BROWNS WIN OUT IN EXCITING GAME

LOCALS FALL ON MR. YERKES IN THE EIGHTH INNING AND HANG HIM FOR FOUR RUNS AND VICTORY—HADDAM PLAYS BRILLIANT BALL—THE SCORE.

Portland, 8; San Francisco, 5.
Iberg and Steelman; Whalen, Yerkes and Leahy.

The Portland nine played good baseball yesterday afternoon and defeated the Frisco Seals by the score of 8 to 5 in probably the most interesting game in two weeks. The star of the game was Phil Nadeau, his work being the most brilliant seen on the home grounds this season. His fielding was perfect, taking care of five putouts, one being most difficult, and again catching Anderson at the plate by a perfect throw after making a hard running catch. The all around work of the locals was of a high grade and the thousand fans were delighted with the exhibition.

Whalen started the game for his team and pitched good ball, although the clever twirler was not feeling well. Yerkes succeeded him in the eighth inning and the Browns took a remarkable liking to his offerings and promptly connected with him for four hits and as many runs, putting the firm clinch on the game. Yerkes was the most surprised man on the field when he saw his shoots going all over the lot.

The game started badly for Portland, Iberg being a trifle wild, passing three men and allowing Andy Anderson a sweet single, scoring two men. Portland got back one of the runs in her half and that caused a lull until the fourth, when three hits annexed two more to the local's side of the ledger. In the third inning Portland had three men on bases and one out, but a sharp double play put an end to the chance to score. In the sixth inning the Seals got another runner across the plate, tying the score, and in the seventh Portland again forced ahead one tally. In the eighth Frisco made three hits and two runs, and took the lead. Here is where Mr. Yerkes made his debut.

Raymond was the first to land on Yerkes and a wild pitch sent him to second and he scored on Castro's single. Spencer sacrificed and Steelman made a double and scored Castro. Iberg hit and sent the hard-working catcher to third. Nadeau flew out and Steelman beat the throw to the plate. Iberg, who was on second on the throw in stole third in daring fashion and scored on Leahy's bad throw to catch him. That being

BOISE BALL NINE IN TRAIN WRECK

The Dalles, Or., June 29.—The Boise ball team, headed for Spokane, where they are to play the Spokane team for five days, beginning Thursday, June 30, was delayed by a wreck on the other side of Pocatello, Idaho, so they were brought on to The Dalles on No. 1, where they laid waiting No. 4 last night for Spokane.

These are the old Pacific northwest favorites with J. J. McCloskey as manager. They were a jolly lot of boys. Buck Weaver, pitcher; Thompson and McFarland, George Zabbit, Jack Flannery and a number of the old favorites were in the team.

SHORT REVIEW OF 'VARSITY TRACK MEN

(Journal Special Service.)
Eugene, Or., June 29.—The record of the University of Oregon track team during the season just past has not been so brilliant as in former years, but considering the available material in college this year, the team made a good showing.

When trainer W. L. Hayward arrived here from California early in the spring he found conditions such that would discourage most people, but he went to work with the small squad of athletes at hand and, while the team did not win a single meet during the year, Hayward developed a strong team.

The first meet was held on Saturday, May 14, at Forest Grove, with Pacific university. Pacific won by the score of 68 to 49. The team returned home rather discouraged, as they confidently expected to easily defeat Pacific. Hayward put his men to work again, this time with renewed spirit, as it was determined to make as good a showing as possible against their old-time rivals, the University of Washington team. The meet was held at Seattle on May 20, and was won by Washington by the overwhelming score of 83 to 46. The third and last meet of the season was held in Eugene on June 4 with the Oregon Agricultural college team, the latter winning by the score of 74 to 48.

This was the hardest blow yet, as it was thought that the local team was in far better shape than at any previous time during the season. No fault could be found with the work of trainer Hayward, the reason for the defeats being simply the lack of material on which to work. Several new men who gave scarcely any promise of accomplishing anything in the athletic line were developed into point-winners for the team, and all the old men were greatly improved in their work.

BRUNSWICK TEAM BEAT NONPAREILS

The Brunswicks defeated the Nonpareils last night in the match game which was played on the Portland alleys. The Nonpareils won the first game of the series by two pins. This put the Brunswicks on their mettle, and they immediately "got busy" and took the next two games, with the result that they won the match by 60 pins.

No game, however, does not decide the rivalry between the two teams, as the Nonpareils are bound to live up to their name, and they say it was only an accident that the Brunswicks won, anyway. McMannamy made the highest single score—203—and he also had the highest average for the series, with a total of 535. Hanson was second, with 184 for a single game and a total of 512.

The scores were:

YALE AND HARVARD READY FOR RACE

GREAT ROWING CONTEST THAT HAS BEEN WAGED FOR 25 YEARS IS AGAIN TO DECIDE SUPREMACY—NEW LONDON ALREADY TROUBLED WITH VISITORS.

(Journal Special Service.)
New London, Conn., June 29.—After weeks of faithful preparation the Yale and Harvard crews are trained to the minute for the crowning test of their oarsmanship on the Thames tomorrow. The city is rapidly filling with students from the colleges, together with their fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts, while from near and far are rallying the old guard of alumni who tomorrow will themselves hoarse as they have so many times before along the historic course. The harbor is rapidly filling with yachts, and the race will be witnessed by many distinguished visitors.

The final details of the contests were arranged today. The program as laid out calls for the starting of the freshman race at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning from the big bridge two miles up stream. The "varsity" four-oared crew race will start from the point where the freshman race terminates. The distance will be two miles up stream. The observation "trains" will then go back four miles to the head of the course, and start down stream at 12:30 o'clock over that heart-breaking stretch of four miles. Should the water be too rough the "varsity" race will be deferred until about 4:30 p. m.

Among the arrivals today are many old-time oarsmen who predict that the races this year will not be as close as usual. Either one college or the other seems to have a decided advantage in each of the three events. Yale seems to have a mortgage on the main event of the day, the "varsity" eight contest. Harvard seems to have a good chance of winning the other two races.

History of Yale-Harvard Races.
For 52 years, with occasional intervals, the crews of Harvard and Yale have battled, the rival colors having been borne during all those years by four-six and eight-oared crews. In the 38 races that have been rowed in that time, since the initial contest in 1852, two points now separate the contesting universities, Yale having won 20 races and Harvard 18. Of the races that have been rowed on the Thames, Yale has won 16 and Harvard seven.

During the early years of the contests the events were rowed on Lake Quinsigamond. In 1875, however, the event was held on the Thames, and with the exception of three years since that time the event has been an annual fixture and on the Thames course. Lake Quinsigamond was abandoned as the place for holding the races in 1869, and in the following year the crews met at Lake Sakonnet. The next year, 1871, the crews met on the Thames. In 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904.

Early in the history of the event it was rowed over a two-mile course, which was increased to three miles in 1855. Again the distance was increased in 1876, this time to four miles, which has been the length of the "varsity" course ever since. Yale holds the record for this distance, having covered the course in 1888 in 20 minutes and 10 seconds. Harvard's last victory was in 1899, since which time Yale has had four successive victories.

Montreal, Que., June 29.—The ninth annual tournament of the Royal Canadian Golf association, to determine the amateur and open championships of the Dominion, opened auspiciously on the links of the Royal Montreal Golf club today. Judging from the large number and high class of the contestants, the tournament will prove to be the most notable in the history of the association.

FOURTH AT EUGENE.
(Journal Special Service.)
Eugene, Or., June 29.—Inasmuch as Eugene is to have no celebration on the Fourth of July, and consequently there will be few people here on that day, the management of the State Baseball league has decided to pull off the two games scheduled for this city on that day at Junction, where there is going to be a rousing celebration. Roseburg and Eugene will be the opposing teams. One game will be played in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

SYRACUSE CREW WINS EIGHT-OAR

CORNELL OARSMEN LOSE TO CREW THAT WAS NOT PICKED FOR A SHOW IN THE ANNUAL AQUATIC EVENT—SUMMARY OF THE RESULTS.

(Journal Special Service.)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29.—The Cornell eight-oar rowing crew went down to defeat yesterday before the Syracuse crew, a comparatively unheard of contestant.

The Syracuse crew took the lead almost from the start and for the first half had Georgetown as its chief competitor. At the mile Cornell came up strong, and a three-ply race was started at this point. Syracuse and Cornell took the lead, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin were close up for second place and Georgetown and Columbia in a pretty race for third place. Syracuse finished with plenty of room to spare. Cornell coming second and Pennsylvania third, Columbia fourth, Georgetown fifth and Wisconsin last.

The race was not a record-breaker in any way, as the winners were not hard pressed at any stage of the four-mile event. Syracuse also won the freshman eight-oared contest, defeating Cornell, Pennsylvania and Columbia.

captured easily by Cornell, Columbia finishing second. Summary:

Varsity, four-oared race, two miles—Won by Cornell, time 10:53 3-5; Columbia second, 11:12 1-5; Pennsylvania, 11:15 2-5; Wisconsin, 11:18 2-5; Georgetown, 11:34 2-5.
