PORTLAND'S BIG STORE, THE HUB OF THE TOWN

Teachers' Educational Contest

This great polling contest grows in interest every day. The vote is approaching phenomenal figures. A new name graces third place, Miss Esther Kane having jumped yesterday from 50,476 to 58,253, nearly 5,000 votes in one day. Miss Susa Jones again takes the lead with 67,502. Miss Mosher is running easy and seems to have a grim hold on first or second place, but it's nobody's race yet. Tomorrow starts the last half of the contest—the seventh week—the million mark will be passed.

A MONSTER CARNIVAL OF BARGAINS FOR PORTLAND'S GRAND MARDI GRAS

PORTLAND'S LEADING STORE OPENS FIRE TOMORROW WITH A FUSILADE OF SENSATIONAL VALUES UNEXCELLED IN ALL THE STOREKEEPING HISTORY OF AMERICA'S LOVELIEST CITY

On Monday Occurs the Eighth in the Series of Summer Hourly Sales

Conducted First in This City by Olds, Wortman & King in 1893--A Grand Revival by the Originators

A good friend sends us the following: "Every whale has its barnacles, every success its imitators." Very applicable, thanks. Watch the whales-blow off their imitation sales. The name "Hourly Sales" is not copyrighted, hence may be used by our followers with impunity. The values of this good, dependable "Old Homestead" Store, however, are beyond the reach of copyists—its merchandise is unmatched in quality, and a child may shop here as safely as an adult. Portland folk are proud of this RELIABLE STORE, its mighty growth and standing in the Commercial World.

Mardi Gras Visitors Will Congregate at This Great Store

It's the very vortex and heart of the City, right in the centre of everything. Portland revolves around the Olds, Wortman & King Store. Every street railway passes here—it's the junction of the two big systems that cobweb the City with its tracks. It's midway between the depot and the Grand Mardi Gras celebrations at Multnomah Field; it's the best known store on the Pacific Slope. While your minds are employed with the stupendous and multitudinous attractions of the Mardi Gras you must finally focus it upon the doings of this organization. Devote a day to it; visit every department with the freedom of old friends; be leisurely and enjoy every privilege of a store that has no equal in all the Northwest. Check your parcels free at the information bureau. Special arrangements will be made for the convenience of the strangers in town. Use our free phones, lavatories, drink the pure, cold Bull Run water, fountain on first floor. Post-office supplies, paper, envelopes, stamps, etc., at stationery counter, rest rooms for ladies in the great second floor salons. Learn of the uniform courtesy extended to all who enter our doors and benefit by the methods of a management so perfect that 400 employes breathe the same generous WELCOME. Shop if you wish—that's optional with you. The great "DISLIDGMENT SALES" ARE STRONG TEMPTATIONS for they've REDUCED THE PRICE OF ABSOLUTELY EVERY ARTICLE IN THE HOUSE! (a few contract goods alone excepted). ORIGINAL HOURLY SALES MONDAY!
