LEE BROTHERS' HERD ATTACKED DURING NIGHT ON BALDY MOUNTAIN—200 SHOTS—KILLERS HIDE BUT IS THOUGHT TO BE—POSSIBLE SHOOTING.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Baker City, Or., July 15.—About 10 o'clock last night five or six masked men crept up to the sheep camp of Lee Brothers on Baldy mountain, about 15 miles south of here, and commenced shooting at the band of sheep. As many as 200 rounds were fired by the herder returned the fire from behind a tree in the direction of the flashes of light from the marauders. When his ammunition gave out and he could not find no more in the dark, he made for town and gave the alarm at 3 o'clock this morning. Lee Brothers have sent a posse to the camp to ascertain the amount of the damage, and find the perpetrators if possible.

KRUGER'S BODY WILL REST IN TRANSVAAL

A decided tone of kindness for Kruger marks the editorial utterances of all the newspapers today, his greatness being universally admitted and caustic criticism not shown.

VALLEY FARMERS ARE REJOICING

WILLAMETTE REGION BLESSED WITH GOOD RAIN DURING PAST 24 HOURS AND GOOD CROPS ARE ASSURED—MORE WATER MAY FALL.

Willamette farmers are smiling gleefully today, the drought which started July 2 having been broken by from a fourth to one-half inch of rainfall throughout the entire valley during the past 24 hours, according to the statement given out today by Acting District Forecaster A. B. Wollaber of the weather department. "These rains are of inestimable value to the crops of western Oregon and eastern Washington, in which district most of the rain fell," said Forecaster Wollaber. "In fact, the rain of yesterday night and today assures good crops."

"I have also received notice that the rains have fallen in eastern Oregon, eastern Washington, and northern California, although to tell the truth, the harvest in that section is so well along that the rain will not greatly benefit. But in eastern Washington and most of eastern Oregon the crop already made was a little better than the history of the inland Empire section. "As for southern Oregon, that section beat us out a little in the rain, they having had good showers early in the week and during the latter part of last week. In central Oregon there has been more or less rainfall, and even cloudbursts, during the past week. "The forecasts for today predict more showers for tonight throughout the entire northwestern states. Excepting in southern Oregon, the weather will be cooler. For tomorrow cloudy weather is predicted, to be succeeded by clearing weather during the progress of the day, and rising temperature. "From advices received by us, the wheatgrower, the horticulturist and the stockgrower of this whole country have received an affirmative answer to their wishes of the past month, and for a time at least will have absolutely no cause for complaint. The rain came just at the right time."

RAIN IS WELCOMED

Clackamas County Farmers Jubilant—Biverson Much Pleased. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, July 15.—Rain probably was never so thankfully received by Clackamas county farmers as that which started to fall yesterday morning. After six weeks of no rainfall, old Oregonians began to think that the rain, that is usually so plentiful in Oregon about the Fourth of July, had stopped to go to the other side of the world. It was needed bad and will do something to make the crops grow, but in some sections it came too late and the crops have already been burnt up. The frost of night before last is probably responsible for the rain, as it made the conditions just right in the atmosphere to bring on a rainfall. The rain is not only acceptable to the farmers, but the rivermen are glad that it has arrived, as it gives a deeper channel for their boats to run in. A slight rain in the upper valley at this time of year will raise the river a little and keep it up so that the steamers can navigate the shallow waters. The owners of the manufacturing plants who make use of the water for driving their machinery, are glad to see the rain, as one-tenth of an inch means much to them. As they depend on the river to turn the wheels in the mills, every indication of rain at this time of year is watched and river elevations are paid as much attention to as the number of pounds a steam engine carries that is being driven at a high rate of speed. The paper company received respectively weather and river conditions as far south as Eugene, and they are able to tell about the running of their mills in case of low water. This system is necessary as a shut-down for lack of water would mean a serious loss. At the Chautauqua assembly in Gladstone Park the rain was not greeted with enthusiasm. It was upon upon the intruder, and as a result there is much sneezing in the tents. Colds do not daunt the veteran Chautauquan, and they put on shawls and attend the lectures in spite of the weather.

REPAIRING RAIN FALLS

Vast Amount of Good Done by Showers Throughout Valley. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, July 15.—A refreshing rain fell here all of yesterday afternoon and last night, and the indications are that it will continue for several days, thus effectively breaking the drought conditions that threatened this part of the Willamette valley. The rain was general throughout the valley and reports from the lines of the Corvallis & Eastern road, to the east and east of this city, shows that the rain zone extends from the summit of the Cascade mountains to the coast, a gentle shower falling at Newport, west of the coast range yesterday. The rain has done a vast amount of good and late crops will be greatly benefited by the grateful downpour. Hops especially are much refreshed. They were not suffering much where proper attention was given, but they are with the present precipitation the crop will make rapid progress. Farmers are jubilant over the present outlook.

FRANCE PRATTLE SECTION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Gervais, Or., July 15.—After three months of dry weather and drought, rain has fallen in ample quantities throughout the French Prairie section. It was a thorough soaking and will do much good to hops and potatoes, which are the two leading crops. It will also be of great benefit to spring grain. Haying is about over and farmers are very happy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) DIG MINING DEAL IS CONSOLIDATED

GEISER-HENDRYX INVESTMENT COMPANY LEASES ALL PROPERTIES OF THE GOLCONDA, LOCATED AT SUMPTER—VIRTUALLY AMOUNTS TO SALE.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., July 15.—The biggest mining deal in this part of the country in years took place here yesterday when all the property of the Golconda Mining company, located at Sumpter, was leased to the Geiser-Hendryx Investment company for one year. The lease virtually amounts to a sale, as the purchasing company has an option on the stock. The present arrangement was made in order to gather in more stock. Under the terms of the lease the mines are to be opened immediately and 20-stamp mill at the mine that has been shut down for a month will resume operations. Everything will be in full swing by Monday. The stockholders will receive one-half of the profits accruing from operating the mines. The property includes five placer claims and valuable timber lands. About 900 stockholders are scattered all over the country. The Geiser-Hendryx company owns the famous Taylor mine, having the biggest output in the Blue mountains. Speculation in the Golconda property was said to have caused the financial ruin of C. R. Watson, cashier of the First National bank of Pendleton, but this proved to be without foundation. The Golconda company is a $3,000,000 corporation.

ATTORNEY'S FEE IS $233 A MINUTE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, July 15.—Few men earn money much faster than did H. E. Eaton, a Seattle attorney, who received $233 a minute for half an hour's labor, or $7,000 for the 30 minutes, just for carrying out the formal process of probating the estate of an intestate woman without heirs, the escheating process to the county. The probating process should have been carried out by the prosecuting attorney without cost to the county, and for that reason the attention of the public has been forcefully called to the remarkable fee drawing ability of Eaton. Recently Nellie Lawton died without children or relatives to inherit a fine piece of property on Yale way, on which was one of the oldest houses in Seattle, a landmark in the vicinity. Under the law such estates revert to the county. To look after the property and see that the escheating process was executed in legal form Eaton was employed by the county commissioners, who contracted with him to pay him half the value of the property for his services—the law being his work. The property sold for $14,000. An explanation is demanded of the county commissioners, for lawyers declare it was the duty of the prosecuting attorney to look after the property, and the prosecuting attorney himself admits it.

WAITING FOR WORD

(Continued from Page One.) closed town and the end of public gambling in that city. In the municipal court this morning James McDevitt, charged with setting up and operating a gambling house, was fined $100 on each charge, as was also F. B. Carson, who was charged with like offenses. W. E. Brown, charged with dealing at a game of faro, was fined $50. Flanagan and W. Romano, visitors, were fined $25. Mr. Murphy immediately appealed the cases to the circuit court. Sergeant Carpenter, who made the raid on the Orpheum game last Monday night, testified as to the taking of the faro layout and the arrest of those in the room. Mr. Murphy did not introduce any testimony except that of W. Romano, whom he thought should not be heavily fined, being merely a visitor. After the state and defense rested their cases, Judge Hogue asked Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald if he had any suggestions to make regarding fines, and Mr. Fitzgerald said he thought Mr. McDevitt and Mr. Carson should be fined not less than $100 on each charge. "I want to give Mr. Manning ample time to get in the president's hands, but I will not wait longer than this week," said Attorney Murphy. "If he does not act this week, I will begin impeachment proceedings against him in the circuit court Monday, and mean business in this matter and I will not tolerate long delays." District Attorney Manning has not filed any information in the circuit court as yet, although complaints were laid before him regarding the Portland Club and August Erickson's establishments Wednesday night by witnesses brought by Attorney Murphy. Mr. Manning stated yesterday that he would issue informations and prosecute in all cases where complaints were lodged against gamblers.

DECLINES THE OFFER

(Continued from Page One.) other grievances you may think you have; we to have like privileges, and we to abide by the decision of the arbitrators. We will retain all now at work and will re-employ all the men now out as fast as possible, giving preference in the order of application, at the wages received when going on strike, pending the decision of the arbitrators."

The note was signed by Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson, Morris & Co., Schwarzhild & Sulzberger, the National Packing company, Cudahy Packing company and Libby, McNeill & Libby. After the receipt of Donnelly's reply the packers went into executive session to consider his statement, but soon adjourned until late in the afternoon. The strikers took up active work and tentative orders were issued to the stationary framers to quit work tomorrow, which will cause much difficulty in keeping the cooling plants in operation. Good order prevails throughout the yards, although the arrival of small bodies of strikebreakers is frequent. The packers claim to have 5,000 men at work, and claim that they will be independently situated in a few days. Arthur Mosker, general superintendent of the wagon head office, attempted to kill a steer this morning, but failed to hit a sufficient blow. The animal charged, scattering Mosker and the helpers, but was finally killed. Killings continued in all the plants on a moderate scale, the companies claiming that lack of shipments is the only reason that it is not heavier. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the packers went into a conference at the downtown office of Swift. Just before entering prominent members said: "Another week without settlement and our strike will be lost to the unions." Action is to be taken at this meeting as to the finality of the packers' position, dependent upon which is the outcome of the great strike.

SERIOUS TROUBLE

Sheriff Declines to Escort Men at St. Paul. (Journal Special Service.) St. Paul, July 15.—Serious trouble is today feared at the Swift packing plant, where 800 strikers are lined up. This morning the gates of the plant were closed for fear, claiming that they were doing slaughtering. The sheriff declined to escort the office men, fearing a riot. Finding no other course open, the manager applied to the governor's office for militia. Then Mayor L. J. of South St. Paul at the head of the office force, broke through the lines. No open violence was offered, but the resistance was so determined that the mayor finally desisted and the office force withdrew. A big squad of extra police has been sent to the plants, but the men remain quiet and do not linger close to the packing house entrance, contenting themselves with picketing the streets a block away. No threats have been made against property and the governor therefore will probably not comply with the request of the managers of the plant and order out the troops. The strikers insist that there will be no violence shown, but firmly demand that no men shall be employed in their places until all attempts at arbitration have failed.

PACKERS RESUME KILLING

(Journal Special Service.) Kansas City, July 15.—All but two packing companies are killing today. Armour put on 300 new men and Swift more than 100. Both companies declare they can get all the men they want. Armour started 2,700 cattle today, Swift 1,000 hogs, the National plant 1,000 hogs, and Cudahy 800. Peace continued in the packing district and meat prices are stationary.

OMAHA CONTINUES QUIET

(Journal Special Service.) Omaha, July 15.—Little was done at the packing plants today and but few strike-breakers were smuggled in. The best order is maintained.

ROOSEVELT TO MEET MINERS' COMMITTEE

(Journal Special Service.) Oyster Bay, L. I., July 15.—Replying to a telegram received from D. J. Davis, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., on behalf of the miners, looking to the arrangement for a meeting between President Roosevelt and a committee from the miners' organization that desires to present a petition to place in the president's hands, Secretary Loeb advised Davis that the president would be pleased to meet the committee either this afternoon or tomorrow. Secretary Loeb this afternoon received a telegram from Wilkesbarre informing him that the miners' organization will hold a meeting Sunday at Scranton to receive the report of the delegates who discuss the unsuccessful attempt to see the president last Tuesday. At that meeting the president's willingness to receive a new delegation will be laid before the miners and a date decided upon.
