

BROWNS AND TIGERS ENGAGE IN LAST SERIES OF SEASON

FOR THE HORSEMEN

RACING MEN FROM ALL PARTS
FLOCKING TO THE FAVORITE
RACE TRACK—MANY RICH
STAKES HAVE BEEN RUNG—
HIGGINS' GAMENESS.

(By Manhattan.)
New York, July 10.—Saratoga is the Mecca for eastern horsemen now and the season has begun. Although it will be a little more than two weeks before the meeting there begins already some of the most important strings in training have been shipped to the Spa and others will follow next week.
Some of the richest prizes ever hung up for American thoroughbreds will mark this meeting. The Saratoga handicap will be the star event for all aged horses; the first running of the Great Republic marks the beginning of the richest race for 3-year-olds ever run in the east and with the World's fair handicap out, the richest ever run in the country. While the Saratoga stakes, which this year is valued at $40,000, is the most valuable stake ever contested for in this country.
Among the stables already shipped to Saratoga was that of John E. Madden. There were 25 head in the shipment, including the Waldock and Boston stable horses. The Madden horses are generally out much of a flourish there.
Carroll Reid and Frank Lightfoot have shipped the Waldock and Boston stable horses. The Madden horses are generally out much of a flourish there.
Fred Burlew has shipped the Benington and Lorillard horses. Waterside will be left here to fill his Brighton engagements, including the $15,000 Brighton Junior, the Sunshine and Neptune stakes.
Mr. Remington also sent Bedlam to Saratoga with the other horses and will bring her back for the Brighton Oaks the last day of the meeting. He believes that the Saratoga air and water will be of advantage to the great 2-year-old filly. Then, too, she will be under Burlew's personal care.
J. W. Rogers went up with the Whitney Duryea string. Irish Lad was among the number, but he is still very lame, although Dr. Shepard says "He will get over it."
This good horse had been lame for quite a long time and his owners were minded to send him to the stud. Dr. Shepard said: "If he were fired he would be a good race horse again this year." Rogers, too, favored the doctor's view. "If he is not cured," he said, "I will fire him around the corner. The intense strain of the race and the hard going caused him to sore up again; but as the doctor says, he will come out of it."

Irish Lad May Not Run.
The Whitney and Duryea folk have no great hope of getting Irish Lad to the post in the Saratoga handicap, but they are not without some of winning that rich and important race. They think that they may have better than a fair chance with Goffie. Unless something goes wrong with Mr. Rogers' hopes to have her in such shape on Saratoga Handicap day that she can run a mile in 1:38 or thereabouts. She will get her preparation at the Springs.
On Monday the horses of James R. Keene and Walter Jennings will be shipped to Saratoga. There will be three cars in the shipment.
The breaking down of Higginbald and the necessity for shooting the American Derby winner caused sincere grief among horsemen. He was a grand horse, in the opinion of many, the best 3-year-old in America. The gameness of the horse was shown in an incident which occurred after his leg was broken.
While waiting for the wagon to come to remove him the fifth race was run. His handlers were holding Higginbald, with his face headed up the stretch, and he was standing by the last quarter pole, just inside the inner rail. As the horses came dashing down the stretch toward him, Higginbald wheeled like a flash and, with one leg broken, attempted to make for the finish line. Of course, his handlers held him in check before he had taken two bounds, but his action showed his gameness to the very end. It has been said the leg might have been patched up and the horse sent to the stud. Mr. Schell, his owner, said:
"It is very true I might have saved Higginbald for stud duty. Other thoroughbreds who have been injured in accidents have been patched up and sent to the stud. But after that splendid racehorse has done what he has for me, why should I ask him to lead a life of prolonged suffering?"

OFF ON FISHING TRIP.
F. O. Downing and Calvin Heilig left this morning for a fishing trip to Lake Crescent, Washington. Both gentlemen are expert fishermen, and judging from the size of the baskets they carried, few fish will remain in Crescent lake after Mr. Downing and Mr. Heilig return.

FIGHTERS TO MEET ON HUDSON RIVER

NEW YORK BOXING PROMOTERS
SEEK TO EVASD LAW BY PULLING
OFF BOUTS ON THE WATER—
McGOVERN AND NEIL IN LINE
NEXT.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, July 10.—Local followers of the nation game will have plenty to talk about within the next two months, as there are a number of schemes to keep the sport popular. One which is attracting a good deal of attention is the project of Sam Fitzpatrick to give weekly boxing bouts on the water in conjunction with an outing such as are held most every day by political and social organizations in greater New York. Fitzpatrick's plan is to charter a large fireproof steamer and have the contests decided on board within the three mile limit. Fitzpatrick has consulted expert legal authorities, who have assured him that he need not be afraid of any interference. If Fitzpatrick's venture succeeds, and there is every reason to believe it will, local devotees of the manly art will be in clover, for they will have a chance to see scraps in the old orthodox way, without being compelled to travel from one spot to another like fugitives from justice.
The last time that a venture of this nature was tried on the local sports was when John Flood and John L. Sullivan met in their fight on a barge on the Hudson river in 1881. Those who were fortunate enough to witness this contest say that the conditions under which the encounter was fought were considerably better than in some of the goes which held the boards during the much lamented Horton law days.

Neil and McGovern.
Frankie Neil of California, whose ability to punch has landed him the bantam title, will have an opportunity to give his power a fine test when he faces Hughie McGovern at Chicago this month. The boys are to meet only for six rounds, but for little fellows this is a fair journey to decide their relative boxing ability. McGovern, like his brother Terry, has a stiff punch. He can knock an opponent out with either hand. He is as aggressive as the "extremist" and some critics think he is Terry's superior in cleverness. Like his noted brother his rise was meteoric. He has only been prominently before the public two years, but in that time he has demonstrated his right to be taken seriously. Most of his boxing was done at Philadelphia in six round bouts. Once in a while he has been called upon to travel a little further. He is fast, heady and very game. But the question remains—can he avoid Neil's heavy solar plexus punch? This blow has been the downfall of most of Neil's opponents, and is a hard smash to get away from. Neil has landed it on clever and more seasoned pugilists than young McGovern, and is confident that it will stand him in good stead when he tackles Hughie. If Neil defeats McGovern he will not be allowed to rest. There are plenty of bantams hereabouts willing to exchange jolts with him. Neil says he will go through the list, and if successful will visit England and have it out with the much touted Jim Bowker, England's bantam champion.

GOOD GAME AT THE DALLIES.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS IN FORCE

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—About 800 delegates to the 44th biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians attended solemn pontifical mass in St. Patrick's church this morning. Archbishop Glennon being the celebrant. This afternoon the convention held its opening session in the Grand Music hall, and the ladies' auxiliary of the order also began its convention.
The roll call developed the fact that for the first time in the history of the organization every state in the union is represented at the national convention. The reports of the several officers show that the order since its last convention was held has had a constant growth, Massachusetts leading as usual. Many new divisions have been

LACROSSE TEAM TO PLAY AT SEATTLE

Final arrangements were completed today so that the Portland Lacrosse team visits Seattle on Sunday, the 24th, to play the return match of that club. Since George Oddy has taken hold of the team, and with the new players who have just been added, the boys expect to capture the match at Seattle. Certainly they will put up a hard game. Their practice, at the ball grounds on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons are drawing quite a crowd of onlookers, as well as many would-be players.
It will not be very long before Portland will have a junior Lacrosse club; the youngsters dropping baseball and playing Lacrosse. It is amusing to watch their first efforts.

formed, and the work of the members has been productive of most gratifying results, so that the order today is in the most flourishing condition that it has been in for years.
Among the important works carried out since the last convention was the waging of a determined war on the offensive caricatures of Irish people known as the "stage Irishman." It has been productive of good results and is still being kept up. The order, too, has given valuable aid in promoting the study of the Irish language. In line with its presentation of $50,000 to the Catholic university in 1895 for a chair of Gaelic in that institution was the gift made a short time ago of $2,000 to be expended in districts of Ireland where Gaelic is still spoken.

ATLANTIC CITY HORSE SHOW.

(Journal Special Service.)
Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—Boating and bathing and even the pleasures of promenade on the boardwalk were largely abandoned today, while society and the resorters in general flocked to Inlet Park for the opening of the sixth annual exhibition of the Atlantic City Horse Show association. To use a hackneyed expression, the show this year surpasses all of its predecessors. This is especially true as regard the entries in a large number of classes, including the tandem, four-in-hands and saddle teams. The show will continue until the end of the week.

FOLLY AND BARRY TO FIGHT.

The superior court has issued a temporary injunction preventing the payment of warrants amounting to $7,000, issued to Eaton as his half of the Nellie Lawton estate, work in connection with which occupied Eaton just half an hour. The hearing for a permanent injunction will be held this week.

COURAGING MEN TO ORGANIZE TONIGHT

The gentlemen in this city who are interested in couraging will meet this evening at Dr. Tucker's office on the fourth floor of the Marquam building, for the purpose of organizing a club and electing officers. There is considerable interest in couraging in this city at present, and in order to get the affair in tangible form, an organization will be effected this evening. Local dog fanciers cannot see why couraging cannot flourish here as well as in other places, and with that end in view will do everything possible to get the club in running order. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

TO PLAY CRICKET THIS EVENING.

The Portland Cricket club has organized two cricket teams and a match game will be played at the ball grounds at Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets this evening, commencing at 6 o'clock sharp. The teams will be chosen from among the following players: Benedicts—Lawrence, Smith, Mallett, Harder, Fenwick, Kingsley, Crocker, Henderson, Kennedy, Dakys, Laughton, Carlyle, Pettullo, Hastings and Nicholson. Bachelors—Jones, Rae, Smith, Greig, Bruce, Cleland, Gray, Thorder, Reyle, Monteth, McCormack and Dixon.

TWO UMPIRES TODAY.

Portland is to be initiated into the double umpire system this week, when Messrs. Jack O'Connell and Jim McDonald, knights (not nights) of the indicator, will act as a joint commission to decide on the relative merits of each play.
Bradley will play third for Portland this afternoon and Campbell will play second, as Castro, is reported to be ill. Tommy Sheehan, the crack little third baseman of the Fishermen, is with the Tigers this trip. Sheehan was sick the last time Tacoma was here.

All of Sunny Jim's correspondence is handled at 75 Underwood Typewriters.

A New Comer.

The most recent valuable addition to the Portland commercial world is the Underwood Typewriter—a world's winning, high-grade machine, one that embodies all that is good in the old-time "blind," or "up-side-down" writing machines, and at the same time has none of the objectionable features so annoying to operators. The Underwood is equipped with a tabulator without extra cost. The agency is located temporarily at No. 65 Front street, and is in charge of competent, experienced typewriter men.

VISITING OARSMEN HAVE HARD LUCK

So far luck has favored the Portland crews toward the coming regatta to be held in this city July 21 and 22. Not long ago the Victoria crew was washed against the side of a large vessel, staying in the side of their boat and putting them back several days in their training, and yesterday the Vancouver crew, while taking their first trial spin on the Willamette, ran foul of a dolphin a little above the Madison-street bridge and knocked their bow into kindling-wood as far back as the first seat. This was genuine hard luck, and the Vancouver lads were disconsolate until the generous-hearted sailors of the local organization came to the front and offered to loan the unfortunate one of theirs. The offer was gladly accepted and the visitors will race as though nothing had happened.

But now has fierce rivalry sprung up in the hearts of the two rival junior crews which the Portland Rowing club is going to enter in the junior four-oared event. The rowing club has only three shells, one of which is of paper. It has loaned one of its best ones to Vancouver, and now the babies will have to fight it out to see which is going to use the paper shell. A race will probably be arranged between them for tonight, and the winning crew will have its choice of boats.

All of the men entered by the local club are in the pink of condition, and are now doing light work preparatory to the big event. Last night Coach Percy Stowell, armed with a megaphone, a gasoline launch and a small cannon, flitted around the crews, working them on starts and sprints and giving them final advice.

SOUTH DAKOTA TENNIS.

(Journal Special Service.)
Sioux Falls, S. D., July 10.—The second annual tournament of the South Dakota State Tennis association, which began here today, promises to be a highly successful event. A. N. Hoffman of Parkersburg, the present state champion, is on hand to defend his title. The other contestants include the crack players from Brookings, Huron, Madison, Mitchell, Salem and other cities and towns throughout the state.

PORTLAND, 3; SEDRO-WOOLEY, 2.

The Portland Browns played an exhibition game yesterday at Sedro-Wooley, which resulted in a score of 3 to 2 in favor of Dugdale's men.
Hastings pitched the first five innings for Portland and Thielman the last four. With two men out in the eighth, the bush leaguers scored two runs on a series of rank decisions by the umpire, who favored them at all stages. Castro was hit on the arm by a pitched ball and will be out of the game for a few days.

Y. M. C. A. DEFEATS OREGON CITY.

The Y. M. C. A. team of Portland defeated the Oregon City team in yesterday's game of the Chautauqua series, by the score of 14 to 8. This is the Y. M. C. A.'s third consecutive victory, and the boys are enthusiastic over their chances of winning the Chautauqua championship. Batteries—Y. M. C. A., Higginbotham and White; Oregon City, Gregory and Sues.

CANDIDATES ARE PROMISING LOT

THIRTY APPLICANTS FOR POSITIONS AS FIREMEN ARE EXAMINED AND ALL PASS TESTS RAPIDLY—BEST CLASS EVER TAKEN IN CHARGE BY COMMISSIONERS.

"That was one of the most active classes of applicants for positions on the fire department we have ever had," remarked Chief Campbell of the fire department after returning from McMepherson of the civil service commission had been giving the field tests to 30 young men.
The tests consisted of climbing the rope and the extension ladder, carrying the Babcock extinguisher, dropping into the net and running the 80-yard dash. Leo B. Ward ran the 80 yards in 2:15 seconds, which is almost equal to 10:2-5 second for the 100 yards. O. B. Gabriel ran just one-fifth of a second slower and E. T. Rabot and H. H. Daret covered the distance in 3:4-5 seconds. The slowest man managed to run the distance in 11:4-5 second. Several hesitated when it came their turn to take the leap into the net, but all took the test.
Secretary McMepherson of the civil service commission stated that it was without doubt the best class ever examined in the city.

ARMY OFFICER
PRAISES MILITIA

Colonel Tucker, chief paymaster of the department of Columbia, returns from trip to American lake and says Oregon troops are well drilled.
"Oregon may feel justly proud of her troops," said Lieut.-Col. W. T. Tucker, chief paymaster department of the Columbia of the United States army, who has returned from American lake, where the monthly payment of the troops of the department took place. The payment of the troops under the supervision of Colonel Tucker, assisted by Major Reese and Frank R. Day, was accomplished in a surprisingly short space of time, less than two hours being consumed in the payment of any militia regiment.
"The sum of $25,000 was disbursed in the payment of these 1,800 men," said Colonel Tucker. The National Guard of Oregon received pay for 544 enlisted men and 57 officers. Oregon had the largest militia representation.
Colonel Tucker leaves in September for San Francisco, sailing October 1 for the Philippines, where he has been appointed chief paymaster of the division. This is a distinct honor for Colonel Tucker.
"I am very much pleased over my promotion," says Colonel Tucker. "I will now be in command of a division instead of a department. I shall leave for San Francisco some time in August, but I can't tell exactly when."
