OREGON TROOPS LEAVE PORTLAND

MEN ON THEIR WAY TO TAKE PART IN THE MANEUVERS AT AMERICAN LAKE IN CONNECTION WITH REGULAR ARMY.

Oregon troops bound for American lake thronged the streets at an early hour this morning, making hasty and final preparations for the departure of the three trains to carry them, which left at 9:30, 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock. Owing to the late arrival of the troops coming to the late arrival of the freeps coming in on a special train from Boise, a fourth section carrying them was made up at the depot at noon. The Portland troops in large part were at the armory bright and early, and reached the depot by 9 o clock. All troops were khaki field uniforms and leggings.

In the knapsacks of some of the troops In the knapsacks of some of the troops who have been sitting on high stools and writing figures in big books in wholesale houses, banks and public offices there were plentiful supplies of arnica, witch hazel and other soothing lotions. There was also lint, bandages and other things that may be needed for sore feet.

In and about the depot today there was no weeping, although many relatives and sweethearts were also pres-tives and sweethearts were also pres-ent, all of whom expressed the wish that William or John would not walk himself to death at American lake, but that he would have the time of his life and come back thoroughly hardened and capable of enduring the battle incidental to finshing the present summer season at

As for the troops that came in from the southern and eastern part of the state, many of them looked somewhat frougy, as nearly all of them had caught trains at various times during the night Company G. Third regiment, caught the train at Albany at 4:30 o'clock. This, with troop A of Lebanon, the cavalry part of the state's army, came to Port-land together. The cavalry forces had spent the early part of the night in camp near the Southern Pacific station at Albary. The Eugene companies caught their train at 2 o'clock in the morning. Island Question Up.

The most animated debate of the morning session arose over the question of insular delegates. It came when the report of the committee on rules was read and the announcement made that the committee had given the delegates from Porto Rice votes in the convention. An outburst of cheering had barely died away when State Senator South of Arkansas proposed an amend. South of Arkansas proposed an ame

Bryan Given Ovation.

At 2:08 o'clock this afternoon Chairman Williams had not arrived, but the delegates and spectators were filing in to the music of the band.

The weather is extremely warm, and everybody had stripped their coats.

At 2:10 o'clock Bryan entered and was allowed the street overton.

At 2:10 o'clock Bryan entered and was given a great ovation. Delegates all over the hall jumped upon their chairs, yelling and waving their hats and coats, the people in the galleries joining. The New York, Delaware and Indiana delegates kept quiet, but the Nebraska standard was picked up and waved in the air by the enthusiastic members of its delegation.

South Dakota, Arizona and Massachu-setta also waved their standards, and the cheering was redoubled and pretty nearly all the standards went into the

The excitement which but a moment before had showed signs of dying down now rose higher than ever, and for a time pandemonium reigned and it looked as though everything and every candidate would be swept down before the terrific wave of Bryan's personal popularity.

Bryan's Minority Report. At 3 o'clock the committee on cre-dentials presented itself and the readng of its report began.

It in brief supported the acts of the ational committee in every respect and announced that respective cases could be considered in a general way. State Senator Grady of New York moved a separate vote on the proposition to give the Philippines six votes, declaring against such recognition as that given in the report relating to the Philippines, which was ruled out on the ground that the Philippines are not a part of the United States. The Philippine delegates were allowed to keep their seats, but were allowed to keep their seats, but were given no votes.

In view of the large increase in the population of the Indian Territory and Okiahoma, the report recommended that each territory be given six votes in the next national convention.

It had hardly been concluded when Bryan arose to make a minority report on the contested cases from Illinois. He was warmly greeted, but the Iowa delegation was the only one that attempted to renew the earlier demonstration. Immediate slience followed when Bryan started to read, and the delegates listened attentively to what he might have to say. The report was caustic. It to say. The report was caustic. It charged that the state committee of Illi-mois, of which John P. Hopkins is chair-man, found-itself in the minority in the state convention and deliberately planned to override the Democratic vote of the state by fraud and intimidation. In the following contest, the report says, Hopkins' opponents brought complete proof of these charges, but Hopkins of-fered nothing in reply. The report rec-ommended that the Hopkins men be un-

CHAIRMAN CLARK'S SPEECH.

Says Republican Assertions Are Highly When Champ Clark of Missouri took his seat as permanent chairman of the onvention he immediately launched into his speech.

Mr. Clark said: "Had King David been in Chicago while Senator Lodge was reading the Republican platform, he would no doubt have reiterated his famous opinion that all men are liars." For surely there never was more mendacity packed into the same space in any document purporting to be a grave state paper.

that evil-doers be driven from the public service and severely punished; that trusts shall be proceeded against by indictment, as are common and smaller criminals, and that wherever the American flag floats it shall be as a right and shall be accompanied by the constitution.

"The proposition that we must support Roosevelt's Philippine policy, if he has any, right or wrong, is the veriest rot, a tale told by an idiot, because President Roosevelt is not the country. President Roosevelt is not the country. The time has not arrived when the American people will accept the arrogant dictum of Louis XIV, repeated by an American president, T am the state."

Clark denounced as "cringing sycophants" those who said the president should be supported in his Philippine policy even if it wers wrong. "Has Roosevelt a policy?" he said. "I deny it. He is only an opportunist waiting for something to turn up.

Killed in Shoals.

"In the meantime our soldiers are being killed and dying of disease in shoals. A president cannot be better than his party, and he (Roosevett) could not find worse political company this
