MIMIC WAR AT AMERICAN LAKE

ANNUAL MANEUVERS OF DEPARTMENT OF COLUMBIA AND NORTHWEST MILITIA BEGIN NEXT WEEK AND LAST EIGHT DAYS—FOUR FULL REGIMENTS ATTEND.

Forty-five hundred men who are to take part in the annual army maneuvers of the department of the Columbia this year have fixed their thoughts on American lake, seven miles from Tacoma, on Puget sound, where amateur fighting will be on from July 7 to 15, inclusive. These men whose thoughts have turned to mimic war include 2,500 from the regular army posts of Vancouver barracks, Fort Wright (Spokane) and Fort Walla Walla, 1,000 from the Oregon National Guard, 500 from the Washington National Guard, and 500 from the Idaho National Guard. Included in this list is the Tenth United States infantry, now en route from California, and which will be permanently stationed at Vancouver.

Gen. Frederick Funston, commander of the department of the Columbia, and the officers of the militia of the three states participating, have mapped out all the preliminary plans for the two weeks of war. One of these officers said today:

"General Funston and his staff are to have their headquarters at the postoffice of Murray, which is on the Northern Pacific railroad, midway between the two divisions that are to carry on the war. These opposing forces will be from eight to nine miles apart, the American lake camping-grounds comprising 30,000 acres, being ample for such extensive maneuvers.

"Of the two opposing brigades, the first is to be in command of Colonel Godfrey, U. S. A., of Fort Walla Walla, and under him will be the Nineteenth United States infantry of Vancouver; the Second infantry, W. N. G.; a separate battery of four companies, O. N. G., from the southern part of the state; troop A, O. N. G.; two troops of regular cavalry and one battery of light artillery.

"Colonel Noble, in charge of the second brigade, en route from San Francisco, in command of the Tenth United States infantry, is to have the Tenth infantry, the Third Oregon infantry, the First Idaho infantry, the Second troop of regular cavalry and one battery of light artillery from the regulars.

"In addition to those named above, Colonel Thompson of Vancouver is to have charge of the signal corps."

General orders for the encampment, covering time of departure of different companies from their homes, equipment, baggage allowances, hospital provisions, etc., were issued by Col. C. U. Gantenbein of this city pursuant to directions from Adjutant-General Finzer, and in full are as follows:

In compliance with general orders, the Third infantry will participate in the joint maneuvers at American lake, Wash., for a period of 15 days, from July 7 to July 21, 1904, inclusive.

Headquarters, hospital detachment and companies B. C. E. F. H and K will assemble in the Multnomah county armory, July 7, 1904, at 8:30 o'clock a. m., in the following uniform and equipment:

For officers—Olive-drab uniform, campaign hat with cord, blue shirt, puttee leggings, overcoat, haversack, canteen, russet shoes, saber and belt. Officers having the khaki uniform will take it to camp in addition to the olive-drab.

For enlisted men—Khaki blouse and trousers, campaign hat with cord, leggings, blue shirt, blanket, shelter half complete, haversack, mess kit, canteen, tin cup, cartridge belt and black shoes.

The remaining six companies of the regiment will assemble in their respective armories, fully uniformed and equipped as prescribed in the preceding paragraph, in time to leave their stations and proceed to Portland, companies A, D and L by train via O. R. & N. company, arriving in Portland Thursday, July 7, at 7:15 p. m., and companies G, I and M by special train, leaving Eugene July 7, at 3 a. m., and arriving in Portland at 9 a. m. Companies will leave their home stations as follows: Company A, Baker City, July 6, at 6 p. m.; company L, La Grande, July 6, at 8:05 p. m.; company D, The Dalles, July 7, at 4 a. m.; company G, Albany, July 7, at 4:30 a. m.; company M, Salem, July 7, at 6 a. m.; company I, Woodburn, July 7, at 7 a. m.

Baggage will be allowed as follows: Headquarters, 200 pounds; mounted officers, 150 pounds; company officers, 125 pounds; companies, one field oven, one mess chest, one field desk and camp equipage. The baggage of Portland officers must be placed in the northwest corner of the large drill hall of the Armory Tuesday, July 5, not later than 10 o'clock p. m.

Company commanders are directed to take with them to camp field desks with all books, records and a full supply of blank forms and stationery necessary for the transaction of military business. They will also provide the necessary material for the proper care and repair of pieces. They will see that their men take with them to camp one extra suit of underwear, three extra pairs of socks, an extra pair of stout, easy, black shoes, and a sufficient supply of toilet articles to insure comfort and cleanliness. They will cause their men to have these articles in the Armory ready for inspection not later than Tuesday, July 5, at 8:30 o'clock p. m.

Subsistence will be by company mess. All regimental officers will mess together. The noncommissioned staff and hospital detachment will constitute one mess. Captain W. S. Gilbert, chaplain, is hereby detailed as mess officer for the officers' mess.

Mail will be addressed to American lake, Wash., giving the rank and name of the addressed, with the designation of the company and regiment of which he is a member.

Orders promulgating the daily routine, hours of service and regulations for the government of the camp will be issued as soon as practicable. Company drills will be suspended from July 22 to September 18, 1904, inclusive.

Vacation "Smokeables."

If a smoker and going on a vacation you'll naturally see that your suit case and trunk are well fed with smoking material before the lids go down and are locked. A smoker's vacation without something to draw on would indeed be a miserable one. And in the selection of your tobacco see that you get the kind that dispenses comfort and bliss.

One of the best cigars now on the market is the General Portnondo, a cigar sold by Sig Sichel & Co., at 92 Third street. This cigar is especially packed in a tin "Saratoga" trunk and can be carried or packed without fear for its safety—or crushing, of course. The boxes are perforated and keep the cigar in the best possible condition. $2.00 for box of 50. Just the cigar for a vacation.

Fire Sale.

$10,000 stock of clothing, men's and ladies' shoes, hats and gents' furnishings, slightly damaged by smoke and water, will be sacrificed at less than cost at 233 First street, near Main.

STATE TEACHERS CLOSE MEETING

STATE ASSOCIATION CLOSES AFTER MOST SUCCESSFUL AND WELL ATTENDED MEETING OF ITS HISTORY — LEADING EDUCATORS ARE WELL PLEASED.

The fourth annual meeting of the Oregon State Teachers' association is a thing of the past and acting upon the motion for adjournment yesterday afternoon, one of the largest and most interesting conventions ever held in the history of the Oregon Teachers' Institute closed.

The election of officers resulted as follows: E. V. Littlefield, former vice-president, was elected president; B. F. Mulkey of Ashland, vice-president; R. L. Traver of Salem, second vice-president; G. W. Jones of Salem, secretary; L. A. Wiley, treasurer. The executive committee will be E. V. Littlefield, chairman; J. H. Ackerman, T. J. Newbill, R. F. Robinson and R. L. Taylor. Officers elected to serve in the department of secondary and higher education are: President, W. C. Hawley; vice-president, H. G. Hockenberg; secretary and editor, R. R. Steele; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret V. Allen; executive committee, E. D. Ressler, W. N. Ferrin, T. D. Davis, J. R. O'Hara and Mrs. M. H. Douglass.

The following resolution concerning the higher efficiency of our public school system, was adopted:

"Resolved, That the department of education of the Oregon State Teachers' association indorses the present movement toward raising the scholarship requirements of teachers in all grades of public school work in the state, and in particular we recommend, as soon as it shall be practicable, such legislative action as shall require of all applicants for teachers' certificates two years' work in advance of the eighth grade."

The banner, designed by F. A. Routledge, and purchased by the association for presentation to the county having the highest percentage of paid membership, was won by Polk county.

Mr. R. F. Robinson, county superintendent of schools, said in regard to the convention:

"This convention is unquestionably the best as to attendance and interest that we have yet held. The state association has been growing in interest ever since its organization. The work during this convention was foundational in read educational progress. Every one on the program had his part well in hand and the interest was keen throughout. The work of W. W. Parsons of Terre Haute, Ind., was a leading feature.

"The attendance the first morning reached the 900 mark and this number was in attendance at every session. It represented every county in the state.

"The program was arranged on the department plan, so that during certain hours of the institute, the grades were in separate rooms and the teachers receiving instructions suitable to the grade in which they teach. In the general session the work was of such nature as to be of interest to all. This department plan was introduced by myself at the county institute, three years ago. It proved so satisfactory at that time that all of our institutes have been organized on this basis since. Much credit is due President D. A. Grout for the creditable manner in which the program was executed."

Portland was selected as the meeting place of the convention in 1905.

LICENSE DAYS AT CITY HALL

Proprietors of employment agencies who wish to continue their business during the next six months should file their applications with City Auditor Devlin. These applications must be approved by the general license committee of the council.

At a recent special meeting of the council, the ordinance regarding employment agencies was amended so that the fee for this business was made payable semi-annually, instead of quarterly. The license fee was raised to $60 a year for general agencies, and $30 for those that engage only female help. The license fee is due on July 1 and January 1.

Hawkers May Fight.

The musical cries of the fruit hawkers are not abroad in the land today. An ordinance was recently passed by the council which raised the license fee of the hawkers to $50 a quarter. It is stated that the hawkers will carry their fight to the courts.

Will Brook No Delay.

As the tags for this quarter are blue, while those used during the past three months have been white, it will be no trouble for the license collectors to tell just who have paid up.

"We are not going to stand any monkey business," said Collector Hutchinson this morning. "People who are in business here know as well as we do that they are supposed to pay a license, and after we have notified them once that their fees are due, they will not be visited by us again."

During the quarter just closed, $61,950 was collected by the license department. This is said to be $4,000 more than has been collected during any previous quarter.

OREGON VETERANS TO VISIT HUB CITY

Hard tack, beans and bacon will be eaten at Boston next August by thousands of old veterans of the civil war, who will meet in the Hub City to attend the 38th annual encampment of the G. A. R. B. F. Pike, department commander of Oregon, said that he expected the coming encampment to be the largest in the history of the G. A. R. The annual meeting of the Women's Relief corps will be held in Boston at the same time that the heroes of Gettysburg and Appomatox are gathered about the "camp fires." The Massachusetts legislature and the city of Boston will spend $100,000 in entertaining their honored visitors. The Oregon delegates to the encampment will leave Portland August 8 in a special car.

Schedule of Steamer T. J. Potter.

ROYAL CHERRIES SELLING READILY

SHIPMENTS BEING MADE TO CALIFORNIA FOR MANUFACTURING PURPOSES—POULTRY SCARCE—FRUIT MARKET PRETTY WELL CLEANED UP.

Front Street, July 2.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:

Old potatoes scarce.
Fruit stocks pretty well cleaned up.
Royal Ann cherries plentiful.
Wild blackberries coming in.
Eggs steady.
Better demand for veal.
Block hogs little better.
Bluebacks and steelheads from the Columbia.
Watermelons lower.
Cantaloupes reduced.
Chickens in demand.

Royal Ann Cherries.

Royal Ann cherries are now the most staple fruit product on Front street. A good supply is coming in and the demand is good, but there is no material change in the market quotations. California parties have leased the main part of Meikle & Co.'s storeroom on Front street and are packing and shipping hundreds of barrels of cherries to San Francisco. These cherries will be made into what is called maraschino cherries, and used as a finishing touch to cocktails. These cherries are packed in barrels for shipment with a preservaline compound, and after reaching the manufactory are repacked in bottles in a prepared alcoholic liquor. When thus prepared the product is sold to retail liquor dealers, and much of it no doubt finds its way back to Portland.

The Potato Market.

Old and new potatoes are in demand at good prices, and there is a scarcity of the former product, as the farmers are too busy with harvesting to bring the potatoes to market.

Chickens Moving Lively.

Poultry is still in good demand, notwithstanding the receipts have been larger during the week. Of course, the Fourth of July demand has had its effect upon the market, but the stocks are still moving on arrival.

Wild Blackberries.

The first wild blackberries were on exhibition on Front street this morning and are quoted as selling at 10 cents. Small lots were received in the retail markets several days ago.

Meats a Little Firmer.

The cool weather has created a better demand for veal and block hogs, especially where they come in small sizes. Extremely hot weather is bad for these products, as it causes the stock to arrive in bad condition.

Watermelons and Cantaloupes.

Good shipments of watermelons were received this morning, and the selling price is slightly lower. Cantaloupes are not selling as high as they were several days ago.

Canned Corn and Roast Beef Higher.

The selling agents of manufacturers of corned canned beef and canned roast beef have notified wholesale dealers of an advance of 5c per dozen on 1-lb. cans, and 10c per dozen on 2-lb. cans.

Trade Conditions Brisk.

Many of the Front street commission merchants had practically cleaned up their late large shipments of fruits and vegetables, and the remnants were going at a lively rate this morning.

Merchants' Opinions on Today's Markets.

Toft, Hine & Co.—Strong demand for anything in the chicken line; healthier tone in veal and block hogs; eggs still remain firm; no special change in prices.

Everding & Farrell—Good demand for veal and pork in small sizes; good sale of poultry, with the exception of ducks.

Malarkey & Co.—Blueback and steelhead salmon arriving from the Columbia river; plenty of fish in market to supply all demands at this season.

Henry Everding.—Eggs steady and no change in prices of staples.

Dryer, O'Malley & Co.—A carload of melons arrived; cucumbers coming in; sodas; eggs at regular quotations, but need repacking; small fruits scarce; new and old potatoes are not plentiful.

Page & Son.—Cherries plentiful; country butter not in good demand; chickens wanted; eggs getting scarce; veal and hogs wanted when weather is cool.

W. T. Turner & Co.—Eggs steady; poultry cleaned up close.

W. B. Glafke & Co.—Stocks of fruits and vegetables are pretty well cleaned up; some ripe bananas on hand.

Chatterton & Co.—Old potatoes selling readily; chickens in good demand.

Davenport-Thompson Co.—A rush of business on Front street this morning, and stocks being cleaned up.

G. S. Smith & Co.—Old potatoes scarce.

Pearson, Page & Co.—A car each of watermelons and cantaloupes received this morning and selling at slightly reduced prices.

Boggess & Co.—Now will be the last opportunity for the farmers to sell their potatoes that they have been holding for a 2-cent market. There is a good demand for old potatoes and at a fair price. First-class chittim bark, 5½c per lb.
