

SEES LAUREL SHINE FOR ROOSEVELT

JUDGE CAREY RETURNS FROM ATTENDING BOTH NATIONAL CONVENTIONS, AND WELLS ADMIRING PARKER'S STRENGTH SAYS REPUBLICAN SUCCESS IS SURE

Judge C. H. Carey, who was one of Oregon's delegates to the Republican national convention, returned last evening from the east, having protracted his trip so as to visit a number of eastern cities, including St. Louis, where he spent some time at the world's fair and also witnessed the exciting scenes attending the nomination of Judge Parker as the Democratic candidate for president. Judge Carey is confident of the election of Roosevelt, but at the same time he regards Parker as the strongest man whom the Democrats could have put forward. It is generally recognized in the east that Roosevelt will win without much trouble," said Judge Carey. "He will carry New York, for, although Parker is a popular man in the state, he will not have the cordial support of Tammany. The so-called doubtful states are, in my opinion, sure to go for Roosevelt. Indiana will be strongly Republican. There is no more doubt about Illinois than there is about Oregon. Connecticut is also safely Republican. Maryland and West Virginia may be doubtful, but I would not count on them to go to the Democrats. I have talked with men from both these states who are very confident that Roosevelt will carry them. So far as the western states are concerned there is not one beyond Missouri which will not go for Roosevelt.

"I attended both the national conventions and talked with many prominent men of both parties, and from various sections of the country. It is my impression that the Democrats put up the strongest man they could have named, for he has some influence in New York and is a very strong candidate mentioned would have had if nominated. But Parker is not likely to get the support of his party throughout the Union, and he will not run ahead of the party in any state. Parker's telegram helped him where he needed help—in New York state. It was a manly and courageous thing for him to do. Nevertheless, I look for an easy victory for Roosevelt. All that the Democrats can do this time is to get into a position for the campaign four years hence.

"I think the country is to be congratulated that both great parties have put up good men, and especially that the Democratic convention did not fall into the hands of the radicals. The best interests of the nation are subserved when the great political parties are nearly evenly balanced, so that whichever is in power will be on its good behavior and cautious to prevent errors in administration which might result in the country's defeat. The nomination of Parker will make the business interests of the country more confident, for Parker is known as a conservative man, and there will be no apprehension such as there would have been if a man like Hearst had secured the nomination."

HOOD RIVER TO HAVE NEW FLOURING MILL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., July 23.—Articles of incorporation for the Hood River Milling company were filed yesterday with T. W. Thompson of Forest Grove, G. J. Gessinger of Hood River and John F. Alpin of Cornelius as incorporators. A meeting of the stockholders of the milling company is called for Wednesday, July 27, in the city hall at Hood River, when a board of directors and officers of the corporation will be elected.

The capitalization of the company is placed at $20,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The business men of Hood River have subscribed for $2,000 of the stock, the remainder to be taken by the three incorporators. The capacity of the mill will be 100 barrels a day. Workmen will begin putting up the mill by August 1, and grinding is expected to begin by January 1, when the mill will be in full operation.

The O. R. & N. has granted track privileges, and a location has been secured from J. F. Bateholder. Motor force will be supplied by water power secured from reservoirs on the hill behind the city.

FALLING TREE KILLS A COQUILLE PIONEER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Coquille, Or., July 23.—Cyrus Metcalf, a well-known pioneer logger, was so severely crushed by a falling tree yesterday afternoon that he died within a few hours after the accident.

Metcalf was a quarter-blood Indian, but was one of the most respected men of this section and had been at times prominent in local affairs. Notwithstanding that his years were past those of middle life he was physically strong and worked in the woods a great portion of the time. He had felled the tree and started for the mill when it fell on him, tripping and was caught beneath the sweeper.

A MEASURE OF MERIT

Portland Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Portland. Is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Portland people.

That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Portland citizen.

G. H. Springmeyer, expressman, residing at 4016 First street, says: "Exposure to rough weather and the constant jarring of the wagon while I was riding brought on kidney trouble. My back ached almost constantly and the muscles controlling the bladder appeared weak and their action far too frequent. Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and I got a box at the Laue-Davis Drug company's store, corner of Yamhill and Third streets. The pain in my back was relieved and the kidney secretions became normal. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills brought about this result, and it is with pleasure that I recommend this effective preparation to others who are afflicted with kidney trouble."

SAENGERBUND GIVES HONOR TO PORTLAND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, July 23.—Portland was today unanimously chosen as the meeting-place for the next annual session of the North Pacific Saengerbund, and Portland carried away the lion's share in the election of officers.

Paul Weesinger of Portland was elected president; Fred Topken, of Portland, secretary, and Louis Dammach, of Portland, musical director.

After the election an ovation was given the Portland delegation, which numbers 150 singers. At the grand concert given in the Tacoma theatre last evening great credit was given the delegation for the excellence of its ensemble work as well as the individual merit of its soloists.

The forerunner's business session, at which the election took place, was largely routine in character, being principally given over to reports of officers covering the past year and the reading of letters of acknowledgment from those invited who could not attend.

KEEN SARCAASM FROM THE BENCH SAVES CHILD BY MERE ACCIDENT

In an opinion freighted with sarcasm Circuit Judge Sears denied the motion filed by Attorney J. H. Hitchings for an arrest of judgment in the case of Albert Gannon and Harry Volker. Judge Sears intimated that Hitchings did not know what he was talking about.

Both prisoners were brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Parrott. Attorney Hitchings was not present and Bailiff Hill was unable to locate him. The state was represented by Assistant District Attorney Moser.

"Counsel for the defendants has filed what he himself calls a motion in arrest of judgment in this case," said Judge Sears. "While counsel tried to argue that this complaint lacked something, he did not seem to know exactly what. Counsel for the defendants had much to say about the jurisdiction of the court. That point cannot be raised at this stage of proceedings.

"It is almost impossible to discover just what counsel did want, but it is certain no reason exists for discharging these defendants.

"It is claimed in the affidavit that the signature to the certificate is not that of Judge Hogus. No court can take cognizance of an attack on the records by affidavits, especially where the attacking person himself took the appeal. No errors have been pointed out and I will deny the motion."

The defendants were ordered to stand. Asked if they had any reasons why sentence should not be pronounced, they said they would rather their attorney was present when sentence was pronounced. The time of passing sentence was postponed to Monday.

WORKMEN DEFEAT LEVEL RATE ROLL

By a decisive majority the proposed change in the plan of insurance from what is termed the classified to the level rate was defeated at yesterday afternoon's session of the meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of the Oregon Jurisdiction. The new plan has been adopted in nearly every other state in the country.

The proposed change caused a contest in the local lodges in which personalities were indulged in and heated discussions occurred. The greater part of the present meeting has been devoted to discussions favoring and opposing the plan. When brought to a vote, it was defeated by a large majority.

This morning was devoted chiefly to the installation of the new officers who were elected yesterday. A number of routine matters were also transacted.

The question arose today whether the members were authorized to donate $1,000 towards the erection of a fraternal building at the Lewis and Clark fair. The discussion that followed was finally settled by the grand lodge officers who favored the donation of that amount of money.

This afternoon's session will likely conclude the present deliberations. The reports of the various officers show the order to be in excellent condition and to be growing rapidly. There were six new lodges organized during the year and there is a total membership of 3,698, including only those in good standing.

CONOR O'KELLY UNEXPECTED ARRIVAL OF CONOR O'KELLY

Conor O'Kelly, Irish member of parliament, arrived in the city this morning instead of this evening, as was anticipated by the local committee of entertainment. Mr. O'Kelly was driven to the Portland hotel, where this afternoon he received the Irish leaders of the city and went over the plans for tomorrow's meeting at the Columbia theatre, where in the evening he will deliver an address on "Home Rule and Irish Conditions."

GROUND TO PIECES BY SWITCH ENGINE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., July 23.—John Flynn, a sailor, employed as a porter at a saloon in Old Tacoma, was killed this morning by being run down by a switch engine on the Northern Pacific tracks. His body was terribly mangled and pieces of flesh were strewn along the track for several car lengths. The corner gathered the remains together in the dead man's hat.

REGAN FLOURISHER A BRIT

Late this afternoon Policemen Connor and Heinger arrested a man who gave the name of James Regan. He is charged with begging. He is said to have been soliciting alms from various people at Second and Burnside streets. He was refused by a gray-haired man, and drew a pocket knife in a threatening manner.

"FITZ" AND O'BRIEN FACE IN THE RING

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, July 23.—6 p. m.—The fight between Fitzsimmons and O'Brien was preceded by four preliminaries, one of which ended in a fight between the principals and the referee, in which the police interfered. When the big fellows shook hands at 5:33 o'clock there was a great throng of people, including 2,000 women, in the spectators' seats.

Second round—O'Brien had everything his own way and Fitz was breathing from the mouth when the gong rang.

REPORT ROOM ROBBERY.

A robbery that is puzzling the police was reported this morning by Nelson Davis, from Kelso, Wash., and Spencer A. Elmer, from Goldendale, Wash. The first-named lost $4 and the other $75 in the Lawton lodging-house in the north end district, last night. It was taken from their room while they were out. Detective Hartman is working on the case.

AT THE THEATRES

TONIGHT AT SHIELDS.

The greatest comic opera production ever seen here at popular prices is "Djavan" Up-to-date," which will be seen but three times more. Tonight, it will be presented at Shields' Park and tomorrow at a matinee and night performance at Cordray's theatre. Everybody is talking about it and the musical stock company has made its greatest hit in the present place. "Mancotte" will have its first presentation Monday night at the park.

AT THE BIJOU TONIGHT.

For light, catchy music, new songs and the newest dances, drop into the Bijou this evening. The California Clipper Comedy company, the funny four of vaudeville, have a laughable mimic troupe. Bence and Allen have dances never seen here before; William Schoen hangs head downward from the ceiling, trusting his life to a leather strap.

AMATEUR NIGHT.

"Amateur night" at the Arcades theatre last night provoked a world of fun, and the large attendance demonstrated the firm hold this novelty has gained upon the affections of the public. Today and tomorrow afford the last chances to see the wonderful comedy of Johnny Williams, the "so-o-o-o" man, who makes people laugh without giving any reason for it, and Baby-Owens, the child scene song artist, also has but two more days to play.

AT THE BAKER.

Tonight will be the last performance of the jolly comedy, "Betty," at the Baker. It has made hundreds laugh, and the clear cool weather is just right for attending the theatre. Tomorrow afternoon will be the first presentation of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which without doubt will be one of the season's big successes at the Baker.

AT THE STAR.

Today and tomorrow are the last days of the present excellent bill at the Star theatre. Jessie Bepko, the woman juggler, Dervin, the ventriloquist, and Robinson, the ludicrous dancer, are making a great hit. An artistic bit of acting is done by Innes and Herbert in a one-act sketch, "Lunatic," introducing a love scene from "Hamlet." Next week the Portland Italian band and an all-star bill.

CELEBRATE HOP MARKET.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chehalis, July 23.—Hops are strong at 20 cents in the Chehalis market. A few days ago John Dobson sold about 200 bales of his 1904 crop to Smith of Omaha, N. Y., at 20 cents, and this week Pincus & Sons of Tacoma bought the George Young crop at 20 cents. The growing crop is looking fine. Thus far no spraying has been done on account of the continued dry and hot weather having kept back the lice.

WILL BUILD NEW HOSPITAL.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, July 23.—This city is to have a new hospital. The building which is being erected by Dr. W. W. SUIT FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

EXECUTOR OF ESTATE OF LATE LARS ANDERSON SUES ON PROMISSORY NOTE — SOME QUESTION AS TO WHICH IS RECOGNIZED WILL IN LITIGATION.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, July 23.—Yesterday suit was filed in the circuit court by Fred Madison, an executor of the estate of the late Lars Anderson, against M. F. Freeman for $40 and interest at 8 per cent from July 23, 1891. This amount is alleged by the plaintiff to have been the principal of a promissory note that was executed to Anderson before his death by Freeman.

Madison has been named the executor of one of the wills of the late Lars Anderson, but as his estate is still in litigation, there is some question as to who is the real executor, and which is the recognized will.

Dr. W. E. Carl, who returned yesterday from American lake, where he went with the Third Oregon in his capacity of surgeon, has many interesting stories to tell of the experiences that the troops had in the field. Oregon City has fallen away from things military since company A was mustered out a year ago last winter, and Dr. Carl was the only representative that this city had at the encampment. Dr. Carl enjoyed the encampment immensely, and said that he spent his first night on the field in a blanket under a tree, much the same as he would be required of the men in actual warfare. Other hardships were experienced by the men, and they were soon hardened to the life in the field.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Anna Michaels and family wish to express their heartfelt thanks to the friends who gave so much of their aid and sympathy in the bereavement of their daughter and sister, Susie Michaels.

SMALL BOOTBLACK HAS MUCH TROUBLE

Little Jacob Fritz, a bootblack 12 years of age, went into the Fashion saloon, on North Fourth street, this afternoon, where he was arrested and taken to the police station. There he gave many excuses as to why he went into the place, and was given his liberty.

The father of the boy is a contractor residing at 659 Fifth street, and he will be called upon by the officers to give an explanation as to why he allows his boy to go upon the streets blacking shoes.

Recently Chief Hunt issued orders to his men not to allow boy bootblacks upon the streets, but since then he has relented and given permission for them to go upon the street, but positively refuses to allow them to go into saloons.
