents lower, according to quality.

Sheep Receipts Larger.

Receipts of sheep here the last week were 20,050, against 15,400 the week before. Chicago had 58,000, against 61,000. Receipts at the five markets aggregate 113,250, against 116,950 and 106,600 a year ago.

The last few days there has been only a moderate supply of Texas sheep and prices are holding steady. Last week offerings of natives were larger than the week before with prices 10 to 15 cents lower. The quality as a rule was common and nearly all the spring lambs were culled heavily. Spring lambs, fair to choice, brought $5.25 to $6.75 with culls at $3.75 to $4.25. Ewes sold up to $5.25 a week ago and at the close this week the high sale was $5. Fair to choice wethers brought $4.75 to $5.35 and Western lambs $5.50 to $6.25. Good Texans brought $4.25 to $4.50 and common cull grades $2 to $3. There were several bunches of thin lambs and yearlings sold to the feeders at $3.75 with the supply limited and several orders. several bunches of thin lambs and year-lings sold to the feeders at $2.75 with the supply limited and several orders

Frank Richards, the big cattle feeder of Iowa, says that the feeders are getting to like western cattle better and better every year. He says the feeders in the northern field are now buying their stockers and feeders in Kansas City and selling them in Chicago. The reason of this is that Kansas City is the market for western stockers and feeders, while Chicago runs more to the natives. Regarding the situation, Mr.

Richards said:
"When the first buyers came down from our country to buy on the Kansas City market, there was a prejudice against the western cattle, and the brands were a drawback to the feeders. against the adrawback to the feeders.

96 brands were a drawback to the feeders.

All this has passed away, and now the cattle feeders up in that country prefer the western steers every time. I have fed them alongside of the natives, and they feed out better every time, and are more profitable. And the Kansas City market is where all these hardy westmarket is where all these hardy west-ern steers can be found, and where the buyers can always find just what he wants, both as to size and price."
