For battering down a door leading to a room of the Eagle house, 82 north Second street, last night, P. Pearson was arrested by Policemen Daly and Burke on complaint of the proprietor, Jesse Bolton. Pearson was taken to the city jail, where he was booked on a charge of disorderly conduct. He will have a hearing in the municipal court tomorrow. Pearson claimed to have some articles belonging to him in the room. It is said, and started to take them. He had been refused permission to enter, and is said to have taken matters into his own hands and began battering down the door when the officers put a stop to it by arresting him.

Probably some of the finest cherries ever brought into the city were left at the Journal office yesterday afternoon by T. V. Sluman. The cherries were grown at Mr. Sluman's nursery on Mt. Tabor, virtually within the city of Portland, and specimens of them measured as much as 3 1/2 inches in circumference. They were of the variety known as the Lambert and were of a rich, dark red color and delicious flavor. It would seem that Mt. Tabor, not being content with putting out the finest strawberries in the world, must needs grow the best cherries in the world also.

The same rain that did the farmers so much good spoiled also the hopes of the local newsboys for an excursion on the river. The boys have been looking forward to the excursion ever since Captain Spencer donated his craft for the day. Once before their hopes were rudely shaken, when the steamer Charles R. Spencer went aground on the Columbia a few days ago; but the captain soon set them right again when he promised to charter a steamer at his own expense and take them on the proposed trip. The excursion has now been indefinitely postponed.

Martin M. Reynolds, a subject for the insanity commission, was brought to the county jail yesterday afternoon by R. D. Love, a farmer, who reported that Reynolds had been living with his son in a cabin on the river and that they had driven him away in a destitute condition. Reynolds is possessed of the idea that Indians are pursuing him, and on the way to the city he insisted that the buggy was full of Indians.

The Dalles promises to become as celebrated for tomatoes as is Jackson county for apples and Hood river for strawberries. The Dalles tomato is already on the local market, and is competing with the California tomato. It is said that the Dalles tomato excels all others for size and flavor, and the industry is now gaining a start in that locality. A canning factory has been started.

Judge Sears of the state circuit court will render his decision Monday morning in the contested divorce suit of Maggie Hull vs. Philip Hull, which occupied several days in this court and has been the only contested case of the down side and flavor, and the industry is now gaining a start in that locality. A canning factory has been started.

PORTLAND MAGAZINE HAS WIDE FIELD

JOHN E. LATHROP.

John E. Lathrop, editor of the Pacific Northwest; R. L. Darrow, manager for the John Deere Plow Co. for the northwest, and John W. Cook, connected with the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., have incorporated the Pacific Northwest Publishing company, the capital stock of which is $5,000. The officers of the company are John E. Lathrop, president; John W. Cook, vice-president; R. L. Darrow, secretary; J. Thornburn Ross, treasurer. The first three are the directors.

The incorporation papers, filed in Salem and with the county clerk here, state that the objects of the corporation are to do a general publishing business. Mr. Lathrop said:

"The Northwest Publishing company is designed to take over the property of the Pacific Northwest, a monthly magazine which was established a year ago by Philip R. Bates, and of which I acquired a half ownership last January. Mr. Bates owns and publishes a semi-monthly, the Pacific Miner, which now requires all his time. The Pacific Northwest, besides its extensive circulation throughout this region, is to be given wide circulation in states east of here whence come Oregon's immigrants. Arrangements number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties were present. Allan Davis was best man and the bride was attended by Miss Elsie Herrick. Little Louella Herrick was flower girl. A banquet followed the ceremony.

The store noted for the best goods and lowest prices. The undermuslin department proves the chief attraction, putting forth sound argument in the way of astonishingly big reductions in goods. Ladies' "Deans" undermuslins are the head liners. The quality is undeniably the best and all the goods richly finished; trimmed in laces, insertions, tucked and ruffled.

Not only are there unheard-of bargains in this one department, but in all. Special values are offered in table linens, toweling, sheets, pillow cases, feather pillows, blankets, quilts, curtains and napkins. Buying now insures a saving that cannot be realized when these goods are probably needed and a household necessity.

Extra specials are offered in the following: 36 inch curtains, Swiss, 10 cents reduced to 7 cents; 28 inch extra fine curtain, Swiss, richly designed in floral effects, 15 cent values for 11 cents. The special prices, too, into the men's goods where the firm offers $1 Mount Hood soft golf shirts for just one-half price—50 cents, the $1.50 grades for 65 cents and the $2 grade for $1.

Commences tomorrow morning and continues throughout the week.
