

OREGON MEN DO BETTER SHOOTING

WASHINGTON MEN AT AMERICAN LAKE FAIL TO KEEP UP FIRST DATE RECORDS AND LOWER AVERAGES — THIRD REGIMENT HAS PROMINENT PART.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Murray, Wash., July 8. Headquarters maneuvers division, American lake.— Washington fell down several points in the target shoot this morning, the regulars finishing ahead. Oregon acquitted herself well on the 200-yard rapid-fire, tying the Washington score of 473 and defeating the army score of 451 at the 1,000-yard, one point below the Washington score. The score: 200-yard, slow-fire—Army, 460; Washington, 468; Oregon, 473. 500-yard, slow-fire—Army, 436; Washington, 434; Oregon, 435. 200-yard, rapid-fire—Army, 461; Washington, 473; Oregon, 473. 500 yards rapid-fire—Army, 338; Washington, 340; Oregon, 370. 800 yards—Army, 405; Washington, 415; Oregon, 387. 1,000 yards—Army, 298; Washington, 311; Oregon, 270.

Health of Camp.—Extraordinary precautions are being taken to preserve the health of the camp, and in this connection an experiment is being tried which, if proved successful to the surgeon general, will be adopted in army camps in all sections of the country. According to general orders No. 2, issued by Major H. K. Evans, adjutant general, by command of Brigadier-General Funston, all camp sinks are to be kept scrupulously clean. Each morning all refuse in the sinks is to be covered with a layer of sawdust over which crude petroleum is to be poured and then set ablaze. This, it is expected, will remove the danger from the pestiferous fly. All solid kitchen wastes must be immediately burned in the ranges and all liquid refuse is to be carried away daily in receptacles provided for the purpose and which must be scalded and washed with milk of lime. Clothing, blankets and bedding must be exposed daily to the sunlight in fair weather and each tent is to be aired every day. Commanders are ordered to make a daily inspection of their quarters and to report the sanitary condition.

Each company is commanded to keep on hand at least five guany sacks to extinguish fires. No officer or enlisted man is to be excused from drill or field exercises except by reason of illness or attention to camp detail. Officers are commanded to furnish any information sought by National Guard officers in order that they may make the proper reports to their respective states.

General Funston, who has formally taken up his duties here, made an inspection of Camps Stellacoom, where the first brigade of the Blues is stationed and Camp Nisqually, where the second brigade of Browns is located, and reported that conditions were satisfactory to him.

The various officers of the encampment have arrived, including the umpires who are to judge the field maneuvers.

Y. M. C. A. Establish Branch.—J. D. Brasinton, assistant secretary of the Portland Y. M. C. A., assisted by J. C. Clark of Corvallis, has established a branch Y. M. C. A. at Camp Nisqually. They have a comfortable tent where copies of the daily papers are kept on file and where the soldier boys will have opportunity to read and rest. Ping Pong and other forms of amusement are provided and these accommodations are certain to be well patronized. C. D. Wilcox, state secretary for Washington, will have charge of the branch at Camp Stellacoom. Religious services will also be held.

The Oregon battery of artillery is divided equally between the two camps and attached to the two batteries of light artillery of the regular army now here.

The Dallas, Tex., July 8.—Judge Henry McGinn perfected his appeal in the Norman Williams case this morning. Williams was tried for the murder of Alma Nesbitt and convicted of murder in the first degree at the May term of the court and sentenced to be hanged July 22. The appeal will doubtless cause a delay of execution.

FAIR PRESIDENT NOT YET CHOSEN

LEWIS AND CLARK CORPORATION DEFERS SELECTION OF CHIEF OFFICERS UNTIL NEXT WEEK — MORROW COUNTY FORMS A FURB CLUB FOR 1905 FAIR.

In the rooms of the Lewis & Clark Fair association a meeting of the directors was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, A. L. Mills presiding.

The most important matter for consideration was the selection of a president to succeed H. W. Scott, resigned, and it was decided to defer the selection until the meeting one week hence. Jefferson Myers, president of the Lewis and Clark state commission, has returned from Morrow county, where he has organized a permanent Morrow County Lewis and Clark club. The club was organized with nearly 300 members, all of whom are enthusiastic workers for Lewis and Clark fair interests.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Lewis and Clark Fraternal Building association was held last evening in the office of Secretary J. W. Thompson, with a full board present. Special committees on location and plans for the Temple of Fraternity were appointed. These will arrange for a meeting with the executive committee, which is composed of representatives of all of the fraternal organizations represented in the association, with a view to arranging for the sale of certificates of stock.

The matter of taking up the proposition of Manager Benson of the St. Louis Fraternal hotel with regard to erecting such a hotel in connection with the Lewis and Clark temple of Fraternity, was not considered, but will be taken up at an adjourned meeting Thursday evening.

In such respects as Oregon is behind the times—and some people say it is so—it should get a forward and lively move on.

SHORT SESSION OF THE CONVENTION

convention then adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

Parker of New York will be nominated for president by the Democratic national convention either tonight or tomorrow morning. At the session which begins at 8 o'clock tonight the platform signed by every member of the resolutions committee, including Hill and Bryan, will be reported and adopted.

It will neither repudiate nor reaffirm any former principle of the Democratic party. The money question will not be mentioned, and there will be a tariff revision plank and a strong anti-trust plank.

Bryan will not belt the ticket. In fact, it will not be surprising if he announces to the convention that he will support it.

Bryan went to the Jefferson hotel this afternoon when the platform committee adjourned, and after a hearty meal lay down to recuperate for the night session.

The anti-trust plank was the subject of a conference at once went into a conference to take the lead on the floor in an effort to defeat Parker by either making a nomination or a speech. They said his matchless oratory might yet stampede the convention.

Bryan himself answered an inquiry by saying that he was not certain what course he would pursue, as he did not wish to appear exultant at the outcome of the fight in the committee, but his friends answered for him that Bryan had won a great victory and that he appreciated it.

Bryan's Platform.—For the Scripps News association Bryan briefly analyzed the platform as follows by declaring that there are four great planks on the trust, tariff, labor and imperialism. He is pleased with all of them, and it is known that his opinion is that Hill will be unable to be recognized in the platform.

"The tariff plank is good," said the Nebraskan.

"It is a fact that it could hardly be improved upon. It denounces protection as the robber of the masses, and a gradual reduction in the tariff schedule is provided.

"The labor plank has a government by injunction clause, and the anti-trust plank is stronger than even Bryan expected. It calls for the enforcement of criminal laws against the trusts and deals with rebates."

Bryan regrets that he gave up the money plank, but his friends have taken up the slogan that the old money plank still stands in effect as the party's declaration.

SNAG BOAT ON WILLAMETTE WORK

MATHLOMA STARTS ON ANNUAL TRIP UP WILLAMETTE AFTER CLEARING OUT LOCAL HARBOR—WILL OPEN THE CHANNEL TO COBYVILLE.

The United States government snagboat Mathloma left this afternoon for her annual cruise up the Willamette. She made her first trip of the season this morning when she picked up several snags around Portland harbor. She is now in command of Captain Sess and will work south probably as far as Corvallis. She will be gone between three and six months.

The Mathloma was built in Portland for the government service in 1894. She is 135 feet long by 23 feet beam and draws about 27 inches of water. She was originally intended to make a trip every year and did so until 1902, when the lack of an appropriation kept her idle. She carries about 14 men.

The process by which the Mathloma performs her work is a simple one. She is run down to the head of the snag, and a chain is passed around it. Then by means of a derrick and donkey engine the snag is lifted out of the water and sawed into convenient lengths, the pieces are laid on the dock, and after the operations are completed or when she gets a load, a landing is made and the logs thrown out upon the shore.
