

JUNIOR ORDER FACES CRISIS

MUCH DISSENTION IN RANKS OF UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS THROUGHOUT ENTIRE COUNTRY—MATTERS NOW REACHING AN ACUTE STAGE.

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Pa., July 8.—The Junior Order of United American Mechanics, which has been in existence half a century and has a membership that extends throughout the entire country, is facing a critical situation as a result of the disunion in its ranks.

There has been trouble in the order for years, but it was not until recently that matters reached an acute stage. The national convention was in session at Minneapolis in June, 1903, when the national council made changes in the object of the order, it is said. Many of the members declared that this action was arbitrary, and that the matter should have been put to a popular vote.

Immediately after the convention a protest came from the states. It was ignored. The insurgents refused to pay any more per capita tax. Charges were preferred against the state council of Pennsylvania, and there was a trial before the judicial board of the national council.

Then the insurgents, representing 75 councils, asked the national board to call a special session to settle the differences. The request was ignored. The council was threatened with mandamus proceedings, and a call for a meeting for June, 1904, was issued.

OREGON BERRIES IN NEW ENGLAND

TWO CARS HOOD RIVER STRAWBERRIES SOLD IN MASSACHUSETTS—FRUIT REPORTED FINE AFTER 3,000-MILE JOURNEY ACROSS CONTINENT.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., July 8.—The Davidson Fruit company has received word that two cars of Hood River strawberries were sold in Massachusetts. One car is reported to have arrived in good shape after a journey of more than 10 days across the continent in a refrigerator car.

These two cars of berries were intended for the markets of the middle west, but on their arrival at Omaha the near by cities were oversupplied with local berries and the cars of Oregon berries were sent on to Chicago. Finding like conditions there the fruit was forwarded another 1,000 miles to the New England states.

Another car of Hood River strawberries was marketed in Cleveland, Ohio, June 21. The car was delayed somewhat en route and met with slow sale on account of the home-grown crop coming in heavy, but the quality of the fruit was reported fine. One eastern market reported the stock "high, evenly colored and a good shipping berry."

Fruit Unions Unite. At a joint meeting of the directors of the Hood River Fruitgrowers' union and the Applegrowers' union yesterday it was decided to merge the two organizations. This move is in the interest of economy in the marketing of the Hood River fruits.

Flora Mill for Hood River. Members of the Hood River Commercial club have subscribed $3,000 of a sum of $4,000, which John P. Apin of Cornelius, Or., asks for locating a 100-barrel flour mill in Hood River.

ROWLEY'S ROW AT SHIELDS' PARK

PATROLMAN ATTEMPTS TO EJECT TWO ROISTEROUS INMATES OF THE PARK AND IS FINALLY FORCED TO SUE IN ORDER TO SAVE HIMSELF FROM ATTACK.

Policeman Rowley encountered a brace of bold young men at Shields' Park, Thirteenth and Washington streets, early yesterday morning who refused to hearken to the voice of the law when its blue-coated representative ordered them to open the door.

The nature of the time they were having has not been divulged by the officer. He commanded them to open, and they refused. He spoke louder and more threateningly, and they laughed louder and more boisterously and again told him to walk around the block for exercise.

The officer unlocked the gate and started inside. He made as much noise as possible, he said, in opening the gate, to let them know he was coming. They did not seem to care much; in fact, they prepared for his entry. When he pushed through the entrance one of the bold young men landed a club on the top of his helmet.

Pinely Rowley opened fire and a bullet buried itself in a gaudy painting on the stage. He claims to have fired in the air to frighten the young men.

INSANE PATIENT ESCAPES NURSES

ATTORNEY HUNTLEY, UNDERGOING TREATMENT AT Mt. TABOR FOR SUICIDAL MELANCHOLIA, ELUDES HIS ATTENDANTS AND IS NOT DISCOVERED.

W. B. Huntley, 35 years of age, a prominent member of the Seattle legal profession, who was admitted to the Mount Tabor sanatorium on the 6th to be treated for acute suicidal melancholia, escaped from that institution in his night clothes at 9 o'clock last night, and despite the most vigilant search of sanatorium attendants, friends and the police, had not been found up to late this afternoon.

On the evening of the 5th, Mr. Huntley was brought to this city by his brother, O. A. Huntley of Idaho, and was taken to the Portland sanatorium, prepared to return to their home in Idaho today. It was believed the stricken man would be well enough to go back to Seattle and resume his professional business in a few days.

During yesterday, Dr. Gillespie was on duty, because when the latter looked around the room door of the patient was open and he was nowhere to be seen. Because of the warm evening the front door of the building had been left open and it was supposed he made his escape through this door.

Runs Blockade; Arrives in Port. That the captain's fears were well founded is shown by the fact that a few days after he had put to sea the British steamship Allanton, which had loaded coal at the same port, was stopped by a Russian gunboat. The cargo was appropriated and the vessel converted into a government transport.

On the outward trip, however, those on board received a slight scare. The steamer was bound from Puget sound for Shanghai, with a cargo of lumber.

AT THE THEATRES

"UP TO TOMPKINS." Few people would admit that a rattling farce-comedy such as "Up to Tompkins," which the Baker theatre company presents next week, could contain a useful moral, but it does. However, it is not overdrawn, and is written merely for the sake of fun and laughter.

"THE BUTTERFLIES." After sitting through a performance of Henry Guy Carleton's "The Butterflies," by the new Baker theatre company this week, one is indelibly impressed with the wholesome, real worth and true merit of this class of comedy.

"DR. JERKYL AND MR. HYDE." "Dr. Jerkyl and Mr. Hyde," the most powerful drama in the English language, will be offered tonight only at Corday's, by Elmer Walters' company of players.

"IN MOROCCO" NEXT WEEK. Next week's great offering at Shields' Park will be the hilarious musical extravaganza success, "In Morocco," which opens Monday night.

"THE QUEEN OF THE MUSKETEERS." "Queen of the Musketeers," a most successful comic opera, at Shields' Park tonight. The last performance of this piece will be Sunday night at the Empire theatre.

"THE FOG DRAW CROWDS." So great is the desire of Portland theatre-goers to see vaudeville's greatest act, Farmer Jones and his educated pigs, at the Bijou this week, that extra performances were given both last night and the night before.
