CONVENTION PLANS ARE NOW COMPLETE

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION WILL FIND COLISEUM WELL EQUIPPED—TELEPHONE AND ELECTRIC BUREAU SYSTEM TO EXPEDITE BUSINESS.

(Journal Special Service.) St. Louis, Mo., July 1.—Practically every detail has been arranged and the finishing touches are being made to the Coliseum for next week's Democratic national convention. The Democratic hosts are already en route to St. Louis. Tomorrow the party leaders from east, west, south and north will come flocking in to attend the various conferences and committee meetings, preparatory to the work of the big convention itself. In the Coliseum every detail to add to the convenience of delegates, guests and convention workers that could be thought out has been installed. The arrangements make every seat in the building desirable. The large platform for the accommodation of the officers of the convention and the national committee has been constructed in the center of the northern side of the auditorium. Directly in front of it divisions have been made for the delegates, while directly to the right and left are the reservations for the working press, with seats for alternates to the extreme right and left of the arena. Three passageways lead from the front of the platform to the telegraph and telephone offices directly under and back of it. Wiring is complete for lighting and fans throughout the building. Telephones are being installed to afford chairmen of different delegations means of communication to all working parts of the Coliseum. This feature is a new one, and its adoption by the national committee was upon the suggestion of the local committee from the business men's league. There will be an emergency hospital in the building large enough to accommodate all of those who may be overcome by the warmth of the proceedings. A large corps of physicians and nurses will be constantly on hand to care for possible heat prostrations and for any who may be injured in the jam that necessarily attends a meeting of a national political convention. In the exposition building are the headquarters of the national committee and of the committee on resolutions, credentials and permanent organization and order of business. Each of the rooms used as committee headquarters is capable of seating several hundred persons. "Arizona is instructed for Hearst, but after the second ballot will support Parker," said J. H. Breshitt of the national committee from that territory, this morning. "In my opinion, the New York jurist will be nominated on the third or fourth ballot." On almost every proposition now advanced here there is the query: "What will Bryan do about it?" The Nebraska will arrive Sunday, according to his present plans. It became known today that Bryan will urge that any man who didn't support the Democratic ticket in 1896 or 1898 would make a weak candidate. But few so-called conservatives will bill that bill. McClellan and Rose is the ticket being quietly tipped by a leading member of the Michigan delegation. Active campaigning for Parker began in earnest today, when the advance guard of Parker boomers opened its headquarters in the Planters' hotel. Maurice Minton, associated politically with August Belmont, is busy button-holing delegates for the New York jurist. The Parker people have six parlors on the first floor of the Planters. Parker's friends are doing their best to eliminate the impression that Parker is Hill's man. Cleveland is casting a shadow that makes the discussion of his name one in an avowed whisper. All realize that some sort of Cleveland cabal is being hatched in the east. "If Parker cannot be nominated," was the epitome of the situation as forecasted by Judge Ditty, who is here in charge of Jackson Harmon's interests, "and if it should be a Cleveland fight it will be between Harmon and Gorman." However, there is a palpable effort to ridicule the Cleveland boom out of the convention. "What do I think of the Cleveland boom," said Senator Dubois of Idaho, whose main purpose is to get a strong anti-polygamy plank into the platform. "I think it is full of wind, absurd and started by some of Cleveland's friends to kill off Parker. And if they do defeat Parker they cannot nominate Cleveland, for Bryan then will control."

PLAN GREAT WELCOME FOR THE PRESIDENT

(Journal Special Service.) New York, July 1.—Oyster Bay is planning a rousing welcome to President Roosevelt when he arrives tomorrow to spend the summer with his family. The Republicans, with the oldest inhabitants foremost, will gather at the depot to cheer him, grasp his hand and cheer him when he alights from the train. At Amity street he will be met by the high school pupils, boys and girls drawn up in line, waving flags and singing patriotic songs. The last ovation will be from the public school close by Sagamore hill. All of the pupils, in their Sunday best, will stand in front of the school house, and again the president will be greeted with patriotic songs. Though no formal arrangements have been completed, it is expected that the president will consent to take part in the Fourth of July celebration that the people of Oyster Bay are planning. They hope to make it the most glorious Fourth in the history of the village. Another big time is anticipated the last month when the Republican leaders of the entire country will come to Oyster Bay to formally notify the president of his re-nomination.

READY TO DEPART.

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, July 1.—All is in readiness for the departure of the president and his office force for Oyster Bay tomorrow. He will remain there until July 28, after the notification committee calls, when he returns to Washington for two or three weeks.

STOCKMEN WANT TO LEASE RANGE LAND

WILL EXPLAIN TO PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION THEIR NEEDS AND DESIRES—MEETING CALLED TO BE HELD IN AUGUST—NOTICES ARE ISSUED.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Denver, Colo., July 1.—The National Livestock association, from its headquarters at Denver, has commenced a campaign to obviate range difficulties where grazing lands and forest reserves are in contact, and to gain government range leases. An official statement was issued yesterday by the officers of the association as follows:

"Recognizing that there are no questions of greater importance to stockmen of the United States than an amicable settlement of the questions of grazing on the public lands and forest reserves, the National Livestock association, at its convention in 1900 adopted a resolution providing for a committee to draft bills which would provide for the leasing of the public range and the use of forest reserves under certain restrictions. The people of the grazing states at that time were not ready to accept a change in the conditions which had existed since the stock raising had become one of the leading industries of the country, and consequently the initial effort failed.

"The association however, has been prosecuting a diligent campaign of education along these lines ever since, and at this time because of the restricted range and unsatisfactory conditions under which the forest reserves are conducted, the stockmen are apparently ready to get together and decide upon some policy which will be satisfactory to all concerned, realizing that conditions are changing so rapidly that it is only a question of time when this will be compulsory.

Passed Resolutions. "At the annual meeting of the association in Kansas City in 1903 resolutions were adopted asking President Roosevelt to appoint a commission to investigate these matters with a view of securing data which would permit of the drafting of a bill satisfactory to the cattle and sheep interests.

"This commission has been appointed and is now desirous of securing all the information on this subject possible, and with this end in view will meet with the stockmen at the headquarters of the National Livestock association in Denver in August. It is desired by this commission as well as the officers of the association that all persons who are interested in the grazing proposition and forest reserves will be present at this meeting. The following letter—which was issued from the headquarters of the association, is self-explanatory.

"Upon the request of the National Livestock association, President Roosevelt last December appointed a commission consisting of Hon. W. A. Richards, commissioner of the general land office; Hon. Clifford Pinchot, chief forester, and Hon. F. H. Newell, chief of the department of geological survey, for the purpose of investigating conditions existing in arid and semi-arid lands and forest reserves are concerned, and to report to the president before the convening of congress in December next. "The object of this investigation is formation of a report to the president, which is hoped will result in the drafting of a bill for the amicable adjustment of these important matters. The chairman of the commission has advised the officers of this association that they will meet with the stockmen of the west at the headquarters of the National Livestock association, 211 Quincy building, Denver, Colo., on August 1, 4 and 5, 1904, for the purpose of considering these subjects and gathering such information as is possible.

Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture and Hon. E. A. Hitchcock, secretary of the department of the interior, have been invited to be present and have indicated that they will attend if official duties at that time will permit their leaving Washington. Hon. H. C. Hansbrough, chairman of the public lands committee of the senate, and Hon. J. F. Lacey, chairman of the public lands committee of the house have been invited to attend also, as well as other prominent citizens.

Questions Are Important. "There are no questions that are of greater importance to the stockmen than those of grazing on the public lands and forest reserves, and it is desirable that some united action shall be made upon congress at a very early date. "For those reasons you are earnestly requested to appoint three prominent members of your association who are interested in these matters, to attend this meeting, and we would ask that you notify the secretary of this association immediately, whether or not this request can be complied with and the names and addresses of those who will be here."
