Fred A. Ballin, marine architect, took the matter before the executive board of the council at the time it was up for discussion some months ago, and he presented an estimate of the cost of building approaches for the ferryboat at the foot of East Alder and Stark streets in the event that the project met with approval. Speaking on the subject this morning Mr. Ballin said:

"The streetcar service abross the bridge seems to be unsatisfactory to the public. Consequently the people are looking for other means of crossing the river in that vicinity without being subjected to breakdowns on the bridge or delays of construction. It is possible to have the new ferryboat ussion some months ago, and he

months of litigation are likely to ensue with the property holders.
"The prospects are that the bridge will not be ready for traffic for at least eight months. The ferry could easily maintain a 10-minutes' service for the maintain a 10-minutes' service for the round trip, and not only take care of passengers, but teams as well. The expense of operating the vessel will probably be borne by the county.

"If the funds for building the approaches should be appropriated at the next regular meeting of the equncil everything will be in shape for placing her on the run alongside of he bridge by the time the boat is completed."

ARRESTED FOR CRIME COMMITTED LONG AGO

The story of the trouble between the two goes back to the year 1901, when Thompson was employed by Bryant as collector for the Chicago Art company of Chicago. Thompson's territory embraced South Dakota, Wyoming, Nevada and Idaho. Thompson was very successful in his work and succeeded in making about $400. Instead of turning in the money to his employer, it is alleged, he suddenly disappeared with it. Bryant has been constantly on the lookout for him and this morning, while walking down Washington street, he saw his man standing in a barber shop talking to a friend. Bryant immediately took him to the station, where he was took him to the station, where he was locked up to await trial before Judge Hogue on Tuesday.

OBJECTION IS MADE TO PEAT OF CARNIVAL BIDER AND THE ACT MAY BE STOPPED - SPECIAL TOWER WILL BE READY FOR USB TONIGHT-POUNTH PLANS.

Dare-devil Edwards made another of his perilous rides last evening at the carnival before a large audience, but it boat, which is nearing completion, be is said that this ride may be his last, placed in commission near the bridge Many citizens are said to be indignant until that structure, is finished. The east side residents took this matter to hazard his life daily for the amusement of the public and have announced their intention to stop the ride. While making a trial trip, two weeks ago, the rider and his wheel were pre-cipitated to the ground below and it was thought for some time that Edwards was killed. He recovered, however, and afterwards made several successful rides, but a few evenings ago he was again badly bruised. His wheel gave away and he was thrown to the ground. The fent of "spanning the aerial arch," as it is called on the program is one of the most difficult bicycle feats. The rider starts at the top of a steep incline, which ends in a steep upward slope. The rider gains a high rate of slope. The rider gains a high rate of speed and is thrown upward into the air, to alight on a receiving platform some distance away.

PROMISES SEATTLE NEW ASSAY OFFICE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seaftle, Wash., July 2.—Seattle is promised a new assay office by George W. Roberts, director of the United States mint, who is in Seattle on his way to Nome to investigate the gold production of that and other Alaska districts. The Seattle office receives more gold each year than any other assay office in the United States, with the exception of New York, and the director of the mint has recommended that better facilities be provided for handling the yellow metal in Seattle, but he does not expect that action will be immediate, though he hopes for it in the near future.

Alaska is expected to produce $10,-050,000 this year. Washington will add about $500,000, Oregon, $2,000,000; Montana, $4,000,000, and Idaho, $2,000,000. This year's gold production of the world Mr. Roberts places at $550,000,000.

OPEN AIR WARD FOR CONSUMPTIVES

County Judge Webster, Dr. Woods Hutchinson and Health Officer Dudley Evans visited the county poor farm today to select a site for the new sceptic tank that is to be installed to take care of the sewage of the hospital. TO BUILD TROLLEY

BOSEDALE AND LIBERTY BOAR IS PRACTICALLY AN ASSURED TRING - LARGE MEETING OF FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN DISCUSS PROJECT PAVORABLY.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, July 2.—"I will build a trolley line from Salem through Liberty to Rosedale, a distance of four and one-half mile from the end of the present car line, and will furnish one-half the money to build and equip the road; if the people of this district will sub scribe the other half." This is the proposition submitted by A. Welch, president of the Citizens' Light & Traction company, to the peo-ple of Rosedale and Liberty as a meet-house.

The meeting was largely attended by farmers of the district, and also by business men of Salem, those going from this city being Judge T. L. Davidson, F. N. Derby, Fred Waters, F. W. Waters, J. L. Stockton, E. Hofer, Max Hofer, J. G. Graham, J. M. Kyle, Mr. Cannon, Mr. Hall and A. Weich.

After the speaking a motion was made and carried instructing Mayor Waters and carried instructing Mayor Waters of Salem, who acted as chairman of the meeting, to appoint a committee consisting of three men from Salem, two from Liberty and two from Rosedale to investigate the proposal.

Mr. Welch estimates the cost of building the line to Rosedale at $22,000, and the cost of equipping the road for operating, providing both freight and passenger cars, at $7,000, making a total cost of $30,000. Of this he is willing to furnish $15,000, and expects the people to furnish the other $15,000. He expects to operate six cars daily. He estimates that 2,000 tons of prunes would be sauled each year over the line.
