The fastest and finest boat on the river is the Bailey Gatzert, and it runs through from Portland to the Dalles, Lya, White Salmon, Hood River, Moffatt, St. Martin and Collins' Hot Springs, Cascade Locks and the fish cannery and way points without change, notwithstanding false statements to the contrary. If you would link comfort with this trip see that the "Bailey Gatzert" remains uppermost in your mind. Traveling, unless for pleasure, is in most cases tiring, but this ride, if taken on the "Gatzert," leaves a man as fresh as when he could not be better. "Gatzert" leaves Alder street wharf at 7 a. m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The steamer "Regulator" leaves same wharf at same time every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Phone Main 914.

Notwithstanding an order from police headquarters to the contrary, small boys, and others whose patriotism will not let them wait until the Fourth to begin their celebrating, persist in firing fire-crackers and some times even large bombs in the city's streets. Last night the streets were full of malicious persons throwing fire-crackers at the feet of women and nothing seemed to be done by the authorities to stop it. Three or four lively fights resulted from the interference of man escorts with the hoodlums.

Ladderman Otto Bierbauer of truck No. 8 fell from the roof of Newberg's dry goods store, Seventeenth and savior streets, yesterday morning and sustained several bruises. He ran up the ladder with an extinguisher for the purpose of putting out a blaze. The ladder rolled and threw him off. The firemen carried him to his truck. He soon recovered. The fire started from dry moss on the roof and was burning fast when the steamer arrived. The damage was nominal.

The body of Albert Bickel, who died in the east Monday, arrived in the city yesterday. Funeral services will be held at his late residence, 751 Park avenue, this afternoon at 3 o'clock and burial will be made in Lone Fir cemetery. He was 37 years of age and was a son of Frederick Bickel, a well known pioneer of this state. Before he left for the east he was employed as a clerk in the Honeyman Hardware company.

A patriotic service will be given this evening at 8 o'clock at Mizpah Presbyterian church, Brooklyn. Rev. Jerome R. McGlade, the pastor, will deliver a sermon on "Our Nation's Ideals." Mrs. J. M. Miller, choir director, will sing De Koven's "Recessional," and there will be numbers by the choir. Communion will be celebrated this morning at 10:30. The service will be followed by a reception of new members.

The Portland Club cafe has recently been sold to C. Soloman, a brother of Nate Soloman, manager of the Portland club. The transfer was effected June 24 and possession was given immediately. The cafe, until the sale, was under the control and management of the Portland club, but is now not connected in any way with the huge gambling resort.

At the First Unitarian church, this morning at 10:30, the following musical program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Albert Sheldon: Organ, "Romance," Lott; anthem, "Love Divine," Spence; Gloria, Boyce; Responsory, "Praise Anthem," "Fair Day," "Heavenly Home," Hamer; Nunc Dimittis, Barnby; "Cathedral Procession," Van Eyker.

Better than breakfast foods—try a Cochealla cantaloupe or watermelon. "Kermela" brand cantaloupes are finer than silk and sweeter than honey. Paper rind and full of delicious meat. Car lots constantly on track. For sale by your grocer, Pearson-Page company, distributors, for Cochealla Valley Producers' association.

The members of Lincoln-Garfield post, G. A. R., are requested to meet at their hall this evening at 7 o'clock to march to the White Temple to attend a special service. The theme will be "The Glory of Our Republic."

There has been such a demand for seats for a special matinee at the Baker theatre Monday, July 4, that the management has decided to give this extra performance. "Butterflies" will be given by the company.

"UNION JACK" AND PATRIOTIC BOY

CANADIAN FLIES BRITISH FLAGS AND AROUND PATRIOTIC IDEAS OF SMALL AMERICAN—ALLEN FLAGS MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEAR AND SMALL BOY DOES WA DANCE.

It was the patriotism of a small boy that attracted the attention of the police to the Union Jacks that were flaunted to the breeze yesterday at the home of J. A. Wright, 633 Saver street. The lad didn't know what the strange designs were at first, but when some one told him that they represented the government of John Bull he became indignant, and it was done.

"If you don't pull 'em down, I'll start something and pull 'em down myself," he told the small boy of the Wright family. The Wright boy carried the flag to his father, who ridiculed the prophecy. They would stay there as long as he desired, he said, and the small boy wouldn't start anything. But last night the foreign flags disappeared. How it was done or who did it no one knows, but it was done.

Wright is employed at the Ash street dock and is in the service of the City & Suburban railway company on Sundays. He came to Portland from Canada a year ago. Wright himself is an American citizen, while his wife is still a subject of King Edward.

Firemen at station No. 6, Twentieth and Raleigh streets, also became indignant at the sight of the flag and sought the assistance of General Beebe in removing the foreign flag. "The officer professed his inability to interfere, so the flags remained until some time last night.

"We meant no disrespect to the American flag or to our neighbors," said Mrs. Wright. "I happened to have four Union Jacks in my possession and wanted to celebrate the Fourth by hanging them up in front of the house. I wanted to hang them up on May 24, the anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth, but I thought people wouldn't understand. "I didn't know they attracted any special attention until my little boy told me today that another youngster threatened to tear them down unless we did so. We were merely celebrating the Fourth and saw every one else hanging up flags. I had no American flags and hung up the four Union Jacks that I have."

Summer School. For teachers and children. Session, six weeks. Instructors, Frank Rigler, D. A. Groat, R. F. Robinson, Mrs. E. H. Taggart, Mrs. J. E. Burnham, Miss Nellie E. Washburn.

The Holmes' Business college, located on the corner of Yamhill and Eleventh streets, will conduct a summer school for six weeks, beginning July 5.

The school is designed for teachers who wish to prepare for county, city or state certificates and also for children from the public schools. The work begins with the fifth grade and continues through the high school course.

Children who have failed to make their grade will have this opportunity to make up their work and go on with their class in September, and the ambitious ones can make a grade. At the close of the school Professor Rigler will give the examinations and credit will be given for the work of the summer. School begins at 8 a. m. and closes at 2:30 p. m.

The death of "Dickey" Bradley, 13 years of age, son of Captain Richard Bradley, former captain of the ferry service between Oakland and San Francisco, occurred at the Imperial hotel yesterday morning. One of the saddest features was the sorrow it caused the grandmother, Mrs. Wall, who was the bedside of the child. Mrs. Wall, who is 84 years of age, had traveled with the lad and her son, Captain Bradley, and had thoroughly enjoyed the two months' visit which she believed would be her last to the historic valley.

PHOENIX FLOOR PAINT. The Most Durable Floor Paint Made. Money Back if not Satisfactory.

Another feature of this unfortunate death of the family's visit to Portland was that Mrs. Wall had come to this valley with her parents in 1843, and lived here until 1849, had been here at intervals, and had come back with the hope of thoroughly enjoying this, the country which she believed would be her last, to the historic valley. The family of Mrs. Wall helped make the history of this valley and her father was on the coinage committee having in charge the coining of the first gold ever coined on the Pacific coast—at Oregon City in 1849. The men of the family were also prominent in the early Indian wars. More than 40 years ago Captain Bradley, father of the boy who died yesterday, was in the shipping business from this port and was one of the eight members of a crew who were rescued at Tillamook when the ship in which they were sailing was wrecked.

DR. J. E. BINGHAM GIBSON, OREGON.

Owing to the great demand for reserved seats at the Star theatre, the management of this house has decided to reserve the boxes on request, one in advance. This is a decided innovation in a popular priced vaudeville theatre, and demonstrates once more the purpose of this fashionable theatre to extend every possible accommodation to the production of a full orchestra to play the waiting maid in the ladies' dressing room, whose services are at the disposal of all lady patrons, and the production of a full orchestra to play during the brief intermissions. On Monday, the Fourth of July, the performance will be continuous from 2:15 to 11 p. m. Next Friday a coupon will be published in the Oregonian which will be good for five cents toward the ten-cent admission at the afternoon performances at either the Star or the Arcade theatres.
