MAY HAVE THIRD

FRUSTERS OF PERMANENT RELIEF FUND REPUSE TO GIVE ANY PART OF THE MONEY MELD IN TRUST MANAGEMENT OF MARDI

If the promoters of the Federated rades carnival intend to insist upon helr demand for the money raised last for a Fourth of July celebration subsequently turned over to the ner relief committee, they will and subsequently turned over to the Heppner relief committee, they will have to resort to the courts. The trus-tees of the Portland permanent relief fund, into which the Heppner fund was merged, are unanimous in the opinion that they have no right to give back any part of the money in their hands either to the original donors or to as-

"We hold this money as a trust," said N. Fleischner, chairman of the board trustees, "and as we understand the of trustees, and as we understand the matter we have no right to give back any part of it. We are the trustees of a permanent relief fund and when the board was created it was with the understanding that the money should be disbursed only for the relief of suf-ferees from some great calamity such be disbursed only for the relief of suf-feregs from some great calamity such as the Heppner flood or the Wyoming coal mine disaster. We do not feel that we have any right to divert the funds to other purposes, unless directed to do so by order of court." The same view is expressed by L. A. Lewis, another member of the board. "The money given by the Fourth of July committee came to be unsolicited." said Mr. Lewis, "and it cannot be dis-tinguished from any other contribu-tinguished from any other contribu-tions. We have no more right to give it back than to give back the money paid in by any individual subscriber. to back than to give back the money paid in by any individual subscriber. In my opinion, it would be a disgrace to Portland if, after the generosity which was displayed in raising the re-lief fund, the donors should now ask to have their money returned to them." It is said that the management of e carnival has secured from a number the donors of last year's Fourth of ily fund assignments of their interest July fund assignments of their interest in the money, and that suit will be brought at once to determine the ques-tion whether, by virtue of these assign-pelled to make repayment. As there was no public celebration of the Fourth this year except that given under the suspices of the carnival, it is contended that the expense should be borne in part by the community and that this can best be effected by turning over the unexpanded balance of the contribu-pose.

STATE HAS NOT GIVEN UP ITS BUGRNE MANDS APPLICATION TO CONTEST FOR TITLE - MOTION POSTOPPICE DEPARTMENT FOR FOR REVIEW FILED BEFORE ESTABLISHMENT OF INCREASED SECRETARY OF INTERIOR-MAY FACILITIES INTO THE SPENCER CREEK COURTEY.

(Special Dispatch to The Jongmal.) Salem, Or., July S.-The state of Oregon has not given up its contest for title to the swamp lands in Klamath county, but has filed a motion for a re-view before the secretary of the inte-rior. Attorney-General Crawford yes-terday received a copy of the brief in support of this motion, prepared by William M. Matthews, the attorney em-ployed by the state at the national cap-ital. (fipscial Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., July 8.—An effort is being made to have a third rural mail delivery route established out of Eugene. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, July S.-Work on the new independent telephone system that is to, unite all of Benton county in a network of rural and city phones is progressing as rapidly as possible. The work is such that experienced linemen are nec-essary, and these have not been easy to secure. The line is now up from Cor-valls to Philomath, and gives entire satisfaction to the patrons whose wires have already been placed in position. In Corvallis nearly all patrons are anxious for the new lines to go up, be-lieving that the new system will prove in many ways superior to the old. On one street in this city over 40 independ-ent phones have already been spoken for in the town, besides which many patrons will have instruments placed in their homes and business houses after the va-cation days are over. cation days are over.

cation days are over. Those who are standing back of the movement for the Central Energy sys-tem are highly pleased with the interest and patronage that the new enterprise has already awakened, and it is now an assured fact that the independent phones-have come to stay, and that it will-ul-uitimately become the leading system in the valler.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., July 8 .- Two hobos entered the rear of the Hotel Foley

Thursday and stole a suit of clothes from the day clerk, E. Fowler, and sold the same to a second-hand dealer two blocks away. The city marshal rounded up seven hobes, two of whom were idenquantities of food and other supplies. Of this sum over $10,000 had been sent to Heppner when word was received the function aid was unnecessary.

Shortly afterward occurred the coal mine explosion at Hanna. Wyoming, and the relief committe sent a donation of $1.000 to the widows and children of the miners who had lost their lives in the miners who had lost their lives in the disaster. A report was then pre-pared and submitted to Mayor Will-fams, on August 1, 1903, giving all re-ceipts and disbursements by the relief committee and showing a balance on hand of $15,290.99. This money was deposited in Ladd & Tilton's bank, at 4 are cont interest.

deposited in Ladd & Tilton's bank, at 4 per cent interest. Mayor Williams replied advising the establishment of a permanent relief fund, to be drawn upon whenever any great public disaster occurs, either in this state or elsewhere, and he nomi-nated as the trustees the members of the Heppner relief committee. The gentiemen named accepted the trust. Since then they have made one dona-tion, giving $200 to the sinferers from the Cheswick (Pa.) mine disaster. With this exception the balance re-ported by them to the mayor last August remains intact and has bedri Increased by the interest which has accrued.

Members of the board express the be-lief that the effort to divert a part of the money in their hands to help pay the express of the Fourth of July cele-will not meet with the analysis of the streets when he pitched forward and fell. bration given on the carnival grounds will not meet with popular approval. They say that it is their obvious duty to use the money only for the purpose for which the fund was created-the relief of suffering where some public relief of suffering where some public calamity has occurred. A proposition was made by the carnival unanagement that the question should be submitted for arbitration to the four circuit judges, but this was declined by the trustees on the ground that they had no right to act in that manner and that they must adhere to their original decision usless directed by formal de-cree of court to pay the money over.
