SECOND SEASON OPENS TODAY

SECOND SEASON IS

POAST LEAGUE OPENS TODAY UN-DER AUSFICIOUS CONDITIONS— PORTLAND PLAYS WITH THE TI-GERS AT TACOMA-DOUBLE UM-PERE SYSTEM COMMENDED.

The second half of the season of 1904 of the Pacific Coast league opened this afternoon under the brightest auspices. The Portland Browns open at Tacoma with Fisher's pennant winners; Seattie at San Francisco with the Seals and Pete Lohman's warriors at Los Angeles with Mr. Morley's Angels. The first half was a success from a financial standpoint. Although Portland finished last, the closeness of the race is shown by the fact that there is only a difference of 194 points between the pennant winner and tail enger Portland finished with an average of .395, Tacoma with 590. The article of ball played is second to that of no minor organization in the country and excelled only by the National and American leagues. Portland fought hard in spite of the hard-sounding title of tailenders that will cling to her.

At the opening of last season Portland's chances looked rosy, but conditions that were hard to battle against. Sickness and accidents, put the Browns out of the running during the first three weeks of the race. A change of management and more favorable conditions raised Portland considerably in the race. Under Manager Dugdale the Browns percentage increased exactly 116 points. Beginning this afternoon Portland fans will look forward to a season of success. The pitching staff is in first-class form and most of the members of the nine are in shape for work.

While no third baseman has been secured as yet, it is likely that Steelman will be played on the third cushion. While shea will do the backstop work. The rest of the infield should do well, and the outfield cannot be improved very much at present.

This afternoon Butler is scheduled to pitch the opening game, and opposing him will be Keefe, Tacoma's steady young twirler. In the opening game of last season at France Butler opposed Keefe and the latter won his game by the score of 2 to i.. In 1903 Butler also pitched the opening game for Portland against the Seals at San Francisco, and lost it, Jimmy Whalen getting by the score of 2 to 1. In 1903 Butter aiso pitched the opening game for Port-land against the Seals at San Francisco, and lost it, Jimmy Whalen getting away with the coutest. Will Butter pull out his game today? Does a pitcher's misfortune come like the poet's pitcher's misfortune come like the poet's sorrows, in battallons?

Butler may rest assured that the local fans are pulling hard for him today, and if he wins his game, the standing of Portland will be the highest in its history. Of course Keefe is a hard man to beat, the Browns not getting to him yet this season, but according to the way the wind is wafting today, it is more than probable that victory will crown the Browns' first efforts.

The Browns left yesterday afternoon for Tacoma and arrived in time to share in the rousing reception tendered Mike Fisher's men.

Umptres Jack O'Connell and Jim Me-appreciate the return of both officials for the games to be played in Port-land.

Now that the season is on let the fans keep up their good work and stand as loyally by the Browns as they have done in the past. Millions to farthings that Portland will finish in the first di-vision at the close of hostilities this

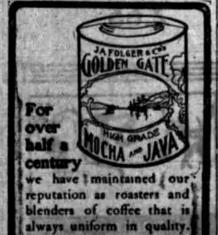

The two seasons scheme, from all ac-counts, has been approved by the fans throughout the different cities and the throughout the different cities and the managers of the different clubs. On account of the great length of former seasons, the idea was suggested by Max Fielschner of this city before retiring from baseball to divide the season, the first to extend from March 24 to July 24, the second to run from July 26 to November 27. The make is an excellent 24, the second to run from July 26 to November 27. The move is an excellent one and possesses good qualities. The scheme of Mr. Fleischner's was taken up by the league officials and after considerable debate it was adopted unanimously. The tans all regret that Mr. Fleischner is not participating in baseball this year, because he might spring a few more good ideas that could be useful.

FAST TIME MADE AT GRAND OPENING

for Tacoma and arrived in time to share in the rousing reception tendered Mike Fisher's men.

Umpires Jack O'Connell and Jim Me-Denald left last night for Tacoma, where they will officiate this week. The double umpire scheme worked successfully here last week and the general impression prevails that the change is a good one.

The double system, especially when two rival teams are having a close fight conduces greatly to the pleasure of the game, and the satisfaction of all concerned. The work of O'Connell and Mo-Denald last week was by far the most careful seen in Portland for many months and the fans would certainly reversely to the prefure, of both officials.

It's all off. They were all in. The race was never finished, save that part of it, which led for home and dry of it, which led for home and dry clothes.

For a brief spell during yesterday's terridity, in the vicinity of the Oregon Yacht club's inviting waters, it looked very much as if the Baker Stock company would be compelled to show without its leading man, Guy Standing, Charles A and Mrs. Mackay, and an animal known as 'dog," and the trouble all came from a wager laid some time ago that Standing couldn't beat Ira Powers in a yacht race on the Willamette. It appears from the evidence that besides being a Thespian of merit, Guy Standing possesses physical qualifications that would make him a hero on any gridiron, diamond, field or crew in christendom. Powers is no pumpkin when it comes to yachting. Billy Bernard was matchmaker and caused the trouble. Bernard, too, is skillful at the helm, and would pass up a good dinner any time for a few minutes' sail. Charles Mackay, who in his time hath scorned delights and lived ishorious days, was also in the deal, as was also Mrs. Mackay. Then there was that "dog."

A race was planned, Standing taking Powers' boat, Jewel, and Powers sailing the Lakota. Everything was arranged for yesterday afternoon. The day was ideal for the sport, and a number of friends of the interested parties were on hand to witness the event. The conditions were these: Owing to the swiftness of the Jewel, Standing was compelled to carry ballast, and being fond of good company, invited Mr. and Mrs. Mackay and "dog" to ride in his yacht. All looked happy and smiled at each other in anticipation of putting Powers other in anticipation of putting Powers to apiash.

All looked happy and smiled at each other in anticipation of putting Powers

When all was ready the Jewel glided out into the open for a preliminary spin. Had not this prelude been tried it is quite certain that all would have been well. After sailing half was across the stream, the wind died down and the Jewel fell off, resting easily and proudly for the power. While the party was waiting patiently for the wind, and just as "dog" growled his compliments at a passing "Chinook," the wind, the unseen and treacherous wind, came along quickly, caught the sails, and in quicker time than it takes to tell, and with much more haste than dignity, the Jewel (so proudly named) rolled over and Guy Standing, Mr. and Mrs. Mackay and "dog" were dumped into the stream. The first thing they did was to grab for "dog" and all three reached him at the same time. They are all good swimmers, yet they called for help as loudly as the occasion required, and their appeals were heard ashore. Ernest, the boatman, heard the splash and started for the sound of voices. He reached there in time, picked up everybody and rowed back to the club house. The race will be sailed this afternoon, being postponed yesterday on account of wet weather.

BUILDING AND LOAN MEN IN CONVENTION

(Journal Special Service.)
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 26.—
Nearly aix hundred millions of dellars—every dellar of it the savings of the thrifty wage-workers of the United States—was represented here this morning when the annual convention of the United States League of Local Building & Loan associations was called to order by the national president, James Clarency of Philadelphia. It is one of the largest conventions in the history of the league. The delegates, represent nearly every state in the Union.

President Clarnecy combined a response to the greetings with his annual address. The feature of the session, however, was the annual address and re-address. The feature of the session, however, was the annual address and report of Herman F. Celtarius, of Cincinnati, the general secretary, who was listened to with profound attention. The report contained figures which showed that, while the number of local associations and total membership is not so large as it was a decade or so ago when the building and loss business reached the building and loan business reached its senith, the business as a whole is in sounder condition than ever before many of the weak and irresponsible organizations having been weeded out.

Pennsylvania continues to lead in the number of associations, with Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and New York following in the order named.

WEST VIRGINIA MAY TAX CORPORATIONS

(Journal Special Service.) Chariston, W. Va., July 26.—Pur suant to the proclamation of Governor White, the West Virginia legislature convened in special session today to consider the bills recommended by the tax reform commission. Enough of the tax commission's measures have been agreed to for passage at the special session to raise $500,000 in revenues to take the place of the direct taxes on real and sion to raise $500,000 in revenues to take the place of the direct taxes on real and personal property which are to be abolished and, which amount to $500,000.
The other measures raising the additional revenues will be passed at the regular session next year. Increased liquor taxes are a part of the program for the extra session, besides one third of a cent a ton on coal and one half a cent on oil and special taxes on gross railroad receipts.

KALAMA BLECTRIC PLANT.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Kalama, Wash., July 26.—The force of men now at work on the new electric light plant, it is thought, will complete all work by the first of October. This immense plant, located eight miles east of Kalama at Kalama river falls, will furnish power enough to light and equip every town in Cowlits county. A great many private and business buildings are already wired including the large opera house. All the main poles and wires are in place and soon the city will be blazing with electricity.
